Garrett Legion Team Wins Two In Quest For State Championship

A state championship seems to be within reach of the Garrett County Legion team of the Mountain District, as the local hurlers have won their first two games in the Maryland State Junior American Legion Baseball Tournament, currently underway at Valley High School, Lonaconing.

Coach Ed Wildesen's team edged Mount St. Joseph's in a first round contest on Tuesday, 4-3, and then hammered the Dayton Raiders of Howard County last evening, 14-4. At 7:30 p.m. this evening, Garrett will meet the winner of the Williamsport Post 202-North Caroline game, a contest that was played late last night, the winner of which was unknown at presstime.

Rod Cooper led Garrett defensive charge against Mount St. Joseph's on Tuesday, striking out nine of the final 12 batters, while D.G. Largent paced the hitting with two doubles.

Cooper, a three-sport standing at Circleville High School, went the distance for Garrett and tossed 167 pitches for the win. Several times in the late innings, when tying runs were in scoring positions, Cooper came up with a clutch pitch to preserve Garrett's slim lead.

One of the more significant tosses came in the seventh inning, a 3-2, bases-loaded, two-out pitch to Knoll Axt after the Gaels had scored twice to close the gap to 4-3.

A two-out double by John Sherbin in the top of the third that drove home Ryan Harman gave Garrett a 1-0 lead; however, the Gaels quickly tied it in the bottom of that frame on an RBI single by Matt Rosewag.

In the fourth inning Largent stroked the first of his doubles, which scored Kevin Combs and Kevin Green, giving Garrett the lead for good.

Largent's second double came in the seventh, down the left field line, and pinch runner Mike Rocha later scored on an infield single by Cooper, making it 4-1.

Cooper began to lose control in the seventh and walked three batters to load the bases. Jeff Barrick followed with a single that scored two runs and made it 4-3. Cooper then walked the next batter to re-load the bases, but Axt struck out on his 3-2 curve ball to end the inning.

It was another curve ball in the ninth that halted one final threat by the Gaels, as they had a man on second and the clean-up batter at the plate.

Coach Wildesen noted the fact that Largent was playing with 18 stitches in his knee, an injury that has kept him out of action for the past three weeks.

"D.G.'s gutty play was really an emotional boost for the entire team," Wildesen said. "He really got everyone pumped up."

Wildesen also commented on Cooper's pitching performance, noting that just when he thought he should send in a reliever, Cooper would come up with another outstanding pitch to get his team out of trouble. He yielded six hits.

Cooper aided his own cause by rapping a double and a single to go with Largent's two doubles in the eight-hit Garrett attack. Knoll finished with two singles for the Gaels.

Taking the loss on the mound was Steve Bealefeld, who fanned seven batters in going the distance.

In last evening's game against the Dayton Raiders, Garrett erupted for 13 hits and had 28 baserunners to break open what was a close game through the fifth inning.

Six Garrett players finished with two hits apiece, as Cooper led the attack with two triples and three RBIs. Dave Yoder doubled and singled and scored two runs while Kevin Yokum accounted for two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Meanwhile, the Garrett defense recorded three double plays.

Garrett took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second when Yokum walked, moved to third on a single by Kevin Combs, and came home on a single by Kevin Green.

The Raiders came back to take a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the second when Matt Deming and Bob Caswell stroked back-to-back singles with two outs and then came home on a double by Matt Muller.

Garrett regained the lead for good in the fourth as Yokum reached on an infield error, moved to second on a wild pitch, and came home on a single by Largent. Combes then singled to right to score Largent, giving Garrett a 3-2 edge.

A triple in the fifth inning by Cooper led to another run when Yokum sacrificed him home to make it 4-2.

Garrett added three more runs in the sixth. Dave Yoder rapped a double, went to third on a single by James Sulser, and then scored on a balk. Cooper followed with his second triple of the day, which scored Sulser. Cooper then came home on a single by Yokum.

A six-run seventh inning put the game out of reach for the Raiders, as Garrett sent 10 batters to the plate and the Raider pitchers allowed three runs on bases-loaded walks.

Combs led off with a walk, advanced to second on a single by Green, and came home on a single by Yoder. Sulser then singled to load the bases to set up consecutive walks to Harman, Cooper, and Sherbin. A sacrifice fly by Largent, which scored Cooper, gave Garrett a 13-2 lead.

The Raiders responded with a single run in the bottom of the seventh when Chris Grubb doubled home Brent Nickles and recorded another single run in the eighth on four walks. Garrett concluded its scoring with a single run in the top of the eighth on a pair of walks and an infield error.

Harman, who received relief in the eighth from Bobby Orr and Ritchie Baldwin in the ninth, was credited with the win.

Oakland Couple Sails To Victory In Husband-Wife Flying Scot Nationals

Harry and Karen Carpenter, Oakland, sailed to victory in the 1989 Flying Scot Wife/Husband National Championship held June 24-25 on the Chesapeake Bay. Thirty-four couples participated in the event, hosted by the West River Sailing Club in Galesville.

A seminar on boat handling and sail trim was presented jointly by the Gordon Douglass Boat Co., represented by the Carpenters, and by Schurr Sails of Pensacola, Fla., represented by Steve Bellows.

Both races were cancelled Saturday because of conditions ranging from very light winds with a two-knot current to a sudden squall. Two races were sailed Sunday with winds light and variable.

This was the third consecutive win for the Carpenters since the event's inception at the 30th Anniversary Regatta in 1987. The Flying Scot, a 19-foot daysailer designed by long-time Oakland resident, Sandy Douglass, is easily handled and commonly sailed by couples. The Flying Scot Sailing Association initiated this championship to encourage couples participation in racing. This event can only be sailed by husband and wife teams with no additional crew.

The Carpenters just returned from the week-long 1989 Flying Scot North American Championship held on Lake Ontario July 16-21. This year marks the 13th anniversary of this event. The Oswego Yacht Club, Oswego, N.Y., was host to 71 Flying Scots from Florida to Missouri to Canada. For this event, the boats, sails and equipment must be measured and must conform to class specifications. There are two days of elimination races after which the competitors are placed in either the Championship or Challenger divisions. The final competition is a five-race series with many perpetual and keeper trophies in contention.

The Carpenters, who were the defending 1988 North American Champions, started the finals with a win in the first race. Their other finishes were two thirds, a seventh and a fifth. This gave them a second place finish overall and the Tea Party Trophy, presented yearly since 1971 by Boston Sails. The winner of the Championship and the Gordon K. Douglass Trophy was Greg Fisher, a sailmaker from Columbus, Ohio, and his crew.

Harry and Karen were also presented with the True Love Trophy for the second straight year. This trophy, which has been presented since 1979, goes to the highest finishing boat with a husband and wife only team.

The Carpenters reside on 11th Street in Oakland with their children, Carolyn, 7, and James, 5. Harry is the vice president and Karen is a part-time employee of the Gordon Douglass Boat Co., Inc., Deer Park.

This was the first championship for the Pirates and the first time in the history of the league that one team has won both the season title and the playoffs. They finished the season with a 13-2 record. Each team member was awarded trophies at the All-Star game July 9 in Accident. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are Jeremy Robinson, Matt Umbel, C.J. Oaks Win Three Of Four; Entering Pen Mar Playoffs As Second Seed

The Oakland Oaks swept a make-up doubleheader from Keyser on Saturday, 14-7 and 15-3, and then split a twinbill with Hyndman on Sunday to wrap up their regular season schedule. The 9-7 loss in the opener against Hyndman proved quite costly, as it knocked the Oaks out of first place and allowed Tri-Towns to move into that position. Tri-Towns swept a doubleheader from Keyser on Sunday and then topped last night to finish with a 19-5 record.

The Oaks, who finished in second place with an 18-6 mark, will host the league championships this weekend. Tri-Towns will face fourth place Keyser (8-16) at noon on Saturday at the Garrett Community College diamond while Oakland will meet third place Cumberland (9-15) at Southern High School. The winners of the first two games will then meet at 3:30 p.m. Saturday and play the first game of a best-of-three series, which will be completed on Sunday at 2 p.m., also at GCC.

Hyndman finished in last place in the league with a 6-18 record and did not qualify for the playoffs.

Tim McNemar provided the offensive power for Oakland on Saturday against Keyser, recording seven hits and nine RBIs on the afternoon. He smacked four hits in the first game, including a three-run homer and a triple for six RBIs.

Oakland was out-hit 11-8, but took advantage of nine Keyser errors as Troy Hammonds went the distance on the mound for the win.

Dean Marsico added a triple for Oakland, while Keyser's hitting was led by Mark Liller and Randy Cirillo, who each doubled and singled. Mike Smith added a pair of singles.

McNemar picked up three more hits and three more RBIs, Marsico contributed a three-run homer, and Phil Carr rapped three singles for Oakland in the second game. Lawrence Nesseltodt added a double and a single, while Dwayne Woodring and Reggie Young each singled twice in the 14-hit effort.

Mike Brady, who received relief from Steve Zumpano, was the winning pitcher.

Pacing Keyser's hitting were Mark Farris, who tripled and singled, Tom Wolfe, who doubled twice, Mark Liller with two singles, and Wayne Brown and Mike Stanislawczyk who each doubled.

The losses dropped Keyser to 8-13 on the season.

A two-out single in the bottom of the sixth inning by Mike Mathews highlighted a six-run inning by Hyndman in the first game Sunday.

Oakland had taken a 3-0 lead with a single run in the second and two in the third, Hyndman came back to tie the score in the bottom of the fourth, and Oakland moved out to a 7-3 advantage with a four-run top of the sixth before Hyndman's winning rally.

A grand slam by Corky Sweitzer accounted for Oakland's four runs in the sixth.

After a hit batsman and an infield error put two men on for Hyndman in the bottom of the sixth, Rick Ours smacked an RBI single to make it 7-4. Ted Willison then singled to load the bases and Harold Shippy followed with a sacrifice fly to drive in another run. Jamey Ringler then singled to load the bases again and Mathews singled up the middle against reliever Mike Brady to bring home three runners and give Hyndman the lead for good at 8-7. Rich Stiffey then singled in Mathews with the insurance run.

Sweitzer also hit a sacrifice fly to finish with five RBIs while Phil Carr singled twice and scored twice.

Oakland took advantage of three Hyndman errors in the second game to a 12-3 win. Ed Wildesen finished with three singles and three RBIs, while Lawrence Nesselrodt and Dwayne Woodring each singled twice.

Stiffey and Grant Crawford each finished with two hits for Hyndman, who dropped to 6-16 on the season.

The Oaks went 5-1 against Keyser, Cumberland, and Hyndman during the regular season and split with defending league champions, Tri-Towns, 3-3.

Dad - don't forget our memories. We had a lot of them. I still think about all the things you taught me to do and what not to do; and Dad, you were right. Remember when I told you Dad - no one can take away our memories. We still have them Dad, thanks to you. Dad, don't forget beyond the sunset, look forward, take a little time, don't go too fast, look back and we all will follow you, Dad. Call out our name and we will hear your voice. Every thing you touch will let us know we are on the right path. So Dad, someday, down the path, you will hear us call your name.

Korean War Vet. Elected National DAV Commander

Vernon V. Cardosi, a service-connected disabled veteran of the Korean War period, was recently elected national commander of the one-million-member Disabled American Veterans (DAV) by delegates to the organization's national convention held in Las Vegas, Nevada.

In his August 3 acceptance of the post, the Saugus, Mass., man pledged to battle the crisis in health care facing veterans in the Department of Veterans Affairs medical system.

Of particular concern to Cardosi is the continuing budgets cuts, a growing older veteran population, and skyrocketing health care costs that are conspiring to jeopardize veterans' access to quality health care.

Cardosi, who was a DAV national officer for four years prior to his election to the organization's highest post, urged members of the DAV and its Auxiliary to focus their energy and devotion to meet the growing needs in the veteran population.

A member of the 43rd Infantry Division, Cardosi began active duty in the U.S. Army in 1952. Two years later in 1954 he was discharged with the rank of Corporal due to a service-connected disability.

A life member of DAV Chapter 115 in Saugus, Cardosi is a municipal employee of the Town of Saugus, and is a past President of Local 252 of the American Federation of State, County and Muncipal Employees.

He has been adjutant, treasurer and commander of DAV Chapter 115. In addition, he has held numerous positions at the state level of the DAV, including Commander of the DAV Department of Massachusetts in 1983-84.

Cardosi and his wife, Camille, are the parents of three sons, Vincent, Richard and Christopher.

In other news from the Sheriff's Department, Michael Lynn King, Oakland, was arrested Friday on the strength of a bench warrant. He is charged with failure to appear in District Court on July 8. According to Det./Sgt. Donald W. Tucker, he was incarcerated and later released on $1,000 full cash bond.

Dannie Allen Stemple, 35, Oakland, was arrested August 2 and charged with inhaling harmful substances and disorderly intoxication. The arrest was made after a Chessie System engineer alleged his train almost struck Stemple while travelling through Oakland. According to Corporal Larry E. Gnegy, he was incarcerated and later released on his own recognizance.

Krista Lee Grater, 18, Alburn, Ala., was arrested August 3 and charged with driving while intoxicated. The arrest was made on Route 219 North by Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy.

Dr. Friend Cited For Volunteer Services To Haiti

The Council on American Dental Association Sessions and International Relations recently awarded Dr. Alvin P. Friend, Oakland, a Certificate of Recognition for Volunteer Service to Haiti and Central America.

Dr. John M. Fujioka, chairman of the Council, in a letter accompanying the award, stated: "Your continuing interest and personal involvement in programs to improve the well-being of less fortunate people, along with similar efforts of many colleagues throughout the country demonstrate the highest ideals of the profession and contribute immeasurably to increasing international good will and friendship for the United States. To the recognition reflected by the Certificate, I add the Council's expression of deep appreciation and commendation."

Dr. and Mrs. Friend, Mary Ellen and Ralph Lichty, and others from Garrett County have been serving short-term medical-dental group missions to Haiti and Central America since 1978.

SPEAKEASY COURSE — The Maryland State Department of Education has developed the Speakeasy Course, which is to provide participants with the skills and confidence to serve as a resource person in their school. After completing the course, which has been sponsored by the Garrett County Board of Education's Food Service Department, participants are able to plan and present nutrition education classroom activities and give oral presentations on the nutritional benefits of school meals. Because of the concentrated effort spent on public speaking the name Speakeasy — easy to speak — was chosen for the course. Attending a recent Speakeasy course are, pictured above, front row, left to right, Regina Riggs, Katherine Kight, Pauline Beckman, Mary Kimble, Mamie Reckart and Rhonda Channel. Second row, same order, are: Eugenia Cassidy, Carrie Lohr, Vonda Paugh, Charlotte Fike, Michael VanBrunt, Dorothy Simpson, instructor; and Georgia Durst. Third row, same order, are: Richard Buckingham, assistant in food service; Mike Harsh, Jeannie Callis, Larry Schroyer, Ruth Johnson and Shirley VanBrunt.

Bloomington Area Residents Advised To Boil Water

The Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) has issued a boil water advistory to residents of the Georges Creek area of Allegany County served by community water supplies, and the community of Bloomington in Garrett County. The communities in Georges Creek affected by the advisory include Barton, Lonaconing, Midland, Klondike, Carlos-Borden Shaft, and Midlothian.

Recent heavy rains and flash floods have caused an increase in the turbidity of these water supplies. Turbidity is a measurement of suspended particles in the water, and results in a cloudy appearance.

Although treatment of the water supplies includes disinfection, excessive turbidity may reduce the effectiveness of the treatment, making the water unsafe to drink unless it is boiled. The supplies in Georges Creek are not filtered. In Bloomington, the filtration plant is malfunctioning and is under repair.

MDE is making available $1.2 million in funding from its Water Supply Financial Assistance Program to assist in the construction of water filtration facilities for the Georges Creek communities. Planning of these facilities is complete, and the necessary design will begin this summer. Construction is expected to be completed by the late summer of 1990.

The department recommends that residents of the affected areas boil water used for cooking and drinking purposes until further notice. Earlier advisories recommended that water be boiled 15 to 20 minutes before use. The advisory has been revised to recommend raising the water temperature to a rolling boil for one minute only, which is sufficient to ensure the safety and potability of the water.

MDE and the local health departments are closely monitoring the quality of these water supplies and will issue updates to the advisory as necessary. The advisory will remain in effect until turbidity levels return to normal and microbiological testing confirms the potability of the various water supplies.

For more information, residents should contact the Garrett County Health Department at 301-334-8980.

Low-Interest Mortgage Funds Are Distributed

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that $71 million is available in low-interest mortgage money for income-eligible Maryland homebuyers. The funds are available through the Department of Housing and Community Development's (DHCD) Maryland Mortgage Program (MMP).

"The Maryland Mortgage Program is a creative financial public/private partnership that helps low-and-moderate income people buy homes. More than 23,000 Maryland families and individuals have purchased home through this program," Governor Schaefer said.

Out of the $71 million, $450,000 is available to Garrett County residents.

DHCD recently issued bonds on behalf of 22 Maryland counties to finance the program. This arrangement enables local governments to take advantage of the state's excellent bond rating, share the cost of issuing the bonds, and benefit from the centralized administration of the program.

To qualify for a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage loan through MMP in most parts of the state, individuals can earn up to $28,200 a year, and families up to $35,275. The income limits in Anne Arundel County, Baltimore City and Baltimore County are $30,000 for an individual and $36,000 for a family.

Two interest rates have been established for the program, depending on household income. For people earning $25,000 a year or less, the interest rate will be 7.75 percent. Those earning more than $25,000 a year, up to the program's maximum income limit of $36,000, will pay 8.75 percent interest.

Maximum purchase prices vary depending on location and whether the home to be purchased is newly constructed or an existing house.

Montgomery and Prince George's counties have not participated in this bond issue because they separately issue revenue bonds for housing programs in their jurisdictions.

Interested people should apply directly to a participating lending institution. Borrowers must have a signed sales contract on a qualifying home before applying for the loan. Borrowers should make their sales contracts contingent upon receiving financing through the Maryland Mortgage Program.

The program is administered by DHCD's Division of Housing Finance (Community Development Administration) which recently sold the tax-exempt mortgage revenue bonds for the program.

For more information about application procedures, borrowers should contact a participating lending institution. For a program brochure, they should contact the Homeownership Program office at (toll-free) 1-800-638-7781.

Airman Todd A. Hershberger has graduated from U.S. Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credit toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

U.S. Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Theodore L. Wakefield, son of Shirley A. and Theodore L. TRULY A TAILGATE MARKET — A wide variety of local fruits and vegetables, from apples to zucchini, will continue to be available at the Mountain Fresh Producers Tailgate Market each Saturday in the Oakland town parking lot. The market will begin each week at 8 a.m. and continue until the produce is gone, and it's true that "the early bird gets the worm," or in this case the fruits and vegetables. Market browsers can even get something free — free samples of Shiitake mushrooms, below, grown at Walnut Meadows in Preston County, W.Va.

ANOTHER PAIR OF SATISFIED CUSTOMERS display their purchases of vegetables, flowers and baked goods (a little bit of everything) at the Mountain Fresh Producers first tailgate market last Saturday. The market will be held in the Oakland town parking lot every Saturday throughout the rest of the summer, beginning at 8 a.m. But, customers are reminded to come early, as the variety diminishes quickly and the market sells out early.

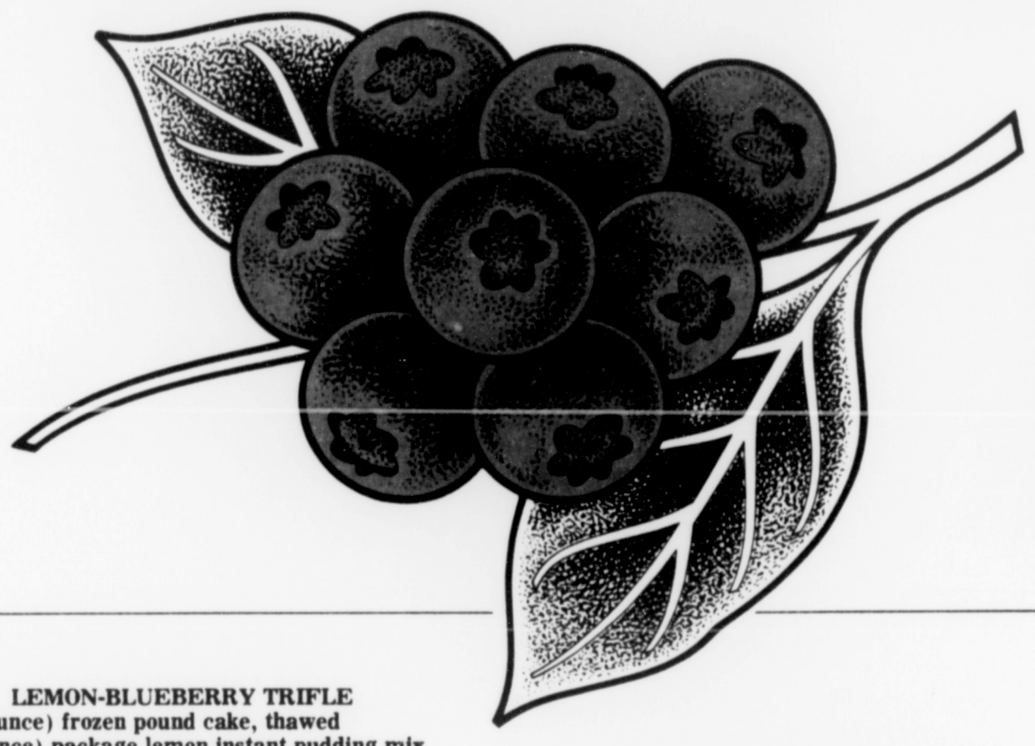
Good Food and how to prepare it!

Wild About Blueberries!



Historically, blueberries have heralded the arrival of summer. Today's blueberries are cultivated and harvested en masse. Although the fresh blueberry season stretches from early May on into September, the peak season is mid-June to mid-August.

These tangy delights seem to appear at every meal in some form; they are stirred into pancake batter, baked into muffins and pies, tossed in fruit salads, sprinkled on ice cream and yogurt, and top the traditional cheesecake with style.

When ripe, blueberries should be plump and firm, with a light grayish bloom. Fresh blueberries are perishable and should be refrigerated until they are used. Once chilled, they will last at peak flavor for two weeks. At room temperature, they will soon loose their freshenss. Blueberries should not be washed until it's time to use them.

Great for the dieter or anyone who loves these tangy, refreshing treats, fresh blueberries have only 41 calories per half-cup.

Blueberries have to be the easiest type of fruit to preapre and serve-there is no peeling, no pitting, coring or cutting. Just rinse and serve!

A caterpillar crawls along a branch. So unsightly and useless is he that, at best, he is scorned, at worst, exterminated.

A grain of sand, one of an infinite number, lodges within an oyster's shell. It is coarse and hard; worthless and unwanted.

And then, there are people. They are restless, a bit lonely sometimes, and apprehensive about the future. They enter churches and speak to God.

From the cocoon, a gaily-colored butterfly emerges. People paint pictures of it; children try to claim it as their own.

From the oyster, a pale, creamy pearl is taken. It is admired, sold for a small fortune, prized.

So, God changes the lowly caterpillar and richly clothes the grain of sand. How much more can He change the lives of those who ask it of Him!

God awaits you. Come meet Him in His house this week.

REGISTERED NURSES ARE SPECIAL PEOPLE

Although she is so very often working in the background, the Registered Nurse fully merits your appreciation. She is a most important and valued member of the health team. Her job at the right hand of the physician calls for a high degree of knowledge and competence.

Just as physicians and pharmacists must study long years to become registered, so must nurses prepare themselves both in the class room and on-the-job in clinics and wards. We feel proud that many Registered Nurses rely on our pharmacy for their pharmacy needs.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE TIES THAT BIND

August 13, 1989

Background Scripture: Ruth 1
Devotional Reading: Matthew 9:18-26.

The Book of Ruth is one of the most remarkable books in the Old Testament, indeed the Bible. It was written probably in a time after the Babylonian exile, when Israel's leaders were commanding the people to avoid all bonds with foreigners, particularly mixed marriages.

So it comes as a refreshing antidote to that racial exclusivity. For Ruth was a woman of Moab and the Moabites not only were foreigners, but often regarded as Israel's bitter enemies. nevertheless, despite centuries of enmity between these two peoples, in a time of famine in Judah, Elimelech and his wife, Naomi, go to the land of Moab to live for the duration of the emergency. This, in itself must have been unsettling to some of this book's first readers.

THE UNTHINKABLE

To make things worse, Elimelech's sons, Mahlon and Chilion, did the unthinkable, taking Moabite wives, Orpah and Ruth. This was the very thing that had so exercised Ezra, who decreed that the 113 Jews who had married foreign women should be divorced from them and even separate themselves from the children of these unions. (Ezra 9.)

Bereft of her husband and her two sons, the distraught Naomi, hearing that conditions in Bethlehem and improved, decides to return to Bethlehem and releases her two daughters-in-law from any sense of obligation to her, telling them to remain in Moab.

Naomi's argument is interesting. It would appear that she finds it difficult to think that these two women were devoted to her. "Why will you go with me," she asks, "Have I yet sons in my womb that they may become your husbands?" (Ruth 1:11). Finally, she persuades Orpah to return, but Ruth is determined to go with her: "Entreat me not to leave you or return from following you; for where you go I will go, and where you lodge I will lodge; your people shall be my people and your God my God" (1:16). This is an act of love and devotion that would have been exemplary for a Jewish woman, but Ruth is a foreigner!

CALL ME "BITTER"

Having lost her husband and two sons, it is understandable that she should think that "the hand of the Lord has gone against me" (1:13). And when she arrives in Bethlehem with Ruth, she says to her fellow townspeople, "Do not call me Naomi, call me Mara ("bitter") for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. I went away full, and the Lord has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi, when the Lord has afflicted me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me?" (1:20, 21).

Naomi, of course, is not entirely accurate. She did not leave Bethlehem "full," as she says, but in fact had been destitute. And, in fact, neither was she returning "empty." Although she has lost her husband and two sons, she has an asset that will prove to be of vital importance to her: a devoted daughter-in-law who loves her and will not forsake her.

Of course, Ruth is "only a foreigner," but she is also a loving, devoted person and her bond with Naomi quite transcends the normal limitations of formal relationships. Much deeper than obligation or custom, there is a loving tie that binds the two women together, a tie that is not dependent upon race, creed or color.

'Three's Company' gathered a crowd of faithful fans

By John Haakenson

They say it's hard to argue with success. Never was that truism more put to the test than in 1977, when Three's Company invaded the airwaves.

The series, considered one of the most successful situation comedies of the 1970s (according to the ratings), was based on a British television show, Man About the House. It joined the ABC lineup on March 15, 1977, in a decision made by the network's programming head, Fred Silverman.

At first glance, Silverman's game plan looked promising. Two previous series, CBS's All in the Family and NBC's Sanford and Son, were also based on British sitcoms. Both shows were successful—in the ratings and with critics. Silverman told his producers what he expected from Three's Company. Said producer Don Nicholl, "Silverman instructed us to make it the same kind of breakthrough in sexiness that All in the Family was to bigotry."

Silverman's scheme was half-successful. Joining ABC's lineup at mid-season, Three's Company in just six episodes managed to rank No. 11 on Nielsen's 1976-77 season list. At the same time, the saga of two girls and a guy sharing one apartment generated some heartfelt critical comments:

"... inane, cheap sexual humor which is about as subtle as a mugging, and about as funny." —Lee Margulies of the Los Angeles Times.

"...thigh-deep in double entendres. Nearly every scene ... pulls an undertow of smutty giggles that is ... as sophisticated as the jokes generations of high school students have tried to get away with." —Aljean Harmetz of TV Guide.

Three's Company not only tried to get away with its juvenile, sex-oriented humor, it succeeded beyond anyone's wildest expectations. Stars John Ritter, Joyce DeWitt and Suzanne Somers played the youthful roommates. Norman Fell and Audra Lindley were the Ropers, landlords of the building.

There was nothing subtle about Three's Company: Ritter's forte was mugging for the camera (and pratfalls); DeWitt contributed acid-tongued put-downs; Somers played the stereotypical dumb, blonde sexpot; and Roper and Lindley were on hand primarily to raise eyebrows about everything their tenants did ... or appeared to be doing.

As is so often the case, it didn't matter beans what the critics had to say. Three's Company consistently ranked in Nielsen's Top Five, and at its peak had 55 million loyal fans. That's a crowd.

TV Q&A

Tough guy Charles Bronson actually quite a family man

Charles Bronson

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Charles Bronson is my favorite actor and I would like to know where he was born, how old he is and what his name was originally. I have seen every movie that he has made and enjoyed them all. Where can I write him? —Jim Bradbrook, Chino Valley, Ariz.

A: Charles Bunchinsky, born on Nov. 3, 1921, in Ehrenfeld, Pa., decided to change his name to Bronson in 1954. He shares a lavish Bel Air, Calif. estate with his wife, actress Jill Ireland, and their six children. Try contacting him in care of his agent: Paul Kohner-Michael Levy Agency, 9169 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Q: Could you give me some information concerning the personal and professional life of my favorite, Robert Blake? Any chance Hell Town will return? —Leslie Chadwick, Industry, Calif.

A: Michael James Vijencio Gubitosi, now known as Robert Blake, was born Sept. 18, 1933, in Nutley, N.J. He made his stage debut at the age of 2 with his father, brother and sister in a song-and-dance act. By the age of five he was a film star, spending five years in the Our Gang series of comedy movies. He also played Little Beaver in the Red Ryder movies. By the age of 16, his career seemed to be over. Following a two-year stint in the service, he returned to the film industry at the age of 21 and was soon on his way back up as an actor. Once married to the former Sondra Kerr and the father of two children, he is currently single and lives in the San Feranado Valley. His hobbies include fishing and horseback riding. There is little chance of Hell Town returning as a series on the networks.

Q: I saw a movie about 10 years ago starring Stacy Keach. He was a doctor for Vietnam veterans in a rehab center. There were many vets there with post war problems (crazies). By the end of the movie they found out that Keach was also a vet that was off balance. I loved the movie, please tell me the name and how I can purchase or find it. —Vannissa Harris, Marion, Ark.

A: This was a difficult task. First of all, the original title, Twinkle, Twinkle Killer Kane, released in 1980, had been changed to The Ninth Configuration. Starring with Keach, the psychiatrist in a compound of military misfits, were Ed Flanders, Moses Gunn and Neville Brand. A film with such a poor rating is seldom released on video. Ask at your video store, they may have more information on it.

THINK BACK

It's the principal that counts

By Donna Gooch

The school principals of the following series were generally not feared by the student body. In fact, they tended to befriend the students whenever possible. At the other extreme, there were a few that were downright mean, bossy or just befuddled with their lot in life. Actually, one of the following was just a vice principal—but he liked to think of himself as the head honcho. Get your brain cells in gear and see if you can match the series and principal. Do your best or you'll be sent to the you-know-who's office.

Investigative journalists cover the 'Crimebeat'

By Shelia Odak

Crimebeat, a one-hour special from Emmy-winning producer Dolores Danska, focuses on a team of investigative journalists who take a look at various criminals, investigators and police officers.

The producers of the show are trying to keep it from being lumped in with the typical "tabloid television" type of specials that have become so popular. To distance themselves from them, the show will not utilize any re-enactments. Segments will include federal marshals tracking down a fugitive, a look at the harsh life behind the bars of a maximum security prison and an in-depth view of drug gangs.

Other featured segments will include a look at the life and death of a longtime hit-man, the increased use of science by law enforcement to help crack difficult cases, and an over-the-phone viewer participation segment.

The children's favorite Paddington Bear will spring to life in animation when Hanna-Barbera Prods. presents 13 half-hour episodes featuring him for The Funtastic World of Hanna-Barbera. The programs will begin airing in September.

The episodes will mix classic tales from the popular Paddington Bear series of books, and will also feature new adventures. In order to stay true to the original character, which is beloved by so many millions of children and adults alike, Michael Bond, who created Paddington, will act as a consultant for the show.

Rich Jeni takes his off-kilter views on life, childhood and women to Chicago on Richard Jeni: The Boy From New York City, Saturday, Aug. 19, on Showtime.

Elvis Presley remembered in specials

By Anne Wheeler

On the 12th anniversary of his death on Aug. 16, 1977, Elvis Presley is remembered in three specials on The Nashville Network. Elvis: The Fans / A Perspective, airing Aug. 15, looks at the Elvis phenomenon through the eyes of his fans, and explores his life through interviews with his fellow performers and intimate friends. Elvis: Heart & Soul / Untold Stories, on Aug. 16, looks at the influence that gospel and blues had on the performer's music. Presley was the first rock 'n' roll artist to successfully blend black and white musical influences and maintain a broad appeal. In Elvis: The Echo Will Never Die on Aug. 17, radio and television music countdown show host Casey Kasem traces the star's turbulent life from his teen years, military service, marriage and film and music career to his drug abuse and eventual death.

On Sunday, Aug. 13, Cinemax presents U2 Rattle and Hum. Taped during U2's 1988 tour for their album The Joshua Tree, this documentary presents footage from a concert performance held in honor of Elvis at Memphis Sun Studios. The group performs hits like "Sunday, Bloody Sunday," along with Beatles and Bob Dylan classics.

On Saturday, Aug. 19, Showtime features Michelle Pfeiffer as a not-so-merry widow who attempts to start a new life for herself when her hitman husband is "wiped out" in Married to the Mob.

Danny Pintauro: Jonathan on ABC's 'Who's the Boss?'

By Shelia Odak

Since Danny Pintauro has been in show business from the age of two and a half, it stands to reason that he has had some unusual assignments in his life. However, having to eat notebook paper seems a little bit beyond unusual. In the movie Beniker Gang, which airs on The Family Channel in September, Pintauro played one of five orphans. His character, Ben, had the strange nervous habit of eating paper from his notebook. The task, though, turned out to be easier than the young actor had anticipated. "They made the notebook taste like banana," Pintauro said.

Pintauro got his start as a young child when his mother's boss suggested that she send his picture to a modeling agency in New York. The agency was impressed with what they saw, and three days and one interview later, Pintauro was modeling a sailor outfit. Soon, his likeness was being used on packages for toys and in department store catalogs.

His first venture into the world of television came when he was 3 and landed his first commercial. By three and a half, he had landed a role as multi-millionaire Paul Stenbeck on the daytime drama Another World. This role lasted five years.

Pintauro eventually evolved into motion pictures with his role in the film Cujo. He has also appeared in the television movie Timestalkers.

His rise to fame came when he created the role of preppy Jonathan Bower in the hit ABC sitcom Who's the Boss? He will be continuing this role in the fall.

Through his many roles, and the many film families he has been a part of, Pintauro has acquired a wealth of on-screen moms. He speaks especially lovingly of his current "mom" Judith Light of Who's the Boss? When reviewing the list, one favorite lady does come to mind. "First is my real mother. Real ones are the best."

Robin Leach has become rich and famous simply by bringing the lifestyles of the rich and famous to the common man through his television shows.

Curiosity about celebrities fuels Robin Leach's drive

By Linda Sparkman

"There has always been something about the biggest, the wealthiest, the best known, the most prestigious, that has appealed to me," said Robin Leach. "It's always seemed to me that that is what people want to know about."

Which, of course, is what drew Leach to become executive producer, host and writer of Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous, Runaway with the Rich and Famous and Fame, Fortune and Romance.

The son of a Harrow, England, office manager, Leach began his journalism career at the age of 15 reporting on flower shows for The Harrow Observer. From Harrow, he moved to London's prestigious Daily Mail, and for two years served as Britain's youngest ever Page One reporter. In 1963, at the age of 21, Leach moved to New York, where he sold shoes at a Fifth Avenue department store while looking for newspaper work.

Leach worked briefly for The New York Daily News, co-founded the rock magazine GO and wound up writing a gossip column for the tabloid The Star.

He began his television career reporting for the morning shows on KABC in Los Angeles and WABC in New York. In 1980 he joined Cable News Network's (CNN) People Tonight, and a year later began reporting for the nationally syndicated Entertainment Tonight.

It was while working for ET that the idea for Lifestyles was born. "I became more and more frustrated with the type of celebrity interviews I was doing for television," said Leach. "We'd do these wonderful interviews in people's houses, but we'd never see how they lived. We'd never even see the chairs they were sitting on."

Critics cut the shows to pieces ("If I were a critic, I'd lambast them," Leach said), but millions of viewers tuned in, drawn by the same curiosity about the rich and famous that fuels Leach's drive—making the host himself rich and famous.

Recycling — The Best Way To Deal With Grass Clippings, Leaves, Brush

With landfill space at a premium, many municipalities are considering limiting or even discontinuing pick-up of yard wastes, including grass clippings, leaves and brush. Lawn-Boy, a leading manufacturer of outdoor power equipment based in Wisconsin, has compiled some simple guidelines, also using information from the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, on recycling yard wastes.

The process of recycling grass clippings and other yard debris is best achieved with a lawn mower that can be easily converted from a bagging unit to a mulcher to a leaf shredder, as the season, or timing dictates.

There are two approaches to recycling yard wastes — to bag the clippings and yard wastes and use them as raw materials in a mulch or compost, or to return the clippings to the lawn while mowing.

HOW TO USE BAGGED GRASS CLIPPINGS AND YARD WASTES

Growing conditions, influenced by temperature and rainfall, will determine the amount of clippings you'll produce in a single mowing. When the grass is too wet and thick, or if you've just returned from a two week vacation, you will want to bag the clippings or rake to remove the heavy build-up. Homeowners may want to bag the clippiings for appearance sake as well. Consider recycling these bagged clippings and other yard wastes as a mulch in your garden or planting beds, or begin your own composting program.

Mulch — How Something So Simple Works So Well

Disposing of yard wastes can be made easy, even if your municipality limits or discontinues pick-up. Using those materials for mulch is a simple, workable solution. To get started:

—use a sharp mower blade to get finer grass clippings and then bag the clippings;

—consider using a leaf shredder accessory and large capacity leaf bag for fall clean-up, and then bag the leaves or discharge them on your lawn for a quick winter mulch; —and for woody materials up to 1" in diameter, rent or purchase a chipper/shredder or cut them with hand tools.

Then, use the mulch for weed control and water retention by simply spreading it beneath plants and between garden rows. The yard wastes will work first as a mulch and then as soil enrichment as decomposition proceeds.

An important note — grass which has been treated with pesticides or weed killers should not be used as mulch immediately after mowing. Some of these chemicals take six weeks to break down, so compost treated grass clippings instead of using them as mulch.

Composting — Cost Savings and Convenience Make It A Natural Choice

If you have a garden, lawn, trees, shrubs or even planter boxes, you have a use for compost. Composting is a biological process in which bacteria, over time, break down plant tissue, with the resulting organic material returned to the soil.

Here's how compost makes soil healthier:

—organic matter produced by composting improves plant growth by loosening heavy clay soils which allows for better root penetration, by improving the capacity of sandy soils to hold water and nutrients, and by adding essential nutrients to any soil; —and improving your soil benefits your plants, and healthy plants help clean the air and conserve soil.

Fallen leaves, grass clippings, weeds and the remains of garden plants can all be used as raw materials for composting. An inexpensive, easy, non-polluting way to compost is with the use of a holding bin. A compost holding bin requires no exact proportions, but a four-by-four foot cube is recommended to retain heat during the winter. The bin can be made with snow fence, woven wire, spaced bricks or wood. Prefabricated bins can also be purchased through most gardening catalogues.

Locate a convenient spot for your holding bin, first removing grass and sod cover to allow materials direct contact with soil microorganisms. As yard wastes are bagged and collected, drop them into the holding bin. Chopping your garden wastes or running them through a shredding machine will speed their composting, as will alternating high-carbon and high-nitrogen materials, and keeping up good moisture and aeration. This method will take from six months to two years to produce compost.

If you can't use your yard wastes — grass clippings, fallen leaves, weeds and the remains of garden plants — find a neighbor who can, or check to see if your community has a municipal composting program that can use these materials in its recycling efforts.

RETURNING GRASS CLIPPINGS TO THE LAWN
Grass Clippings — Use Them While You Mow

During the summer months, grass clippings can account for a whopping 50% of residential trash. Grass clippings not only use up valuable landfill space, but contribute to methane gas and leachate problems as well. Grass makes incinerators less efficient because of its high moisture content. Here are some reasons for returning your clippings to the lawn while you mow:

—the bigger the lawn, the more clippings, the greater the expense for you and your city's sanitation department;

—grass clippings decompose rapidly on your lawn;

—every trash bag of grass clippings contains up to a quarter pound of usuable organic nitrogen, which can reduce your fertilization costs by recycling them back into the lawn;

—grass clippings reduce water evaporation from the lawn, provide a cushioning layer to reduce lawn wear, and facilitate better growth by providing nutrients and keeping the soil temperature cooler.

To successfully recycle the grass clippings back to the lawn:

—remove excessive thatch — grass clippings that have not decomposed — before leaving clippings on the lawn;

—avoid over-fertilization because a too-dense lawn will not allow clippings to reach the soil;

—use a sharp mower blade;

—use a mower that evenly discharges grass clippings;

—mow frequently, never cutting the lawn shorter than 2 to 2½ inches because the height will allow your lawn to have a larger and deeper root system, making a stronger defense against weeds and drought;

—limit the use of lawn chemicals and apply corrective measures only when needed.

A mower mulching plate attachment can also be used in recycling grass clippings. With a mulching plate, clippings are contained under the deck, finely chopped and then evenly dispersed into the lawn.

It is also recommended that clippings be returned to the soil more frequently in the later part of the mowing season.

EPA Establishes Asbestos Hotline

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has established a telephone hotline for reporting suspected illegal asbestos activities in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

Improper removal, handling, and disposal of asbestos-containing materials can expose workers, building occupants, and the general public to hazardous levels of airborne asbestos fibers. Exposure to asbestos has been linked to increase risk of respiratory disease and lung cancers.

The EPA regulates asbestos abatement activities in public, commercial, and school buildings. Persons should report any suspected illegal asbestos projects to the hotline, (301) 224-0954. Tips will be treated confidentially and will be fully investigated, the EPA said.

MSP Designate Vehicle Theft Prevention Week

Maryland State Police have designated August 5 through 12, as Motor Vehicle Theft Prevention Week. The annual observance is intended to heighten public awareness about vehicle theft and ways of preventing vehicle thefts from occurring.

"In 1988, 31,198 motor vehicles were stolen in the State of Maryland, resulting in a property loss of over 120 million dollars," said Detective Sergeant William E. Vogel, supervisor, Maryland State Police Criminal Investigation Division. "This reflects an 18 percent increase in vehicle thefts which occurred during 1987," Vogel added.

"We have approximately 86 cars stolen per day,' said Sergeant Ronald F. Harshman, supervisor of the Maryland State Police Auto Theft Unit. "Every 20 minutes a vehicle is stolen," (in Maryland), added Harshman.

Studies have shown that August is the month when most vehicle thefts occur. The majority of motor vehicle thefts occur over the weekend between the hours of 4 p.m. and 1 a.m.

The Maryland State Police Auto Theft Unit has identified several domestic and foreign cars as being the most popular among auto thieves, including the Mazda RX7 and Mazda 626. Other favorites include the Camry, Celica, and Supra models of Toyota, the Chevrolet IROC, and the Nissan 300 ZX. Various domestic and foreign model vans and 4x4 trucks are also stolen frequently.

The Maryland State Police Auto Theft Unit offers the following vehicle theft prevention tips:

1. Always remove keys from the ignition and lock all doors including hatchback.
2. Shut all windows tightly.
3. Never leave vehicles running and unattended.
4. Don't conceal a spare key, thieves know all the hiding places.
5. Don't disconnect the car buzzer, it warns of keys left in the ignition.
6. Avoid leaving keys with garage or lot attendant.
7. Park in well lit and well traveled areas.
8. Turn wheels sharply left or right to make it harder for thief to tow your vehicle.
9. Carry your driver's license and registration in your wallet, not in your glove box.
10. Replace standard lock buttons with tapered ones.
11. Don't leave your car unattended in public places for long periods of time.
12. Never tell parking lot attendants where you are going or how long you will be gone.
13. If you must leave a car parked for a long period of time, remove the rotor from the distributor and lock it in the trunk.
14. Install anti-theft devices.
15. Identify personal property and vehicle accessories in your vehicle using a Maryland driver's license number.

Deadline Near For Census Jobs

Going, Going, Gone! Come August 15, 1989, gone will be the once-in-a-decade opportunity to manage the "demographic snapshot" for Hagerstown and nearby localities, scheduled to be taken next year.

The "demographic snapshot" refers to the 1990 Census of Population and Housing, conducted once very 10 years as required by the U.S. Constitution. A new Census District Office will open in Hagerstown later this fall. That office will be responsible for administering 1990 census activities for Western Maryland. The Hagerstown office will be staffed by six full-time administrators. That managedment team will eventually hire hundreds of additional census workers.

The full-time positions at each office include District Office Manager and five Assistant Managers in the areas of Field Operations, Recruiting, Administration, Electronic Data Processing and Office Operations. The pay range for the six positions is $9 to $14 dollars per hour.

Those with appropriate educational and managerial experience are encouraged to contact the Towson Census District Office, (301) 938-8383, to arrange for testing. The U.S. Census Bureau is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Census Day is April 1, 1990. As the nation's "Number One Fact Finder," the U.S. Census Bureau administers the decennial census that is used to apportion the 435 seats in the U.S. House of Representatives and to revise voting districts. The federal government will distribute more than $40 billion dollars in funds to state and local governments, based on census information. Businesses use the data to better understand their markets. Social service agencies also use the data to assess and address the needs of their communities.

The 1990 census is important, confidential and easy. Everyone is encouraged to complete and mail back their questionnaire. "Answer the Census. It Counts for More Than You Think."

The U.S. Census Bureau has intensified its management recruitment, by offering increased pay rates to qualified applicants. Six individuals with appropriate educational and managerial experience are needed to staff a new Census District Office that will open later this fall to serve Western Maryland. The pay range will be $9 to $14 dollars per hour. Rates will vary in nearby counties.

For details about jobs managing the 1990 Census, call (301) 938-8383 in Towson, Maryland. The U.S. Census Bureau is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

ACCIDENT PHOTOS ON DISPLAY — Scenic photographs of Accident and the surrounding areas are now on display in the Accident Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library. The scenic photographs were a gift from Garrett Community College presented to the town during its Centennial Celebration on July 4 by Dr. Steven Herman, GCC president, and Marie Liang, GCC library director. The photographs were taken by the GCC library staff, Jim Matthews, Kevin Bass and Linda Tomlin, and processed in the GCC dark room. The Accident Mayor and Town Council, along with Mary Strauss, selected the appropriate prints, which were then enlarged and sepia toned by the GCC library staff. The prints were then matted by Ron Skidmore, GCC art director, and frames for the prints were made from some original boards taken from the Drane House by John Wolfe. Shots included in the collection are the Drane House, Bear Creek Brethren Church, Zion Lutheran Church, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the Cove Overlook, Matthews Store, a farm landscape, the Accident Garage, the Accident Post Office, and the Old Accident School. The photographs can be viewed during regular library hours.

Taxpayers Give To Bay Effort, Endangered Species

Records show that 83,539 taxpayers donated over $964,000 — far more than projected — on their 1988 state income tax returns to help the Chesapeake Bay and endangered species in Maryland, Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Governor William Donald Schaefer announced at a press conference held at Sandy Point State Park near Annapolis on Wednesday, August 2.

"This placed Maryland second only to New York in first-year contributions among 34 states with environmental checkoff programs," Goldstein added.

The comptroller and Governor Schaefer presented checks totaling $404,967.35 each to officials representing the Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Department of Natural Resources as equal shares from the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Trust Fund. The fund was established by the General Assembly to support Bay-related projects and other activities protecting wildlife from contributions offered by taxpayers in a special checkoff feature on the 1988 state return.

"While most of the donations came from taxpayers who deducted their contributions from their state tax refund, $160,289 of the total came from 13,894 taxpayers who owed additional state income tax with their returns. Clearly, many Marylanders share a great concern and commitment to our Chesapeake Bay and environment," Goldstein said.

The comptroller pointed out over 1,430 of the 83,539 contributors donated $50 or more. The largest contribution appears to be $1,000 from a taxpayer from Baltimore City. There were 23 contributions of $300 or more while more than 63,000 donations were offered in amounts of $10 or less.

"Probably the most unusual contributions came from people who didn't even have to file a tax return, like the second grade students at Lothian Elementary School in Anne Arundel County. Last May, they gave $100 to the fund, earned through a recycling project involving aluminum cans," Goldstein said.

"Some people may say that $100 won't do very much to help the Chesapeake Bay, but they're wrong," Governor Schaefer said.d "A $100 donation can buy a lot of things, including: 12 test kits to study the water quality in streams; or two nesting boxes for wood ducks; or 100 plantings of marsh grass; or 800 pine tree seedlings.

"So we should all applaud those Lothian Elementary schoolchildren. And we should also thank each and every one of the 83,539 taxpayers who contributed to this great effort, exceeding all of the projections," the governor added.

Montgomery County led the way with the largest number of taxpayers contributing (18,372) and the largest amount contributed ($257,943). Baltimore County was the second largest source of contributions, with 13,964 taxpayers contributing $141,584. Ninety-four Garrett taxpayers contributed $757.81.

Howard and Montgomery Counties had the largest percentage of participation, with 3.9% and 3.8% of their respective taxpayers contributing to the fund. The highest average contribution came from Calvert County, where 1,133 taxpayers donated an average of $15.17. The statewide average contribution was $11.54.

"This special contribution opportunity raised money to help an important natural resource and economic asset in Maryland, and that's one of the reasons why it was so successful," Goldstein said. "It was unique, and it went towards something vital to all of us.

"We should not clutter the state tax form with other kinds of checkoffs. Studies from other states show that additional checkoffs can be counter-productive, and they confuse taxpayers who are trying to complete their tax returns," he said.

Total contributions for the fund to date amount to $964,008. Of that amount, $154,073 was earmarked by law to cover start-up costs for the program including computer system changes to the income tax processing system required by the checkoff opportunity.

The amount that taxpayers contributed on line 63 of their 1988 state return was subtracted from their refunds or added to any additional tax they owed. "It will be deductible, however, on next year's federal and state returns, if you itemize deductions," Goldstein said.

The Chesapeake Bay Trust and the Department of Natural Resources will equally divide net contributions to the fund. The Chesapeake Bay Trust makes grants for projects at improving the Chesapeake Bay, while the Department of Natural Resources will use its funds for endangered species habitat projects.

Geriatric Health Slated Topic For CAHEC Dinner

"Geriatric Assessment," a continuing education dinner for health care professionals in Western Maryland, will take place on Thursday, September 7 from 5:30-8:00 p.m., at Howard Johnson's Plaza Hotel, across from the Valley Mall, Hagerstown. Registration is from 5-8 p.m. There is a $20 registration fee which includes dinner.

The guest speaker will be Roger Cadieux, M.D., vice president of Mental Health Services at Capital Health Systems in Harrisburg, Pa. Dr. Cadieux is assistant professor of psychiatry at Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine. He is a practicing geriatic psychiatrist whose professional focus is the development of consultative programs which enhance the care of the elderly by the many professionals that interact with this age group.

The program is co-sponsored by the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Program of the Washington County Hospital, Arcadia Unit of the Leader Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, and the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC). The program is supported in part by a federal AHEC special initiatives grant awarded to the Universtiy of Maryland at Baltimore and CAHEC.

The grant, "Special Initiatives in Preventive Care of Older Adults," is designed to provide training to physicians and other health professionals in preventive health care for older adults. The project utilizes a broad definition of "prevention" which includes primary prevention (disease prevention), secondary prevention (detection and early treatment of disease), and tertiary prevention (limiting further complications of the disease, restricting disabilities and delaying death). The project focuses on six areas of clinical medicine — cardiology pulmonology, gastroenterolgy, oncology, rheumatology and neuropsychiatry. To date 11 continuing education programs have been held as part of this project.

For information on the program and to pre-register, persons may call (301) 777-9150 or (301) 582-3080 in Maryland or (717) 263-0436 in Pennsylvania.

State Housing Assistance Levels Reported As High

Governor William Donald Schaefer this week announced that more Marylanders than ever have benefited from state housing finance programs during the past fiscal year.

According to data released by the Department of Housing and Community Development, 9,119 families and individuals took advantage of at least one of the department's 27 housing programs during FY 89. This is a 27 percent increase over the previous fiscal year.

"Maryland has some of the best housing programs in the country. And as governor I'm very pleased to see that we are helping more people than ever before" Governor William Donald Schaefer said.

Most of DHCD's housing loan programs are administered by the Community Development Administration and are targeted toward low- and moderate-income families and individuals.

Each of DHCD's four major categories of housing assistance showed increases over the last fiscal year. They are as follows: rental housing programs: up 10.6 percent; homeownership programs, up 40.7 percent; special loans programs, up 28.5 percent; and housing subsidy programs, up 7.0 percent.

"IT WAS QUITE AN EXPERIENCE" — Lowell Leitzel, above left, and Anne-Marie Gouhier, above right, have just completed a one year exchange of teaching jobs, and both agreed "It was quite an experience." Leitzel is the French teacher at Southern High School and Gouhier is the English teacher at a high school in Bourges, France. Gouhier returned to France earlier this week, but already is making plans to return to Garrett County to visit all the friends she made. Leitzel said that he feels the need to stay here for awhile, as the warmness of the welcome home he received was so "warm and positive."

English, French Teachers Exchange Positions; Agree "Quite An Experience"

by Sandra Cusack

An exchange between the French teacher from Southern High School and an English teacher from France was "quite an experience," according to both persons involved.

While many problems encountered by the teachers were of a similar nature, both felt that the people involved and the universality of the work made the experience rewarding and fun, and would recommend it to anyone.

Lowell Leitzel, French teacher at Southern High School, and Anne-Marie Gouhier, English teacher at Marguerite de Navaire High School in Bourges, France, have just completed a one-year exchange of teaching positions as part of a program sponsored by the Fulbright International Exchange Program.

About 20 French and English teachers exchanged positions as part of the Fulbright International Exchange Program this year in cooperation with the French government, the ministry of education, the United States government, and each U.S. high school's individual boards of education. Altogether, 250 persons from the United States exchanged positions with teachers from France and other countries in cooperation with each individual government.

Leitzel has taught all levels of French to the students at Southern High School for ten years. He has a master's degree in French and is qualified to teach at university level.

Gouhier teaches English to advanced students at her high school in Bourges, a city with a population of about 85,000. Her students generally study literature and civilization of the Anglo-Saxon world. During their senior year, students study the United States.

Gouhier's high school is a school for students studying for admission to a university. Students must apply to attend this high school. Teachers and supervisors meet to decide those students who are eligible to attend the school, based on the results of tests and past studies. Students not eligible to attend the school will go to a vocational high school. There is a type of junior college students may attend, but if they don't attend the pre-college high school, they will not be accepted into a university.

"There is social shame if students can't get along in the academic stream. You prove you are a winner' first of all in the academic field," Gouhier said.

"It is a very competitive system," explained Gouhier. "Students know at an early age what they want to do and begin to study for that. The only opportunity to climb the social ladder is to attend a university. It doesn't matter if you don't make much money if you are known as a thinker. An aura surrounds a university degree in France. The intellectual life is very prized there, so students work very hard to get the best places in the best universities. Some are not able to, but the students still try. It is very intellectual and competitive.

"The system in France is also very democratic, because the universities and high schools are free. The only difference is that students must buy their own books. The parent-teacher association does organize book sales and exchanges, so that it doesn't cost as much to buy books. Although it is more democratic to lend books the way they do here," she said.

Students in France begin to study foreign languages at the age of 11, when they begin middle school. Students generally take at least one foreign language, some taking two or even three languages aside from French. The system is broken up so that if the student takes more than one foreign language, he studies in order of first, second and then third foreign language. Ninety percent of the students take English as either their first, second or third foreign language.

Students who study English as their first language, begin at the age of 11, and will then study it for seven or eight years.

Gouhier's high school apparently has a good reputation for the study of language instruction, international contact and relationships. Students are able to study English, German, Spanish, Italian, Russian, Latin and Greek. The school has three foreign language assistants from other countries, one each from Great Britain, West Germany and the Soviet Union.

Student exchanges between France and other countries are conducted and students also have the opportunity to go on field trips. Leitzel explained one combined field trip and cruise down the Rhine River.

During Leitzel's stay in France, approximately 15 to 20 students from France, Switzerland, West Germany and Denmark spent a week together, cruising down the Rhine River. This provided one of many such opportunities for students to practice their knowledge of foreign languages, as well as get to know people from other countries.

Other trips were conducted to East and West Berlin, to West Germany, to Italy and to Spain.

Zion Lutheran Church Slates Mission Festival

Rev. Dr. Oswald C.J. Hoffman

Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, will hold a mission festival on Sunday, August 13, beginning with a service at the church at 10:30 a.m., followed by a dinner and program at Northern High School which begins at 12:30.

The events are part of the congregation's 125th anniversary celebration this year. The public is invited to attend both the service and the dinner/program. The Rev. Harry Coiner, who served the congregation from 1970-72, and the Rev. Frederick Illick, pastor from 1973-1984, will be present. The special speaker for the mission festival is the Rev. Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann of St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Hoffmann recently retired after 33 years of service as the speaker on "The Lutheran Hour," a radio ministry of the International Lutheran Laymen's League. The Lutheran Hour messages are broadcast over more than 1,200 radio stations in the United States and Canada and over more than 600 additional stations in more than 30 other English-speaking countries around the world.

Dr. Hoffmann is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. He has received honorary degrees from Concordia Seminary, Valparaiso University in Valparaiso, Ind., and the Philippine Christian University in Manila.

In 1977, Hoffmann, a life member of the American Bible Society board of managers and chairman of its translations committee, was elected president of the United Bible Societies, the world association of national Bible societies, succeeding the Most Rev. F. Donald Coggan, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Hoffmann, who is widely recognized as an outstanding Protestant church leader, is listed in Who's Who in America. He was named "Clergyman of the Year" by Religious Heritage of America in 1973. In 1982, he received the Gold Angel Award from Religion in Media as "International Media Clergyman of the Year." In 1980 he received the Secretary of Defense Award for Outstanding Service from the United States Department of Defense for his service to U.S. military personnel. Hoffmann has appeared on numerous network television and radio programs, and is the author of many magazine articles and several books.

GOH AWARDEES — Each year the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped presents various awards for special achievement and special service to the organization and to local handicapped persons. Gouhier explained that students are able to get discounts to travel all over Europe.

"It is easy for students to travel in Europe. There are youth hostels for them to sleep in and they get discounts to travel by train. They are able to meet other students. It is normal for a French person to meet and speak other languages with other people and to experience the commonality of all people," she said. "Our economic ties will be bound by 1990, when all of Europe has a common monetary system. Political ties are supposed to be bound by 1992, so this also makes it important to meet other people and know their language.

"Students are able to meet different people, of different cultures. They begin to have a different awareness of culture and of being," said Gouhier.

"The people in every country around France speak a different language. For example, it is no farther from Paris (France) to London (England), than it is from Oakland to Washington, D.C., and two different languages are spoken, so it is more important to know more than one language," Leitzel explained.

Classes in the French high schools are conducted in a way that is different from American high schools, but similar to our universities. Classes are held from 8 a.m. to noon, and then from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Students have Wednesday afternoon off, but must attend classes on Saturday morning.

"It is felt that it is better for students to have a break in the middle of the week. This also provides them with an opportunity to study and for seniors to write long compositions they are assigned," Gouhier explained. "The principle and middle schools have all of Wednesday off. The experts feel that it is important for young children to be able to sleep in late one day.

"A varied schedule is better for the rhythm of the student's work. It provides a chance for persons to think about what they have done and what they are going to do.

"I had some problems adjusting to the schedule here. Everyday is the same and I had trouble remembering what day it was. They all felt the same, just like in a factory. It lacked variety. What I missed and felt I needed the most was time to think. I never had time to think what I was doing here. The French system gives the teachers and the students time to think," she said.

Leitzel also had trouble adjusting to the change in schedules. "My schedule here is the same every day. It doesn't change. While the French system does prepare students for the college type of schedule, it was hard to adjust to a different routine every day. Sometimes I would have two hours off and other times I would have a different class in a different room on a continuous basis.

"For example, on Friday, I had a class from 9 to 10 a.m., then I had a break until my next class at 1 p.m. Then I had a class every hour until 5 p.m. I would just be exhausted on Friday evening. I had no time to think on Friday at all," he explained. "It took me until the middle of the school year to get accustomed to the routine."

Whether or not the varied routine makes a difference to the students is not clear, but both teachers agreed that French students have a higher level of motivation for the classes they are studying.

"The motivation is different. There is a higher level among the students I taught this last year," said Leitzel.

"The students work for results now. They have an immediate goal to earn the baccalaureate diploma, knowing that this is the first step of their college studies. My students know they will go to university, so their goal is to pass the exams," Gouhier explained.

"There is also far more respect for teachers in France. People tend to trust teachers because they know that a teacher has been educated. This doesn't seem to be the case in this country," she said. "Being a teacher gives social status in France. This is a useful job for the future of the country and students accept willingly the idea that it is the future they are working towards.

"I feel that teachers in France are more free and have more advantages. They are given more responsibility. They have teaching hours in school, but can spend other time as they wish. If they feel it is better to work at home alone rather than at school, then that is what they can do.

"Every five years, a teaching inspector evaluates your work. The inspector is a specialist in his field, like my inspector is a specialist in English, and just checks on English teachers. Teachers are 99 percent free. That doesn't seem to be the case here," she said. "Follow an official syllabus, grade your papers, and no one will inquire as to how you do your job because teachers are respected and trusted there."

Leitzel agreed with Gouhier up to a point. "In many respects it is an idealist system," he said. "I would like to see our education system more centralized. There are many aspects of their system I would like to see us have here, particularly a national or statewide exam; but otherwise, I like the regular rhythm we have here. It took me till mid-year to feel comfortable with the classes there," he said.

"It was a very positive experience, though," he continued. "Living in a different environment, understanding the French education system from the inside and getting to know about a new culture first hand was great. Of course, I also took full advantage of all the cultural events that a European city that size has to offer," Leitzel said.

"The whole experience was extremely positive for me too," said Gouhier. "It was a constructive test of my capabilities to adjust and I'm pleased that I lived up to the task, both in the daily life and in education. I gave up a lot of myself to make this a success and I appreciate the support of those who gave so much to make this a success.

"It's a very different experience to live and work with people, rather than to just pass through as a tourist. It was a bit of a cultural shock to come. I'm originally from Paris and I missed the theatres and cultural events, but I made the most of what was available and didn't miss one opportunity to get involved. The people have been so great, too, so friendly. That helped me a lot.

"I'm ready to go again," she continued. "I'm already planning to apply for an exchange to Australia. Hopefully I will be accepted. It may take time, but I will keep trying until I am accepted."

"I took full advantage of everything the city had to offer, culturally in particular, with movies and concerts," said Leitzel. "But my welcome home has been so warm and so positive, that I really feel that this is where I need to be for awhile. I felt something calling me back here.

"I know the people of Oakland have been just great and deserve a lot of commendation, I would also like to give credit and express thanks to the Garrett County Board of Education, the staff at Southern High School and the people of Garrett County for being so receptive to the exchange and for giving us their support," Leitzel said.

"Finally, I would recommend the experience to any teacher, particularly language teachers, but to any teacher. It makes you more aware and helps you to understand other people," he said. "Any teacher could benefit, no matter what subject he teaches, by the experience."

Ms. Gouhier returned to Paris at the beginning of this week. She said that she hopes to be able to visit here again within a couple of years and wants to keep in touch with her new friends and students that she has come to know over the past year.

Mr. Leitzel will again be teaching French courses at Southern High School this fall.

GOH's Annual Hike And Bike Termed "Success"

The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped recently held its 13th Hike and Bike and, according to Dot Leuba, the event was once again "a huge success." The Southern Route Hike and Bike was held at Dennett Road School with 27 participants and the Northern Route Hike and Bike was held at the Grantsville Community Park with 54 participants.

Honorary chairpersons this year were Governor William Donald Schaefer, who sent his picture and a letter of support to GOH, and John Chadderton, who has participated in many Hike and Bikes in his wheelchair.

Each participant was given a two-dollar coupon for either the Big Tee Burger, Oakland, or the Hilltop De-Lite/Fox's Pizza, Grantsville.

VFW Post 10077, Deer Park, members completed bike checks on all participants' bikes. The Northern and Southern rescue squads were on call for those events, and GOH noted that there were no injuries this year.

Prizes were awarded to organizations and individuals who raised the largest amounts of money. Prize winners for this year's events were as follows: $100 prizes to Dennett Road School, Garrett Memorial Hospital, and Grantsville Lion's Club; $50 prizes to individuals over 18 years of age to Rozelle Gow and Kriss DeWitt; and $50 prize to individuals under 18 years of age to Robert Beachy and Christopher Piper. Winners of the cash drawing each day were Christopher Piper, Dorothy Moyer, Jason Malone, and Linda Conner.

GOH HIKE AND BIKE — The Garrett Organization for the Handicapped recently held its 13th annual Hike and Bike, with events being held in both the southern and northern portions of the county. Pictured above, members of Deer Park VFW Post 10077 conduct inspections of the bicycles prior to the start of the event in the southern end of the county, which began and ended at Dennett Road School. Also pictured, center, is Garrett County Deputy Denver Welch who assisted with safety and traffic control.

All funds raised are used to provide support and assistance to handicapped individuals and programs in Garrett County. The Hike and Bike is GOH's major fundraiser. Anyone desiring further information about GOH and its activities should contact Dot Leuba, president, or attend the monthly meeting the first Thursday of each month at the Appalachian Crossroads Program, Third Street, Oakland, at 7 p.m.

Construction On New Westvaco Facility Completed

The completion of a $5 million facility designed to reduce odor and reduce methanol and acetone loadings to the U.P.R.C. waste treatment plant has been announced by Roger A. Dandridge, vice president and mill manager of Westvaco's Luke mill.

Construction of the facility began in September 1988 and was recently completed. A. H. Lundberg, Bellevue, Washington, was the prime contractor for the project, with Pulpco, Stone Mountain, Ga., a subcontractor.

According to Dandridge, Westvaco had been burning its noncondensable gases since 1984 as part of an odor reduction program. This latest facility will give a 90 percent reduction in condensable gases and total reduced sulfur gases. He added that the facility will also reduce B.O.D. loadings to the Westernport Waste Treatment Plant and will contribute to significantly reduced odor levels there.

Dandridge stated that the Luke mill is well beyond many other paper mills in the nation in elimination of its odorous compounds and that the Luke mill has made great strides in the reduction of odor, within both the operation and the community.

He cautioned, however, that this facility will not totally eliminate the typical paper mill odor, but it will reduce the level and frequency.

BBB Seeks Volunteers To Hear Complaints

The Better Business Bureau of Greater Maryland, Inc. is expanding its pool of community arbitrators. Arbitrators are trained to hold hearings and make final decisions in consumer/business disputes.

The BBB conducts an arbitration program in which a customer and business may settle a dispute by taking it before a community volunteer. The volunteer holds an informal hearing and makes a final decision on the dispute.

"The credibility of this entire program," said Richard Hogan, VP Operations, "depends on drawing volunteers from all segments of the community. We want spirited people who can make equitable decisions. No special background is necessary. Our arbitrators do not need technical expertise. The BBB maintains a special pool of volunteer technical advisors who are available when needed."

"Virtually anyone who has raised two children has arbitrated disputes of one type or another over the years," concluded Hogan.

The next training program will be held August 28-29 at the BBB, Baltimore. People interested in volunteering their time should call Leslie Felton, Arbitration Scheduling Coordinator, at 347-3987, or toll-free (800) 492-2101, for more information.

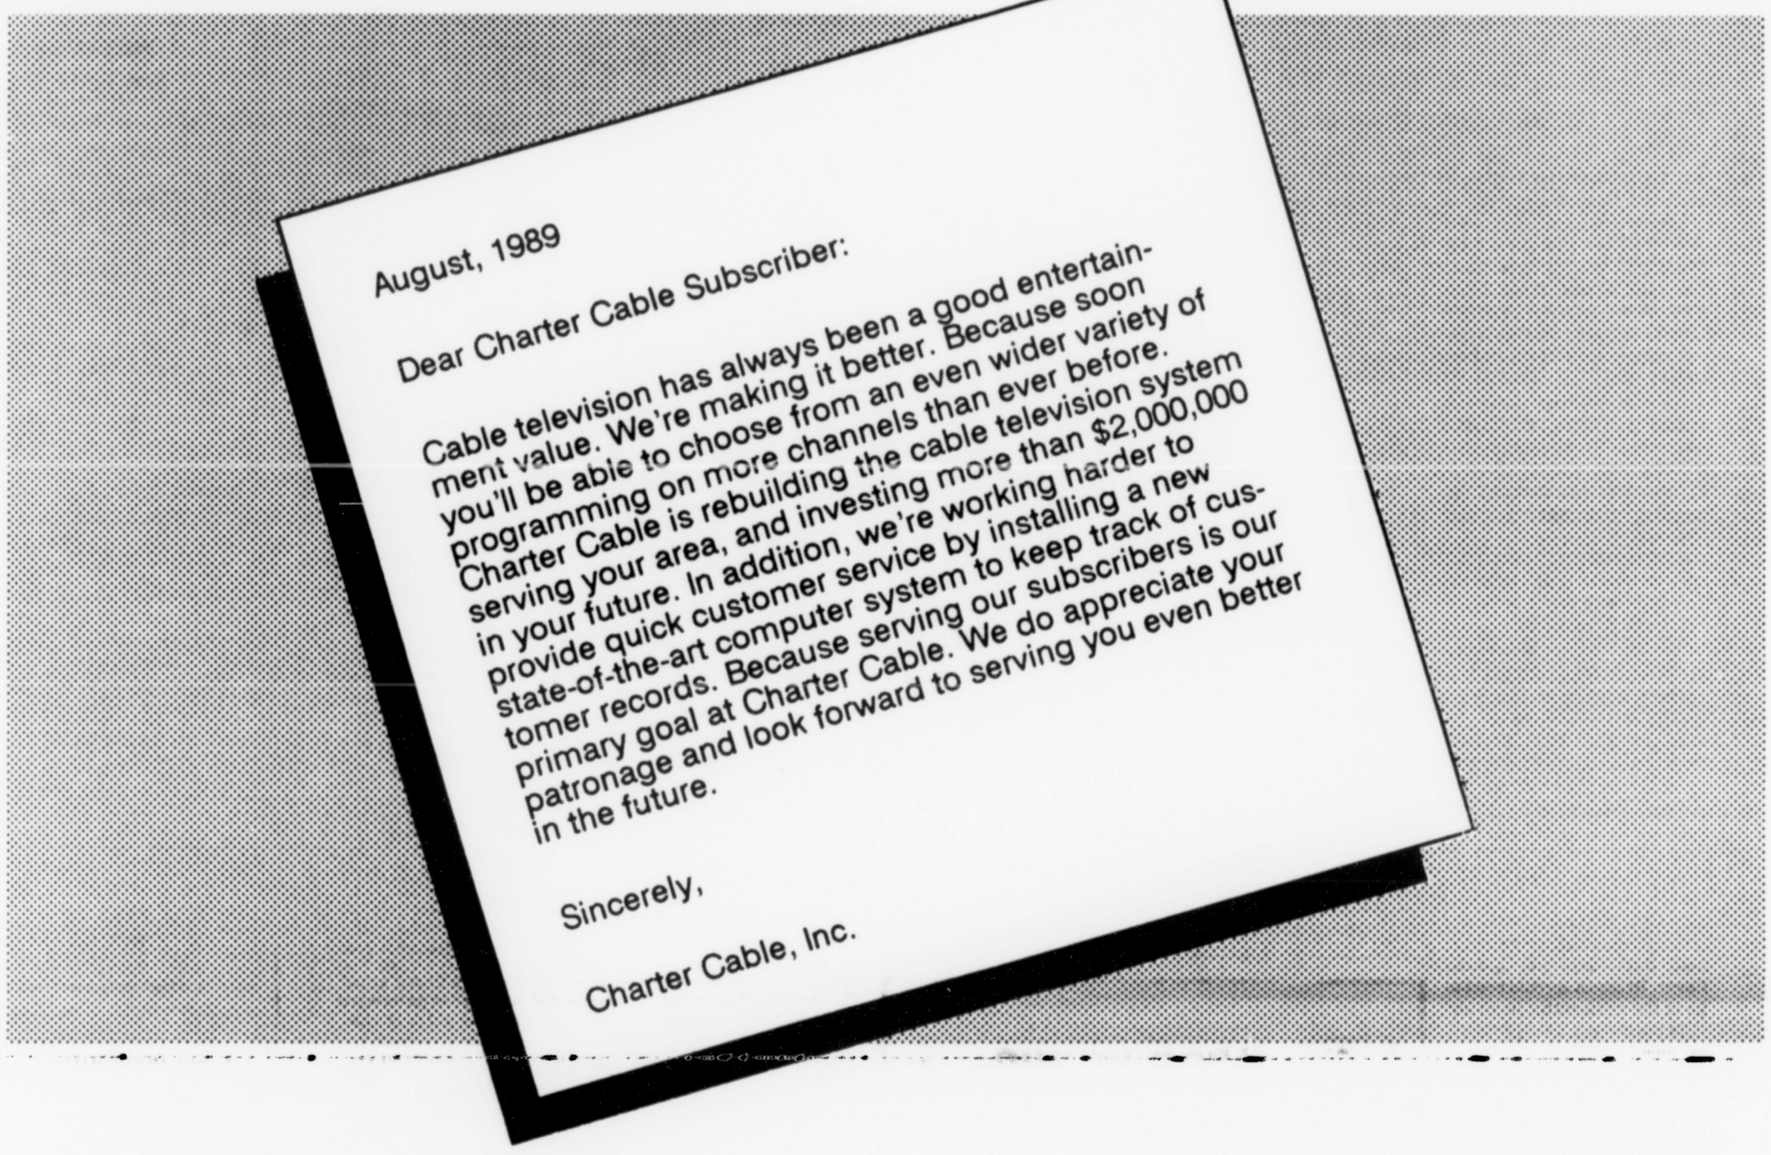
Introducing Better TV in the Accident and Friendsville Areas

An Open Letter to Charter Cable Subscribers



When Charter Cable puchased the cable television system serving Accident and Friendsville in June of 1988, we promised to plan for the future. Today, we're doing just that by rebuilding the entire cable television system and extending service to areas that have never before had cable television. The new system will provide clearer pictures as well as a greater variety of programming and new channels. The cable television system will also be more reliable -- less prone to service outages caused by weather conditions and failure of equipment.

A complete rebuild can take from 2 to 12 months, depending on the technical complexity of the system, so please be patient with us. Our crews will do their best to maintain the old system while constructing the new, but because of technical problems, you may notice temporary problems with your picture. If your problems persist, please let us know by calling 1-800-458-7098, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

When the new system is complete, each resident will be contacted by a Charter Cable representative. Until then, thank you for choosing Charter Cable. We look forward to providing you with even better tv.

Celebrates 80th, Receives 50-Year Fellowship Pin

Arlie Nine, a former resident of Garrett County now residing in Middle River, was recently honored by family and friends, as well as Memorial Odd Fellows Lodge No. 44 for two milestones in his life — his 80th birthday and 50 years of membership in the Odd Fellows organization.

Nine is the father of three children and has eight grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

Helena Lodge No. 171 is Nine's home lodge and Memorial Lodge is his associate lodge. He was presented the Veteran's Jewel for 50 years of service to Odd Fellowship by Past Grand Brother Lou Vesley.

Before making the presentation, Grand Warden James C. Showalter said that Nine is "always available when a need to help the less fortunate is expressed or when donations are needed for charity." He added, "Brother Arlie has profound feelings for those in need, and is not afraid to express his concern. His willingess to further the cause of friendship, love, and truth has endeared him to the hearts of the officers and members of Memorial Lodge No. 44."

STORAGE OF FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Whether you grow your own vegetables or the Mountain Fresh Tail Gate Market enticed you into buying farm fresh produce, it is important to know correct storage methods once you bring fruits and vegetables home.

The most important aspect of storage is to preserve vitamins and minerals, secondary are texture and visual appeal. Proper packaging and storage location can satisfy both concerns.

For a start — do you know the temperature of your refrigerator? Only with a thermometer can you be sure it is 34 degrees — 40 degrees F., the optimal temperature for most foods.

Green or snap beans can be wrapped in plastic bags, but use within a few days. Cooking them until almost done will preserve the flavor until they are served. Beets can be kept in the vegetable crisper for two weeks, but the tops should be used while still fresh. Broccoli, many people's favorite, should be washed, wrapped in plastic and refrigerated for no more than three days for optimal flavor. Brussels sprouts need to be in the refrigerator in an air-tight plastic bag, used promptly to avoid "Vitamin C loss," a nutrient high in all cruciferous vegetables (means belonging to the cabbage family, like cauliflower, collards, kale, kohlrabi, savoy). "Crinkled" cabbage should be trimmed of outermost loose leaves, then stored in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. Treat red, green and white cabbage the same even though it will keep longer (approximately 10 days).

Remove all green tops from carrots and plastic wrap in the refrigerator. Celery should be rinsed well, towel dried and refrigerated in plastic. All leafy greens should be in a plastic bag also in the refrigerator. Use as soon as possible and wash thoroughly before cooking.

Many people have a "secret" way of storing corn that makes theirs the best. Until you find your own special technique, keep corn unhusked and uncovered in the refrigerator and use as soon as possible. Lettuce can be washed, patted dry and wrapped in a damp towel or put into a crisper, then refrigerated. Remove all bruised sections, trimming the core may extend the storage time. Mushrooms need to be used within two days while the gills are still pinkish or light tan. Wipe them clean, do not peel or soak.

Onions respond well to storage in a cool, dry place with good air circulation. Freeze unused portions. Peas must be kept cold to retain their sweet flavor, shell before cooking. Peppers also do not keep much beyond a few days in the vegetable crisper. Potatoes are best kept in a cool, dark, well-aired bin. All squashes, except summer squash which needs refrigeratoring, require a cool, dry place for long-term storage.

Storage of tomatoes creates a controversy because the commercial product will not ripen more and will get mushy if not refrigerated, while the home-grown vegetable (it is really classified as a fruit) can be ripened in a paper bag or light (not sunlight) and then may be refrigerated.

Turnip has long-keeping quality, especially in the refrigerator, but remove tops first.

Next week: Storage of Fruits and Berries.

AWESOME!

A powerful word to be sure. Generally, it is used when dealing with thoughts or situations which are incomprehensible. When we lose a loved one, it is awesome to think we will not see them again; however, much more awesome is the question as to whether he or she was heaven bound. There is no possible way to imagine spending eternity in hell; but some do, and that thought is truly beyond any person's comprehension. Our life compared to eternity may be compared to a grain of sand compared to that of all the sand of all of the beaches in the world. We cannot get a good concept of that no matter how we try. We may find assurance and true peace if we accept Jesus Christ as our savior — live as He has commanded, and we can go forward in this life without the horrible awesome thought of eternity in hell. Spend a moment on this — what can you do once you leave this world — what can you change — what can your monetary successes change? The answer is a resounding NOTHING! At that point it is too late! That is the important part of this message. If you can read this, it is not too late — you can still turn to HIM. Just think, if this small column can bring ONE, just one to Christ and thereby saved — then a few dollars spent on this article can do what TEN BILLION DOLLARS cannot do once you have gone on from this life. Then it is too late. What could possibly make you wait to change until tomorrow — are you sure you will be here tomorrow? There will come a tomorrow when you won't be here — will you be ready for eternity?

Summer Heat Can Knock Out Milk Production

As the thermometer inches upward, the feed intake of dairy cattle is inching downward. Along with poor appetites, many cows are also eating energy-poor feedstuffs. This one-two punch can knock out production if not managed correctly.

Cattle, like people, do not eat as much when they are hot. And, when cattle go off feed they generally reduce forage intake first. Cattle voluntarily decreasing forage consumption are also reducing the amount of natural rumen buffer being produced.

"Whenever cattle are consuming a low fiber, high grain diet, a buffer should be used to normalize the rumen pH," says Dr. Louis Armentano, associate professor of dairy service, University of Wisconin — Madison.

If the rumen pH isn't stabilized between 6.2 and 6.8, many things can occur, most notably milk fat depression. Along with this, fiber digestibility decreases because the rumen is too acidic for the microbes to work properly, Armentano says.

Research at major universities has shown sodium bicarbonate is effective in normalizing the rumen pH.

"Adding sodium bicarbonate to the ration will help increase feed intake which results in higher milk production. This also minimizes milk fat depression when forage dry matter decreases," says Dr. Tom Sweeney, manager of animal research and technical services for the Agricultural Products Group of Church and Dwight Co., Inc.

A low rumen pH is only one summer nutritional problem. As new crops are brought in from fields, many cattle are still eating the "bottom of the silo stock" from last season. This creates another management challenge.

"Too much fiber from old forages can lower the energy level of the diet, throwing the cow into a negative energy balance because she can't eat enough to maintain milk production," Sweeney says.

Cattle eating poor quality or mature forages, or those not eating a well-balanced ration, may need more energy added to the diet.

Adding rumen bypass fat to the diet can maintain the optimum energy level because it does not interfere with the microbial function of the rumen. This problem often occurs when too much traditional fat is added to the ration.

Maintaining a normal rumen pH and a consistent energy level will keep high-producing cows in top form regardless of the temperature.

Beef Facts

•Cash receipts from the sale of cattle and calves totaled $35.3 billion in 1988 making the beef industry the largest single segment of the American Agricultural economy.

•Retail beef prices increased 5% in 1988 while supply decreased only 1%. This is a good indication that beef demand has stabilized.

•Despite large total meat supplies, consumer spending for beef in both the first and second quarters of 1989 was up 5% from a year ago.

New Base-Forming Period Began August 1

The Order No. 4 Base-excess Plan provides that every producer establish a new daily base each year during the 5-month August-December period, for use in determining his deliveries of base and excess milk during the following 12-month March-February period. A base established by a producer during August through December 1989 will be used in determining his deliveries of base and excess milk between March 1990 and February 1991.

A producer's daily base is calculated by dividing his total pounds of milk delivered to pool handlers during the base-forming period by the number of production days represented by his deliveries. No fewer than 120 production days may be used in making the calculation, even though the actual number of days may have been less. Daily basis are calculated by the market administrator after the close of each August-December base-forming period and announced no later than the following February 25.

Crop Notes

•Check your corn fields for the next 3 weeks for the adult Western Corn Rootworm. Taking population counts will assist you in planning for next year.

•Corn Leaf Aphids are active in a few corn fields. Normally, they do not do enough damage to worry about. Once in awhile they will destroy the silk, interrupting pollination. I have not seen this happen in Garrett County.

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service's programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, handicap, religion, age or national origin.

Help Your Horse This Summer By Fighting Flies

There's no single answer that suits every barn when it comes to controlling annoying and disease-carrying flies. But there are a variety of options — chemical and non-chemical — from which to devise a program that can make a substantial difference in each individual barn and for each horse.

Decreasing Production of Flies

The first step to good fly control is good sanitation — frequently cleaned stalls, and elimination of wet areas where fly breeding is most likely to occur. Removal of manure from the pasture and run-in sheds by manure fork or "vacuum" also will help.

One method that interferes with the breeding cycle uses nature to combat nature. This is the "Fly Predator," a tiny wasp-like insect that is bite-less and sting-less, but does feed on flies. The insect kills the immature fly and consumes its body for nutrition. Specific to flies, the Fly Predator reportedly does not attack any other animal, including humans, and does not migrate into nearby human living quarters. (Anyone desiring more information may write Spalding Laboratories, 760 Printz Road, Arroyo Grande, CA 93420.

Killing Adult Flies

Starting with non-chemical products, there are some devices that some people report having a helpful effect. These include electronic bug zappers, and several models of fly traps that use attractants to trap flies and kill them.

There are a number of insecticides that have proven themselves as fly-killers. In recent years, many manufacturers have concentrated on the production of preparations using pyrethrins — natural extractions taken from chrysanthemums . . . that are reported harmless to warm-blooded animals, but deadly to insects.

All chemical preparations should, of course, be examined by the barn owner and checked with a vet if doubt arises as to the safety of the ingredients. Preparations intended for other animals, such as cattle, should not be used on horses.

Residual insecticides can be sprayed or painted on walls, ceilings, rafters of barns and run-in sheds, and even vegetation. Some report up to six weeks of fly-killing effect.

Space sprays, fogs and mists with a shorter residual effect are useful if horses are confined in an enclosed area. Battery operated units are available that will effectively control flies in a single box stall, and a few such units will handle a small barn with only a few stalls.

Insecticide strips will reduce the fly population in a tack room, storage room, or even box stall, but should be kept well above a horse's reach.

Insecticide baits are made for use in areas where flies congregate, but they are not recommended for use where they may be obtained by small children or domestic animals.

Protecting the Horse

A very effective non-chemical aid is the fly mask, a mesh hood that with a hole for the ears that is secured by a velcro fastening under the jaw. Although the appearance of a hooded herd is a little startling at first, the masks do not interfere with the horse's vision, and do keep flies from landing around the eyes.

Also available are various string or fringe arrangements, which are fastened to a halter and hang over the eyes. They depend upon movement to "shoo" flies away. A chemical version, which has its own elastic halter, is said to deposit insecticide where it touches the horse's skin.

A useful device to carry on trail rides is a fly wisk, which often is the only way to deal with the huge body flies that cunningly land on the horse's croup, just out of reach of the tail.

In the chemical area are a number of wipes and sprays, with either or both repellent and insecticide action. The newest version this year comes mixed with a sunscreen. These sprays are effective for finite periods of time, and must be replenished. Horse owners using sprays should be cautioned to watch for signs of allergy or burn. Thoroughbreds seem particularly susceptible to this kind of reaction. Hives, swelling, or a change in behavior would call for immediate bathing with a mild soap, and perhaps a call to the vet.

For horses that aren't allergic, a roll-on applicator is useful to spread repellent around the face and along the centerline of the belly, where flies often congregate and bite.

A pastured horse will be greatly aided by having shade to stand in, since many flies will attack the horse only in the sun. A run-in shed or even a large tree will help, particularly if the area is regularly cleaned of manure, and kept fairly dry. A residual insecticide can be sprayed on the surfaces of the shed and on trees or foliage.

Hints To Growers

by Jim Simms
Extension Agent, Agriculture Science

Early Blight

Early Blight is starting to show up on tomatoes. The disease is caused by the fungus Alternaria solani. Symptoms of the disease start with dark brown spots with dark concentric rings on the older leaves. On green or ripe fruit, spots usually begin at the stem end and develop into a black leathery sunken area, often with dark concentric rings. The fungicides Manzate 200 and Bravo 720 will help control the disease. Apply the spray every seven days.

Cucumber Mosaic

This disease has been around a long time. The disease is caused by a virus. Symptoms first appear on younger leaves which curl downward and become mottled, distorted, wrinkled and reduced in size. Fruit is often misshapen, mottled, warty and reduced in size. Infected fruit may look like a "White Pickle" in which there is very little green color. The virus is mainly transmitted by aphids. Also, when you pick the cucumber, you can transmit the virus. Controls include using resistant varieties, avoid planting near perennial flowers and control the insects with an effective insecticide program.

Mt. Fresh Market

Last Saturday the Mt. Fresh Producers had their first "Tailgate" market in the Oakland City Parking Lot. The market was sold out by 10:30 a.m. Anyone interested in participating in the market may call Criss Kepple or myself at 334-1990 for additional information.

DEEP CREEK REALTY
REAL ESTATE
BY ROBERT HUEBNER

GETTING SETTLED!

A popular expression "It's not over until it's over!" is one way to describe the "settlement" of a real estate transaction.

Whether you are buying or selling a home, the "sale" begins to take place when an Agreement of Sale is first signed. That agreement spells out the rights and obligations of both buyers and sellers in the transaction. It contains the price, any financing terms, details about personal property which may be included, and a "closing" or "settlement" date.

During the period of time after the agreement is signed but before settlement takes place, the property is still legally owned by the sellers who continue to be responsible for its care and upkeep.

Finally, the settlement date arrives and until that point is reached, it's not "over."

On that date, two final actions take place which consummate the transaction: 1) title to the property is legally transferred from the sellers to the buyers, and 2) the purchase price is paid by the purchasers to the sellers.

Once the closing takes place, the purchasers are legally the owners and are fully responsible for the property.

Understanding your rights of ownership can be an important aspect of buying or selling a home. Ask your agent for details.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

ANGEL AND BUNNIE DRILL TEAM

The Angel Drill Team and Bunnie Drill Team, both composed of girls from North Chicago, Ill., stayed overnight at Eglon Friday enroute to a national competition in Baltimore. They performed their routines at the Maple Spring Church, shared a carry-in supper with those attending, and were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harsh at Eglon. There were 31 girls, their instructor, SMC Nathaniel Hamilton, USN (Ret.), assistant instructor, Judith Wrobel, and other chaperones, former members, and the music chairpersons, Neva Frantz, daughter of the Harshes. Assisting with the preparations for the evening were the Frantz family, Brenda and Claud Hartsell, and others of the community. The Angels have approximately 400 trophies and awards won in various competitions since their organization in 1967. They have 11 National Championship titles and four International Championship titles won in their military precision drill. The Bunnies, organized in 1975, included dance routine in their precision drill and since 1977 have accumulated a first in National Drill Team Competition, three Junior Division championships and approximately 200 other awards. Angela Nazelrod, Todd Hinebaugh Exchange Vows In June Ceremony

Angela K. Nazelrod and Todd R. Hinebaugh were united in marriage during a candlelight, double ring ceremony on June 10, 1989, at Mt. Top Christian Assembly, Mtn. Lake Park, with the Rev. Alvin Kyle and the Rev. Charles Teets officiating.

Vocalists were Nine Wagner, Becky Mason and Mark Weeks. Cliff DeWitt was the organist, and Jerry Kisner was the sound director. Judy Wilt was the photographer, and the wedding was video-taped by Tim Kling, friend of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Victor and Brenda Nazelrod, Mtn. Lake Park. The groom is the son of Edward and Janet Hinebaugh, Crellin.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown featuring a fitted bodice and leg-o-mutton sleeves, beaded with silk Venise lace, seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The Queen Anne neckline featured a stand up collar of silk Venise lace. The skirt fell from a fitted waistline and swept into a cathedral-length train of organza with ruffles. To complete her bridal attire, she selected a hat accented with silk Venise lace, iridescent sequins and a net pouf, with pearls cascading down the veil and at the side.

The bride carried a heart-shaped white and burgundy bouquet of roses high-lighted with burgundy, white and dusty rose ribbon streamers and pearls. She wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings, a gift from her parents.

Debbie Kling, friend of the bride, Copley, Ohio, was the maid of honor. Melissa Riley and Beth Lewis, both cousins of the bride and both of Oakland, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore tea-length gowns accented with a lace overlay and carried a candle arrangement.

The two flower girls were Jessica Godwin, cousin of the bride, and Tiffany Smith, cousin of the groom. Both wore burgundy tea-length dresses accented with a matching lace overlay and carried flower baskets. They also wore burgundy and baby's breath headpieces to match their dresses.

Doug Glotfelty, friend of the groom, was the best man. Ushers were Kris Hinebaugh, brother of the groom; Tony Perando, friend of the groom; Michael Nazelrod, brother of the bride; and Matt Riley, cousin of the bride. Scott Smith, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The groom wore a white tuxedo accented with a white cummerbund and tie. The best man and ring bearer wore gray tuxedos accented with burgundy ties and burgundy cummerbunds. The groom's brother, Kris Hinebaugh, wore his military dress uniform, while the other ushers wore gray tuxedos with dusty rose cummerbunds and ties.

The guest book attendant was Kathy Smith, aunt of the groom. The couple presented their mothers with a long-stemmed rose during the ceremony.

The wedding cake was baked by Patty Smith and given as a gift to the couple. The cake consisted of three layers and four side cakes, all with white icing accented with burgundy and dusty rose colored roses. Fresh flowers were used to top the cake, which also featured a fountain in the middle. The cake was cut and served by Patty Smith and Diana McNear, aunts of the groom.

A reception followed the wedding in the basement of the church, and was hosted by Rita Liller, friend of the bride, and Betty Riley, aunt of the bride. Diana Liller, Betsy Hardesty, and Lisa Godwin, friends of the bride, attended the refreshment tables. Mary Hardesty, aunt of the bride, and Denise Evans and Vicki Wilson, friends of the bride, opened the gifts before the ceremony. Becky Tasker, friend of the bride, was in charge of the money basket.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Southern High School, and is currently employed at Bausch and Lomb. The groom is a 1984 graduate of Southern High School, and is also employed at Bausch and Lomb.

Following a honeymoon in Niagara Falls, Canada, the couple took up residence in Oakland.

Public Meeting Set To Clarify PM Program

A series of public meetings is being held to clarify proposed regulations and obtain suggestions relating to Maryland's Preventive Maintenance (PM) program for trucks, buses and trailers. The local meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be conducted by the Maryland State Police and the Maryland Department of Transportation on August 28, at Allegany Community College.

The new program, designed to improve safety on Maryland roadways, requires extensive vehicle examination and complete, well documented record keeping. Commercial vehicle owners must inspect, maintain and repair the vehicles at least every 12 months or 25,000 miles, whichever occurs first.

As of January 1, 1990, commercial vehicles must comply with the requirements of Maryland's PM program before the Motor Vehicle Administration will issue a new, validated registration.

The PM requirement applies to the following vehicles registered in Maryland:

Class E truck with registered operating gross vehicle weight of over 10,000 pounds; Class F tractor; Class G freight trailer or freight semi-trailer; and Class P passenger bus.

The Maryland State Police and other agencies will enforce the new regulations through interminal reviews, audits and roadside inspections.

Copies of the proposed regulations for the PM program are available from the Division of State Documents at (301) 974-2486. The fee is $3 per copy, plus $2 for postage. Make the $5 check payable to the Maryland Register and mail to P.O. Box 802, Annapolis, Maryland 21404. Copies may also be purchased from the Maryland Motor Truck Association, Inc., at (301) 644-4600.

For more information about the PM program, call the Maryland Department of Transportation at 1-800-543-4564 or the Maryland State Police Motor Carrier Safety Unit at (301) 247-6641.

Friend Named To Who's Who

Kelly Friend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin E. Friend, Swanton, has recently been named to the 23rd Annual Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Friend will begin her sophomore year at Southern High School.

Who's Who recognizes students who have demonstrated leadership in academics, athletics and extra-curricular activities. Over 14,500 high schools and youth organizations nominate students for this honorary award but only five percent of all high school students are honored each year.

Most Recipients Of SS Utilizing Direct Deposit

"If you get Social Security," said Elaine Watson, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland, "you probably get your payments by direct deposit. If not, it's time to think about a change."

Direct deposit is now considered the normal way of receiving Social Security or supplemental security income payments, she said, noting that more people get their payments by direct deposit than by any other method. "Most people like it because it's such a safe and convenient way to receive payments," she said.

With direct deposit, payments are sent electronically and deposited in a designated checking or savings account. This takes the place of the paper check that would be mailed to the home.

"Maybe the best thing about an electronic payment is that it can't be lost or stolen like a paper check," Ms. Watson said. "If you still get checks mailed to your home, you are nearly 10 times more likely to have your payment lost or stolen than if you had direct deposit."

Convenience is another reason many people sign up for direct deposit, she said. Payments are deposited on the same day the check would have arrived in the mail, which means the money is available right away without the trouble of making a special trip to the bank to cash or deposit the check.

Ms. Watson said that the government saves about 26 cents each time it makes a payment by direct deposit. "Those savings can add up to millions of dollars each year, money that can be put back in the trust fund and used for future benefit payments," she said.

To sign up for direct deposit, persons should call Ms. Watson's office at 1-800-2345-SSA (toll-free).

Garrett CC Job Placement Center Receives Grant

The Garrett Community College Job Placement Center has received a grant to continue its second year of operation, according to Sandy Major, Center coordinator. The grant from the state utilizes federal funds from the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act.

The Job Placement Center, opened in January of this year, is housed in The Center for Community and Continuing Education at the College. A year-end report shows that the Center is successful in obtaining jobs for students, Ms. Major said.

During the first six months of operation, interviews were arranged for 51 of 55 placement center applicants. The interviews resulted in successful placement of 43 applicants. Ms. Major said the number of students and community members served and placed is expected to grow dramatically as knowledge about GCC's services increases.

Between January and June the staff of the center worked with 52 local employers and listed 108 job openings. It has also referred students to openings listed in the want ads and with the Maryland State Office of Employment Service. Since some college training programs are welfare related, welfare clients represented 36 percent of GCC placements. The college expects that this percentage will grow in the future.

Employers and job seekers using the Job Placement Center were surveyed in June. One hundred percent of employers responding to the survey indicated that they were pleased with the services provided and that they would use the Center again. Ninety-eight percent of the students who were served expressed their satisfaction with the center and their appreciation of the services offered.

The staff of the Job Placement Center has established its 1989-90 objectives, Ms. Major said, and she hopes to increase the clientele and services in the year ahead.

The Center's services include assistance in finding full and part-time jobs, job counseling, resume writing, referral to job related resources, training sessions on interview and job search techniques, and listings on available full and part-time jobs. While credit and noncredit GCC students are given priority, services are also available to community members. The staff of the center is also ready to assist employers assessing quickly a ready pool or applicants from a variety of vocational preparations; posting available jobs, scheduling on-campus recruitment visits, and providing qualified applicants for positions in business, banking, construction, geriatrics, office, hospitality, retail, and wildlife. All center services are free.

Employers or job seekers desiring further information about job placement services should contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 180.

Ida Maust Is Recipient Of Realtors' Award

Ida Maust was recently selected as the recipient of "The Realtors Award for Outstanding Community Service" by the Garrett County Board of Realtors in recognition of her "extraordinary and self-sacrificing acts in service to the community," said Board President Thomas B. Thayer.

Thayer said Ms. Maust, known in the community for her efforts with Hospice of Garrett County Habitat for Humanity, and the House of Hope, has displayed "constant and unwavering support" for various community charities for many years. "As a result of her tireless efforts in behalf of these activities, the citizens of Garrett County have gained a tremendous benefit, for which the Garrett County Board of Realtors is proud to recognize and honor with this distinctive award," Thayer said.

As recipient of this local award, Ms. Maust is also a candidate for the State "Realtors Award for Outstanding Community Service" sponsored by the Maryland Association of Realtors. The winner of the State Award will receive a $1,000 cash award and an expense-paid trip to the Sheraton Resort in Lancaster, Pa., where the State Award Ceremony will be held in September.

"The Garrett County Board of Realtors and the Maryland Association of Realtors are proud to demonstrate the appreciation of real estate professionals to individuals who selflessly perform acts of outstanding service within their communities, such as Ida Maust," Thayer said.

Realtors are members of the local state and national Association of Realtors dedicated to continuing education and a code of ethics, who have served as the voice for real estate in Maryland for over 50 years.

Gabriele Notes Statistics For First Six Months

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele has announced the departmental statistics for the first six months of 1989. The first half of 1989 was a productive six months with more fire code safety inspections conducted during that period than in the first six months of 1988.

From January through June of 1989, 7,457 fire code safety inspections were conducted by the State Fire Marshal's Office. This is an increase of 15.6 percent over the 6,448 such inspections conducted during the first half of 1988.

The busiest month for inspections during 1989 was May when 1,621 inspections were conducted. Fire code inspections are made to insure that facilities meet Maryland minimum fire safety regulations. Those occupancies receiving the most attention by Deputy State Fire Marshal's were multi-family residential occupancies and educational facilities where 2,220 and 779 inspections were made respectively.

The Fire Protection Engineering Bureau conducted more plan reviews during the first six months of 1989 than during this same period in 1988. Fire Protection Engineers reviewed a total of 2,216 building plans during the first half of 1989 as compared with 1,738 such plan reviews during the first six months of 1988.

During the first half of 1989 the Office of the State Fire Marshal investigated a total of 886 fire, explosive and chemical incidents. This was down from the 1,052 such incidents investigated during the first six months of 1988. Arson incidents also decreased slightly during the first half of 1989 with 271 incidents investigated by the State Fire Marshal's Office as compared with 298 for the same period in 1988.

March was the busiest month for initial investigations during the first half of 1989, with 175 investigations during the first half of 1989, with 175 investigations recorded. June was the slowest month with only 129 investigations.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal's Bomb Squad handled 204 bomb and explosive incidents during the first half of 1989. This was a decrease of 12.4 percent from the 233 such incidents recorded during the first half of 1988.

Eighty-eight people were arrested for arson and fire code violations during the first six months of 1989. Sixty-four of these arrests were for arson related crimes. The Northeast Regional Office, consisting of Harford, Cecil and Kent Counties led the State with 31 individuals arrested for arson, explosive and fire code violations. The Western Regional Office, which includes the Counties of Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick, recorded the second highest number of arrests at 21.

Appalachian Trail Project Receives Committee Approval

Senators Barbara A. Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes (D-MD) have won approval from the Senate Appropriations Committee for $10 million in funding for improvements and land acquisition on the Appalachian Trail.

"The Appalachian Trail is a great resource for hikers and backpackers from Maine to Georgia. This funding will help keep it in good shape for both recreational and conservation uses," said Senator Mikulski, who worked as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee to get the funding included in the FY 1990 Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations bill.

"As both a unique recreational experience and a link to our heritage, the Appalachian Trail is a treasured part of our National Parks system," said Sen. Sarbanes. "Now hikers along the trail will be able to enjoy Maryland's beauty uninterrupted, from Pen Mar, Maryland, through to Harper's Ferry, West Virginia."

The funding includes $7 million for improvements to Appalachian Trail, to be done by the National Park Service, along with $3 million for the acquisition of the remaining six miles of the trail located in Maryland.

In addition to the $10 million for the Appalachian Trail, the FY 1990 Interior Appropriations bill includes $5 million in funding for the National Park Service's work on the Rivers and Trails Conservation Assistance Program. This will go to various projects, such as the Rails-to-Trails Program.

The bill also includes $1.5 million to continue the Abandoned Coal Mine Lands Reclamation Program, which works in Maryland and five other states to reduce the safety and environmental threat from abandoned coal mines through measures such as sealing old mine shafts and replanting steep mine slopes.

Final Congressional passage of funding for these measures, which have also passed on the House side, is expected later this fall.

The average pencil can draw a line 35 miles long.

U.S. Air Force Sets Meeting On Proposed Tower

The U.S. Air Force will hold a public meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 24, at the Garrett Community College continuing education building, room 305, Mc Henry, to discuss siting plans of a Ground Wave Emergency Network (GWEN) tower in the western Maryland area.

The Air Force has identified a 250-square-mile site search area for the GWEN tower that is centered in McHenry. Towns within an approximate nine-mile radius of McHenry fall within the site search area and could be considered as a location for the GWEN tower. The siting process is part of a plan to locate 40 GWEN towers to complete the final phase of a nationwide 96-tower network.

"This is an excellent opportunity for people with questions on GWEN and our siting process to get the answers they need," said Lt. Col. Stephen Martin, GWEN program manager. "We hope everyone will take advantage of this meeting."

GWEN is an unmanned and automated data system which relays emergency and wartime messages among national command authorities, strategic military facilities such as radars and command posts, and Strategic Air Command bases. The system ensures that vital messages flow to top military leaders and operational forces. Located at 150-200 mile intervals, the network of radio relay nodes includes towers similar to transmitters used by commercial radio stations to relay the messages via ground-hugging, low frequency radio waves.

An integral part of the Strategic Modernization Program approved by Congress, Air Force Systems Command's Electronic Systems Division is developing GWEN.

The Air Force will follow a uniform site selection process

Man Arrested For Assaulting Deputy Sheriff

A Grantsville man was arrested Saturday for assaulting a police officer, after he allegedly attempted to attack a Garrett County Sheriff's Department Deputy with a butcher knife.

Larry Melvin Bittinger, 21, was arrested following the alleged assault of Deputy Charles P. Nolan in Grantsville on Friday night, according to a spokesman at the Sheriff's Department.

The incident began after Deputy Nolan attempted to stop Bittinger for a minor traffic violation. Bittinger fled the scene on foot with Nolan in pursuit. The deputy lost sight of Bittinger when he ran around an apartment building, but later spotted him in an apartment. The alleged assault occurred when the deputy, along with State Police Sergeant Cindy Smith, entered the apartment in an attempt to apprehend Bittinger. According to reports, the deputy was able to avoid the blow. Bittinger then turned the knife on himself and refused to leave. Maryland State Police Trooper Jay Reed arrived and convinced Bittinger to surrender himself peacefully.

Bittinger was then taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, for emergency evaluation and found to be competent. He was subsequently released into Nolan's custody.

Bittinger faces charges of assault with intent to maim; assault with a deadly weapon; assault; resisting arrest; carrying a concealed deadly weapon; destruction of property; and five additional traffic violations.

Bittinger also faces a charge of reckless endangerment as the result of a criminal summons issued on behalf of Nolan. This civil action carries a maximum weight of five years in jail or a $5,000 fine.

Bittinger was incarcerated and later released after posting $500 bail.

Rebecca DeBerry Is Crowned 1989 Garrett County Farm Queen

Rebecca DeBerry was crowned the 1989 Garrett County Farm Queen in a ceremony sponsored by Farm Bureau, Sunday evening on the 4-H stage at the fair. Rebecca, who is the 17-year-old daughter of Everett and Harriet DeBerry of Deer Park, will be a senior at Southern High School this fall. After graduation, Rebecca plans to attend college and major in veterinary science.

Beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and crops are raised on the DeBerry farm, and aside from her household and lawn chores, Rebecca helps care for the animals, helps make hay and works in the garden.

The new Farm Queen has been a member of the Country Kids 4-H Club for 10 years, and has served as president, vice president, secretary, news reporter and treasurer. Her 4-H projects have included beef steers, dairy goats, sewing and cooking. Rebecca has been involved in 4-H Public Speaking, and was a member of the State Livestock Judging Team at Timonium for two years. In 1987, her family was named the Garrett County 4-H Family of the Year. She has also served as the 4-H representative for the Garrett County Livestock Association.

In high school, Rebecca is a member of the Southern Garrett Marching, Stage and Concert Bands, trumpet soloist, and trumpet section leader. She was a recipient of the 1988 and 1989 United States National Band Awards, and named to Who's Who of the American Achievement Academy for music and leadership in 1989.

She is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church and a member of the Junior Mason Dixon Polled Hereford Association. This summer, Rebecca is employed at The Copper Kettle Restaurant on Route 135.

The new Farm Queen enjoys drawing when time permits, and says her other special interests are music, sports and animals.

The first runner up is Monica Miller, the daughter of Ralph and Glenna Miller of Pleasant Valley. Monica will help the queen with activities during the week.

Rebecca traveled to Timonium for the State Farm Queen orientation on Tuesday. The state contest will be held at the Maryland State Fair on Sunday, August 27.

GCC Board Learns Reciprocity Agreement Near Completion

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees learned that a reciprocity agreement between Garrett Community College and Pennsylvania State University's Fayette Campus in Uniontown is near completion at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting.

The agreement, which must be approved by the Maryland Higher Education Committee (MHEC), will enable 20 GCC students to attend Pennsylvania State University's Fayette Campus at in-state rates, and 20 students from Fayette and Somerset Counties to attend GCC at the in-county rates.

Nancy J. Priselac, Dean of College Development and Institutional Research, explained that the program will enable GCC students to take courses in programs not currently offered at GCC and enable students in Pennsylvania to attend classes closer to their homes by coming to GCC.

The program is a three year pilot project and may be canceled within that time frame. However, if a student enrolls in the program, he may finish the program at the same tuition rates.

Dr. Stephen Herman, President of GCC, explained that this is not a totally new program. GCC has had a reciprocity agreement with West Virginia for many years now, but the college is compensated for the money lost by allowing students to attend at a lower tuition rate.

With the reciprocity agreement with Pennsylvania, GCC will forego any compensation for the next three years.

Dr. Herman cautioned that the program will not receive final approval from MHEC until the next meeting later this month.

ENROLLMENT

Dr. Lillian Mitchell, Dean of Instruction and Student Services, said that enrollment figures are up by over 20 percent. There are currently 415 students enrolled at the college, with an FTE (full time equivalency) of 159.03. Compared to last year, enrollment is up by 21.27 percent, with the FTE up by 21.2 percent. GCC has closed 25 sections of courses so far.

EARLY INTERVENTION PROGRAM

The Garrett County Board of Education and GCC are working on a proposal for an early intervention program.

Dr. Mitchell explained that the program will help to prepare economically disadvantaged students for future academic success. The target group will be fifth graders in the area. The

Appointments Fuel Tension Among Local Board Of Education Members

A tension among members of the Garrett County Board of Education became evident during the public session of their regular meeting on Thursday when Mikal Moomau, board president, voiced her opinion of recent appointments made by the school board.

A special meeting was held on August 2 to adopt the budget as well as act on personnel appointments. The appointments resulting from that meeting were Edward Green, teacher education center coordinator; Dale Garlitz, principal at Grantsville Elementary School; and Cynthia Downton, pupil personnel worker.

Moomau's statement was as follows: "Wednesday, August 2, 1989, a special meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education was held to adopt the 1990 budget and act on personnel appointments.

"During the executive session four personnel appointments were discussed. Following this in public session a vote was taken on three appointments. By a vote of three to one the board voted to fill these positions with candidates other than those recommended in writing in the executive session by the superintendent. Recorded in the minutes those voting for were Beverly Murphy, Carol Clark and Rodney Durst. The vote against came from Charlie Teets. The majority ruled and the motion carried. The president or chairman does not customarily vote unless there is a tie vote.

"After careful review of the situation, in good conscience I feel compelled to state publically my opposition to these personnel appointments by the three board members on August 2 for the following reasons:

- The established selection process was discounted.
- The stated qualifications of the candidates were ignored.
- The recommended candidates for three positions were ignored.
- The expert opinion of the superintendent and assistant superintendent who are paid to evaluate, interview and make appropriate recommendations was ignored
- No factual evidence or information was presented to disqualify the recommended candidates."

Moomau continued, "It is my belief that three very qualified, dedicated employees of the Garrett County Board of Education were arbitrarily and capriciously denied positions for which they were most qualified and had been recommended.

"It is my opinion that by taking this action the board is making it clear to all its employees that advancement will come not through dedication, hard work and the official selection process, but rather through politics and favoritism.

"I strongly urge members of the board of education to return to and adhere to the established selection process of hiring personnel in the Garrett County School System to insure equity to all involved."

When questioned about the board appointments, Garrett County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage said, "My public recommendations were accepted on August 2. Consequently, I look forward to these three doing a job for us and for the youngsters of Garrett County."

Ryscavage added, "I can't

Foundation Of GCMH To Host Special Barbecue

The Foundation of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital announced this week it will sponsor a rather unique fund-raising effort next month, a ranch-style barbecue at Del Acres, the mansion built by the late Carl DelSignore along Herrington Manor Road.

The event is slated for Saturday, Sept. 16, and will feature the barbecue, live entertainment, and guided tours of the mansion. Although invitations are being sent by the Foundation, the event is open to all persons for a $50 donation per ticket, $40 of which is tax-deductible.

The 15,000-square-foot main house at Del Acres, which rests on 1,900 acres of high rolling farm land, boasts a total of 26 rooms, including seven bedrooms, 13 baths, an indoor pool, exercise room, and a 3,000-square-foot solid cherry paneled trophy room.

Also on the property is an 11-acre recreational lake with a sand beach and an island, upon which is a gazebo with a native stone fireplace, bathroom, wet bar, and a flagstone floor.

Also situated on the property are another 10-acre recreational lake, a manager's house, a tenant house, six barns, a machine building, and a machine shop.

According to a spokesman for the hospital Foundation, the use of Del Acres for this event is being "generously made available by its owner, Mrs. Carl DelSignore to benefit the Garrett County Memorial Hospital."

Persons wishing to obtain tickets to the barbecue may do so at Englander's Pharmacy in Oakland, Deep Creek Pharmacy in McHenry, or at the Foundation office at the hospital.

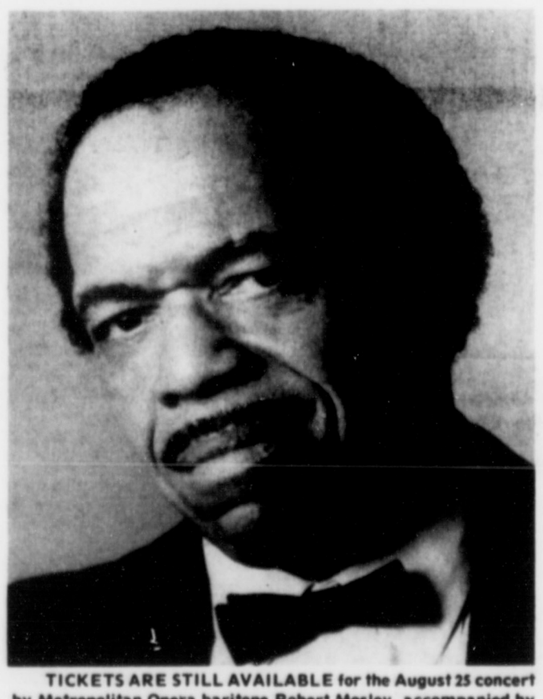
Manny Sanguillen, Former Pirate Catcher, To Be AGF Parade Marshal

Manny Sanguillen, former Pittsburgh Pirates catcher, will be Grand Marshal of the 22nd Annual Autumn Glory Festival Grand Feature Parade on Saturday, October 14, according to the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council. Sanguillen will also be signing autographs during the TLT Enterprises Baseball Card Show at the Center Street School in Oakland from 10 a.m. to noon that day.

During his career with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Sanguillen was called the "Iron Man," and played in 53 straight games at the end of the 1974 season and in 93 of the Bucs' final contests, starting in 90 of them. He finished with a .287 batting average, setting career highs in hits, games, at bats and runs scored, while maintaining his lifetime batting figure at .300. Twice in one game he threw out the swift Lou Brock attempting to steal. With Duffy Dyer available to spell him on occasion in 1975, Sanguillen could have an even more productive year. His batting records include 1,448 games, 5062 at bat, 566 runs, 1,500 hits, 65 home runs, 585 RBI's, and 35 stolen bases.

Born in Colon, Panama, Sanguillen was involved in sports from an early age. He participated in track, soccer, basketball and boxing in high school and considered boxing professionally, until he was introduced to baseball at the age of 18. He played all positions and seemed to have a natural instinct for the game, and played only a few months before signing a contract with the Pirate organization. He currently resides in Pittsburgh.



TICKETS ARE STILL AVAILABLE for the August 25 concert by Metropolitan Opera baritone Robert Mosley, accompanied by Rita Mosley, at Garrett Community College. Considered by critics as one of the most gifted and experienced performers on the American stage today, Mosley has sung with the leading United States opera companies and has been a soloist with several major symphony orchestras. He is best known in New York City for his performances as the lead role in "Porgy and Bess" at the Metropolitan Music Hall, a role he has just recently performed in Italy and Germany. His program at GCC will include favorite American and English songs. Tickets, which are $10 each, may be purchased at Englander's Pharmacy, Oakland, and Deep Creek Pharmacy, McHenry. The program is being sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival.

Yough Board Meets For Update On Study, Plan And Membership

The Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board met last Thursday for a review of the Youghiogheny Corridor Management Plan, an update on the recreational carrying capacity study and the announcement of new members named to the Advisory Board.

David Thomas and Ralph Burnett have been named as members of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board.

Thomas will be representing the Soil Conservation District and Burnett is a contiguous land owner.

A fully constituted board consists of three members to represent owners of land within the Youghiogheny River Corridor; two members to represent the county's residents at large; two members from the Soil Conservation District; and one member from the local government.

The Advisory Board is now fully constituted. One member, John Hinebaugh, was removed from the Advisory Board in June. Hinebaugh apparently received a letter from Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary Torrey Brown, informing him that the DNR had decided to remove him from the Advisory Board, as he was "no longer providing a positive cooperative contribution."

Hinebaugh, who has been an outspoken member of the Advisory Board and has taken Governor William Donald Schaefer, Sec. Torrey Brown, and other representatives of the DNR and state and local governments to task on many occasions, read a prepared statement during the citizen's comment period at the meeting, the full context of which may be read in today's section of "Letters to the Editor."

Ernie Gregg, Garrett County Commissioner and local government representative to the Advisory Board, explained after the meeting that the Advisory Board is now fully constituted and that the Board could name more persons to the Board if there were more local persons willing to serve.

CAPACITY STUDY

Al Graef, representative of Pennsylvania State University, gave an update on the recreational carrying capacity study for the Youghiogheny River and surrounding lands.

Pennsylvania State University has been hired by the Department of Natural Resources to conduct the study, which is due to be completed on October 15.

The study will include assessments of recreational use, hydrology analysis, economic impact, emergency services and landowner surveys.

Graef explained the emergency services component to the Board members. He said that there are three major objectives that have been identified to help to prevent accidents and to assist in the cases of emergencies, including a document outlining emergency service capabilities, recommendations for prevention of accidents and response in the case of Another Rabies Case Confirmed By Health Dept.

The Garrett County Health Department reported yesterday that the county's sixth case of rabies for 1989 has been confirmed.

According to a spokesman for the health department, a raccoon shot by Gary Cooper at his residence along Wilson-Corunna Road near Gorman was found to have the disease. The raccoon had reportedly attacked Cooper's dog.

The dog, which had been vaccinated against the disease and was given a booster shot following the attack, will be observed for the next 10 days to make sure there is no sign of its being infected.

Education Board Meets To Discuss Agenda Items

Besides the controversial issue involving recent board appointments (see separate story), numerous items were on the agenda for discussion by the Garrett County Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting last Thursday.

House Construction

Ken Bittinger, vocational supervisor, reported on the building trades house construction projects at both high schools, noting that the board has not lost any money on the program.

The project has improved the school's construction programs, and positive comments have been received from the public. Bittinger noted that he wants the board to contiue tracking the projects, with the program becoming self-supportive within three years. In the future, the program will also finance other projects, such as the carpentry program and VICA.

Student Service

Luther Parrack, director of secondary education, informed the board about the student service alliance course offering, which is new this year on the high school level. Students will receive credit for community service.

Parrack reported that various agencies will document what the students do, and this will be coordinated with the classroom.

The class is designed as a pilot program, and will be held during the student activity period 17 times during the year.

DEL ACRES, a 1,900-acre piece of property which includes this 26-room mansion along Herrington Manor Road, will be the site of a special fund-raising event by the Foundation of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. The September 16 bash will feature a ranch-style barbecue, live entertainment, and tours of the mansion, which was built by the late Carl DelSignore. Tickets are $50 per person, $40 of which is tax-deductible. See story for details.

This year, the course will deal with aging, disabled persons, environmental concerns, health and emergency services, poverty, and tutoring. Community services will speak to the class, informing them of what the needs are and what can be done. The group will then select a topic to pursue.

Parrack reported that a meeting was held with agency representatives earlier this month, with positive responses. He noted that the class should have good support, and he sees it becoming regular course at some time.

Curriculum Review

Al Ringer, assistant superintendent of instruction, gave a report on the annual curriculum review for mathematics. A workshop was held this month, with good participation.

Ringer noted the biggest changes in the math curriculum for the coming year. They include the use of computers and calculators on the elementary level; pre-algebra and algebra being introduced in the middle schools; and on the high school level, recommending that each student take four years of math.

Vehicle Usage

The discussion of student vehicle usage at the high schools was also on the agenda for the meeting. The principals are currently not having any particular problems with students bringing vehicles to school. Students have reportedly accepted the process, and must get permission to drive and park in designated areas.

Reasons for granting vehicle usage include employment, early release, college, one-day special requests and emergencies. The requests may be denied because of abuse, such as acting in an unsafe manner, improper parking, and violating basic school rules.

The principals reported that they feel the process is currently working with minimum headaches. They noted that if students are denied vehicle use, the problem will only be transferred from the school to the board.

Transportation Audit

The follow-up report to the transportation audit included three issues: the establishment of bus shelters, school bus drivers not adhering to posted limits, and bus passes.

In the past, the school bus shelters were constructed by the vo tech classes with state funding. However, the state will no longer supply funds for the shelters. Mike Sines, supervisor of transportation, recommended that the board cease to construct and set up the shelters, but continue to maintain the current shelters which are still adequate. Various alternatives were discussed, and the board will make a decision at a later date.

Sines noted problems with a few school bus drivers exceeding speed limits. The limit for buses carrying passengers is always 45 miles per hour. Maryland State Police will continue to monitor school bus stops as well as the operation of the buses themselves. Sines noted that he thinks the problem can be controlled administratively.

Bus passes continue to be a problem for the board. Attempts have been made to gain better control, but the issue is still a source of concern.

Sines noted that he would like to track at least two schools to keep track of permission slips, matching the bus driver's slips with the requests received at the school.

NHS Open Space

John Morris, assistant superintendent of administration, gave an update on the Northern High School open space project, noting that 42 days were lost because of the weather.

Trenching has been dug around the track, which will tie to the underground drain system on the football field. Reseeding began last week, and the football field will also be graded and seeded.

Morris said, "It is now most unlikely that the field will be in any condition to play football this fall." Northern had been scheduled to play six home games. Arrangements have been made to play four of the games on Southern's field. The other two games have been moved to the opponents' fields.

SHS Renovation

Jerome Ryscavage, Garrett County superintendent of schools, updated board members on the progress of the Southern High School renovation possibilities.

Ryscavage noted that a meeting was held with Dr. Yale Stenzler, executive director of public school construction, earlier this month. The current set of schematic drawings was presented to him, and he was questioned about whether the project had any hope of moving on.

Stenzler stated that there is hope of keeping the project going. In order to do so, the schematic drawings would have to be received by the state by September 1. If approved there, the project would have to be designed by the end of October. This would put the project in line for possible construction monies in July of 1990.

Ryscavage stated the project is still a possibility, but it will be a challenge, and there is no assurance that funds would be received. However, Stenzler indicated that he felt the IAC is particularly interested in seeing a project in Garrett County, since none have been completed since 1985.

Stenzler told Ryscavage that he would not make a commitment at this time, but there is a good chance of the project getting funded. However the commissioners should be contacted to see if they would agree to participate.

Ryscavage reported that he met with the Garrett County Commissioners on Thursday morning, and that they are interested in moving on this project. They asked Ryscavage to help them draft a letter of support for the auxiliary gymnasium portion of the project on a 75-25 basis. They are also interested in looking at the cost of the gymnasium at Northern High School at the same time.

Ryscavage said, "These are the developments, and I think they're very positive."

Volunteers Needed For Local Parents Anonymous Group

Volunteers are currently needed to assist with the maintenance of a Parents Anonymous Chapter in Garrett County.

Involement can be tailored to meet individual schedules, but tasks generally fall into the following areas: recruiting or perhaps serving as child care volunteers during chapter meetings (once a week for two hours), serving as group sponsors (facilitators), serving on a "Community Advisory Team" which serves as the local support system for each P.A. chapter; and assisting with publicizing the group with both the professional community and the general public.

Parents Anonymous is an international network of free, self-help support groups for parents under stress. The groups work to prevent and treat child abuse by providing supportive weekly meetings where parents under stress can discuss their problems openly with their peers and with trained volunteer professionals.

The local P.A. group meets each Wednesday night at St. Matthews Episcopal Church, 126 East Liberty Street, Oakland, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Anyone interested in helping in any area should contact Lisa Frazee at 387-4289 or the Parents Anonymous State Office at 728-7021.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Local Thefts

A Sykesville man reported more than a $700 loss from a recent breaking and entering and theft that occurred at his cottage in Sky Valley. The theft is currently under the investigation of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

William B. Edmonston reported that his cottage had been broken into and ransacked sometime between July 30 and August 5. According to Deputy David L. Crossland, a basement window had been knocked out and the perpetrator(s) also used a bolt cutter to gain entry to the residence. The total loss suffered from theft and property damage is estimated at $716.

Samuel Joseph D'Alfonzo, Ellicott City, reported the theft of his $350 canvas boat tarp from the Patterson Boat Company's storage area. According to Deputy Denver C. Welch, there are no suspects at this time.

Roger W. Bray, Deer Park, reported that the roll bar for his pickup truck had been stolen from his back yard between August 7 and August 15. The roll bar was red and was valued at $180, according to Deputy David L. Crossland.

Walter Leo Weeks, Jr., Oakland, reported a breaking and entering and theft that occurred at his home on Route 219 last Thursday. According to Deputy Randy P. Shaffer, the house was ransacked, but the only item removed from the premises was an envelope containing church youth group funds. The total loss from theft and property damage was $195.

There are no suspects at this time and the investigation is continuing.

Douglas W. Buser, Cumberland, reported the theft of his Cobra 150 Radar Detector. According to Deputy David L. Crossland, the instrument, valued at $150 was removed from the parking lot of Bauer Home Center, Route 219, July 28 or 29.

Local Thefts, DOP's Under Investigation

Several thefts and destruction of property incidents are currently under the investigation of the Maryland State Police.

Keyser's Ridge Auto/Truck Stop reported a theft of currency which occurred Tuesday between 2:30 and 3:55 a.m.

According to police, the culprit removed a money bag from behind the cashier's counter. Total loss reached $749. Tfc. R. Chaney is investigating.

A theft occurred over the weekend at Guards Farm Inc., four miles north of Friendsville.

Police said someone entered the residence through an open garage door and removed property from an unlocked toolbox.

Stolen items include numerous wrenches, sockets, and a hand grinder. Total loss value is $550. Tfc. S.W. Vincent is investigating.

The Garrett County Roads Department reported that 500 feet of vinyl fence was taken from a garbage collection site on the Bumble Bee Road between August 11 and August 14.

According to police reports, the culprit removed the fence by cutting the metal ties used to secure the fence to its posts. Total loss was valued at $500.

The theft is under the investigation of Tfc. D.G. Riggleman.

Tfc. L. Rosage is investigating a theft which occurred near Grantsville on August 12 or 13.

According to police, two garages and a truck were broken into. Stolen items include two chain saws, various hand tools, and a weed trimmer. The thefts occurred on Route 219, one mile north of Route 40 Alternate.

Victims were listed as Virgil Beachy, Keith Garlitz, and George Lapp. Rosage reported that there are no suspects, and the investigation is continuing.

Delatha R. Brenneman reported that a breaking and entering theft occurred between August 5 and 10 at a vacant residence off the Manadier Ridge Road.

Tpr. R.T. Wilson, who is investigating, reported that various power and lawn tools were taken.

A destruction of property occurred early Sunday morning at the Youghigheny Overlook on Route 48 near Friendsville.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney is investigating damage to a partition in the men's restroom.

Timothy D. Wilt, 25, Jennings, was arrested August 12 in Jennings for disorderly conduct. The arrest was made by Tfc. Chaney.

Several Treated After Local Vehicle Mishaps

Several persons were treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following local motor vehicle accidents in the last week.

A two-vehicle accident occurred Saturday on Dennett Road.

Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment reported that Arthelia V. Dixon, 66, Oakland, was eastbound on the Crosscut Road in a 1984 Chevrolet Caprice. Dixon pulled into the path of a 1985 Ford driven by Jeffery S. Ashby, 26, Oakland, which was traveling south on Dennett Road. The Dixon vehicle struck Ashby's vehicle in the right front.

Both Ashby and a passenger, Darcie A. Visniski, 19, Oakland, were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that they were treated and released.

Tfc. R.T. Wilson investigated the mishap, charging Dixon with failing to yield the right of way.

A motorcycle accident occurred early last Thursday morning on Deep Creek Drive.

Police said Marc E. Farrar, 18, Friendsville, was operating a 1987 Yamaha when it went off the road into loose gravel, causing the motorcycle to go onto its side. Farrar was ejected from the vehicle.

He was taken to Garrett Memorial by a private vehicle, where he was treated and released. Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated.

A motorcycle accident occurred Monday on private land off the Oakland-Sang Run Road.

Police said Victor O. Kope, 42, Oakland, was injured when his 1975 Honda spun out in a field. He was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was taken by a private vehicle.

Tpr. R.T. Wilson investigated.

No one was seriously injured in a single-vehicle accident which occurred last Friday on U.S. Route 219.

Police said Patricia S. Gould, 38, McHenry, was driving a 1986 Dodge Caravan, and was southbound on U.S. Route 219. Gould reportedly lost control of the vehicle on a wet surface and ran into a ditch. The vehicle overturned twice and came to rest on the passenger side.

Tpr. J.K. Moore investigated, and reported that Gould was taken to Garrett Memorial by a private vehicle. However, a spokesman at that hospital reported that Gould was not treated there.

Scholarship Scandal . . .

There was a particularly disturbing Associated Press story released this week concerning a computer analysis by the Washington Post of Maryland state scholarship programs.

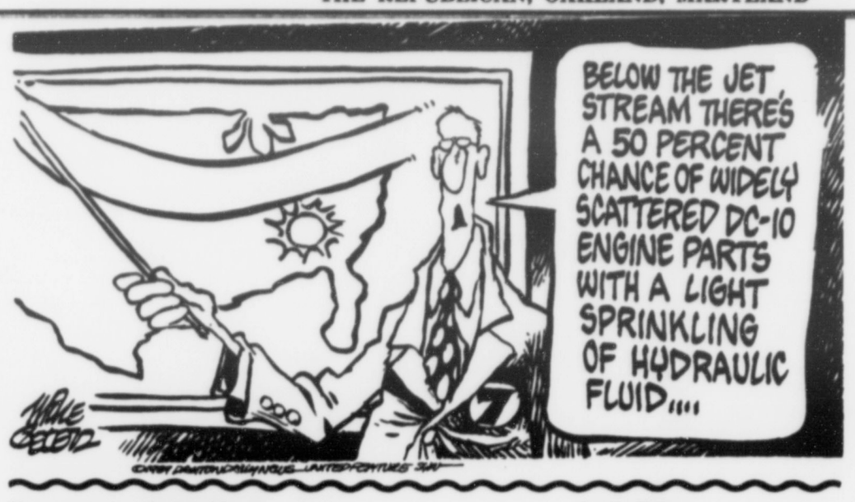
The state awards nearly $17 million each year through 15 different programs, theoretically to those students who demonstrate financial need and academic ability. However, the Post's analysis of last year's Maryland State Board of Education records revealed that a significant portion of these scholarships went to undeserving students, while nearly 3,000 eligible students, needing a total of about $13 million, received nothing. It also showed that students attending private colleges received a disproportionate share of state scholarship monies compared to those in public colleges.

The Associated Press story indicated that, as one might guess, politics and favoritism are behind this inequitable situation. Over 20 percent of the scholarship monies are handed out by Maryland's senators and delegates and, out of the $1.5 million awarded to 2,094 students who did not qualify as needy, two out of three dollars given to these students came from state legislators. Our elected officials are also providing scholarships to students who are academically ineligible to college.

The AP story noted a few specific cases of both areas of misappropriation, such as a Senate scholarship being awarded to a student at the University of Maryland's Baltimore County campus whose family income was $130,000 and whose Scholastic Aptitude Test scores were 130 points below the state average. Another student who scored 200 points below the state average on the SAT and whose family income was just under $100,000 received a Delegate grant to attend Essex Community College. In fact, scholarships totalling over $600,000 were awarded to 874 students who scored less than 700 out of a possible 1,600 points on the SAT.

Maryland is the only state that allows its legislators to give scholarships directly to constituents, and state law specifically states that legislators are to award scholarships to students with "a definite financial need." Obviously this particular law is being ignored by a number of our legislators who are more concerned about what kind of support Mom and Dad will provide them in return for a scholarship to their child. Thus, the taxpayers of Maryland, including those parents whose children truly meet the formula for financial need, are having to help finance college educations of affluent students.

In light of this information, the governor and the state legislature should act swiftly and strongly to see that the guidelines for allocation of scholarship monies by legislators are strictly enforced. And the general public should apply pressure and insist that this be done. There are far too many youth, many of whom reside right here in Garrett County, who need and deserve these scholarships.



Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

After reading the editorial in last week's Republican, I felt that I had to write and explain a few things to you. The editorial was slanted and contained statements that are untrue.

There was an insinuation that the present Board is incompetent, unfair, and exhibits poor judgment. Were you stating we are uneducated? For the record, I am a registered nurse, a nurse-practitioner and am currently attending college. I am also involved in community health education. The other members are also well educated. Rodney Durst is a qualified employee of the U.S. Postal Service and has completed college hours and certificates in theology and evangelism. Beverly Murphy is a registered nurse and makes many important decisions on a daily basis. Mikal Moomau and Charlie Teets have taught public school which does define them as educators.

As to the decision-making process of the board, we are very well informed by the superintendent or his designees. At any time one of us feels we do not have complete information or has a question, we address that issue with questions to informed parties and discussion until we feel we are well informed enough to make a competent decision.

I feel we are doing our utmost to carry out the responsibilities that the voters of Garrett County have charged us with. As an elected board of education, we work with the hired educational professionals and are accountable to the people of Garrett County for their and our decisions.

The article stated only French is offered at SHS. A second language, German, has been offered for approximately 15 years. German is a language needed by our engineering-bound students. Mrs. Joan Lambert, the German teacher, was very distressed by this omission in your article. There is even an exchange program with German students coming here and our students visiting Germany. This program has been well publicized in your paper.

About a year ago, a group of Garrett County students went to the Board of Education and asked for Spanish to be included in their curriculum. When I ran for office, I included this objective in my platform for educational incentives. All this is on record. My reasons were that Spanish is rapidly becoming a second language in the U.S. — 11 milllion people speak it; articles, directions, and warnings are printed in English and Spanish. It's a useful language. Spanish, I felt, would help prepare the students for a career in the world of tomorrow. I'm not sorry we are going to introduce it this fall. I am happy that this Board has foresight and has added to the curriculum. It is also newsworthy that all members agreed to put Spanish in the schools.

The "rumor" that you spoke of, namely, "a relative of a board member seeking a job teaching Spanish" is totally misinterpreted. A job opening with the Board is advertised for anyone with the qualifications to apply. The fact that my "close relative" applied, just like anyone else qualified could have, is immaterial. My "close relative" is a daughter-in-law who has years of experience teaching in West Virginia and a year substituting in Garrett County. The schools she has taught in have stated she is an excellent teacher. You cannot discriminate against a person because their relative happens to be on the Board. Further investigation into this matter would have told you that Mikal Moomau's sister-in-law is employed by the Board as a principal at Kitzmiller Elementary School; Beverly Murphy's husband is employed at NHS; Charlie Teets' mother is employed at Dennett Road School, and Dr. Ryscavage's wife is employed by the Board as a teacher.

When a position opening is advertised by the Garrett County Board of Education, applications are taken. Applicants are then chosen for interview based on their qualifications. Interviews are conducted by impartial, qualified employees (directors, principals, assistant principals, etc.) who then give recommendations to the superintendent. The superintendent then brings his recommendations to the Board for approval.

My daughter-in-law went through all the necessary steps. Her name was submitted for approval at the August 10, 1989, board meeting. I refrained from any discussion and abstained from voting. She was approved by Rodney Durst, Bev Murphy, and Mikal Moomau. Charlie Teets was absent. She got that appointment on her own merits, I was not involved in any way. To insinuate that a board member may have gotten a relative a job is erroneous.

The "controversial appointments" that were written about were not a controversy. Those persons appointed were also recommended by the superintendent. Any discussion that occurred in the executive session should have remained there.

The people of Garrett County have been very supportive of our decisions. Many people have stated their approval of these appointments.

The press is such a powerful tool. Most people believe what they read in print. Your responsibility is a great one, to get the complete picture and facts. I sincerely hope this letter clarifies a few things stated in error last week.

It is also my hope our Board will remain united. I will try to do the best job that I can for people of Garrett County and especially for the children, and will continue to vote that way.

Carol A. Clark
Associate Member of the Garrett County
Board of Education

Dear Mrs. Clark,

Despite the fact that it does not change the point of the editorial, you are absolutely right that we failed to mention that the Southern High language department also offers German. Considering the rather extensive coverage of Southern's German students' activities by our news staff, we certainly knew that such a program existed. We have apologized personally to Joan Lambert, Southern's German teacher, and we now do so publicly.

We also find it interesting that you are so strongly supportive of following the procedures and policies in hiring board of education personnel when referring to the hiring of your daughter-in-law, yet those same procedures and policies were not followed in executive session concerning the hiring of three other individuals, one of whom happens to be the sister-in-law of the board president.

Again, I absolutely agree with you that the best candidate should get the job, even if that person is a relative of a board member. It would also be difficult to eliminate all relatives of board members since our population is so small. We congratulate your daughter-in-law upon her appointment and we support the board's decision that she is the top choice.

However, we feel that the same consideration, the same policies and procedures, were not followed in these other three cases, even though in the public session of the board it appeared that they were. It is this apparent inconsistency, or to use a stronger word, hyprocisy, that bothers us and seems to indicate there were personal grudges among board members involved in the decision-making process.

Thank you for taking the time to respond concerning this critical issue.

Editor

To the Editor:

Following my public statement concerning the personnel decisions made at the August 2 meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education, several Board members have made comments to which I feel I must respond.

I believe that I not only have the right to criticize the decisions of my fellow Board members, but that it is my duty to do so if their actions are clearly not in the best interests of the citizens, and most of all, children in Garrett County, I realize that they have the legal right to cast their vote in any manner they choose and I certainly don't expect them to automatically approve (rubber stamp) everything proposed to them, but they have an obligation to make fair, equitable, consistent decisions based on knowledge of the educational system and meeting its needs. It is my opinion that at the August 2 meeting they failed to do so.

In contrast at the most recent August 10 board meeting there were 9 personnel appointments recommended by the Superintendent that were automatically approved (rubber stamped) with no questions asked about their seniority, their qualifications or their relationship to any board members. At the August 2 meeting for the first time since I have been on the school board the personnel recommendations of the Superintendent were ignored and questions were asked about the relationship to board members in one of the three personnel appointments.

I was not surprised that I was criticized for revealing what had taken place in executive session. One of the factors in my decision to make a public statement was the fact that other Board members were discussing the actions of this meeting in public. These conversations were reported to me by people all over Garrett County.

I was fully aware that before I made my public statement that the automatic response would be to point out the fact that one of the people involved was my sister-in-law. I had nothing to do with the selection process and know that if she was interviewed along with all the other candidates and recommended for the position by the Superintendent of Schools it was because she was the most highly qualified for the job.

The fact remains that she along with two other very fine employees of the Garrett County Board of Education were wrongfully denied positions for which they had been recommended. I feel that I have an obligation to insure equitable treatment for all Board employees.

Lastly, I would like to apologize to the three appointees denied. Educators of their high quality should be cherished; instead they have been ill-served by the Garrett County Board of Education.

Sincerely,
Mikal Moomau
Member, Board of Education

To the Editor:

I was glad you at least talked to someone about the "Educational process" in Garrett County. However, I do not agree with your editorial in totality.

Having been a resident for over 20 years in Pennsylvania where we had an appointed school board it was not in the best interests of all the students or the taxpayers. All the appointed school board members were representatives of Big Business or people who would vote as the Big Business wanted and said and such was the case in Sewickley, Pa., where "steel was king" in those years!

Since I have been a critic of the Mental Health Department of the Garrett County Health Department and still am, I take pleasure in saluting the Home Health Care Unit of the Garrett County Health Department. I have of necessity been a client seven days a week for many weeks of the registered nurses and many days and weeks of the Home Health aides. I cannot praise the Home Health Care Unit highly enough. They are ememplary in every way. For the registered nurses who are responsible folr the program I salute you and all of your superior staff! I am exceedingly grateful for all the dedicated assistance during a very difficult period in my life.

Since this is such a contrast with the "Mental Health Mess" I had to analyze the situation, I have come to the conclusion that registered nurses are so committed, so well trained and so intelligent that they wouldn't allow the Bureaucracy to mess up their stated goals whether individually or running a program such as the Home Health Care and so teach all, as well as the aids, to do a superior task and to be really committed to their clients' care and well-being.

I am deeply appreciative! Too bad the Mental Health Department Division of the Garrett County Health Department can't take some pointers from the exemplary Home Health Care Unit.

This is my opinion.

Thank you,
Mrs. Louise V. Harvey

To the Editor:

Concerns are justified. I agree with you all the way. I have always been against an elected school board. Any one who is a registered voter can run for the board whether they are qualified or not. Something is radically wrong with our system when it allows elected board members . . . not educators to have so much authority in areas in which they may have little or no training.

We the people of Garrett County are lucky to have men like Dr. Ryscavage. Mr. Morris, George Brady and others like them working for the school board. We may not agree all the time but that is America.

I have always been in favor of the School Board being appointed this way you get the best educated people to serve on the board.

To the Editor:

On the night of July 19, our son Royce was stopped by Deputy Gnegy because his tires spun on gravel as he pulled out. He was joined by Deputy Nolan. Royce was told that they were looking for someone who had been throwing firecrackers. Nolan searched the car looking for firecrackers. He didn't find any. He did find half of a pool stick and a tire checker which he described as deadly, dangerous weapons. Golfers carry golf clubs and ball players carry ball bats; are these considered weapons? He threw them to the ground and told Royce that if he were off duty and Royce got out of the car with either of these "weapons," he wouldn't hesitate to shoot him.

Who does he think he is — Garrett County's own "Rambo?" Even though no firecrackers were found, he was still given a ticket for spinning his tires. He was also told that he had no auto insurance, which was not true. None of this has been denied by the deputies or the sheriff's office.

Our complaint is not the fact that our son was ticketed, but concerns the behavior of the officers.

As far as we are concerned, this is nothing but harassment and was totally uncalled for. Gnegy was just as much to blame. Since he was the one who pulled Royce over, he should have taken charge. This is not Nazi Germany, Iran or the Soviet Union and they are supposed to be law officials, not storm troopers.

We've been told that Nolan gets along well with young children and older people. If this is so, then he should get a job at a day care center or nursing home and leave the rest of us alone.

This should be of concern to the County Commissioners, the Promotion Council and the Greater Oakland Business Association. If they are treating local residents like this, how must they be treating the tourists?

We are sorry we were forced to write this letter. It could and should have been handled in a less public manner; however, we contacted the Sheriff's office several times and received no explanation for these actions. We are still waiting.

Yours truly,
William and Joyce Steyer

To the Editor:

As the law points out, everyone has the right to a fair trial before being punished. So why is it that one of our local policemen lost his job without having a trial? He was terminated due to an incident that took place in Westernport and he was not on duty. The incident consisted of a disagreement between Officer Kroll and another man that went no further than push and shove — it was not even a fight. No one was hurt, yet Officer Kroll lost his job because of the incident. I know that a police officer is supposed to uphold the law and be a "model citizen," but isn't a police officer also human? And I believe that most humans do make mistakes on occasion.

As a citizen of Oakland who has had an opportunity to observe some of Officer Kroll's work, I feel that he was doing an exemplary job as a police officer. I also feel that this incident was not sufficient cause to dismiss him from his job and that he should reinstated immediately until a decision is made in a court of law. Give him another chance!

Thank you,
Bonnie Stemple

To the Editor:

We are writing in response to the letter put in your paper last week concerning the care given by members of Southern Rescue Squad.

Southern Rescue Squad responds to thousands of calls a year and gives individualized care to each patient we are called on to help. On everyone of these calls the people on the ambulance give the best care possible, sometimes under the most undesirable conditions possible. This can occasionally lead to misunderstandings due to the confusion of some of our calls.

If Ms. Hoye feels that something was said about her brother that was unfitting, we apologize.

Respectfully yours,
Monday Members
Southern Garrett
Rescue Squad

To the Editor:

The following remarks were made to the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board members during their bi-monthly meeting of August 10, 1989. Because they cover matters of serious concern and interest to many of your readers it requested they be published in the next issue of The Republican.

Mr. Chairman:

"Now that I have been removed from the Board I am attending this meeting as a citizen and, with your permission Commissioner Gregg, I would like to say a few farewell words to the members of the Board with whom I served.

"First I would like to read, for the record, the first paragraph of the letter dated June 20, 1989, that I received from Secretary Torrey Brown. It reads as follows: 'The Maryland Scenic and Wild Rivers Review Board in conjunction with the recommendation made by the Garrett County Commissioners has reviewed the membership of the Youghiogheny Local Advisory Board and decided that your participation is no longer providing a positive cooperative contribution. As chairperson of the Review Board, I am removing you from the Local Board as Category IV representative effective June, 1989,' " end of paragraph.

"I must say this letter came as quite a surprise and without any advance warning. Except perhaps I should mention about a week before I received the letter a Board member, Rusty Thomas, stopped by the Community Park where I was working and stated he and I were going to be kicked off the Board. I didn't believe Rusty — thought he was just talking. As it turned out he was half right.

"As most of you know I attended every one of the meetings held since this, the third local Board, first met back in March 1986. Some of the meetings I chaired. During my attendance I was guided by three principles which I believe, as Rusty would say, led to my being kicked off the Board. Those principles were to faithfully represent the interests of the people in the Youghiogheny River valley, work to protect their rights of private property ownership and, to the best of my ability, participate in implementing the provisions of the Maryland Scenic and Wild Rivers Act.

"Perhaps, during my tenure, I was too strong in advocating preparation and approval of the Youghiogheny Scenic Corridor Management Plan as required by the Maryland Scenic and Wild Rivers Act. As you know, by the law, DNR is to implement regulations to carry out an approved management plan; not the other way around. You would think that after 14 years, if the DNR Staff was ever serious about complying with this provision of the law the plan would have by now been prepared. If you will recall during the first 24 meetings of this Board, at my insistence, considerable progress was made toward completion of a draft management plan. When Hugh Trimble of this Board was replaced by John Wilson as the DNR Project Coordinator, we started all over again on preparing a management plan and, as you know, very little progress has since been made. I can understand the reluctance of DNR to have its hands tied to implementing an approved management plan, or, perhaps DNR has purposely delayed preparation of the plan because it does not want to reveal its ultimate plan for the Youghiogheny. However I continue to stand for DNR compliance with the law for preparation of the plan.

"Perhaps I was too strong in advocating adherence with provisions of the Scenic and Wild Rivers Act for determining the boundaries of the Youghiogheny Scenic Corridor. Again if you will recall during the first 24 Board meetings we were successful in revising the criteria for determining the corridor boundaries. I admonish the Board to keep after DNR to make the revised corridor boundaries official. Do not let it slip away. Keep in mind the original DNR corridor boundaries encircled 11,800 acres of land privately owned by more than 200 landowners. Over the years many of us have successfully worked to reduce the size of the corridor. Now, if made official by the Board's criteria, it will be further reduced from 8,500 to

Oakland Man "Stable" After Vehicle Crash

An Oakland man remains in "stable" condition at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, this morning, where he was taken Monday after his vehicle collided with a tractor-trailer on Route 40.

Raymond W. Humphrey, 31, was traveling west when the eastbound truck, driven by Willis C. Brazeal Jr., 34, Odessa, Texas, reportedly crossed the center line and struck Humphrey's car.

Police said Humphrey was unable to avoid the collision because of road construction. The car reportedly skidded underneath the trailer. The accident occurred at 12:50 a.m.

SHS Plans For School Opening

The administrative staff of Southern High School is currently planning for the beginning of the 1989-90 school year.

Summer maintenance work is nearing completion, and includes the removal of asbestos from some parts of the school and a major "face-lift" in the school's gymnasium.

Routine cleaning and waxing was completed with the assistance of several Summer Youth Employment and Training Program workers and a few regular custodians.

The staff will begin to report to the school as early as August 23, when new teachers will report for orientation. All teachers will report for a regular work day on Thursday, August 24, beginning at 8:15 a.m. Thursday will be used for administrative meetings and preparation. Friday will be an additional day of preparation time for the entire staff.

When students return to school on Monday, August 28, all ninth graders and new students will first report to the gym, while all students in grades ten through twelve will report to the cafeteria area. Students will attend all seven classes on their schedule on the first day with a 1 p.m. dismissal.

Students who are new to the area and wish to enroll at Southern High School may register by calling the guidance office at 334-9447. It would be helpful if all new students registered before August 28.

Maryland Work With Pride

LETTERS

4,732 acres of which more than half is now owned by the State.

"Perhaps I was too strong in advocating protection of private property rights as set forth in our Maryland and the U.S. Constitution. Yes in this regard, I, as a member of the Board, prepared minority reports objecting to what I considered to be major infringements upon private property rights by DNR. The positions taken in the minority reports were supported by legal opinions to include those of a Maryland Assistant Attorney General. They were never contested by DNR — just ignored. Notwithstanding I believe they played a major role in the decision of DNR to buy-out the Youghiogheny Scenic Corridor. The progress now being made by DNR in this buy-out indicates that within the relatively near future most of the land in the scenic corridor will be owned by the State. However for those landowners who do not want to sell their land and/or want to continue to reside in the corridor, I regret I will not be able to be their representative as a board member."

Sincerely,
John Hinebaugh

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to the letter by James Lee concerning the situation at the dump sites. I feel that it is ridiculous. People should be more considerate of the dump sites and the people who are responsible for cleaning them. I have seen people pull in and unload their garbage right in front of the dumpsters while the workers were doing their cleaning. I feel that this is very disrespectful. Large items should be taken to the landfill along Oakland-Sang Run Road.

I once found four kittens at the dump site. I took these animals to the animal shelter. More people should do this.

I would also like to thank the workers at Appalachian Crossroads for the great job they do and maybe people will begin to respect your work and bulk items won't be a problem. You will never see one of these proud workers throwing trash on the ground when the dumpsters are right there.

So the next time you consider throwing things on the ground at the dumpsters on dropping off your pets or furniture, consider the image you are creating for Garrett County.

Thank you,
Beth Ferguson

To the Editor:

I support all efforts by state and county officials against the gypsy moth and urge all Garrett Countians to contact their state and county officials and urge them to take maximum action against these destroyers of our trees.

To the Editor:

As we are fast approaching the beginning of a new school year, the final decision concerning the school bus route extension in Kitzmiller has still not been resolved. It has been approximately seventeen months since the first request for the route extension was made.

On August 29, 1989, we will again travel to Baltimore to appear in front of the members of the State Board of Education to make our final plea. (Maximum time allowed is 15 minutes). It is our hope that the State Board will see the necessity of granting this exception.

If the final decision of the State Board is negative, the issue will again be brought before the administration and the Garrett County of Education with the hope that this "new and compassionate" Board will realize the need for transportation for the children of Kitzmiller, instead of just "rubber stamping" administrative decisions based solely on transportation policy.

As Mrs. Shaffer and myself are both expecting children this winter, there is an even greater need for this bus route. Not only will we still be taking our preschoolers out with us to transport our children to school, but the new infants as well. Even if there were no more children born in Kitzmiller the bus would still be able to run this route for the next 11 years and pick up children!

With the large amount of public support shown in favor of the route extension, we continue to wonder why the need cannot be seen by the "experts."

Previously: Distressed, Determined and Dog Tired in Kitzmiller, now we are: Perplexed, Persistent, and Pregnant.

HOMEMAKERS TO HOST A FULL DAY OF LEARNING ACTIVITIES

It is time, once again, for the 9 to 9 program, held each year at Garrett Community College. What, you have never heard of it?

It begins at 9 o'clock in the morning, but come at 8:30 to register. Each class is approximately one hour long with plenty of time in between to arrive at the next one. There is a small fee of $2.00 and some classes may cost a little more, but you get to take an item home.

All classrooms are located in the Adult Continuing Education Building. Park in the back of the College and enter to your right. Signs will be posted. Each room is clearly marked and you will not have to leave that area. Come take all the classes or sample just a few.

During the day you will want to sample some home Baked Bread. Learn how to make International bread and keep it from drying out. If you like dried material then you will love the Dried Flower arrangement. Annette Thomas will show you how. They are pretty, but they don't smell. You can add some fragrance with Cinnamon plant Ornaments. See how to make pure cinnamon ornaments from cookie cutters and mold and then save the molds for Candy Making. Oh, that chocolate and filling! If you get too full you can jog over to Aerobics and learn the proper way to get into this popular exercise. She will have you feeling great. During your "cool down", pick up a brush and do some Tole Painting. This craft is sweeping the nation and the latest craze is farm animals. If creating your own pictures is not quite your style, try Photography. This class will give you some helpful hints of America's favorite pastime. Capture your memories with pictures. Then put your house in those pictures. After you renovate it, of course. Be sure to check the Radon level in your home. We'll show you how. OK, maybe you would like to just relax and catch up on the latest information about Retirement, Funeral planning, Investments, Banking Services, Car Care, Aids, Cholesterol, Herbs and Spices, the Gypsy Moth and Black Bears. Before winter gets here, stock that Pantry Shelf and get started on that new Quilt you will learn to design.

WOW, can't wait for September 7! Don't worry about lunch; you may purchase it there. Call the Extension Office at 334-1998 and pre-register today. Don't miss the fun.

Farm Queen

Farm Queen Contest were Melissa Thomas and Darla Broadwater. The contestants were introduced by Lori Dodge, 1987 Garrett County Farm Queen.

The four contestants were interviewed by the mistress of ceremonies, Debra DeWitt Barnard, the 1970 Garrett County Farm Queen. In this interview, they told the judges and the audience about their farm responsibilities and future plans. Each of the contestants had to answer a standard question: "How has your background in agriculture helped you with your future plans?" They also had to draw a "fishbowl" question and give an immediate answer.

Elaine Cummings gave her farewell address, thanking the Farm Bureau for the opportunity to represent agriculture during her year as Farm Queen.

The judges for the event were: Wilma Mallow, first vice chairman of the Maryland Farm Bureau Women's Committee; Sue Crossland, 1959 Garrett County Farm Queen and Maryland State Farm Queen; and Lee Heavner, FFA advisor and agriculture teacher at Flintstone High School. The judges were presented a thank you gift of maple syrup from the Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Greetings were given by Garrett County Farm Bureau President William F. DeWitt, and Norman Astle of the Maryland Farm Bureau.

THEIR MAJESTIES — No proper Renaissance banquet would be complete without the presence of the king and queen. A king and queen of what, we are not sure; however Queen Gail (Herman) and King Steve (Herman) were present nonetheless to "rule" over the banquet which was held August 8 at the Wisp Resort in McHenry. The event, which was held in conjunction with "Shakespeare on Wheels" production of "MacBeth," was a benefit event for the Garrett County chapter of Habitat for Humanity. Following the banquet, the king resumed his real-life duties of being president of Garrett Community College, while Mrs. Herman undoubtedly gleaned some new material for her profession as a master storyteller. The Hermans reside at Sky Valley.

for each of the 40 tower locations. An extensive environmental assessment process is followed to identify, evaluate and select specific sites in concert with the National Environmental Policy Act which provides guidelines for protecting, restoring and enhancing the environment. Major environmental areas, such as wilderness areas, national parks and airports, are excluded from consideration.

GWEN relay stations, which occupy about 11 acres, include a 299-foot tower, guy wires, fences and three small shelters, each about the size of a truck-carried camper unit.

Relay site transmissions do not interfere with television or radio broadcasts, pacemakers, or garage door openers. Broadcast power for each tower is between 2,000 and 3,000 watts.

emergency, and the development of regulations to prevent accidents.

Several new ideas have been developed by Pennsylvania State University to help in the prevention of accidents, including: more specific criteria for commercial guides, including: a minimum level of experience; the installation of warning signs to explain the fluctuations of water levels and to identify unsafe levels of water; reccommendations on responding to emergencies; improvements to the road that runs along the Youghiogheny River; caches of emergency equipment along the river; the purchase of equipment to travel rugged terrain in the case of emergencies; the testing of various systems for communicating within the corridor; and the preparation and use of plans to respond to emergencies.

MANAGEMENT PLAN

The Advisory Board reviewed a short section of the Youghiogheny Corridor Management Plan prepared by the Department of Natural Resources.

LAND ACQUISITION

John Wilson, representative of the Department of Natural Resources, reported that the DNR has settled on the Penelec (Pennsylvania Electric Company) property in the Youghiogheny Corridor.

The Penelec property consists of approximately 1,400 acres, which brings the amount of acreage owned by the DNR in the Youghiogheny Corridor, from Swallow Falls to Friendsville, up to around 2,000 acres. There are approximately 4,700 acres total in the corridor.

BOUNDARY SURVEYS

Wilson announced that the DNR has finished marking corridor boundaries on four properties and is now trying to finalize the surveys. Meetings with property owners are being scheduled.

The next meeting of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board will be Thursday, October 12.

Manta Rays Make Strong Showing In Championships, Set Eight Records

The Garrett County Manta Rays youth swim team wrapped up another successful season recently with an outstanding showing at the 1989 Cumberland YMCA Swim League Championships, held at the Frostburg State University pool.

There were seven teams and approximately 200 swimmers who competed in the A Flight and B Flight championships. The other teams were YMCA, Bel Air, Cumberland Country Club, LaVale, Romney, and Keyser.

Not only did the Manta Rays capture 198 ribbons, placing in 26 of the 38 A Flight events and in all 30 of the B Flight events, but they also won five first place B Flight division trophies and nine runner-up trophies, plus set eight new YMCA League records. There were 18 new records established in all.

Matthew Sincell, who won the B Flight cadet boys division, set three new league records, two of which were 12 years old, while Kandice Shomo, Daniel Sincell, Bryson Meyers, and Natalie Sanders each set one record, and the cadet boys relay team of Daniel Sincell, Justin Helbig, Corey Friend, and Adam Chorpenning set a new record in the cadet 200 freestyle relay.

SGAA Slates Cow Patty Event For September 2

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association will be sponsoring its second annual Cow Patty Fund-raiser on Saturday, September 2, at the football field. This event was "extremely successful" last year, according to a SGAA spokesman, and the monies raised greatly assisted all 13 Southern High School varsity programs.

A variety of family-oriented activities will begin at 4 p.m., with a chicken barbecue dinner, cooked by the Oakland-Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club.

At 6 p.m., the Southern Rams football team will host the powerful Allegany Campers in a scrimmage. The Rams are riding a 22-game regular season winning streak while the arch-rival Campers are the defending state champions.

At the conclusion of the game, the Cow Patty event will start. There will be a huge board near the football field entrance which will inform people who hold tickets where their "spot" for the Cow Patty event will be. While spectators are waiting for the cow to "do her part", they will be entertained by several local personalities. Entertainment will include a clown show.

Admission to all of the festivities is free. Tickets for the Cow Patty Fund-raiser are $5, and may be purchased at Hometown Market, Marvin's Men's Wear, from any Southern coach, or from any SGAA member.

In addition to several smaller prizes, the grand prize is $1,000.

DNR Meetings To Address New Fishing Proposals

Maryland's Department of Natural Resources has scheduled a series of meetings to discuss changes affecting fishing in non-tidal waters under consideration for next year. The Fisheries Division of DNR's Tidewater Administration is proposing changes designed to further improve bass and trout fishing in Maryland. The proposals will be discussed at four public meetings in Frederick, Baltimore County, Queen Anne's County and Frostburg during August and September. The proposals are as follows:

1. Institute a catch-and-release season for largemouth bass and smallmouth bass in all non-tidal waters from March 1 through June 15. Largemouth and smallmouth bass are particularly vulnerable to angling during this period when they are spawning, and over-harvest of large bass at this time of year has led to a decline in the number of large bass in non-tidal waters of Maryland. Catch-and-release regulations during the spawning season over the past three years has resulted in a substantial increase in the average size of bass caught in Deep Creek Lake, and similar results are anticipated in other heavily fished waters of the state under the new regulations.

2. Change the regulations for "Trophy Bass Fishing" to include smallmouth bass and regulate harvest in trophy bass areas subject to the following restrictions:

a. All bass from 11 up to 15 inches in length will have to be immediately released.

b. Creel limit: five bass per day, only one of which may be over 15 inches in length.

c. Similar regulations, often referred to as "slot limits," have been effective in enhancing growth rates of bass by allowing the harvest of excess small bass, and protecting medium sized bass until they reach "trophy" size.

3. Add Johnson Pond, Wicomico Co.; Blair Valley Lake, Washington Co.; and the Potomac River from Dam 3 to Dam 4 to the list of "Trophy Bass Fishing Areas."

4. Add the following waters to the list of "Put-And-Take Fishing Areas:" Accident Pond, Garrett Co.; Evitts Creek Ponds, Allegany Co.; Little Youghiogheny River, Garrett Co.; Kings Pond, Montgomery Co.; Maydale Pond, Montgomery Co.; Fifteen Mile Creek, downstream to the Potomac River, Allegany Co.; Forest Hill Pond, Harford Co.; Whiskey Springs Pond, Frederick Co.; and Hamburg Pond, Frederick Co.

5. Remove the following areas from the list of Put-And-Take Fishing Areas: Glade Run, Garrett Co.; Antietam Creek, Washington Co.; Mill Run upstream of Frazee Pond, Garrett Co.; and Little Fishing Creek, Frederick Co.

6. Prohibit the introduction of any fish, except largemouth bass, bluegill sunfish, golden shiners, fathead minnows and bait fish on a hook for the purpose of angling, into non-tidal waters without written permission of the Director of Fisheries. Introduction of fish into non-tidal waters of the State has resulted in undesirable species becoming established and causing harm to resident fish populations.

The local public meeting scheduled to discuss the details of the proposed changes and solicit further comment from the public will be September 6, 7 p.m., Lane Center, Room 201, Frostburg State University, Frostburg.

TRIATHLON BENEFACTORS AND SPONSOR — The stage is set and the field is full for the 1989 Best of the West Triathlon, according to Nancy Railey, coordinator of the event for the Garrett Sports League. The swim-bike-run event will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, at Broadford Park and will include 250 athletes, over 100 more than in last year's triathlon. The Sports League has decided to make Garrett County's two volunteer rescue squads the benefactors of all proceeds from the event. Pictured above left to right are Mike Kozier, assistant coordinator and representing the Garrett Sports League; Rayma Weeks, president of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad; Cathy Lohr, of Lohr Distributors and Coor Lite, one of the triathlon sponsors; and Steve Hamilton, CRT for the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Spectators are welcome and encouraged to attend the Best of the West Triathlon. Persons wishing to volunteer to help with the event are asked to contact Mrs. Railey at 387-4095. The League will also sponsor a Youth Triathlon the following day, August 27, at the Wisp Resort, McHenry.

Oakland Oaks Capture Pen-Mar League Title

In one of the most exciting Pen-Mar Baseball League championship series in the history of the league, the Oakland Oaks unseated defending champion Tri-Towns this past weekend at Garrett Community College to capture the 1989 league title.

The Oaks won the first game of the best-of-three series in 12 innings, 5-4, were nipped in the second contest, 7-6, and then won the rubber game, 10-7. The first game was started on Saturday, but was suspended by darkness in the 12th inning with the score knotted at 4-4. An RBI single by Ed Wildesen in the bottom of the 12th on Sunday ended that game, after which the second and third contests were played.

The Oaks, who finished second in the regular season standings, earned a spot in the finals on Friday by defeating the Keyser Merchants, 13-4, at the Southern High School field. Meanwhile, Tri-Towns, who finished in first place in the standings, whipped Cumberland at the GCC diamond, 13-5, to claim the other championship playoff berth.

Keyser Game

In the contest against Keyser, Oakland hammered a total of 20 hits, including a fifth-inning grand slam by Lawrence Nesselrodt to break open what had been a close contest.

Keyser took a 3-0 advantage in the top of the second inning which featured a two-run homer by former Oakland player, Randy Cirillo. However Oakland responded with two runs in the bottom of the second and two more in the bottom of the third to take the lead for good.

Nesselrodt then smacked his four-run shot in the fifth to make it 8-3 and the Oaks added five more runs in the sixth and seventh while the Merchants recorded just one run in the seventh.

Nesselrodt also had a single on the afternoon, while Phil Carr finished with a double and two singles for three RBIs, Tim McNemar doubled and singled twice for two RBIs, Dwayne Woodring tripled and singled twice for one RBI, Steve Zumpano doubled and singled twice, Reggie Young singled twice and recorded an RBI, Jon Reneslacis had two singles, and Corky Sweitzer doubled for one RBI.

Cirillo had a single to go with his homer for Keyser, Mike Stanislawczyk singled twice, Wayne Brown doubled and singled, and Mike Wolfe doubled.

Mike Brady went the distance on the mound for Oakland, yielding 10 hits and striking out seven.

Finals — Game One

In the first of the three championship series games, Tri-Towns held a 4-2 lead going into the seventh inning, but the Oaks came back to tie the score when Reneslacis walked, stole second, and scored on a single by Carr, who then came home on a double by Woodring.

Big defensive plays, plus a number of base-running mistakes by both teams, squelched other scoring opportunities throughout the next four innings until the game was suspended.

It didn't take long for Oakland to win the contest on Sunday as Reggie Young led off the top of the 12th by reaching on a fielder's choice, moved to second on a passed ball, and then, with two outs, came home on Wildesen's single with the winning run.

Oakland's hitting was led by Reneslacis and Woodring, who each doubled and singled, McNemar with an RBI double,

The American Division will open play on Monday with Division Winner Browning's Foodland (41-5) playing either The American Burger Center (16-28), Buddy's Towing (16-28), or Mt. Top Glass #1 (16-30). American Burger Center will win all possible tie breakers among the three teams and, depending on the results of Buddy's and Arrowhead Deli game tonight, may only have to play one game against Cal's Carpet tomorrow night in their make-up game at Southern High.

In other action this Monday, second place Kitzmiller (40-6) will meet seventh place Stewart's (21-24); third place Mt. Top Glass #2 (35-9) will face either Arrowhead Deli (23-20) or Crellin (25-21); and fourth-place, John Kruk's will play Arrowhead or Crellin, depending on the outcome of tonight's Arrowhead/Buddy's game.

The National Division starts its play-offs with first place A&A Realty (35-9) facing Deep Creek Pharmacy (20-23); second place Silver Tree Inn squaring off against either Team One (21-20) or Panel Craft Homes (23-20), depending on the outcome of last night's contest between Paugh's Exxon and Team One. Third place Bethlehem (32-13) will encounter Team One or Panel Craft Homes and the battle will be a re-match of this week's game between fourth place Miners & Merchants Bank (28-14) and Paugh's Exxon (25-17).

The official pairings and field locations of each game will be determined tonight at The American Burger Center at 9 p.m. The higher seed will have the choice of field throughout the playoffs and the division winners will determine where the weekend games will be played.

All teams must have a representative at the meeting tonight. Reps should bring their scorebooks with them.

Many people with hearing trouble suffer from sensorineural hearing loss, which is sometimes referred to as "Nerve Deafness." Today's hearing aids are made primarily for people who have this type of hearing loss. There are many things to consider aside from the presence of the hearing loss itself, in determining if a hearing aid will help and what type of hearing aid would be best. An audiologist specializes in evaluation of hearing problems and recommendation and fitting of hearing aids.

Steve Spitzer paced Tri-Towns with four singles, while Wink Spitzer rapped a two-run homer, Phil Cook added an RBI double, and Charlie Wilson finished with two singles.

Tim McNemar pitched 11 strong innings for Oakland, giving up only four runs and striking out six before giving way to Troy Hammons in the 12th inning. Hammons recorded the final three outs to get the win.

Finals — Game Two

Although the Oaks were down 7-0 going into the sixth inning of the second game, by the end of the seventh they had the tying run at third and the winning run at second before Reneslacis lifted out to first to end the game.

Tri-Towns scored three runs in the first inning and four in the third, but Oakland rallied to score two in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Cook rapped a two-run homer and a single for Tri-Towns, Wink Spitzer had a solo homer and a single, Wilson added a pair of doubles, and Steve Spitzer finished with two singles.

Leading Oakland's offense was McNemar, who had a solo homer and two singles. Zumpano finished with a double and two singles, Woodring singled twice, and Sweitzer had a double.

Oakland out-hit Tri-Towns, 12-10.

Hammons started on the mound for Oakland, tossing four innings and allowing seven runs, before yielding to Scott Lohr, who shut down Tri-Towns for the remainder of the game.

Finals — Game Three

Tri-Towns took a 1-0 lead in the first inning of the deciding game before as the Oaks responded with four scores in the bottom of that frame to go on top 4-1. However, the defending league champions came back with four runs of their own in the top of the second to retake the lead, 5-4. The inning was highlighted with doubles by Miller, Steve Spitzer, and Cook.

Oakland put the game away in the bottom of the fourth by scoring five runs. Nesselrodt led off with a walk, Reneslacis followed with a single, and Zumpano doubled. McNemar then walked, Carr and Woodring reached on infield errors, and Young singled in the fifth run of the inning to make it 9-5.

Singles by Zumpano, McNemar, Woodring, and Young in the fifth inning accounted for Oakland's final run. Tri-Towns recorded single runs in the sixth and seventh to cut Oakland's winning margin to three runs.

McNemar finished with a three-run homer, recorded in the first inning, and also rapped two singles. Zumpano finished with two doubles and a single and Young added a pair of singles and three RBIs.

Leading Tri-Towns' hitting was Wink Spitzer, who doubled and singled twice. Donnie Raines, Miller, and Cook each added a double.

Willie Lake was the starting pitcher for Oakland, but was relieved in the second inning by Scott Lohr, who gave up only one run through three-plus innings. Hammons then took the mound and went the rest of the way to gain the save and give Lohr the victory.

Hammons recorded a win, a loss, and a save for the Oaks, all in one day.

Oakland All-Stars Play Pair Of Tourneys, Win Tri-Towns Series

The Oakland All-Stars, managed by Dale Bittinger and coached by Jeff Sweitzer, participated in two post season tournaments this year. The boys that competed were 11 and 12 years old.

The first tournament was the Maryland Divisional Playoffs. Oakland drew Conococheague as their first opponent. Conococheague, playing on its home field, won the game, 5-1.

Hancock, Oakland's second opponent, came to Oakland and was defeated by the local team, 9-6. Scott Dawson was the winning pitcher and Jeremy Fitzwater led the offense with a grand slam homer.

The All-Stars then traveled back to Hagerstown to play Federal in the most exciting game of the Divisional Playoffs. The lead changed hands several times during the game. Oakland came to bat in the bottom of the last inning, behind by one run. Scott Shahan worked the pitcher for a walk, Matt Newcomb beat out a bunt for a base hit, Jimmy Shay drew a base on balls, Jason Sweitzer struck out, and Jeremy Fitzwater hit a single to score Shahan with the tying run, and Newcomb with the winning run. Fitzwater was the winning pitcher. Newcomb and Fitzwater homered for the Oakland team.

Oakland's final game of the playoffs came against the Halfway team from Hagerstown, and Oakland was soundly defeated, 13-0.

The Westernport World Series was the next stop for the Oakland squad, a tournament which included teams from Garrett, Allegany, and Mineral counties.

The Oakland All-Stars were undefeated in this series, whipping the Oakland A's, 5-3; Keyser, 11-3; and Tri-Towns, 26-1, to advance to the Championship Game. The championship was decided early as the All-Stars batted around in both the first and second innings. The final score was 20-5.

Ritchie Warnick emerged as the top player in the series and was awarded five individual trophies, including Best Outfield Throw, Highest Batting Average, Most Hits, Most Doubles (11), and Series MVP.

Garrett County Team Knocked Out Of Maryland Legion Tournament

After capturing two wins in the 1989 Maryland Junior American Legion Tournament last week at Valley High School in Lonaconing, the Garrett County team, coached by Ed Wildesen was knocked out of the double-elimination playoffs by falling to Potomac Post 202 on Thursday night and then being crushed by Mayo Post 226 on Friday.

The Garrett County team had entered the tournament with an 11-4 regular season mark, second best in the Mountain District League, after winning the first-half season title.

Despite the loss to Potomac Post of Williamsport, the Garrett County squad received an outstanding pitching performance by 15-year-old Brett Rice, who tossed eight and two-thirds innings, allowed seven hits and no earned runs, while walking only two and striking out two.

The score was tied at 2-2 going into the top of the ninth, however the 24-3 Williamsport team scored three runs in that inning with the help of three throwing errors by the Garrett defense.

Williamsport took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Scott Coulter singled, stole second, went to third on a throwing error, and scored on a sacrifice fly by J.R. Hawkins.

Garrett County assumed a 2-1 lead in the third inning as Rice and James Sulser led off with back-to-back walks, Rod Cooper singled to score Rice, and Sulser came home when the Williamsport catcher threw wildly to third in a pickoff attempt.

Williamsport knotted the score with an unearned run in the sixth when, after a double play, Mickey Byers was hit by a pitch, moved to second on a wild pitch, and scored on a dropped pop-up down the left field line.

Then in the ninth inning, Cory Tucker led off by reaching on a throwing error, stole second, and went to third on a throwing error by the catcher. Hawkins followed with a single to score Tucker.

Hawkins then stole second and went on to third as second base was uncovered and the catcher's throw went into centerfield. R.J. Kackley followed with a walk and Hawkins scored on a double steal, with Kackley moving to second.

Bern Kerns then looped a single to right to bring Kackley home and complete the scoring.

Shawn Haupt and reliever Garrett Stevenson allowed only four hits, struck out eight, and walked only two.

Coach Wildesen couldn't say enough about the performance of Rice, who just finished his freshman year at Southern High School and was throwing against many youth who were three years older.

"A 15-year-old starting in a winner's bracket, in a state tournament, throwing strikes for almost an entire game, and staying ahead of the hitters is a performance that any 18-year-old would be happy with," Wildesen said. "He just did an outstanding job."

Wildesen noted how proud he was of his team and added, "I think we earned a lot of respect from Williamsport. With a few breaks, we would have won the game."

Had Garrett won the game, it would have put them in the championship contest on Saturday.

Garrett had seven errors in the contest, but until the ninth inning, Rice was able to retire the side as Williamsport left 10 runners stranded in the first eight innings.

Kevin Combs accounted for two of Garrett's four hits, both of them singles, while Kerns led the winners with three singles and Mike Hampton finished with two singles.

Things did not go as well in the contest against Mayo Post 226 on Friday, as the Garrett County hurlers managed just one hit off Anne Arundel County's 1989 High School Baseball Player of the Year, Chris Brewer.

Brewer, who will be playing this fall for Appalachian State, had a no-hitter going until the seventh inning when Kevin Combs connected for a solid rap to center field for a single. However, Brewer needed only 107 pitches, of which 70 were strikes, to go the distance and record the victory. He struck out 12 Garrett batters.

Garrett County did have one player in scoring position when, in the third inning, Kevin Green walked, moved to second on a ground-out, and went to third on a balk.

Mayo scored the first run, the only run they would need, in the second inning on singles by Jim McNally and Pat Kahl and an RBI ground-out by Wilfredo Trinidad. They added two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth, one in the sixth, and three in the eighth.

Brewer aided his own cause with a triple and a double, Bullock tripled and singled, and Dave Haber, Mark Foster, and McNally each singled twice.

Mayo is the defending state champion and was runner-up in last year's Mid-East regional tournament.

"It was a tough loss for us," Wildesen said. "All of the energy and emotion that we had the night before against Williamsport was just not there. Our kids were really tired. Some of them drove two hours home after Thursday's game, which wasn't over until 11:00, and then drove two hours back today for a 12:30 game.

"But," he added, "this was a super group of young men to work with and we had a real good season. I feel privileged to have been their coach."

Mayo went on to blank Williamsport, 8-0, in the championship game Saturday afternoon.

discuss anything that went on in executive session — or I consider it to be inappropriate and a violation of the confidence of executive session."

The three board members noted in Moomau's statement prepared replies following the meeting.

Clark said, "I debated with myself for many hours if I should even respond to Mrs. Moomau's statement, and finally decided that, if I didn't, I was, in fact, agreeing with her. This is not true, and her remarks on discrimination are untrue.

"I was elected by the people to represent them. This may mean that, in voting for appointments, I may not always do what the administration recommends. My responsibility is to do what I feel is best and to vote accordingly."

Clark went on, "It is the responsibility of the superintendent to recommend person(s) for appointments to the board members. However, board members have the right to accept or reject the recommendations."

In her statement, Murphy referred to the fact that one of the candidates who was not approved was Moomau's sister-in-law. She said, "I deny the derogatory statements that the vote I cast for an administrative position was made as a discriminatory act against a relative of a Garrett County board member. My vote has always been cast for the needs of the students, not with the desires or personal gains of board members in mind.

"I have the right, as a board member, to consider all information available on an issue, and to ask questions. Only at that time will I cast a vote. I am not a rubber stamp for the superintendent or other board members."

Durst responded by saying, "Mrs. Moomau expects the elected board and the Garrett County public to think that she would never stoop so low as to use the position of board president to get a position for her sister-in-law, Brenda McCartney. On the other hand, she accuses the other board members of stooping so low as to keep her from getting a position."

Durst went on, "The main controversy was over the appointment of Ed Green over Brenda McCartney to the teacher coordinator position. When you consider Mr. Green's years of experience, there is no comparison. What shocked me the most was a third candidate who had more administrative experience than both candidates and 80 hours over his master's degree, but his name wasn't even mentioned to the elected board. So much for hard work, loyalty, and dedication. Apparently, it takes more than that to get a promotion.

"If there is any politicking going on, it's not with the elected board, but with those in charge of hiring and making recommendations to the elected board."

Other recent appointments made by the board of education include: Michael Pula, teaching principal at Bloomington School; Sandra Nesline, teaching principal at Red House Elementary School; and Jennifer Kotulak, pupil personnel worker.

GCC Board

students will attend classes on GCC's campus for several days. While there, the students will complete their regular coursework and then attend enrichment programs with GCC staff and faculty. Parents will be invited to attend special programs as well.

There are currently 19 classes of fifth grade students in the county. The Board of Education will choose six classes of the most economically disadvantaged students to attend the program each semester.

As the students progress, phase two of the program will provide a career day for them in the sixth grade and phase three will involve the students in the eighth grade and also Frostburg State University. The program will be tested over a three year period.

The Maryland General Assembly has provided $750,000 for fiscal year 1990 for the program to be implemented across the state. Dr. Mitchell stated that if the county receives the funding for the program, GCC hopes to begin the program in October.

JOB PLACEMENT CENTER

GCC has had a Job Placement Center since January of this year. Sandy Major, director of the Job Placement Center, presented the Board with a progress report on the center's activities at the meeting.

According to the report, the center has worked with 52 employers and listed 108 job openings. Also, the center has arranged interviews for 51 of the 55 applicants for the job openings which resulted in the placement of 43 applicants.

The results of an employer survey indicated that 22 employers replied. All of the employers indicated that the staff was friendly and helpful; 19 employers indicated that appropriate applicants were sent to them; 12 employers hired the applicant sent to them; 8 indicated that the person hired has worked out; and all 22 indicated they would use the placement center again.

The student evaluation indicated that 38 students were surveyed and 33 of those students began jobs through the placement center; students were paid between $3.35 and $10.00 an hour and average starting salary was $4.61.

The Job Placement Center offers free services to students and employers, including: assistance in finding full and part time jobs; job counseling; job related resources; orientation sessions on job skills, resume writing, interview and job search techniques; and posted listings of available full and part time jobs. For more information on the center, call 387-6666, ext. 169.

HIRING POLICY

GCC's Board of Trustees adopted a new hiring policy at the meeting. The Middle States Association expressed concern that GCC's policy of hiring qualified internal applicants for new positions had caused the college to become ingrown. Due to this concern, the Board voted to accept a new policy.

The new policy requires any job opening to be published internally and externally. Candidates will be treated equally in the search process except that internal candidates will receive preferential consideration if they are virtually equal to external candidates.

The policy was proposed by the Organizational and Salary Committee.

MIDDLE STATES VISIT

The Middle States Association will have a small team visiting Garrett Community College on October 24 and 25 to reaffirm the accreditation of the college.

NEW PERSONNEL

Dana Shimrock and George McDowell were introduced to the Board of Trustees at the meeting.

Shimrock is the new Director of the Library at Garrett Community College. She will begin August 28.

George McDowell has been named to the position of Director of Developmental Studies and LEAP (Learning Enhancement and Assistance Program).

Man Arrested

In other news from the Sheriff's Department, Michael Alan Crosby, 23, Deer Park, was arrested August 11 on a warrant. The warrant was issued as a result of findings from a search and seizure initiated by the Garrett County Narcotics Task Force/Garrett County Sheriff's Department which resulted in two arrests last week.

Crosby faces charges of the manufacture of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS); possession with intent to distribute CDS; possession of CDS; and possession of drug paraphernalia.

According to Assistant Chief Deputy Paul J. Pratt, Crosby was being held in lieu of $12,000 property bond and was later released when bail was made.

Randy Michael Mayle, 29, Arlington, Tex., was arrested August 9 and charged with the theft of an $8,000 pick-up truck that was found in his possession that day, according to arresting officer Deputy Randy P. Shaffer.

The vehicle was stolen from the parking lot of the Bear's Den Lounge, Route 50. According to the owner of the truck, Mayle allegedly approached him asking for a ride to another part of the county. The owner said he was not traveling that direction. When he emerged from the establishment appoximately 20 minutes later, his truck was gone.

Mayle was apprehended as he drove the truck eastbound on Route 135, near "B" Street. When Deputy Shaffer attempted to stop Mayle, he drove the truck into a ditch, and fled the scene on foot. He ran approximately 200 yards before being overtaken by Shaffer.

According to Deputy Shaffer, Mayle faces charges of vehicle theft; driving while intoxicated; fleeing and eluding; driving in violation of an alcohol restriction; driving while license is suspended; and driving while license is revoked.

Bond was set at $4,500, and he was released later that day, after posting bail.

In addition to charges stemming from the alleged vehicle theft, Mayle also faces separate charges from a bench warrant that had been issued at an earlier date. He is charged with failure to appear in court. According to Chief Deputy Harland S. Tichnell, bond for this alleged offense was preset at $500.

Dana Lee Chapman, 21, Kitzmiller, was arrested on a warrant August 9, and charged with felony theft in connection with a vehicle theft that occurred at Bob's Texaco Station in Kitzmiller. Chapman faces charges of felony breaking and entering; misdemeanor breaking and entering; breaking and entering of a storehouse; destruction of property; and theft, according to an arresting officer, Deputy Randy P. Shaffer. A separate arrest warrant was issued for felony theft. According to Det./Sgt. Donald W. Tucker, Chapman is incarcerated in lieu of $5,000 10 percent cash bond.

Kevin Lee DeBerry, 26, Oakland, was arrested on a warrant, and charged with assault. The charge stems from an incident that occurred in the past week involving Thomas Lee and Tracy Lyn Paugh at their residence. According to Deputy Denver C. Welch, DeBerry was later released on $150 bond.

Charles Glascoe, 20, Baltimore, was arrested Friday on a warrant issued for his alleged violation of probation. Bail was set at $2,500 full cash bond. Deputy David M. Stoner served the arrest warrant.

James Garrett Carpenter, 33, Laurel, was arrested August 9, on a bench warrant issued by Judge Turney for failure to pay a $1,090 fine to Garrett County. The arrest was made by officials in Laurel and Carpenter was then escorted to this county by Deputy Patrick J. Kelly. Carpenter is currently housed in the Garrett County jail in lieu of $1,000 (10 percent cash) bond.

Donald Glenn Miller, 21, Oakland, was arrested Monday on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear in District Court on August 11 for a trial. He was later released on his own recognizance. The arresting officer was Deputy David M. Stoner.

Shirley Jane Wagner, 29, Oakland, was arrested Saturday for driving while intoxicated. Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy made the arrest along Route 135.

Bradley Joe Elbon, 27, Fairmont, W.Va., was arrested for driving while intoxicated Friday along Route 219 North. The arresting officer was Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy.

Tempt Them With TUNA

PASTA WITH TUNA SAUCE

1 tablespoon olive oil
2 garlic cloves, minced
2 6½-oz. cans water-packed tuna, drained
1 32-oz. can tomato puree
2 tablespoons fresh parsley, minced (or 3 teaspoons dried)
1-2 teaspoons oregano
1/8-¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
¾ lb. pasta, preferably whole wheat
3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese, grated

Heat the oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the garlic and saute, stirring constantly, until it is just golden. Add the remaining ingredients except the pasta and cheese. Simmer, uncovered, over low heat for about 15 minutes. Add some water if the sauce gets too thick. Meanwhile, cook the pasta in boiling water until it is tender but still firm. Drain. Serve immediately. Top with the sauce and cheese. Yield: 4 servings.

HOT TUNA WAFFLE-WICH

Cheese Sauce

Drain peas, reserving 2 tablespoons liquid. Combine peas, 2 tablespoons liquid, mushroom soup, tuna, and hot sauce in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until thoroughly heated. Heat waffles according to package directions. Spoon about ½ cup tuna mixture on half of waffles; place remaining waffles over tuna. Top with Cheese Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

1 (11-ounce) can cheese soup, undiluted
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine cheese soup and milk in a small saucepan, stir in mustard. Cook over medium heat until heated. Yield 1¼ cups.

2 cans (16-oz. each) Italian plum tomatoes, drained and chopped
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
Salt
Freshly ground black pepper
Fresh basil leaves
Lettuce leaves

Cook pasta according to package directions. Mix oil, lemon juice and basil, pour over warm pasta and toss. Cool to room temperature, occasionally stirring the pasta to coat thoroughly. Add tuna, tomatoes and cheese to the pasta, toss gently. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve in lettuce-lined bowl. Garnish with basil leaves. Serves 8 to 10.

⅓ cup sweet pickle relish
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons commercial mustard/mayonnaise sauce
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 hamburger buns, split and toasted
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Monterey Jack cheese

Combine first 5 ingredients, stirring well. Spread mayonnaise evenly on cut sides of hamburger buns, top each half with tuna mixture, and sprinkle with cheese. Broil sandwiches 6 inches from heat until cheese melts. Yield: 6 servings.

TUNA POCKETS

⅔ cup cottage cheese
⅔ cup plain yogurt
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 (6½-ounce) can tuna, drained and flaked
6 (1-ounce) slices Swiss cheese
3 (6-inch) pita bread rounds, cut in half
1½ cups alfalfa sprouts

Process cottage cheese in food processor or electric blender until smooth. Combine cottage cheese, yogurt, and next 5 ingredients. Place a slice of Swiss cheese in each pita bread half, spoon ¼ cup tuna mixture into each. Wrap sandwiches individually in aluminum foil, and place on a baking sheet. Bake at 300° for 15 minutes or until cheese melts. Place alfalfa sprouts in each sandwich. Serve immediately. Yield: 3 servings.

STUFFED TOMATO WITH TUNA PASTA

1 cup uncooked medium-size whole wheat shell macaroni
1 (6½-ounce) can water-packed tuna, drained and chilled
¾ cup thinly sliced carrots
½ cup frozen green peas, thawed
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped, unpeeled cucumber
¼ cup thinly sliced radishes
1 tablespoon minced onion
½ cup plain low-fat yogurt
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
1 tablespoon reduced-calorie mayonnaise
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/8 teaspoon pepper
5 medium-size tomatoes
5 lettuce leaves
Carrot curls (optional)
Parsley sprigs (optional)

Cook macaroni according to package directions, omitting salt, drain. Rinse with cold water, drain well. Combine macaroni, tuna, and next 6 ingredients, toss gently. Set aside. Combine yogurt, mustard, mayonnaise, vinegar, and pepper in a small bowl, stir well. Fold yogurt mixture into tuna mixture, toss gently to mix. Core tomatoes, cut each into 6 wedges, cutting to, but not through, base of tomato. Spread wedges slightly apart, and place on lettuce-lined serving plates. Spoon tuna mixture into tomatoes. If desired, garnish with carrot curls and parsley sprigs. Yield: 5 servings.

TUNA HARVEST FRUIT SALAD

1½ ounces Neufchatel cheese, softened

¼ teaspoon dried dill (optional)
Leaf lettuce
4 small bunches red grapes
¼ cantaloupe, cut up
1 apple, sliced

Combine the cheese, pineapple, red or green pepper and green onion. Gently stir in the tuna and sunflower seeds (and dill, if desired). TUNA CASSEROLE WITH CHEESE SWIRLS

2 tablespoons diced onion
3 tablespoons diced green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup milk
1 (10¾-ounce) can cream of chicken soup, undiluted
1 (9¼-ounce) can white tuna in water, drained and flaked
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
2½ tablespoons shortening
⅓ cup milk
½ cup (2 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese

Saute onion and green pepper in butter over medium heat 2 minutes. Add 3 tablespoons flour, cook 1 minute, stirring constantly. Add 1 cup milk, chicken soup, and tuna, stir until smooth. Spoon into a lightly greased 8-inch square baking dish, set aside. Combine 1 cup flour, baking powder, and salt, cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add ⅓ cup milk, stir with a fork until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn dough out onto a well-floured surface, roll to a 10x8-inch rectangle. Sprinkle with cheese. Roll up dough jellyroll fashion, starting at long side, cut into 12 slices. Arrange on top of tuna mixture. Bake at 400° for 25 minutes or until top is lightly browned. Yield: 6 servings.

Surprising Party Fare

More and more, Americans are acknowledging the correlation between good health and eating habits and an active, happy productive life. People of all ages are zeroing in on physical fitness and daily exercise. There's an increased awareness of good nutrition habits. Everyday eating patterns are changing. And, so too, are our entertaining habits.

Gone are the days when dinner parties dictated formal, sit-down service. Now when company visits, the meal is far more likely to be a casual buffet. Party menus have changed, too. Rich, heavy, calorie-laden dishes are declining in popularity as our food preferences shift to less filling fare.

Here's a recipe from the Kraft Kitchens that's perfect for today's entertaining style — Tuna Spinach Ring. Flavorful and festive, this entree satisfies hungry guests' appetites. Tuna, spinach and rice are among the main ingredients in this casserole. But the secret of this main-dish success is the sauce made from Light n' Lively, a low-fat process cheese product with fewer calories. Quick and easy-to-make, Tuna Spinach Ring is a great change from the usual main dish fare. And unless you tell, no one will know how quick and easy it is to make.

Tuna Spinach Ring

- 2 7-oz. cans water-packed tuna, drained, flaked
- 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen chopped spinach, cooked, drained
- 1-1/2 cups cooked rice
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 lb. Light n' Lively American flavored process cheese product, cubed
- 1/4 cup skim milk

- 1/4 lb. Light n' Lively American flavored process cheese product, cubed
- 2 tablespoons skim milk

Combine tuna, spinach, rice and onion; mix lightly. Heat process cheese product and milk over low heat; stir until sauce is smooth. Add sauce to tuna mixture; mix well. Spoon mixture into greased 4-1/2-cup ring mold. Bake at 350°, 30 minutes. Turn out of pan immediately.

Heat 1/4 lb. process cheese product and milk over low heat; stir until sauce is smooth. Serve over hot tuna ring. 6 to 8 servings

THE OLD WAY

The old pump handle was the counterpart of our modern water faucet. You simply had to be thirsty enough to want to pump water.

New ways often bring little that's new. They just make it easier to satisfy our necessities.

But those who spiritually thirst—for souls that are dry. There is no new way. There is no way to pipe the water of a new life into the soul of a person.

It isn't difficult to overcome the spiritual drought of our time. But you've got to realize your own thirst for God. And you've got to draw on the deep, refreshing resources where they are. Let the church or synagogue of your choice help you rediscover the old way.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BEYOND PREJUDICE

August 20, 1989

Background Scripture: Ruth 2 and 3.
Devotional Reading: Luke 12:22-32.

When Naomi returned to her native Bethlehem with Ruth, her Moabitess daughter-in-law, the writer tells us that "the whole town was stirred because of them." (1:19). We do not know why the people were "stirred," but, probably they were surprised at both the return of Naomi and the fact she was bringing a foreign woman to live in their midst. As we mentioned last week, Israelites and Moabites were generaly enemies and in addition there were strict prohibitions against any social contract with foreigners.

Nevertheless, despite Israel's traditional suspicion and disdain for foreigners, there were some local customs that were more benevolent and compassionate. During the barley harvest, it was customary for the owners of the fields to permit poor people to glean in the fields after the workers had harvested the crop. No man was ever to be so selfish that he refused to leave any remnants of his crop to help the poor. So, Boaz's first response to Ruth is one of compassion--he told his workers to be sure that there was enough for her to glean.

BEYOND PREJUDICE

His next reaction was one of respect. When Ruth asks, him, "Why have I found favor in your eyes, that you should take notice of me, when I am a foreigner?", Boaz gives her his answer: "All that you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband has been fully told me, and how you left your father and mother and your native land and came to a people that you did not know before" (2:10,11). No matter how great was the prejudice against foreigners, it neither kept Boaz from following the tradition of permitting poor people to glean in his fields, nor did it keep him from giving Ruth the respect and admiration due her for her loving care for Naomi.

So impressed was Boaz with Ruth, that he asked her to share his lunch with him. Afterward, he gave special instructions to the workers so that they should make sure that she would have much from which to glean. Compassion and kindness had overcome prejudice and selfishness. We can see this same characteristic in Ruth when she returns to Naomi. Instead of eating everything placed before her by Boaz, she saved what was left over, took it home and "gave her what food she had left over after being satisfed" (2:18). Impressive as had been Ruth's words when she committed herself to follow Naomi her actions were even more admirable.

FAMILY OBLIGATIONS

There is another element in this story that illustrates compassion winning out over prejudice and selfishness. Naomi knew of the old Levirate law that requested nearest of kin to marry widows of members of the family so that the name of the deceased could be perpetuated. It seems a strange custom to us today, but its purpose was admirable: families will take care of their own people. This is institutionaized compassion and it saved many widows from destitution. Following the advice of Naomi who was well familiar with the custom, Ruth comes to Boaz at the threshing floor and entreats him:"..spread your skirt over your maidservant, for you are next of kin" (3:9). This was a symbolic gesture indicating that Ruth would henceforth be under his protection as her husband.

Thus, because of Ruth's perseverance, Naomi's wisdom, and Boaz's compassion, human kindness conquered prejudice.

ASTHMA IS USUALLY A CHRONIC DISEASE

Its victims have breathing difficulties. Attacks are usually mild. Fortunately it is not contagious. But, if neglected, asthma increases in severity and endangers health. It may be caused by an allergy, infection or even nervous tension.

If you think you have asthma, don't attempt self treatment. It is almost impossible for anyone but a physician to diagnose the cause. With proper medical treatment asthma can be kept under control and often cured.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

THINK BACK

Order In The Court!

By Donna Gooch

Judges are sober, upright, justice-serving individuals ... well, not all the time, "judging" from the following series. Most of the mediators who reigned on television had their share of fun. Typecasting is impossible. Some were judges in real life who served on the bench in fact-based, serious courtroom dramas. Other characters were colorful and fit right in with the sitcom situations. Some were temporary, small claims court justices, others ruled on the Superior Court. One thing they all have in common are suitably solid, judge-sounding names. See if you can decide which series and judge go together.

SERIES:
1. Night Court
2. L.A. Law
3. Phyllis
4. I Married Joan
5. Hardcastle and McCormick
6. The Virginian
7. Tony Randall Show
8. Accused
9. The Black Robe
10. People's Court

JUDGE:
a. Walter Franklin
b. Joseph A. Wapner
c. Jonathan Dexter
d. Bradley Stevens
e. Edgar Allen Jones Jr.
f. Harry T. Stone
g. Douglas Brackman Jr.
h. Frankie Thomas Sr.
i. Milton C. Hardcastle
j. Henry Garth

1. f, 2. g, 3. c, 4. d, 5. i, 6. b, 7. a, 8. e, 9. h, 10. b.

TV CLASSICS

Programs based on animals mainly dog and pony shows

By John Haakenson

There must be something about dogs and horses.

Although there have been television series about other species of the animal kingdom (Flipper, 1964-68 on NBC, for one), for the most part TV producers have concentrated on dog and pony shows. Test your memory of some of the more popular animal series by answering these questions:

Questions:

1. On The Adventures of Champion (CBS, 1955-56), who owned Champion, the Wonder Horse, and who played that role?
2. How many people did Champion allow to ride him?
3. Who played the role of Flipper?
4. In The Adventures of Rin Tin Tin (1954-59, ABC), who owned the brave canine?
5. The soldiers at what fort "adopted" the boy and Rin Tin Tin?
6. On Gentle Ben (1967-69, CBS), what child actor played Mark?
7. Who is the real-life brother of that child actor?
8. What kind of bear was Ben?
9. Lassie had many owners during her stay on TV (1954-71, CBS). Who was her first owner, and who played that role?
10. Lassie's second owner was played by Tom Provost. Whom did Provost portray?
11. In what town was Lassie originally located?
12. Ruth Martin, who along with her husband bought the Miller farm, was played by two actresses from 1957 to 1964 on Lassie. Who were they?
13. On Mr. Ed (1961-65, CBS), who played Ed's owner, Wilbur Post?
14. Who was the voice of Mr. Ed?
15. What did Wilbur do for a living?
16. On My Friend Flicka (1956-58, CBS and NBC), who owned Flicka, and who played the role?

Answers:

1. Champion was owned by Ricky North, played by Barry Curtis.
2. Only Ricky.
3. A dolphin named Sunzy.
4. Rusty, played by Lee Aker.
5. Fort Apache, Ariz.
6. Clint Howard.
7. Director-actor Ron Howard.
8. American black bear.
9. Jeff Miller, played by Tommy Rettig.
10. The orphan runaway Timmy, who was taken in by the Millers.
11. Calverton.
12. Doris Leachman (1957-58), then June Lockhart.
13. Alan Young.
14. Allan "Rocky" Post.
15. He was an architect.
16. The McLaughlins owned Flicka, Ken (Johnny Washbrook) mainly.

TV Q&A

Spine ailment kept Dick York from 'Bewitched' series

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I always enjoyed watching* Bewitched *and would like to know why Dick York left the show. I heard he was real sick. Has Bob Barker ever remarried after the death of his wife and what did she die from? How come you repeat the TV Q&A's in your guide? We get enough repeats on TV now, we sure don't need anymore. —Loretta Parsons, Mannford, Okla.

A: Loretta, you have obviously missed some of the Q&As as some of our other readers do. The Bob Barker question has been answered before, but I will answer it again for you. Does that make it a repeat? Dorothy Jo, Bob's wife, died of cancer in October 1981. He never remarried. Dick York's streak of bad luck began in 1969 when he developed a crippling spine ailment and was forced to leave Bewitched. He spent the next year flat on his back. In mid-1970, his back had healed but he had become addicted to painkilling drugs and sleeping pills. York has beat his drug addiction, but Hollywood has forgotten him.

Q: Can you please give me some information on Michael Keaton? Is he married? How old is he? When is his birthday? Where is he from? —Penny Hamby, Palatka, Fla.

A: Michael Keaton was born on Sept. 9, 1951, in Pittsburgh, Pa. Currently separated from his wife, actress Caroline McWilliams, there is talk of reconciliation. They have one child.

Dick York

Q: Can you tell me if* Gone With the Wind *originally came out in color and, if not, what year was it brought out in color? —O.D. Amerson, Grants, N.M.

A: Gone With the Wind, released in 1939, was hailed as a great advancement in the development of Technicolor since the process' primitive origins in the '20s. The widescreen version produced in the late '60s ruined its composition and color, but fortunately in preparation for the film's 50th anniversary, the Turner Entertainment Company outdid itself in restoring the film to its original color.

Q: Are Doris Day's movies on VCR tapes? What about* McClintock *with John Wayne? I have seen these run as movies, but would love copies for my home VCR libray. —Carolyn McNeil, Bells, Texas

A: Some of Doris Day's movies like Pillow Talk, With Six You Get Eggroll and Send Me No Flowers are available on tape. McClintock is not. I suggest you check with your local video store for a complete list.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Q&A, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748.

ON LOCATION

Byron Allen to host new talk, variety program

By Steve McGaw

Just what we needed: Byron Allen (remember him?) will host a new talk show, set to premiere this fall. Actually described as a "talk/variety" show, the program will be syndicated nationally by Genesis Entertainment, which reports that their product has already been purchased in 90 percent of the nation...

Danny Aiello will star in the ABC telefilm The Preppie Murder Case, about the Robert Chambers story...

Christian Slater, so terrific as a junior varsity Jack Nicholson in Heathers, will next be seen playing Beau Bridges' son in the film The Wizard. Only fitting, since Slater previously played Jeff Bridges' kid in Tucker: The Man and His Dream...

This sounds interesting. Jenny Seagrove will star in a new TV movie titled Some Other Spring, playing a divorced woman who unwittingly carries a bomb aboard a plane. The surprise is courtesy of her French lover, who also turns out to be an international terrorist. Sadly, stranger things have happened...

I don't know why but they're planning to remake the 1942 classic Now, Voyager. How do you improve on (or even replace) Bette Davis and Paul Henreid?...

Madeleine Kahn may play Louella Parsons in the planned biography of William Randolph Hearst. Chris Robinson will star...

Loni Anderson will star in USA Network's planned remake of Sorry, Wrong Number.

Jazz great does gig in Russia

By Anne Wheeler

Jazz legend Dave Brubeck and his quartet were the first jazz musicians to be invited to the Soviet Union since the signing of the new cultural exchange agreement, and the Arts & Entertainment Network brings footage of their performance there. Moscow Night, premiering Aug. 20, captures the final night of five sold-out concerts in Moscow filmed during Brubeck's 1987 tour of Russia. The concert features Brubeck on piano accompanied by his son Chris on electric bass, Bill Smith on clarinet and Randy Jones on drums. During two interview segments, Brubeck discusses his experiences in Russia, where he traveled to Tallinn and Leningrad as well as Moscow.

The Discovery Channel takes two unique looks at lifestyle, also on Sunday. First is Fish 'n Sheep & Rock 'n Roll, which looks at the double life of Jethro Tull rocker Ian Anderson. By night Anderson performs with the group, and by day he's a sheep herder. Next is God Rides a Harley, featuring born-again bikers who use their motorcycles to pass along God's word.

Another Sunday offering is by HBO. Michael Moriarty and Chris Sarandon star in Tailspin: Behind the Korean Airliner Tragedy, Sunday, Aug. 20. The HBO Original Movie recounts the events surrounding the 1983 crash of Korean Air Lines flight 007, as it was shot down by Soviet fighters over Soviet air space.

HOROSCOPE

August 20 through August 26

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
This is the week for you to outshine all others in your business environment. Your week will be highlighted by some much deserved recognition.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
Romance is highlighted this week. Problems at work will make you tired at the end of the day, but somehow in the commute home your energy will soar.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
If you feel like singing in the rain this week, do it. Don't take life so seriously, but instead enjoy the simple things around you. Your lucky number is 6.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
Trying to make a loved one jealous will only backfire on you this week. It would be better to try and discuss what is troubling your relationship.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Hearth and home will keep you busy this week. A relative could cause problems in an already sagging relationship. Take charge of the situation; follow instincts.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
If you have the chance to find some free time this week, use it to relax and reminisce about the good 'ol days. An older family member will appreciate a short visit.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
If you haven't been invited to a party this week, plan one of your own. This is a great time for the Pisces to communicate and build great business contacts.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Restrictions placed on you over the last few weeks will lessen in severity. Try to understand the rules and regulations and avoid these hassles in the future.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Take a close look at your priorities this week. Now is the time to do all those things that you have been procrastinating about over the last few weeks.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
It is time to take a break from the past. A relationship with a loved one will be sorely tried over the next few weeks. Let go and keep an open mind.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Don't be too pushy in your relationships this week. Others will come around to your kind of thinking eventually. Be cautious with your finances this week.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Business matters should be high on your list of priorities. A former mentor will offer you some much needed advice this week. Your lucky number is 9.

TEEN STATS

Josh Saviano: Paul Pfeiffer on ABC's 'The Wonder Years'

By Shelia Odak
BIRTHPLACE: White Plains, N.Y.
BIRTHDATE: March 31
HAIR: Dark Brown EYES: Blue

When you were 13, you had a best friend. He or she was the one person you could rely on to always listen to you, be there for you and enjoy the same things you did. That's what Paul Pfeiffer is—a best friend. "If he wants to do something, he sets his mind to it and does it. And that's why I think he's a very good friend. He's very reliable, you can tell him anything," said Josh Saviano, who plays Paul on ABC's The Wonder Years.

The program centers around the friendship between Paul and Kevin Arnold, and the experiences they share while growing up in 1969. But, how does a 13-year-old of today relate to those of two decades ago? "I think once a kid always a kid. No matter what time, what place, what year, what town, I think it's all the same."

The Wonder Years has become one of the most popular and best-loved television series to appear in a long time. Saviano believes that people like it because they can empathize with it. "Everyone loves it. Most people say how they can relate to it. I get a lot of comments like 'In 1969 I was your age.' 'I had a best friend just like you.' 'I was just like you.' 'I had the same glasses, I wore the same clothes, I had the same shirt you had.' I think that's really neat," Saviano said.

The chemistry between Saviano and Fred Savage, who portrays Kevin Arnold, extends off-screen as well as on. "We get along really well. It's not hard being friends on the show."

What can we expect next season from Paul? "Obviously, I hope to see him get a little bit cooler. I don't know why, but I see him in the future with braces," he says with a laugh. "I'm getting braces over the summer. I would assume the first episode would be about either Paul and/or Kevin getting braces." Another one of those trials that 13-year-old best friends have to share.

Hall of Famer

Roone Arledge, president of ABC News, who pioneered TV coverage of Olympic competition during his tenure as president of ABC Sports, was recently inducted into the United States Olympic Hall of Fame. Arledge executive produced ABC's presentations of 10 Olympic Games. The 1984 Games reached 2.5 billion people worldwide, approximately one-half of the planet's population.

Jazzing Up Russia

Jazz legend Dave Brubeck, whose 1987 concert in Moscow is featured in Moscow Night Sunday, Aug. 20, on A&E, learned alot about how music is received in the Soviet Union. "Many doctors would make bootleg recordings off the radio at their hospitals on x-ray plates," Brubeck said. "Then they threw very quiet parties." He recalls that the largest collection of his recordings he saw belonged to a KGB officer. "After a long day at the Kremlin," Mikhail Gorbachev's interpreter told Brubeck, "I often put on some Brubeck music."

Linda Hamilton likes the success which CBS' Beauty and the Beast has brought to her acting career, but she sometimes wonders about the domestic life.

Successful Linda Hamilton envies slower paced lifestyle

By Linda Sparkman

Actress Linda Hamilton is a descendant of such historic Americans as William Brewster and Presidents John Adams, John Quincy Adams and John Tyler. However, as the beauty of Beauty and the Beast, she is a success in her own right.

Prior to Beauty and the Beast, Hamilton starred in two series, Secret of Midland Heights and Kings Crossing, and the made-for-TV movies Rape and Marriage—The Rideout Case, Secret Weapons and Go Toward the Light. Her feature films include The Terminator, Black Moon Rising, T.A.G.—The Assassination Game and King Kong Lives.

Born in Salisbury on the Maryland Eastern Shore, Hamilton lived there until she went off to college. Besides her identical twin sister, Leslie, who is a registered nurse, Hamilton has one older sister and a younger brother.

Despite her level of success, Hamilton admits she's just a wee bit envious of Leslie, who has two kids and a house in the suburbs. "I look at my life and the fast, breakneck pace of it, and compare it to hers," she said. "It's solid, you know, with children. I would trade places with her sometimes, just to get a touch of that."

Yet in high school, she suffered an identity crisis and adamantly fought to be different from Leslie. At one point, she even cut off her hair and eyelashes to distinguish herself. She even gained an excess 50 pounds. "I wanted to be ugly," she said. "I became the intellectual, the thinker, as opposed to my sister, the cheerleader. I was voted class snob."

Both sisters acted in high school, but in college, Leslie took up nursing. "I don't know that she ever made the conscious choice not to pursue acting as a career," Hamilton said. "I realized in my second year in college that I was very serious about acting, so I took my money and went to New York and trained."

Mrs. Bishoff will continue as a member of the board of trustees of the state group.

MSP Announce New Program To Combat Speeding

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) is calling on the allied law enforcement community to intensify traffic enforcement programs with special emphasis on speed enforcement.

Apprearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service broadcast, Henry C. Rockel, Enforcement Specialist, NHTSA, announced a new public information, education and traffic enforcement program entitled "Speeding, Gets You Nowhere . . . Fast."

"The ultimate goal is to reduce the number of crashes and the severity of those crashes," Rockel stated. "The higher the speed at the time of the crash, the more likely serious injury or death (will occur)," Rockel added. Nationally, speed has been identified as a major factor in a large percentage of fatal crashes.

In announcing Speeding Gets You Nowhere Fast, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has released a series of new public education, television and radio traffic safety announcements emphasizing the dangers associated with speed on the highway.

Maryland State Police have joined law enforcement agencies in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia in a stepped up enforcement campaign featuring various cooperative speed enforcement strategies. State Police are deploying extra personnel and speed monitoring equipment which will focus attention on violators who endanger the motoring public. The speed enforcement campaign will be supported by the Maryland State Police Aviation Division's Aerial Speed Enforcement Unit.

THOMPSON REUNION

The family of Jessie Thompson and the late Oce Thompson, Keyser, would like to gather at the K&P Grounds, Burlington on Sunday, August 27th for a family reunion. Bring a picnic lunch with drinks and utensils and join us for an afternoon of acquaintance and fun beginning at 12 noon.

DNR Police Slate Meetings

A series of public meetings will be held in September by the Natural Resources Police at six locations around the state.

The purpose of each of the meetings is to give the hunting and fishing public an opportunity to discuss law enforcement issues that affect their sport with the Natural Resources Police.

The meetings will be lead by the Chief of Field Operations of the Natural Resources Police with time allowed to discuss new laws and regulations. Those wanting a specific enforcement topic discussed should call Lt. Col. Woodland Willing (974-2249) to ensure it is covered in the meetings.

Local officers will be available to answer questions as well.

The meeting closest to residents of Garrett County will be September 25 at Allegany Community College, Cumberland. Persons may call Lt. Buckley at 777-7771 for more information.

Sines Receives Scholarship For Studies At ACC

Laura J. Sines of LaVale has been awarded a Margaret H. Zembower Secretarial Science Scholarship to continue her studies at Allegany Community College next year, the ACC Foundation announced.

She is working on associate's degrees in medical and legal secretarial science. She is a 1988 graduate of Northern Garrett High School, where she was an honor roll student and received certificates in clerical and stenographic programs.

Active in high school functions, she played volleyball, basketball and softball and was an officer in the Girls' Varsity Club. She was a member and secretary of the National Honor Society chapter, was active in student council, and won a number of awards, including a Academic All-American Award for three years, Student-of-the-Month Award and Leadership Award.

Sines received an athletic memorial scholarship and a Zembower scholarship to attend ACC last year. She is the daughter of Gene and Lois Sines of Friendsville.

State Unemployment Insurance Program Using New Bank

The Maryland Unemployment Insurance program of the Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED) has established a new account with the Equitable Bank. All UI benefit checks will now be issued by Equitable Bank, which maintains at least 107 full service facilities in nine Maryland counties and in Baltimore City. In addition, Equitable Bank enjoys correspondent bank relationships in all the state's counties.

"What this means to the UI claimant is that all Equitable Bank branches will now cash UI checks, as will all of Equitable's correspondent banks," explained Tom Wendel, executive director of DEED's Office of Unemployment Insurance.

Wendel emphasized that Equitable's correspondent banks will honor the UI benefit checks without question. The account was held previously by Maryland National Bank.

In Garrett County, the Garrett National Bank will cash UI checks.

Assemb. Of God Missionary To Address Church

Reverend Ernest R. Freeman, Assemblies of God missionary assigned to Yugoslavia, will be the guest speaker at Mountain Top Christian Assembly, Route 135, Mountain Lake Park, on Sunday August 20, at 11 a.m., according to the Reverend Alvin Kyle, pastor.

The Freemans plan to participate in short-term preaching and teaching ministries in some of the countries of Eastern Europe, including Austria, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia. According to the Reverend Kyle, literature may now be freely distributed in some of these countries, and radio broadcasts are also used in spreading the gospel message.

Prior to missionary appointment, the Freemans pastored churches in Minnesota and Mr. Freeman also served as an associate professor at North Central Bible College in Minneapolis. Mr. Freeman has worked at the Teen Challenge Centers in New York City and in Little Rock, Arkansas. During his years as pastor, he participated in two short-term, overseas teaching assignments — one was at Continental Bible College in Brussels, Belgium, and the other was at an Assemblies of God Bible School in Singapore.

Interested persons are invited to hear Mr. Freeman speak about his assignment to Eastern Europe.

Forestry Boards Conduct Workshop At Camp Hickory

FORESTRY WORKSHOP ATTENDEES — Two students and one counselor representing Garrett County were among the persons from all over the state of Maryland in attendance at the annual Forest Conservation Workshop, held at Camp Hickory near Accident. Pictured left to right are Brian Friend, Oakland, student; Sam Friend, McHenry, counselor; and Forrest "Billy" Ferry, Shallmar. The workshop, sponsored by the Maryland Association of Forestry Boards, was held the week of July 30-August 5.

The Maryland Association of Forestry Boards sponsored its annual Forest Conservation Workshop in Garrett County at Camp Hickory near Accident the week of July 30-August 5. The Workshop was designed to give high school students, grades 9-12, some insights into the careers available in forestry, and other conservation related fields.

Fifty-four students, three junior counselors, and 11 staff members attended the Workshop. The students were selected by the local forestry boards, with each Board striving to send at least two students to the program. Garrett County sent two students and one junior counselor to the Workshop. Brian Friend, Oakland, and Forrest "Billy" Ferry, Shallmar, were the students who represented Garrett County. Sam Friend, McHenry, served as a junior counselor.

Each of the students attending the Workshop was sponsored by a local business, club, or organization. The Garrett County sponsors for the students this year were Wood Products, Inc., Oakland, the Garrett County Soil Conservation District, and the Accident Garage.

The funds contributed by these sponsors enabled the students to attend the Workshop free of charge. Plans are already underway for the 1990 Workshop, which will be held at Camp Hickory August 12-19. Students in grades 9-12, who are interested in attending next year's Workshop should contact their local forestry board members or the Forest, Park, and Wildlife Service Office at Mt. Nebo for information.

LAP Provides Work, Learning Opportunities For Garrett Students

Garrett County students have participated in many work and learning activities throughout the county this summer through the Learning Alertness Program (LAP) component of the Summer Youth Employment Training Program (SYETP).

Students helped construct a Hike and Bike Trail that will eventually encircle Broadford Lake. Other activities included: constructing a rail fence at New Germany State Park; landscaping an area for a small park inside Herrington Manor State Park, constructing a drainage ditch and sanding boat docks; leveling and landscaping a picnic area at Deep Creek State Park; cleaning the United Cerebral Palsy House; assisting in the summer cleaning and maintenance at six area schools; washing and waxing cars for the Sheriff's Department; cleaning the Social Hall of the Oakland Fire Department; and cutting brush on fire trails at Mt. Nebo.

Northern High School had 11 students participating in the LAP program and Southern High School had 23 students involved. Gary Reichenbecher was the LAP instructor for Northern High School and Michelle Gnegy and Harry Biggs were instructors for Southern High School.

Elmer Redinger was the lead field advisor. Field advisors were Sheila Miller, Brad Yoder, Doug Oxford and Kent Huber. John Ledden, Coordinator of Career Employability for the Garrett County Board of Education, was the coordinator of the Learning Alertness Program.

LAP students attend classroom activities in the morning and work in the afternoon under supervision provided by classroom instructors, SYETP Field Advisors and full time employees of the job sites.

The Learning Alertness Program is part of the JPTA (Job Training Partnership Act). Maryland Tomorrow Youth are eligible to participate.

Senior Citizens Have Picnic, Go To Play At WVU

The Northern Garrett Senior Citizens' Picnic was held at the Grantsville Town Park, July 26. This was a new location for the event, easily accessible to all 200 seniors attending.

The picnic lunch was catered by Twila Fike, owner of the Old Mill Grill in Friendsville, and served by staff members of the Area Agency on Aging. Charles Ross gave the invocation after a sing-a-long led by Marilu and Gordon Rowe.

Before the rains arrived, bingo was called by Agnes Carey with prizes distributed by Lulu Brown. Grover Broadwater, on the fiddle, and Marilu on the accordian provided an impromptu concert.

The next evening, four Community Action Vans transported seniors to the Creative Arts Center on the West Virginia University Campus in Morgantown for a presentation of "Anything Goes" by the Lakeview Theatre. On the way, the group stopped for dinner at the Ponderosa in Sabraton. Seniors attending were: Elizabeth Watkins, Ann Conner, Willard and Dolores Hayden, Mary Lyle Gnegy, Kitty Thompson, Gwen Sanders, Wilda Davey, Evelyn Kahl, Marguerite Wotring, Paul and Ruth Calderwood, Carlton and Violet Bowser, Tom and Nancy Kight, Ernest and Alice Spoerlein, Laura Turnes, Stella Edwards, Pete and Bertha Gearhart, Martha Vandall, Alice Deal, Mabel Fike, Esta Selby, Arlene Georg, Alice Smith, Eleanor Deal, Ed Glade, Pauline Caine, Cora Bowser, Josephine Long, Wilda Snyder, Charles and Maxine Ross, Edwin and Zeola Robeson, Leanna Laymand and Frannie Izzit. The trip was chaperoned by Jane Sickeler, Senior Center coordinator.

Later this month there will be a train trip (Cumberland to Frostburg) and a nature outing at Swallow Falls.

Trips sponsored by the Area Agency on Aging are open to all senior citizens in Garrett County. More information is available at 334-9431.

TWO GROUPS TO WRAP UP COUNTY FAIR — Don Gabriel and the Memories (above) and Gary and the Knight Riders will be the last two groups to entertain at the 1989 Garrett County Fair going on this week at the fairgrounds in McHenry. Don Gabriel and the Memories will appear Friday, August 18, at 8 and again at 9:30 p.m. on the 4-H stage, while Gary and the Knight Riders will play on Saturday, August 19, at 8 and 9:30 p.m. Don Gabriel and the Memories was formed in the winter of 1985 when Don decided to go back to the roots of his music, namely the rock and roll of the 50s. The band plays their music with the spirit and enthusiasm reminiscent of times when the country was full of youthfulness and innocence. Featured will be a tribute to the "King of Rock and Roll," Elvis Presley, and the wail of the Chuck Berry sound in "Johnny B. Goode." Gary and the Knight Riders are a new band in the tri-state area that plays country, old and new hits, 50s and 60s music and easy rock and roll. Lead singer Gary Yoder, Accident, has been performing a variety of music styles since he was 13. The Knight Riders include Frank Wolfe, Valley Point, W.Va., on lead guitar; Bill Nicholas, Terra Alta, W.Va., on rhythm guitar; Gerald Houser Sr., Oakland, on bass guitar; and Eldin Kasmier, Westernport, on drums. Joe Harvey, Garrett, Pa., serves as the band's sound engineer and light man.

LOWER FOOD COSTS THROUGH PROPER STORAGE

Last week we discussed proper storage of perishable food items — vegetables. The highest nutrition and optimal point of maturity are closely related, but nowhere is this more obvious than in fruits and berries where the sugar content quickly breaks down when the product is over-ripe. Fruits, if we concentrate on local products, will cost less, are higher in nutrients and more flavorful than fruits picked under-ripe that arrive weeks later at our markets. A good example are tomatoes in the winter.

One can extend the season of fruits through proper storage and handling. Considering the many questions we receive on how to keep apples, bananas, etc., it seems many of us are not doing as well with food storage as we would like. This article discusses reasonably short-term storage of the fresh product, but does not mention root cellars, food drying and other preservation methods. Request this type of information by calling me at 334-1990 or writing to: The Cooperative Extension Service, 202 S. 3rd St., Oakland, MD 21550. All Maryland Cooperative Extension Service's programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, handicap, religion, age or national origin.

Apples, of which the United States alone has over 7,000 varieties, should be refrigerated or stored at very cool temperatures in dark areas. Frequently sort through them to remove those with blemishes or mold growth. Eat apples at room temperature though, for optimal flavor.

Apricots are very fragile and keep even in the refrigerator at best a few days. Bananas (are really giant herbs) and they will continue to ripen at room temperature, uncovered. They can be refrigerated for a few days. The peel will turn brown, but not change the flavor of the banana.

Berries should be picked through to discard any damaged ones. Store them in a flat container in the refrigerator to avoid crushing the berries. Just before using, wash berries gently in cold water and hull if appropriate. Use raspberries on the same day as picked.

Cherries should be sealed in a plastic bag and refrigerated; do not wash until just before eating. Cranberries and grapes are sturdy enough to store in the refrigerator for at least one week.

Melons should be refrigerated when ripe and the cut fruit wrapped in plastic to avoid flavor transfer.

Nectarines and peaches need to be softened at room temperature until ripe, then refrigerated.

Registrations For Senior Olympics Now Being Taken

Rosalie S. Abrams, director of the Maryland Office on Aging, announced recently that registrations are now being accepted for the 1989 Maryland Senior Olympics, to be held October 12-14 at Towson State University.

"Maryland is one of 44 states holding Senior Olympics," Mrs. Abrams said. "This year marks our tenth anniversary of participation in the games. This unique event is one in which seniors compete with their peers in 20 different sporting events. We are proud of the outstanding performance of Maryland seniors, both in the state and national games. We also encourage other seniors, whether sports stars or not, to join in the games, for the fun of participation. Staying active is important for the continued well-being of older persons, and the Senior Olympics is an event that allows for persons to participate in the sport that interests them and meets their level of exertion. Not everyone can participate in the more strenuous activities, such as track and field, cycling, basketball or racquetball. Swimming, horseshoes, table tennis, golf, or billiards are also available. Olympians may choose from a wide range of activities, ranked according to the amount of exertion required. In addition, there is the recreational walk for the person who just wants to be a part of the event, and is not going for the gold. There is something for everyone, including good entertainment Friday night, at this year's Senior Olympics," Mrs. Abrams said.

In addition to the state games, a national competition is held every other year at Washington University in St. Louis. Of the 931 seniors who completed in 1988 in Maryland, 340 qualified to attend the National Senior Olympics in June.

Records have been set by the Maryland senior athletes. At the 1988 nationals, Maryland placed sixth out of the 44 states, winning three times as many golds as the the three largest states competing.

Marylanders age 55 years of age and older may register for the 1989 games by completing and returning an application, available from Agnes Taylor, Maryland Office On Aging, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, MD 21201, (301) 225-1100.

Registration fee is $7, or $17 including the banquet. Tickets for the banquet only are $12. The Senior Olympics are sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Maryland, The Maryland Office On Aging, and The Maryland Senior Olympics Commission.

Aid Available To Alzheimer's Patients, Families

Financial assistance is available to Alzheimer's patients and their caregivers through the Alzheimer's Family Relief Program, a national program of the American Health Assistance Foundation.

The Alzheimer's Family Relief Program awards grants of up to $1,000 to provide financial relief for expenses related to the patients care and treatment. Monies can be used for such costs as short-term nursing care, respite and day care, medication, and other expenses related to the Alzheimer's condition.

Applications for the program are funded based on financial need. Candidates for grants may reapply. In addition, they are encouraged to seek alternative sources for additional income.

Alzheimer's disease is a degenerative brain disorder of which there is no cure. It is the fourth leading cause of death among adults, affecting four million people and costing the country approximately $88 billion. Although most victims are over the age of 65, there are reported cases of victims in their 40s and 50s.

Half of all nursing home beds are occupied by Alzheimer's patients, although insurance policies typically do not cover Alzheimer's disease and Medicare and Medicaid hardly begin to cover the costs associated with this disease.

The Alzheimer's Family Relief Program is one of four programs sponsored by the American Health Assistance Foundation. Based in Rockville, AHAF, established in 1973, is a non-profit organization which funds scientific research of age related and degenerative diseases. The other three programs include: Alzheimer's Disease Research, Coronary Heart Disease Research and National Glaucoma Research. Over $18.5 million in scientific grants has been awarded since AHAF was established.

AHAF also disseminates information and educational material to the general public on these diseases.

A free copy of the Alzheimer's Family Relief Program brochure or an application form may be obtained by calling 1-800-227-7998 or by writing to the American Health Assistance Foundation, 15825 Shady Grove Road, Suite 140, Rockville, MD 20850.

DEEP CREEK REALTY

REAL ESTATE

BY ROBERT HUEBNER

LEVERAGED SECURITY!

You've probably heard all of your life that owning a home provides family security. But why is that statement so true?

Historically, family home prices have risen over the years. There have been peaks and valleys, to be sure, but overall, prices have steadily risen. This quiet appreciation in value continues year after year while you live in the home. Thus, a home purchased for $4,000 in the 1940's may be worth $100,000 or more today.

Buying a home in today's market, there is a way to compound the benefits of appreciation. First though, consider this example. Let's say you purchase a $90,000 home and pay cash. You live in the home for five years and during that time the home appreciates at a rate of 5% each year. At the end of five years your home would be worth approximately $114,865, a 5% return on the $90,000 you invested. You could probably have earned the same rate from your bank savings account.

The alternative, borrowing money to purchase instead of paying cash yields some surprising results. By putting only $18,000 of your own money (a 20% down payment) into the home, your return after five years would increase to a whopping 18.95% This would occur because you invested $18,000 and have accrued equity in your home of $42,865 (the $114,865 value of your home minus your loan of $72,000). Ask your agent to explain this valuable benefit of home ownership.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

Forestry And Wildlife Management To Be Among Ag Field Day Topics

Each year Western Maryland farmers are faced with large deer herds that can cause significant crop damage. What can be done to maintain the deer population at a level that is in balance with its natural environment, thereby reducing the crop damage, minimizing road kills, and also generating income for the farmer? Possible solutions to this problem will be presented at the Western Maryland Ag Field Day Sept. 7.

"As the profitability of producing traditional agricultural products declines, many landowners are seeking supplemental income from alternative crops," said Jonathan Kays, an Extension regional natural resource specialist for the University of Maryland. "Opening lands for hunting access is a good way to control the number of deer on farms and woodlands, while possibly providing income for the landowner. However, hunting agreements must be made with responsible groups or individuals to avoid problems."

Because deer have no natural predators, except man, their population often grows unchecked. This results in poor herd health and movement into surrounding populated areas, he said.

As a wildlife management model and educational tool, hunters have been permitted limited access to a portion of land at the Western Maryland Research and Education Center for the past several years.

This project's goal, Kays said, is two-fold: First, use hunter cooperation to maintain the deer population at a level where crop damage is acceptable and the number of deer are in balance with the amount of available habitat. Second, use sound forestry and wildlife management practices on the non-farm areas to increase the habitat for deer, pheasant, quail, and other wildlife. Besides benefitting deer, many of these practices can provide income through the sale of forest products.

"We hope that this project can serve as a model to demonstrate how sound forestry and wildlife management practices can be used to address concerns of area landowners," said Kays, who encourages anyone interested in on-farm forestry and wildlife management opportunities to attend the field day.

Other research tour topics will include low-input cropping systems, biological control of thistle, pest management alternatives in alfalfa production, an update on orchard research, and on-farm nutrient management in Western Maryland. The field day also offers farm equipment demonstrations, corn and soybean variety showcases, and displays of agricultural equipment, farm services and the University of Maryland agricultural programs.

A new addition to the field day, the Mid-Atlantic Fruit Variety Showcase/Tour, runs from 2:30 to 6 p.m. The traditional $1 hog roast starts at noon. The luncheon speaker is Dr. Archibald Park, Assistant Secretary for Animal Health and Consumer Services, representing Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr.

All events are open to the public. Luncheon reservations are due by August 31 and can be made by calling (301) 791-2298.

To find the Western Maryland Research and Education Center, exit Interstate 70 at Md. 65 near Hagerstown, proceed 7 miles south on Md. 65 and then turn left on Keedysville Road. The entrance is about one mile down Keedysville Road on the left.

The Western Maryland Ag Field Day is sponsored by the University of Maryland's Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension Service, and the Washington County Ag Demonstrators.

Farming In Maryland ..... Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Tight Margins Expected In Hog, Cattle Markets

Tight margins will continue in both hog and cattle markets for the balance of this year and on into 1990, largely restricting profit opportunities to the most efficient feeding operations, according to experts who spoke at a recent American Farm Bureau sponsored beef cattle/hog cycle forum held in Des Moines.

Recent cattle and calf inventories show a definite end to the liquidation phase of the cycle and indicate that cattlemen are holding heifers off the market to be added to breeding herds.

This means there will be less calves available for placement in feedlots this fall, virtually assuring continuation of the high premium prices for feeders relative the fed cattle market, said Ed Uvacek, former extension livestock economist for Texas A&M, now president of Western Research, Inc. at College Station, Texas.

Pointing to the sharp reduction in cattle placed in feedlots in the second quarter of this year, Uvacek said this means a sharp drop in fed cattle coming to market late in 1989 and indicating a turnaround in cattle prices. He anticipates only a slight improvement from the present prices in the low $70 per cwt. in the third quarter but looks for a substantial improvement to the high $70s during the fourth quarter.

"I don't see how cattle feeders can justify paying the high premiums for feeder calves with the kind of losses being sustained by feedlots at the present time, but they do it and the premiums will probably remain high, perhaps as much as $10 per cwt. above fed cattle prices, which has been the average during the past year.

Uvacek also commented on farm to retail price spreads for both beef and pork and their changes which show a dramatic rise over the past several years. In beef, from 1979 to 1988, the spread increased between carcass and retail, called the retail margin; but there was a steep drop in the farm to carcass spread, called the processor margin. That helped cushion the decline in the farmers' share, which dropped only a little or remained fairly steady over the 10 year period.

The picture in pork was almost the opposite. The wholesale retail spread for pork gained a whopping 54 percent from 1982 to 1988 and is still increasing. The margin between the farm and the wholesaler dropped only 7 percent during the same period and continues downward. The result of these trends is a dramatic drop in the farmers' share from 50 percent to 38 percent during the same period, according to Uvacek.

Profits also have become scarce for hog feeders, with commercial slaughter of hogs rising substantially in the fourth quarter of 1988 and expected to do likewise again in the last three months of this year, said Glenn Grimes, agricultural economist at the University of Missouri.

Grimes said there is very little contracting or vertical integration in the hog business at the present time, but there is a trend toward larger producers. He looks for this trend to continue with large producers becoming more and more important forces in the industry. The trend may proceed more slowly if greater profitability returns to the hog business.

As hog marketings rise an estimated 2 percent during the fourth quarter, prices for slaughter hogs will be driven down about $5 per cwt. to the $41-42 range, then drift back up to the $40-43 range by the second quarter of 1990, Grimes predicted.

Asked to comment on possible changes in the 1990 farm bill and potential impact on the livestock business, Grimes declined to predict what might happen politically but cited work of some of his colleagues indicating the likelihood of a program much like the 1985 Act possibly with loan rates and target prices frozen at about current levels. If this occurs, it will mean feed grain prices pretty close to what they have been for the past couple of years, excluding the drought of 1988. That would mean corn at around $2.00 a bushel. "Any change in the program that would cause grain prices to go higher, would impact the livestock feeding business," he concluded.

Md. Agriculture Secretary Honored By Gov. Schaefer

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A Cawley Jr. received Governor William Donald Schaefer's "Salute to Excellence" August 2, for his work on preserving the Chesapeake Bay.

Cawley was cited for his support and contributions to Maryland's Critical Areas Commission. Under Cawley's leadership, Maryland's Agricultural Water Quality Cost Share Program has become a model for the nation. Each of these projects helps guard the health of the Chesapeake Bay by reducing sediment and nutrient runoff. Cawley's guidance has been instrumental in helping farms within the Chesapeake Bay's Critical Area formulate their soil and water quality plans.

"This award recognizes your (Cawley's) steadfast commitment to preserve Chesapeake Bay for both citizens today and generations who will follow," Schaefer said.

ASCS To Accept Late Crop Reports

William F. DeWitt, chairperson of the Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said some farmers in the state have not filed a crop report this year. July 15 was the deadline for farmers to report their 1989 planted acres.

"We will accept late-filed acreage reports," said DeWitt, "provided the farmer pays the cost of verifying the acreage and there is physical evidence of production." Late reports are subject to mandatory spot checks, he said.

Before farm program participants receive price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits, ASCS requires that they report crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve. The crop reports are used to determine program compliance and to document crop acreage bases, according to DeWitt.

DeWitt said crop certification is mandatory for farmers who are participating in the 1989 programs because without the report, producers are not really participating. "The report determines the level at which farmers are eligible for program payments and other benefits," the ASCS official said.

Tight Margins

Speaking on demand was Wayne Purcell, marketing economist from Virginia Tech, who said, "after a decade of problems, demand for the red meats started to show signs of stabilizing in 1987 and 1988. Prices of hogs and cattle were better because of that improvement."

Consumption and price data indicates some improvement in demand for pork in those two years but looks as if it has leveled off this year, perhaps just resting for a year before continuing to rise, Purcell said.

He said there is no evidence to indicate an increase in demand for beef, however, but demand does appear to have stabilized. Movement of additional quantities of beef or the same quantity of beef to consumers is accomplished only at lower prices, which does not indicate stronger demand, according to Purcell.

Purcell said demand for both beef and pork has held up well in the last couple of years, considering the fierce competition for market shares provided by the ample supplies of poultry that are available.

He said additional market research, promotion and new product development are critical needs in the red meat industry, particularly for beef, Purcell said. "I don't think producer groups would be wise to depend on processors and the big brand name suppliers to provide all the funding for that research and product development," he added. Promotion of red meats should be based on continuing efforts to align the product with a changing pattern of consumer preferences. "That means a favorable product image (close trim, low fat, nutrient information, packaging, quality control) that fit the convenience demands of consumers whose predominant means of cooking is the microwave," Purcell said.

Devotions closed with the hymn "O, God of Every Nation."

Julie Ann Beck, pastor of Braham Evangelical Lutheran Church in Minnesota. Pastor Beck worked in the Bittinger Lutheran Parish as an intern and later graduated from Lutheran Northwestern Seminary in St. Paul, Minn.

The highlights of the meditation, "The Good Earth" by Kristin Henry, were also recognized as an ELCA emphasis for August.

SUNEYE
THE NATURAL ENERGY CONTROL SYSTEM
Dear Friends,
In the current era of global warming, pollution, acid rain, ozone and resource depletion, people must help mend the earth. The structures we create have to stop being aggressors to the environment. people have a most important social responsibility to the present and the future of our planet.
Buildings have an average lifespan of a hundred years, therefore all new structures have to maximize natural systems. Buildings should be energy producers, not energy wasters and polluters.
SUNEYEs pay for themselves while they help us realize these goals. They accomplish this by gaining and conserving non-polluting energy. They continue to pay their way by providing natural lighting, and minimizing cooling needs.
At your convenience, I would be glad to come and demonstrate our unique product, and help you design it into your projects. I look forward to hearing from you.
Best Regards, R. N. Harvey, Director Of Marketing

SUNEYE pays for itself. It saves money on heating, lighting, air conditioning, and by conserving energy.
SUNEYE is the ultimate passive solar heating system. Installed in a south wall, it is a triple glazed translucent window which allows solar heat gain. Inside is a full adjustable R-20 insulating shutter window to fine tune solar heat gain, and prevent heat loss.
SUNEYE is a natural lighting system. Installed in a north, east, or west wall it is a lighting and insulating system. The adjustable shutter reflects light off its aluminum surface to where it is needed. It also prevents the disaster of heat gain in the summer months, and heat loss in the winter.
SUNEYES are easy to install in a vertical or horizontal position, singularly or in multiples.
SUNEYES are easy to operate singularly or ganged, manually or mechanically.
SUNEYE is the superior skylight. It is ideal for light and heat loss control in domestic, institutional and commercial structures.
SOLAR SURVIVAL is one of the oldest passive solar research and design organization in the United States. Our AMERICAN INTENSIVE GARDENING system facilitates year round food production in any climate with the use of our SOLAR CONE, SOLAR POD, and the SOLAR FRAME. Our SOLAR FOOD DEHYDRATOR is found in every country in the western world and much of the third world. Our SIBERIAN STOVE updates masonry stove design, burning any wood cleanly and giving up its heat slowly. Over 50 of our TRISOL passive solar homes are throughout the country, incorporating complete passive heating and cooling, a greenhouse, and domestic water heating. The SUNEYE is a result of the perfecting of our TRISOL design.
SUNEYES are constructed of heavy duty aluminum and are glazed with Sun-Lite plastic.
SUNEYE is sized for standard 24" framing module.
SUNEYE has been tested for eight years.
SUNEYE was invented by Leandre Poisson and is patented.
SUNEYE can be ganged together, put on an electric eye or made to work in conjunction with a computer for an auto opening and closing system. Custom designs for a particular project are available. For more information contact:

Oakland Woman Dies In Two-Car Crash Tuesday

An Oakland woman died Tuesday as a result of a two-car collision on Route 42 just south of Route 219.

Bertha Ellen Harvey, 70, was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the 11:15 a.m. accident, according to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment.

Harvey was a passenger in a 1986 Chevrolet Nova driven by Kimberly M. Keller, 23, Albright, W.Va.

Police reported that Keller was traveling south when her vehicle crossed the center line and struck a 1986 Ford Escort driven by April L. Bowen, 19, Terra Alta, W.Va. The cars struck nearly head-on. Bowen reportedly swerved to the right to avoid a collision, and struck a guardrail before hitting Keller's car.

Keller was taken to Garrett Memorial by the Northern Rescue Squad, and was transferred to Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va. A spokesman there reported that she is in "fair" condition.

Bowen was also taken to Garrett Memorial, where she is listed in "fair" condition.

Tpr. G.S. Becker investigated the accident, and charged Keller with failing to keep to the right of the center line.

Born September 27, 1918, at Kitzmiller, Mrs. Harvey was the daughter of the late James L. and Ida (Bittinger) Walters. Her husband, Harry Gilbert Harvey, preceded her in death in 1958.

Mrs. Harvey was a former employee of Bausch and Lomb, and was a member of the Pleasant View Baptist Church, near Oakland

She is survived by one son, William Lee Harvey, Oakland; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy L. Rishell and Mrs. Patricia M. Rishell, both of Deer Park; three sisters, Mrs. Leota Butts, Martinsburg, W.Va.; Mrs. Lena Steyer, Deer Park; and Mrs. Evelyn Foster, Tampa, Fla.; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Friends will be received at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

A service will be conducted at the Pleasant View Baptist Church on Friday at 1 p.m. by the Rev. Marty Herron. Interment will be in the White Church Cemetery.

BACK TO DEFEND THEIR TITLE in the Best of the West Triathlon, slated for this Saturday, August 26, at Broadford Park, will be Dan Besson of Catonsville and Rebecca Jones, a native of Cumberland. Besson was the first person to cross the finish line in last year's Best of the West and Jones was the first female finisher. Jones has recently qualified for the famous Iron Man Triathlon, which will be held in Hawaii. Both are expected to face stiff competition in the local event this year, as the field of participants has been expanded to 249 and will include some of the top triathletes in the East. The triathlon, coordinated by the Garrett Sports League, includes a .4-mile swim, a 15.5-mile bike ride, and a 4.4-mile run. Photos by Lisa Rook.

Chairman Notes Beautiful Person Contest Deadline

With just a few days remaining in the nomination process, the committee charged with selecting Garrett County's Most Beautiful Person has had 15 different individuals nominated for the contest.

Chairman Paul Mullen said, "Just about every nomination we have received has centered on an individual as opposed to a group. While that's fine and dandy, I'd also like to see more groups and civic organizations nominated.

"In the past, we've had a few groups nominated, but the program has mainly attracted single person nominees. Don't forget those groups. Sometimes it takes a bunch of people to get together, but that shouldn't take away from the effect of the effort."

The deadline for nominees is September 1, 1989. The Garrett County honoree will be saluted by the Garrett County Commissioners during a special ceremony on November 29, 1989, at a gala in Annapolis hosted by Governor William Donald Schaefer.

McGowan Named Commander Of McHenry Barrack

As part of an effort to upgrade the McHenry detachment of the Maryland State Police to a barrack, Second Lieutenant John F. McGowan has been assigned as commander of the detachment, and eventually the barrack.

McGowan is a 26-year veteran of the police force, and has worked for seven different barrack commanders during his career. He became a state trooper in 1963, and served in Westminster and Cumberland.

In September, 1985, he achieved the rank of second lieutenant, and was assigned as assistant to the barrack commander in Cumberland.

A native of Midland, McGowan graduated from La-Salle High School in 1959. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army.

He and his wife, Charlotte, have five children, Susan Dicks, Cumberland; Robyn Bridges, Westminster; Kimberly McGowan, 20; and 18-year-old twins, Melissa and Krista McGowan.

Plans to transform the detachment into a barrack developed for several reasons, including the Deep Creek Lake resort area and a steady increase in the need for police services in the county.

Currently, many files are copied and processed through the Cumberland barrack. The upgrading of the detachment would allow more files to be kept in the county, and allow for more efficiency.

McGowan said, "Our job is to serve the public, and it will be beneficial to all residents of Garrett County to upgrade this

Source Of Plane Distress Signals Found In Auto

The source of mysterious aircraft distress signals was finally uncovered...a transmitter in the trunk of a car.

Garrett County Central Alarm received a report last Wednesday, shortly after 10 p.m., of a possible downed aircraft. A Friendsville woman had called the Garrett County Airport reporting that she heard an airplane's engine shut off and then she heard an explosion.

Police and rescue units searched the area north of Friendsville for the next two days. According to a state police aviation spokesman, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) had no reports of missing aircraft, and nothing was cited by state police from the air.

The Civil Air Patrol and Preston County Emergency Services workers picked up a distress signal last Thursday, one day after the initial report by the Friendsville woman had been filed. The search was discontinued when the signals were no longer heard later in the day, but the signals were again picked up Thursday night and the search was resumed. The source of the signals, a transmitter, was located about 9 p.m. last Friday in the trunk of a car parked at a Red House restaurant. It had been placed there by the owner of a plane, who was concerned that it might have been stolen from his aircraft. According to Preston County Emergency Services Director Greg Groves, the owner was "very apologetic" about the incident. The Emergency Services workers had covered approximately 150 miles in their search for the transmitter.

The concert, which will feature favorite English and American numbers, will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 each.

Youth Dies After Being Struck By Lightning Bolt

An 11-year-old Terra Alta, W.Va., boy who was struck by a lightning bolt on Tuesday died yesterday at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va.

Nicholas Paul Ranieri was originally revived at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, after the 5:44 p.m. incident. He was then transferred to the Morgantown hospital.

Also injured in the mishap was Jason Roth, 9, Aurora, W.Va. He was admitted to Garrett Memorial, where a spokesman reported that he was released yesterday.

The lightning reportedly struck the field where youth league football practice was ending. The practice was cut short by the storm, and Ranieri and Roth were the last two on the field.

Born May 26, 1978, in Kingwood, W.Va., Ranieri was the son of Richard C. Ranieri Jr., Bittinger, and Janice (Kendjoria) Ranieri, Terra Alta.

He was a member of St. Edward's Catholic Church, Terra Alta, and the Terra Alta Dolphins Football Team. He was a former member of Pack 88 Terra Alta Boy Scouts, and had completed the fifth grade.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by one brother, Christopher Michael Ranieri, Terra Alta; one sister, Kimberly Marie Ranieri, Terra Alta; his paternal grandfather, Richard C. Ranieri Sr., Glendale, Ariz.; and his maternal grandparents, Bennie and Alice Kendjoria, Fairmont, W.Va.

Friends will be received at the Arthur H. Wright Funeral Home, Terra Alta, on Friday from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m.

A service will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Edward's Catholic Church by Father Jerome McKenna. Interment will be in Garrett County Memorial Gardens, Oakland.

The family requests that donations be made to the Terra Alta Dolphins Football Team in memory of Nicholas Paul Ranieri in care of the Terra Alta Bank, P.O. Box 65, 127 East Washington Avenue, Terra Alta, 26764.

Oakland Youth Injured, Brother Killed In Mishap

An Oakland youth was injured and his brother killed in a single-vehicle accident Saturday morning in New Creek, W.Va., on U.S. Route 50.

Mark E. Upole, 17, was treated and released from Potomac Valley Hospital following the accident. Upole's brother, Scott H. Upole, 24, Arnold, was pronounced dead at that hospital.

According to police reports, the younger Upole was driving a small pickup truck when he apparently fell asleep, causing the vehicle to travel over an embankment. The truck hit several trees before coming to rest in an upright position.

The victim was reportedly a passenger in the right front seat, and was wearing a seat and lap belt.

Born May 1, 1965, in Arlington, Va., Scott Harold Upole was the son of Harold G. "Gib" and Karen (Wotring) Upole, Oakland.

He was employed by the Benon Motor Company as a service advisor.

Besides his brother, he is survived by his wife, Catherine Gardner-Upole; a brother, Michael T. Upole, Oakland; and his paternal grandmother.

A service was conducted Monday at the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, by the Rev. Donald Gross.

The body was cremated.

The family requests that memorials take the form of contributions to the Maryland Motorcycle Safety Program, 2 Jenner Street; Suite 150; Irvane, Calif 92718.

A Swanton man was sentenced to five years in the Department of Corrections for a third degree sex offense charge during a trial held last week in Garrett County Circuit Court.

The charges were filed following August and September,

Best Of The West Triathlon Set For Saturday

The stage is set for what is becoming one of Garrett County's major athletic events, as plans have been finalized for the Best of the West Triathlon, slated for this Saturday, Aug. 26, at Broadford Park, Oakland.

Nancy Railey, coordinator of the event for the Garrett Sports League, stated that a field of 249 participants, including some of the top athletes in the East, have registered for the triathlon, which will include a .4-mile swim, a 15.5-mile bike ride, and a 4.4-mile run. There are about 20 local athletes in the field.

The Best of the West is growing rapidly, as approximately 140 participated in last year's triathlon and the 249 limit for this year was filled over two weeks ago. Proceeds from this year's event will be divided between the Southern and Northern Garrett County rescue squads.

Railey said that both Rebecca Jones, a native of Cumberland, and Dan Besson, Catonsville, the defending champions of the event, will be back to defend their title, but she said they are in for some stiff competition.

"Rebecca has qualified for the Iron Man Triathlon in Hawaii, which is held in October, but she will probably really be pushed by Jane Newell, of Reston, Va.," Railey said. "Dan Besson's toughest competition will probably come from Kyle Norris, also a native of Cumberland, and David Long, who is an outstanding athlete from Hagerstown. It

Several Hurt In Three-Car Mishap Friday

Several persons were injured in a three-vehicle accident Friday on U.S. Route 219 at the Arrowhead Deli.

Police reported that Joseph Sweeney Jr., 50, Greensburg, Pa., was driving a 1987 Chevrolet Eurosport, and Jack C. Carmichael, 37, Claysville, Pa., was driving a 1984 Chevrolet Celebrity. Both vehicles had stopped for a car making a left turn into the deli.

Stacy R. Hinebaugh, 21, Oakland, was driving a 1978 Ford Fiesta which struck Sweeney's car in the rear and pushed it into Carmichael's car.

Treated and released from Garrett Memorial following the accident were Hinebaugh and one passenger in her car, Danielle J. Sweeney, 18, Greensburg; and two passengers in Carmichael's vehicle, Sondra L. Carmichael, 35, and J. Cameron Carmichael, 2, both of Claysville.

Tfc. R.M. Hershberger investigated and charged Hinebaugh with failing to control the speed of her vehicle, driving without proper supervision on a learner's permit, and a seat belt violation.

Two local accidents resulted in the DWI charge.

A single vehicle accident occurred Saturday in the Brunner's Store parking lot, Route 495.

Police said Raymond R. Harris, 59, Baltimore, was driving a 1989 Chevrolet Scottsdale, and was attempting to back up and turn around. The truck hit a parked 1985 Ford LTD.

Tfc. R.J. Resh investigated, charging Harris with negligent driving as well as driving while under the influence of alcohol.

William L. Shoemaker, 40, Selbyville, Del., was also charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and negligent driving following a mishap on Deep Creek Drive on Tuesday.

Police said Shoemaker was driving a 1984 Dodge Ram when it left the road and struck a utility pole. He was reportedly not injured.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Arrests

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department reported the arrests of several persons this week.

James Edward Patton, 40, Mountain Lake Park, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear for trial at the Garrett County Courthouse last October. A separate arrest warrant was also served on him, charging him with violation of probation. Patton has been returned to the Maryland Division of Correction. Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy served the arrest warrants.

William W. Thomas, 21, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant issued by Judge Turney, District Court. Deputy Randy P. Shaffer served the arrest warrant. Thomas is currently being held in the Garrett County jail in lieu of $75 bond.

Gregory Blaine Mowry, 22, Confluence, Pa., was arrested last Thursday for driving while intoxicated. He was also charged with driving while license is suspended in another state. Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy made the arrest along Route 219 North, at McHenry. He was incarcerated and later released on $100 cash bond.

Willie Roy McElroy, 38, Gibbon Glade, Pa., was arrested Friday for driving while intoxicated. Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy made the arrest along the U.S. Route 48 West entrance ramp.

Lois Mitchell Wright, 52, Deer Park, was arrested Sunday for driving while intoxicated. Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy apprehended her on Sand Flat Road.

Turney Finds Three Guilty Of CDS Charges

Three persons were found guilty of charges of unlawful possession of CDS (controlled dangerous substances) by Judge Jack Turney during recent trials at Garrett County District Court.

Franklin F. Wilt, 26, Grantsville, was found guilty of two charges of unlawful possession of CDS. He was fined $50 for each charge and sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail for one charge. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Wilt on 12 months unsupervised probation. Dennis Cease, Natural Resources Police, filed the charge after an incident which occurred June 3.

Samuel Wade Knox, 26, Grantsville, was found guilty of unlawful possession of CDS. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 90 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Knox on 12 months unsupervised probation. The charge was filed by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger, Maryland State Police, after he stopped Knox for driving while under the influence on May 21 and a search of the vehicle revealed suspected marijuana. Robert C. Hesson represented Knox.

Timothy Wayne Knox, 21, Grantsville, was found guilty of one charge of unlawful possession of CDS. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 90 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Knox on 12 months probation. The charge was filed by Tfc. R.M. Hershberger, Maryland State Police, after the driver of the car Knox was a passenger in was pulled over for driving while under the influence on May 21. Robert C. Hesson represented Knox.

Gerald Lee Heavner, 21, Oakland, was found guilty of harassment. He was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Heavner on 12 months probation. The charge was filed by Tamala C. Michaels, Mt. Lake Park, after incidents which occurred on July 7 and two weeks prior.

Tamala Christine Michaels, 23, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of assault. She was fined $25 and sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Michaels on 12 months probation. The charge was filed by Gerald Lee Heavner, Oakland, after an incident which occurred July 7.

Roger Lee Bittinger, Grantsville, was found guilty of trespass. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The charge was filed by Raymond Harris, Grantsville, after an incident which occurred July 5.

Larry Bittinger, Grantsville, was found guilty of trespass. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. The charge was filed by Raymond Ray Harris, Grantsville, after an incident which occurred July 5.

Herbert Harrison Spiker, 64, Grantsville, was found guilty of removing debris from a dumpster. He was fined $10. The charge was filed by Deputy J.D. Murphy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after an incident which occurred June 30.

A charge of disturbing the peace against James Finch, 19, Oakland, was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Joseph Zook, Oakland, after incidents which occurred July 7 and up to six months prior.

Thomas D. Nelms, Cumberland, was found not guilty of trespass. The charge was filed by Frank R. Lancelotta Jr., Swanton, after an incident which occurred July 3.

Good Concept, But . . .

A group called the Governor's Commission on School Performance, appointed by Governor William Donald Schaefer two years ago, recommended this week that an accreditation system be established by which the performance of each public school in the state would be evaluated and those schools that fail the evaluation would be placed on probation or even closed. The blame for poor performance by students would be shifted from the students to the school, the local school system, and the state, and would demand that each take the responsibility for making improvements.

The general concept of accreditation and holding individual schools responsibile for the quality of education they are providing is appealing. Enormous sums of money are spent on education and the taxpayer should have some assurance that these expenditures are worthwhile. Parents should have similar assurances that their children are receiving good educations. Our young people deserve a quality education. A society's economy and overall standards of living are significantly affected by the level of education available.

However, while the general concept may be appealing, there are also many questions and concerns about the Commission's recommendations. One concern is whether or not the state will use the same blanket criteria to evaluate every school in the state, regardless of its location and financial status. There is no doubt, for example, that Montgomery County schools are equipped with far more learning materials, computers, and books than Garrett County schools, giving the Montgomery students an advantage in certain areas of achievement tests. It does not mean that the Montgomery students are more intelligent than Garrett County students; it just means they have been exposed to more resources. Also, youth who are from poor districts, such as inner-city Baltimore, tend to score lower on achievement tests. However, this situation often has far more to do with the quality of their home environment than the quality of their school.

Although we have not seen the Commission's entire report, it is reported that schools, and not individual teachers, will be judged via these accreditation procedures. We have a problem with this, too. Perhaps individual teachers and administrative personnel should be evaluated. A school that has some of the finest teachers in the state could be placed on probation because of the ineffectiveness of some other teachers in the school.

Supposedly teachers are already evaluated each year by their supervisors; however, the system is extremely weak and removal of incompetent teachers from the classroom is almost unheard of because of a ridiculous thing called tenure. But that's another editorial.

Still another concern is, will the state of Maryland, which ranks low in state support for schools, provide the additional funding that may be needed to "fix" the problems it uncovers via its evaluation?

It will be interesting to see if the Commission's recommendations are accepted. If they are, we predict a long and rocky road of implementation.

To the Editor:

I am prefacing my remarks with personal background to establish the informed nature of my opinions. I make no claim to be an expert, and I have no knowledge of the specific indident to which you refer in your editorial 8/10/89, but I have enough information to have an opinion which differs from yours. I count among my friends more than twenty professional educators as I mail this. My background includes a B.S. degree with completed majors in political science, psychology, and education, as well as more than fifteen years of diverse supervisory and management experience and an M.B.A. in progress. Now to my points:

The Republican is too good a paper to editorialize in whine-sneer-speak more suited to the New Yorker. This tone appears when the unclean masses have lived down to their promise and gone against the paper's unimpeachable judgment. And judgment is what you pass more than enlightened editorial opinion in instances. Every time I read a line like "we were not aware" or "we hope that such is only," three things come to mind: the supercilious writing in the New Yorker, the egocentric writing of a college sophomore, and the embarrassment real editorial writers must feel reading the line. This style of writing does not appeal to the mature mind; it is more designed to polarize than to inform.

I have no opinion on the merits of the educators involved in the "lay board's" raw exercise of power. But I do have an opinion about The Republican's knowledge of Maryland's boards of education. Either you don't realize that all county boards of education in Maryland, elected and appointed, are composed primarily of "NON-educators" or you are deliberately attempting to mislead the masses by implying that some counties have boards composed of professional educators. This is not true. What is true is that there are good boards and bad boards, and that the selection process has no provable effect on the quality of boards of education.

It irritates me that you clearly imply that NON-educators are too ignorant to evaluate educational personnel. In a world where more than fifty percent of personnel receive maximum effectiveness ratings, it is perhaps time for lay people to begin evaluating educators. None, not one, of the educators that I know has any fear of outside evaluation. Some of them do not want it, but each one knows that he or she can stand the scrutiny. Rarely is a teacher fired for incompetence. Does this mean that they are all competent? Probably not. Some incompetent educators remain in the system. More frequently than in the private sector they are promoted out of sight and forgotten.

Elected officials can't hide. They rarely get promoted to hide incompetence. If, as you suggest, there is some attempt at hanky panky in the hiring of a teacher, this should be presented to the public along with the evidence. The unwashed masses may react against such political chicanery. And now they can. When the board was appointed the public could do nothing when the board or a member of it acted with less than the common good in mind. I am certain that The Republican's sources will provide updates on the potentially self-interested official.

I can't help but wonder where those sources were when the board's transportation expert cost the taxpayers of the county thousands of dollars in settling a lawsuit against the board of education. The arrogant and arbitrary behavior of this expert educator cost some dollars not in the original budget for the year. Where is that story? Sacre bleu!

Speaking of the French language, do you suppose many of us use it outside our parlors these days, what with English having become the language of diplomacy and all that? I don't know where the board's experts have been in recent years, but maybe some of these lay board, NON-educators have been in or heard of the work-place outside Garrett County. Spanish is the second American language, like it or not. Anybody who anticipates working outside the local area, and who has the opportunity, is well advised to learn the Spanish language. Many corporations and schools offer bonuses or pay incentives to employees fluent in Spanish.

In conclusion, the tone of the 8/10/89 editorial was irritating, its content was provocative rather than educational, and I am certain that I am not alone in remaining unconvinced that an elected board of education is a bad thing for education. Your efforts to uncover unscrupulous behavior should inspire these NON-educators to surpass themselves in both competence and straightforwardness. And I would suggest that The Republican be just as straightforward in reporting news pertaining to the expert side of the equation. What did happen with the local transportation czar and the bus driver?

Sincerely
William L. Welch
Hagerstown

To the Editor:

With all the glory and happiness we, the members of Garrett County American Legion baseball team, enjoyed as a team, there was a sobering point to this season. As did all his other athletic teams, we dedicated our season to the late Aaron Zumpano. We hope Aaron would have been proud of us, not because we did so well, but because we tried so hard.

Aaron had this year left for legion eligibility. Whether he would have played with us or not is microscopic because of the impact he and his brother, Steve, left on legion ball and Garrett County, in the years they played together for the Garrett County team. They have both played a major role in bringing Northern and Southern athletes and students together as friends.

Because of his attitude and his 100% effort to do anything for the team I, as a coach, have abandoned the MVP honor in order to present an Aaron Zumpano Memorial Award. Baseball is a team sport, a team effort, much like life. Aaron demonstrated that beyond the limits. As a result there could be only one Memorial Award on my team or as many as 20. Whoever put forth the effort, desire, and unselfishness as Aaron did will receive one. I can only hope that future teams, win or lose, will all deserve this award like the 1989 Garrett County American Legion Baseball Team.

Sincerely,
Ed Wildesen

To the Editor:

Western Marylanders need to know more about the stance and activity of Governor Schaefer in regard to abortion. During his campaign for Governor in 1986, Governor Schaefer promised he would increase the availability of tax funded abortions. Right after he took office in January 1987, the Family Protection Lobby initiated a petition drive called "Campaign Life." Later, it was joined by other pro-life organizations and eventually presented Governor Schaefer with 81,000 signatures asking him to reconsider his pro-abortion stand.

On the day the petitions were presented to Governor Schaefer, he told the citizens of Maryland that he had a "change of heart" concerning abortion and now favored adoption.

However, in state budgets presented to the Maryland General Assembly in 1988 and 1989, Governor Schaefer did not reduce the number of abortions paid for by our tax dollars. The budget language allows for over 4,200 abortions annually. Among the abortions paid for by our taxes, some appalling statistics emerge: forty percent are second and third abortions for the same women. Others take the lives of viable children who could live outside the mother's womb. We need to write and challenge Mr. Schaefer's "change of heart."

Write today! The Governor's address is as follows:

Governor William
Donald Schaefer
State House
Annapolis,
Maryland 21401

When readers write to the Governor they might also point out to him that they know that:

1. The recent Supreme Court decision in Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services affirmed the states' right to limit tax funded abortions or to eliminate them altogether.
2. Less than 1% of all abortions in Maryland are for the life of the mother and less than 2% are for rape or incest. It is public record that over 97% are for far less compelling reasons.
3. In a recent poll, 68% of Marylanders did not support tax funded abortions.

Readers are also requested to write their State Senators (Bambacus, Cushwa, and Derr) and Delegates and ask that they call the Governor and urge him to eliminate tax funded abortions.

Yours for Life,
Jerry Cox

To the Editor:

It has been a lot of years since the last time the U.S. Government was able to balance the federal budget. And if the trend of federal spending isn't controlled or reversed, I rule out the possibility of any balanced budget in the foreseeable future.

The American political system has wall to wall corruption, is obsessed with the idea that it can spend itself rich, which it can't, and ethical accountability is virtually nonexistent. The political system of the ancient Roman Empire when it had lost control of its destiny couldn't have been much worse, if any, than what we have in Washington today. The right hand of the government doesn't know what the left hand is doing and vice-versa. If that isn't so, then why all of the scandals that plague the nation involving hundreds of millions and multi-billions of dollars for months and years before the government seems to realize it has a problem?

When George Bush was campaigning for president he said, "Read my lips, no more taxes." But he didn't say, "Read my lips, the national debt will not be increased," or, "Read my lips, the federal budget will be balanced." A news report about a month ago said that Congress was planning to raise the debt ceiling above the three trillion dollar mark.

What we have today is a Reagenomics government with a Bushanomics label.

Harlan Miller

Editor's Note: The writer of the following letter requested that it appear in this column.

Dear Commissioner Braskey:

The selection of the Grand Marshal for the Autumn Glory Festival parade this year is certain to attract a lot of people from the Baltimore-Washington area. What a brilliant idea! With all the effort that the State of Maryland has demonstrated in promoting Garrett County, it should have followed that Festival officials would look to our own state for a celebrity to participate in this annual attraction. In case it is not known in Garrett County, Baltimore has a great baseball team — why not Brooks Robinson or Jim Palmer? But to reach out to Pittsburgh to bestow that honor is absolutely appalling. Shame on all of the officials involved for wasting that promotional opportunity. Incidents such as this severely hamper the gains that have been made lately through the advertising of other major events. But then, perhaps the Autumn Glory Festival is for just your little corner of the state. The choice is understandable under that circumstance, as it will hardly draw many people from other areas of the state.

I have spoken with a number of my acquaintances from the Baltimore Metropolitan area who know of my great interest in Garrett County and, out of curiosity, I mentioned Mr. Sanguillen's name as serving as Grand Marshal for the parade. On each occasion I was asked with a frown, "Who's that?" Even sports-minded people had to be reminded of who he is.

Perhaps in the future such important decisions should be placed with more competent individuals who realize the value that a Grand Marshal selection can be to such an event.

Sincerely,
Evelyn C. Orsini
Columbia

To the Editor:

Thank heaven for parents like Joyce and Bill Steyer! Very few parents in this day and age would be willing to come forward in defense of their child, especially when it involves law enforcement.

If foresight were half as good as hind sight I'm sure this old world would be different. I should not say it's our planet's fault. It is the people who dwell on it.

We had a situation happen with law enforcement involving our eldest. He was pulled over at 10:30 p.m. for speeding 74 miles an hour in a 55 zone.

We did not complain about the speeding ticket he received. We were very upset and angry and did not appreciate the treatment he received.

He was cited by a Maryland State Policeman. However, before this was over two county deputies were involved. The Trooper placed a call to a local garage for the vehicle to be towed and stored there.

He then transported our son to the local Sheriff's office. He was placed in jail over night and was not allowed to make a phone call that night.

The vehicle he was operating was registered in his father's name since he was under age. We were not notified that our son or the vehicle had been picked up until around eleven the next morning.

My husband had gone to the garage where the vehicle had been towed. Needless to say by this time he was furious and in a mood to clean house. There sat our vehicle with all the hub caps torn off, seats out of place, mats torn up, trunk mat torn up, trunk in disarray.

We asked the state trooper about this. He said the vehicle was not touched except for being towed. We asked him to accompany us to the vehicle — upon seeing the condition of the vehicle he said he would find out why this was done and who was responsible. He didn't tell us but a few days later an employee at the garage and a worker at the Courthouse confided this information. Two county deputies from the Sheriff's department were the responsible parties for tearing up our vehicle. We never did receive an answer why this was done.

My husband threatened to bring a law suit against the deputies unless they replaced the equipment in the vehicle as they found it. The deputies put the vehicle back in shape — and we were told by reliable sources just to leave this situation alone unless we wanted more harassment. This is why the matter was not pursued any further.

I'm so thankful that the Steyers brought this incident to light in the form of a letter written to the Editor of our local newspaper.

Persons reading this may have enough courage to step forward with letters who have experienced this kind of treatment. I know there are others for I have been told of situations similar to ours. I pray in the future this will help change the attitude of some of our law enforcement. Is it any wonder our youth have little respect for law officers whom they observe doing deeds off duty that they arrest the public for while on duty? And the treatment that is handed out by a part of the governing officials whom we should have respect for instead of being harassed by.

Concerned,
Mary Leighton

P.S. I understand the Town of Oakland is enforcing a 2 hour stay at a given meter even if money and time is still on the meter, if the same vehicle is parked at that meter the driver will be issued a $10.00 ticket for every two hour period. More harassment!

To the Editor:

Why is it that when the school board rejects the superintendent's recommendations somehow it's done wrong. Our school law requires the school board to approve all recommendations for appointment whether it be new hires or promotions. Our school law requires the Superintendent to make those recommendations and the school board to act on them. That's called checks and balances and it works. Sure, sometimes we're not pleased with the actions taken by either or both parties. But that's no reason to call for a change in the way school board members are selected. Who says appointed school boards or appointed judges or appointed commissioners are better than elected school board members, elected judges, or elected commissioners? The only difference, in my opinion, is that all the people who pay the bill have the opportunity to select their representatives, not just a select few who have input into the appointment process.

In reference to your August 10 editorial expressing concern about the elected school board approving school appointments and promotions, you are advised that an appointed school board has the same authority. There is no difference in the powers of elected school boards and appointed school boards under state law, bylaws, rules or regulations.

Secondly, I know of no study that has shown that politics and game playing occur any less frequently with appointed boards. I know of no such study that shows that fairness and good judgment occur more frequently with appointed boards.

In summary, I suggest that an elected body is preferred over an appointed body that conducts the public's business. After all, that's what it's all about, isn't it?

Sincerely,
Thomas P. Shaffer

To the Editor:

Advertising is important and a budgeted expense to every business. One of the ways we use to advertise is a lighted sign in front of our business. For convenience, the letters and numbers are easy to take off and put on, and for that reason some prankster(s) on three different occasions decided to take them off and keep them. The letters are expensive and have to be ordered. We would like the public to know why there are misspelled or missing words.

As soon as we can get more letters, we will continue to post our sale items and local happenings. And if you or anyone happen to be driving by during the hours of midnight to 5 a.m., and you see someone removing the letters, notify the police for me.

Thank you,
Tom Browning

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

COMEBACK OF ROCKFISH SHOWS ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAMS WORK
by Governor William Donald Schaefer

Sometimes people ask me if all the effort we are making to clean up the Chesapeake Bay or to improve the environment in Maryland actually does any good.

That's why I was very pleased to annouce a few days ago that the ban on rockfish may be lifted next summer. I think our effort to save the rockfish, and the way everyone cooperated in that effort, shows what can be done.

Of course, we must be very careful. It is extremely important to understand that the rockfish still need protection. That's why we are going to have a rockfish conservation plan in place when the ban is lifted next year.

The plan will let fishermen take a very limited number of rockfish from the bay. If everyone continues to cooperate as they have in the past, the count of rockfish will continue to increase. Then there will be more fish for everyone and we can all take pride in having saved a very special Maryland resource.

The rockfish is only one example of the progress we are making. We see other signs that pollution in the bay — and in other areas of the state — is being reduced.

Out in the Maryland country side, the number of trees is increasing. I know because I get reports from the State Forest office. Our deer population is up. And we have wild turkeys again in Maryland. We are making progress.

But it takes effort. We have to have a plan and we need the cooperation of everyone in Maryland. One careless or inconsiderate individual can wipe out years of hard work. A forest fire or an oil spill can do serious and long lasting damage to our environment.

That's why we are stepping up our capability to respond to these dangers.

I recently saw a demonstration of just how our Department of the Environment intends to react to an oil spill emergency. I was impressed.

Senators Mikulski and Sarbanes watched the same demonstration. They are as concerned as I am that Maryland stands ready to meet potential threats to our environment.

Right now we have oil spill response equipment positioned all over the state — in Salisbury, Cumberland, Frederick, Havre de Grace, Chestertown, Denton, Chevy Chase, Tuxedo and Leonardtown — ready to be used at a moments notice.

I am encouraged by the progress we have made. We are getting people involved in our effort to protect Maryland's environment and our natural resources. The increasing participation in the One Million Marylanders campaign to clean up the bay is a good example of that. And we are starting to see results for our efforts — more fish, more wildlife, and a better and more healthy environment.

And finally, we are taking steps to assure that we can protect the gains we are making. We have a plan to deal with the threats to our environment. We have the interest and the support from all levels of government — the federal, the state, and the local level.

Maryland is a beautiful place. We have so much to be grateful for. But we should never take it for granted. That's the big lesson we all learned from our recent experience with the rockfish.

It takes planning and cooperation and real effort if we want to preserve the delicate balance of nature in Maryland.

Please write me if you have an idea about how to help keep Maryland beautiful and bountiful. And there are lots of local and statewide volunteer programs, so let me know if you want to get involved: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, Md. 21401.

State Launches New Seafood Marketing Effort

Declaring that "It's always time for Maryland seafood," Maryland Lt. Gov. Melvin A. Steinberg announced the start of a $100,000 marketing campaign to educate consumers in the Mid-Atlantic region about the wholesomeness, nutritional values, variety and availability of Maryland seafood products.

The seafood industry is one of the state's principal employers, with processing and related employment totalling more than 14,000 people. Maryland's seafood industry contributes more than $400 million to the state's economy. The most recent figures, released in 1987, ranked Maryland third in the Mid-Atlantic region for amount harvested and dollar value of its seafood products. Nationally, Maryland ranks 15th among all states for amount harvested and 14th in dollar value.

Yesterday at Phillips Flagship Restaurant, Steinberg announced that the marketing campaign is designed to increase the sale and consumption of all of the state's principal seafood products and strengthen the Maryland seafood industry by educating consumers about the wholesomeness, nutrition, variety and availability of Maryland seafood.

As part of its new marketing campaign, the state's Office of Seafood Marketing will:

— Distribute thousands of its new consumer seafood guides with information about Maryland seafood;

— Promote the use of its new theme: "It's Always Time for Maryland Seafood!" The theme will be reinforced with a logo depicting a Maryland blue crab superimposed on the face of a stopwatch;

— Distribute a quarterly buyer's bulletin to wholesale seafood buyers in the Mid-Atlantic states that highlights the advantages of Maryland seafood;

— Publish a quarterly update with information about the state's marketing efforts, highlight various species and feature seafood that is abundant each quarter, as well as other information. The update will be distributed to seafood industry representatives, the media, state legislators and state agencies affiliated with the seafood industry; and — Distribute point of purchase material directed at restaurant customers.

Steinberg said, "Through these efforts we hope to remind the public why Maryland seafood is safe and wholesome; increase consumer awareness of the nutritional value, variety and availability of Maryland seafood products; and to reinforce the positive image the public has about Maryland seafood."

It's Always Time for Maryland Seafood!

The centerpiece of the campaign is publication of 35,000 copies of the state's first official consumer guide to Maryland seafood. The 16-page color brochure is free and includes information about the nutrition, selection and preparation of several varieties of Maryland shellfish and finfish, a profile of the Chesapeake Bay and several traditional Maryland seafood species.

Free copies of A Consumer's Guide to Maryland Seafood are available from the Office of Seafood Marketing at the Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD, 21401. Copies also are available from county extension agents, the Maryland Watermen's Association, members of the state's Seafood Marketing Advisory Commission, and at seafood festivals throughout the state. Thousands of the guides will be given away at seafood day at the Maryland State Fair on August 30 in Timonium.

The copyrighted guide was researched and written in consultation with the Maryland departments of Agriculture, Natural Resources, Economic and Employment Development, the Office of the Governor, and the National Fisheries Education and Research Foundation.

DEEP CREEK'S FIRST SEAFOOD MARKET IS NOW OPEN — Dr. Willy's Great American Seafood Market, owned by Billy and Penney Hughes, pictured above with their two daughters, Nicole, 5, and Casey, 18 months, being held by Penney, is now open for business at Deep Creek Lake. "We came to Garrett County because we like the kinds of people and the values of the area. These are some of the finest people and it is also a good place to raise a family. We have relocated from Anne Arundel County, near Annapolis, to bring some quality seafood to the people of Garrett County," Billy explained. Deep Creek Lake's exclusive fish market carries a variety of fresh fish, shrimp, lobster and crabs when available. Dr. Willy's also offers a carry-out service with an assortment of crab cakes, stuffed or fried shrimp platters and scallop platters. Homemade crab soup, cole slaw, potato salad and freshly cut french fries are also available, along with a daily special. Dr. Willy's is located on the Quarry Road, across from Arrowhead Deli on Rt. 219 and is open from noon to 8 p.m. seven days a week. Winter hours will be announced. WIC Program Proves Successful At Local Market

On recent Saturdays, crowds of early risers merged on the town parking lot in Oakland to purchase locally-grown fruits and vegetables from members of the Mountain Fresh Producers Association. While on a recent Sunday, a large crowd braved the sweltering heat to attend the Takoma Park Farmers Market in Montgomery County.

Many of these shoppers paid for their melons, peaches, squash, green beans, corn and tomatoes, not with cash, but with coupons provided by the Maryland WIC Farmers Market Demonstration Project.

Introduced this summer at eight farmers markets in six counties and Baltimore City, the project is designed to provide participants in the federally funded Women, Infants and Children Program (WIC) with access to fresh fruits and vegetables. It also gives Maryland farmers a new market for their produce.

The demonstration project is operated with state and federal funds. It is administered by the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA), the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (MDHMH), and Maryland Cooperative Extension Service (MCES) and the Maryland Food Committee.

"We bring producers and low-income consumers together, for the benefit of both," explained Dr. Tamara Vega, a nutrition, food and health specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. "We're especially concerned with making sure that pregnant women and children under five get enough fruits and vegetables. We also want to help farmers increase their sales."

An estimated 10,000 clients of Maryland's WIC Program have received five coupons worth $2 each this summer. With the coupons, they can buy their choice of fresh produce at participating farmers' markets.

No change is given, but participating farmers make sure customers get their money's worth. The farmers then give the coupons to the market masters at each farmers' market, who forward them to the Maryland Food Committee for redemption. Farmers at the Takoma Park Farmers' Market, who were reimbursed within the week, said they are impressed with the project's organization.

Such favorable response is the result of more than a year of

ADVERTISEMENT

Surveys indicate that 22 million adults in the United States grew up in homes where one or both parents had alcohol problems. These homes were often characterized by inconsistency, tension, loneliness and isolation. These adults often have more difficulty developing and maintaining meaningful relationships. They may experience anxiety, fear of rejections and a lack of trust for others.

Garrett Counseling will begin an ACOA therapy group in September. Group therapy gives the ACOA an opportunity to explore their own ways of interacting with others. Basic feelings and personal themes are worked through. Patterns of self-defeat are changed.

The group will meet one evening a week for six months, it will last for 1½ hours and be limited to a membership of 10 people. Co-therapists are Jerri Rodeheaver, M.S., and Jean James, M.A. Group membership is contingent on a pre-group interview with each prospective member. The cost is $90 per group session.

MSTA Supports Recommendation On School Reform

Jane Stern, president of the 35,000-member Maryland State Teachers Association, yesterday called the Sondheim report on school reform "a good first step in rethinking public education in Maryland."

She cautioned, however, that the report, prepared by business executives, was "a little like asking teachers to redesign the American automobile after talking to General Motors."

Instead, MSTA will send the report's recommendations to the faculties of the state's 1201 public schools and seek their opinions and suggestions on school reform.

The results will be presented to State Superintendent Joseph Shilling with an invitation to make teachers full partners in the restructuring of Maryland's schools.

"Let's hear from the teacher," said Stern.

The Sondheim report has raised several concerns for the MSTA president:

—Will mandating a new system of accreditation for schools create a new level of state bureaucracy that will further weaken local control?

—Will the state fund the reforms it mandates the counties to adopt? Maryland already ranks low in state support for schools. The report implies that all we have to do is "grade, not pay" for school improvement.

—Will a massive new system of testing further dilute instructional time and increase paperwork? How are we to be sure the new system of tests will be any more valid than the current program?

—Is the Sondheim Commission aware of the school reforms contained in teacher collective bargaining contracts and their role in achieving instructional improvement?

—Will giving more money to "better schools" amount to "afflicting the afflicted and comforting the comfortable?"

—Can the schools be held accountable for societal factors which affect student performance and over which schools have no control?

—Does the commission underestimate the importance of parental support at home to a student's success at school?

"We are grateful to Governor Schaefer and his commission for bringing these issues to the fore, and we intend to play a vigorous role in the restructuring of Maryland's public schools," Stern declared.

Westvaco Reports Record Sales And Earnings

Westvaco Corporation (NYSE/W), a major manufacturer of paper, packaging, and chemicals, has reported new records for third-quarter and nine-month sales and earnings for the fiscal 1989 period ended July 31, and increased its common stock dividend by nine percent.

During the third quarter, Westvaco achieved sales of $564.8 million, which represented a record for the quarter and exceeded the same quarter in 1988 by 6.1 percent. For the first nine months of the fiscal year, Westvaco's sales reached $1.7 billion, which surpassed the same period last year by 7.3 percent and produced an all-time record for the period.

Third quarter earnings reached a level of $55.5 million or 86 cents per share of common stock. These earnings were a record for the period and bettered the 80 cents per share earned in the same period last year by 7.5 percent. Earnings for the first nine months of the year totalled $162.3 million, or $2.51 per share. These earnings also represented a record and exceeded by 20.7 percent earnings per share of $2.08 in the same period last year.

At a regularly scheduled meeting, Westvaco's board of directors increased the quarterly dividend rate on the company's common stock from 23 cents per share to 25 cents per share. The new quarterly dividend rate is payable on October 2 to shareholders of record September 6. This action, coupled with the increase last year, means that the dividend rate for Westvaco's shareholders has increased 25 percent in the past 12 months.

The Westvaco board has increased the dividend rate 20 times in the past 26 years. It also extends to 94 years the company's record of uninterrupted quarterly cash dividends, one of the longest among companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Local Man Pleads Guilty To B & E In Allegany Co.

An Oakland man pled guilty Wednesday in Allegany County Circuit Court to breaking into a dwelling in the daytime with intent to steal.

Thomas E. Bowman, 32, is also wanted in at least three other jurisdictions. Judge J. Frederick Sharer ordered him held without bond.

Bowman is wanted for burglary in Garrett County, burglary and escape in Hardy County, W.Va., and two counts each of grand larceny and breaking and entering in Frederick County, Va.

During the trial on Wednesday, a charge of felony theft was dismissed because of a plea agreement.

The charges stemmed from a May 2 break-in at a private residence in Allegany County. Stolen items included silver certificates (former U.S. currency), antique coins, and jewelry.

Bowman was arrested by an Allegany County Sheriff's deputy who was investigating a report that someone was spending old currency at a tavern on Route 51.

Coach Wildesen Reflects On Garrett Legion Team's Successful Season

"A 360-degree turn-around" is how Coach Ed Wildesen described his 1989 Garrett County Junior American Legion baseball team that concluded the regular season with an 11-4 record and reached the Maryland State semi-finals when compared with his 1988 squad. Wildesen reflected upon his team's success this week and provided individual statistics on key players.

"Because of major commitments from all 18 of our players this year, we were able to completely turn things around from last year," Wildesen said.

The 1988 team finished with a 7-16 mark and had an average team attendance of only nine or ten players. They played with only eight players in a doubleheader against Cumberland in 95 degrees on one occasion and had to forfeit another game because of a lack of players.

"Our players this year were not only willing to drive countless miles to play, but they were also willing to drive for hours to play maybe only one inning, all for the good of the team," he said. "I have never seen a group of such unselfish young men. I will never forget the sacrifices they all made."

Wildesen noted that on another occasion last year only eight players showed up one afternoon in Morgantown to play on West Virginia University's diamond (a ninth arrived at the end of the first inning). This year, 17 Garrett players showed up for a game in Elkins that lasted until after midnight. "This is just one example of the attitude and loyalty of this team," he said.

There was an average attendance of 16 per game this season and the team enjoyed doubleheader sweeps over all three of the other teams in the Mountain District — Westernport, Cumberland, and Frostburg. They had the best record in the district, with marks of 4-2 against Westernport, 3-1 against Cumberland, and 4-1 against Frostburg, and at one time had an 11-game winning streak.

In the state tournament, the Garrett players defeated Mt. St. Joseph's of Baltimore City, 4-3, and crushed Dayton Post of Howard County, 14-4, before being eliminated from the tourney by Potomac Post of Williamsport (5-2) and Mayo Post of Prince Georges County (10-0). Mayo, the defending state champions, had seven starters back from last season and went on to capture this year's title.

The final four in the state tournament included Garrett County, Potomac, Mayo, and Dayton, and since Garrett had defeated Dayton earlier, Wildesen believes his team should be considered the third place finisher in the tournament.

"Making it to the state tournament is one thing," Wildesen said, "but to come within one run and two outs of the championship round is quite a feat. The best high school players in the state and from neighboring West Virginia schools compete in this tournament. There were 30 to 40 major league and collegiate scouts there, which gives another indication of the talent that is there."

Besides giving praise to the dedication and skills of his players, Wildesen was quick to note the contributions of his assistant coaches, Phil Carr and Mike Brady.

"Both of these guys are true baseball people, who deserve as much credit as anyone for our success. It is no accident that they both have been on two Pen-Mar League championship teams within four years. Phil was also an assistant to the 1986 Accident Legion team that won the district," Wildesen said.

"My two objectives this year were to get players with talent and who wanted to play, and to have a quality and knowledgable coaching staff. We accomplished both," he said.

Wildesen said every single player on the team had a significant role in at least one of the team's victories, "whether it was with the bat, glove, or running," but he said five players really stood out.

Rod Cooper led the team in hitting with a blistering .466 average, collecting 27 hits in 58 at-bats. D.G. Largent, who played in the state tournament with 18 stitches in his knee after being out of action for three weeks, hit .378, recording 14 hits in 37 at-bats, while Ryan Harman batted .370 (20 for 54). James Sulser hit safely 15 times in 40 at-bats for a .375 average and recorded an impressive 21 walks. Kevin Yokum rapped 19 hits in 58 attempts for a .328 average.

Kevin Combs provided the most outstanding offensive effort in the state tournament, as he went eight for 14 with three walks to finish with an amazing .571 average.

In the pitching department, Cooper led the team with a 4-2 mark, followed by Harman, 3-2, Combs, 2-0, Ritchie Baldwin and Mark Rohrbaugh, both 1-0.

Looking ahead to next season, Wildesen said, "There is no way we can rest on our 1989 accomplishments. We will have a good group returning, but that doesn't guarantee anything. Legion baseball is tough. It is the only level of baseball, from Little League to the majors, where there are relatively no weaknesses on any team. Every team has the ability to win and it is never considered an upset."

Wildesen also noted his appreciation to the many businesses and individuals who supported the team in various ways this season. "We couldn't exist without the support of all of these people," he concluded.

LEGION TEAM COMPLETES SUCCESSFUL SEASON — After a losing record and a lack of players last season, the Garrett County Junior American Legion baseball team dramatically turned things around this year to conclude the regular season with the best record in the Mountain District and advance as far as the semi-finals of the Maryland State Tournament. Coached by Ed Wildesen, the team includes top players from several area high schools. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are Brett Rice, Dave Yoder, John Sherbin, Kevin Combs, James Sulser, Kevin Yokum, Mike Rocha, and Allen Selders. Standing, same order, are Coach Wildesen, D.G. Largent, Kevin Green, Rod Cooper, Ryan Harman, Erik Hoag, Randall Ours, Bobby Orr, Mark Rohrbaugh, and Phil Carr, assistant coach. Not present for the photo were Ritchie Baldwin, Will Lewis, and assistant coach Mike Brady.

Ron Witt Edges Kirk Lombardi In Playoff To Win Western Maryland

Ron Witt, Masontown, W.Va., became a three-time winner of the Western Maryland Men's Amateur Golf Tournament at the Oakland Golf Course as he edged out Kirk Lombardi of Rockville Sunday afternoon in a sudden death playoff.

Witt and Lombardi each finished with scores of 222 to lead the field of 127 golfers after Lombardi, who was leading by two strokes going into the final hole, bogied the hole and Witt carded a birdie on the same hole to tie the scores. Witt won the tournament when he birdied the second hole of the playoff. It was the third time that Lombardi has finished in the runner-up spot in the Western Maryland event.

Results of play on Friday and Saturday narrowed the field to 67, who qualified for Sunday's final round.

There was also a tie for third place after the regular rounds were completed, forcing another playoff between three-time winner Jim Goodwin, Bridgeport, W.Va., and Evan Harbour, of Hurricane, W.Va., who each carded a 223. It took six additional holes of sudden death play before Goodwin emerged as the winner.

Five-time tournament winner Jack Forbes, of Morgantown, W.Va., placed fifth with a 224 and received the club's Senior Award. Forbes said he was pleased with his play, but the strong wind on Sunday gave him trouble on hole number four and he was never able to recover.

The top local finisher was Jamie Kreyenbuhl, son of Oakland Club pro Jim Kreyenbuhl, who finished eighth with a 226.

Witt, who also won the tournament in 1983 and '85, chose a stereo as his prize. "This is an ultimate win for me, after losing for two years straight," he said. "This will help me regain my confidence."

Lombardi, who selected a video cassette recorder as his prize, noted he will be turning professional in October, when he will travel to Orlando, Fla.

Goodwin was awarded a television for his third place finish and Forbes received a microwave oven for winning the Senior Award.

All of the top finishers noted the outstanding condition of the Oakland course.

Old Timers To Finish League Playoffs Sunday

The Mt. Top Old Timers' Softball League tournament which began Saturday and continued through Sunday will be completed this Sunday, August 27, at 6 p.m. at the Southern High School field.

Two teams remain in the 10-team, double-elimination event — Hometown Market and Bausch & Lomb — and Sunday's action will determine the league champion. Hometown presently has one loss in the tourney and Bausch & Lomb is undefeated.

Other entries included Shaffer Ford, Video Connection, Sheriff's Fall Guys, Madigan Auto Sales, Pawn Run Tavern, J&J Ford, Bethlehem, and Doerr and Wilburn Construction.

The Mt. Top League has been in existence for over six years. Each team is allowed 17 players, 12 of whom must be over 40 years of age and the remaining five between 35 and 40. Local sponsors contribute full uniforms and balls. The McHenry, Crellin, Deer Park Sportsman's Club, Terra Alta, and American Burger Center fields are used for play. It is anticipated that next year two fields now under construction at Broadford Park will also be ready for use.

The race will begin at 9 a.m. at Broadford Park's beach area. The athletes will exit the water at the boat launching ramp near the park's main pavilion, where they will climb on their bicycles. The bicycle course will end at the same location and the run will also begin and end there. The course will close at 11:30 a.m. and the awards ceremony will be at 12:30 p.m.

Local motorists are asked to use great caution on the roads involved in the course and, if possible, avoid using the roads from about 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Roads involved in the bike portion of the race are Broadford, Dennett, 8th Street, Memorial Drive, Oakland-Deer Park, Kings Run, Spring Glade, Pysell Crosscut, and Pittsburgh Avenue. Roads used for the running segment will be Broadford, Oakland-Deer Park, Harvey Winters, and Broadford Heights.

Spectators are welcome and encouraged to come to the park, but they will need to be through the park entrances by 8:45 a.m. No cars will be allowed to enter or exit the park from 8:45 to 11:30 a.m.

Sponsors of the Best of the West Triathlon are Sunkist, Coors Light, the Greater Oakland Business Association, and the Garrett Sports League.

"We are so pleased that the triathlon is growing so fast," Railey said. "Next year we hope to expand the field to 400."

Mrs. Railey also announced that over 30 youngsters, ages 5 to 14, have registered for the Sports League's first Youth Triathlon, which will be held Sunday at the Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry. This event will get underway at 9 a.m.

PHASE II OF LANDMARK BUILDING NEAR COMPLETION — Jack Jones and Constance Margison purchased the former National Bank Building at 200 East Alder Street in August of 1988 with three phase plans for remodeling the building. Phase I included the remodeling of the first floor of the building, which now houses Helbig's Jewelers, Oakland Optical, an Army Recruiting Office and Marvin's Men's Wear. Marvin's has kept many of the original fixtures of the bank in the store to help promote the history of the building. Phase II of the development of the building has been the remodeling of the second and third floors of the building into 10 fully equipped apartments, ranging from studio to two bedroom apartments with lofts. Sheila Reeves was the decorating consultant and R&L Carpenters provided the services for the design of the apartments, which will be available for occupancy September 1. Phase III will be the completion of the Oakland Underground, which is a projected 4,000 square foot indoor mini mall featuring a cellar like atmosphere and the channeling of a spring into a goldfish pond. "The completion of Phase I, II and III of the redesign of the National Bank Building represents the growth and economic development of the area. We're very excited at the completion of our plans," said Constance Margison. Pictured above are Mayor Asa McCain, left, Blair Glass, seated, first tenant, and Jack Jones, right, in one of the newly completed apartments in the National Bank Building.

Water Boiling Advisory Lifted In Bloomington

The Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) has lifted its boil water advisory for Bloomington and for the Georges Creek communities in Allegany County. The communities in Georges Creek that have been affected by the advisory include Barton, Lonaconing, Midland, Klondike, Carlos-Borden Shaft, and Midlothian.

In Bloomington, the filtration plant has been repaired and is in full operation. In the Georges Creek communities, turbidity levels have decreased and extensive microbiological testing has indicated that the water is potable once again.

Because the Georges Creek communities' water supplies are not filtered, heavy rains and flash floods could cause an increase in turbidity, a measurement of suspended particles in water at any time. Excessive turbidity reduces the effectiveness of disinfection, making the water unsafe to drink.

Therefore, MDE recommends that if unfiltered water appears cloudy, it should be boiled for at least one minute prior to use for drinking or cooking purposes.

For more information, residents should contact the Garrett County Health Department at (301) 334-8980.

detachment to the barrack status. The department is looking ahead to the future."

Before McGowan's assignment, First Sergeant Bill Graham was in charge of the detachment, which is located in a leased facility on Route 219 in McHenry. Nineteen troopers and a civilian secretary are assigned there.

McGowan noted, "First Sgt. Graham is an outstanding administrator, and has done an excellent job getting this detachment to where it is today."

The new facility would also house the Maryland Department of Natural Resources Police and the Maryland State Fire Marshal's office. It would also include a multi-bay garage.

Man Sentenced

1988, incidents involving a five-year old girl.

In a separate case, Ragan S. Haupt, 18, Hagerstown, was sentenced to two years in the Department of Corrections for a battery charge.

All but six months of the sentence were suspended by the judge. The time will be served in the Washington County Detention Center. Haupt will be placed on two years supervised probation upon his release from jail.

A jury found Haupt guilty of the charge during an April 27 trial, and the judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

The charge stemmed from an October 15, 1988, incident on the Southern High School athletic field.

The judge sentenced Mark Walters, 29, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., to one year in the Garrett County Jail for each count of possessing explosives without a permit and wearing and concealing a deadly weapon.

The sentence was then suspended, and Walters was placed on one year unsupervised probation. A second count of wearing and concealing a deadly weapon and charges of passing in a no passing zone and failure to properly placard a vehicle carrying hazardous material were not prosecuted.

The charges stemmed from a March 21, 1989, incident on U.S. Route 219. Walters was arrested by Detective/Sgt. D.W. Tucker of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Walters' attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

In related cases, Judge Thayer ordered pre-sentence investigations for Pamela D. Tasker, 29, and Daniel M. Tasker, 30, both of Deer Park.

Both were charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance with intent to distribute, possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Pamela Tasker pled guilty to the second charge, while Daniel Tasker pled guilty to the first. Both were indicted on April 18, 1989.

The charges stemmed from a search warrant which was executed on February 14, 1989 by Deputy P.J. Pratt of the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. Both Taskers were represented by Robert E. Watson.

In Loving Memory Of Our Son
STEVEN LEE UPPERMAN
Today recalls sad memories of our loved one gone to rest
And the ones who think of him today are the ones who loved him best.
Many a lonely heartache, often silent tears,
But always a beautiful memory of the one we loved so dear.
Always in our thoughts, no matter where we go;
Always in our heart because we loved him so.
Sadly missed by
Dad, Mom, Ron & Cindy,
and all who knew and loved him.

The "Window" CD has a one-year term, with a one-time chance for you to withdraw part or all of your funds without any early withdrawal penalties. Six months from the date that you purchase your CD, there is a seven-day "window". During this period you may take advantage of this early redemption feature. Best of all, you may open your "Window" CD with a minimum deposit of $5,000. So there's no need to worry about rising interest rates since you'll only be locking in, initially for the first six months.

*The "Window" CD is compounded semi-annually. Early withdrawal penalties will be in effect for any withdrawal made other than during the stated "window" period. The "Window" CD is being offered for a limited time only. The above rate is subject to change without notice.

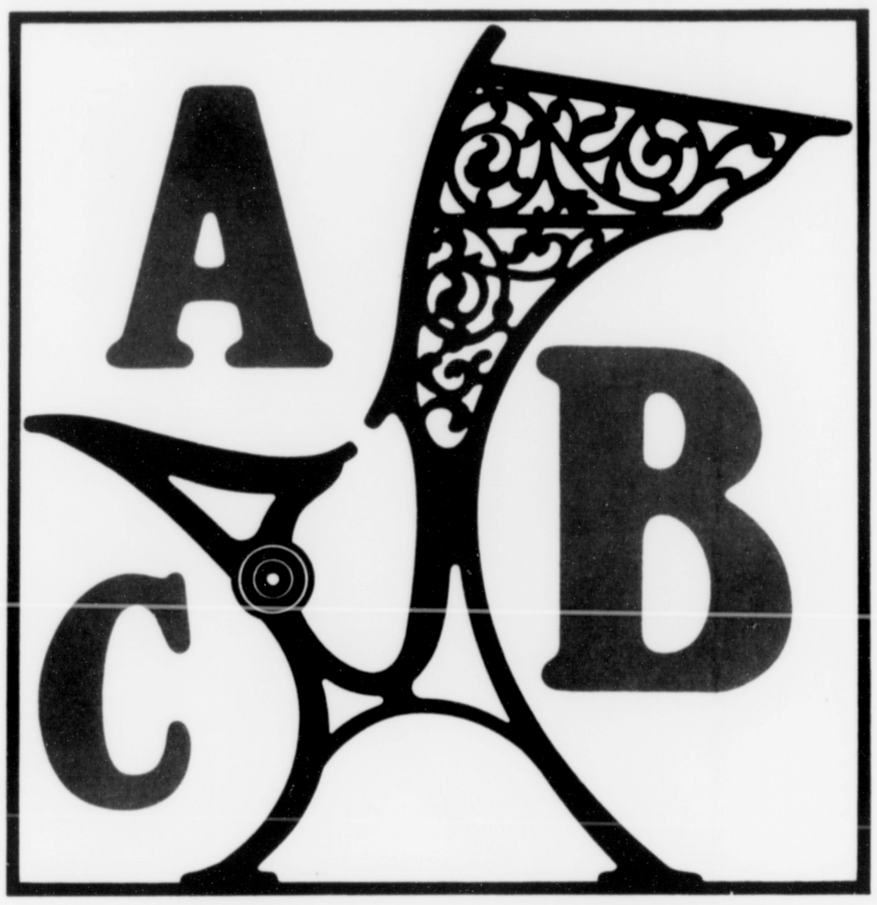
Good Food and how to prepare it!

Back To School Lunches — Easy As . . .



Back-to-school lunches present a myriad of challenges to today's parents. Nutrition, portability, ease of preparation and refrigeration requirements all come into play when preparing the ideal brown bag or lunch box meal. Taste and appearance are important, too, at least to the true judge - your child. What's the use of planning and preparing a nutritious lunch if your child isn't likely to enjoy or even eat it?

Since most children prefer junk food, snacks and vitamin-poor foods, a little determination and creativity is in order.

Make high-protein sandwiches using canned tuna, chicken, ham or turkey. For fun, try cutting sandwiches into different shapes each day.

Try single-serving cans with pop-top lids for lunch treats. Canned fruits, salads, applesauce and puddings come in single serving size.

Make better use of that school size thermos! On cold days nothing beats hot soup. Or fill the thermos with heated canned pasta.

Children tend to eat less than adults so don't pack too much food. Instead, have plenty of healthful snacks available at home.

For variety and convenience, try these simple recipes that will be a tasty lunch box filler your children will love.

COUNTRY GARDEN MUFFINS

1½ cups flour
½ cup uncooked quick rolled oats
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup vegetable oil
4 ounces cubed, cooked lean ham (about ¾ cup)
½ cup unpeeled finely shredded fresh zucchini
½ cup finely chopped cooked carrots

Preheat oven to 425°F. Prepare 12-cup muffin pan by spraying each cup lightly with vegetable cooking spray. Combine flour, oats, brown sugar, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, and salt in a large mixing bowl, set aside. Combine milk, egg, and oil in a separate mixing bowl, stir in ham, zucchini and carrots. Pour liquid mixture into dry ingredients and stir just until dry ingredients are moistened, do not overmix. Divide batter evenly into prepared muffin pan (about ¼ cup per muffin cup). Bake at 425° for 20 to 25 minutes, or until golden brown, Remove immediately to cooling rack and cool thoroughly. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Note: For six giant muffins, divide batter evenly into 6 muffin cups (about ½ cup batter for each) and bake 25 to 30 minutes, or until golden brown.

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 egg
½ cup sugar
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup raisins

Preheat the oven to 350°F. Butter a 9-inch-square baking pan. Melt the butter and let cool to tepid. Stir together the milk and vinegar, set aside. This mixture will curdle and thicken. Sift together the flour, baking soda, cinnamon, ginger and salt. In a large bowl, whisk the egg and sugar until the mixture is pale and thick enough to ribbon, about 2 minutes. Beat in melted butter. Combine the molasses and the soured milk. Alternately stir the dry and liquid ingredients into the egg mixture, about one-third at a time, until blended. Stir in the raisins. Pour the batter into the buttered pan. Bake for 45 to 55 minutes, or until a tester comes out clean and the edges of the cake begin to pull away from the sides of the pan. Serves 6-8.

Apple 'N Spice Pizza Cookie

Add fun to your youngsters' milk-break with an Apple 'N Spice Pizza Cookie.

This cookie of the 80's is made with the old-fashioned ingredients that never go out of style. White sugar blends with brown sugar into a pure sweet taste that gives this cookie a classic flavor. A wholesome touch is added with apples, oats and pecans.

Covered with melted chocolate chips and a confectioners' sugar drizzle, one wedge is bound to bring encores for milk.

This easy-to-make cookie is versatile, too — the batter can be turned into simple drop cookies or shaped into a 14-inch pizza treat.

Apple 'N Spice Pizza Cookie

- 3/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter, softened
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup shredded apple (1 medium)
- 3/4 cup uncooked oats

Topping

- 1 pkg (6 oz) semi-sweet chocolate chips
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 teaspoons milk

Preheat oven to 375°F. Generously grease 14-inch round pizza pan. In large electric mixer bowl, beat butter and sugars until creamy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Add flour, cinnamon, baking soda and salt; beat until batter is smooth. Stir in apple and oats. Spread batter evenly into pizza pan. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until golden.

Remove from oven. Sprinkle chips onto hot cookie. Let stand 5 minutes until chips soften and look shiny. Spread with a metal spatula to make frosting. Sprinkle nuts on top. Cool completely.

In small bowl, combine confectioners' sugar and milk; mix until smooth. Drizzle on top of pizza cookie. Yield: a 14-inch cookie.

Apple 'N Spice Drop Cookie

Prepare batter for pizza cookie but stir in chips and nuts. Drop batter by rounded tablespoonfuls, 2 inches apart, onto ungreased baking sheets. Bake in 375° F. oven, 12 minutes or until edges are golden. Let cool on baking sheets 1 minute. Transfer to wire rack. Cool completely. (Omit confectioners' sugar drizzle.) Yield: 2 dozen jumbo cookies.

COCONUT-TOPPED BROWNIES

1 package (about 21.5 oz.) brownie mix
Ingredients per brownie package directions
1¼ cups M&M's plain chocolate candies
1 cup flaked coconut
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup butter or margarine, melted

Prepare brownie mix according to package directions, stir in ¾ cup candies. Spread batter into greased 13x9-inch baking pan. Bake at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes or until center is set. Meanwhile, combine coconut, sugar, butter and remaining candies. Gently spread over brownies. Broil 2 to 3 minutes or until coconut is lightly browned. Remove to wire rack to cool. Makes one 13x9-inch pan of brownies.

APPLE-CHERRY SWIRL CAKE

1 package yellow cake mix
¼ cup cornstarch
1 cup Apple-Cherry Fruit 'N Sauce
½ cup oil
4 eggs
½ cup raisins
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup sugar mixed with 1 teaspoon cinnamon
Confectioners sugar

Combine yellow cake mix, cornstarch, Fruit 'N Sauce, oil and eggs. Beat for 2 minutes. Stir in raisins and vanilla. Pour into well-greased bundt pan. Sprinkle sugar cinnamon mixture over batter and swirl through batter with a knife. Bake at 350°F for 50 minutes or until cake tests done with a toothpick inserted in center. Cool in pan 10 minutes, then loosen edges and turn out onto a rack to cool completely. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar.

CHEESE STRAWS

8 tablespoons butter
½ pound sharp Cheddar or Blue Cheese
1¾ cups flour
Salt to taste, if desired
Cayenne pepper to taste (see note)
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Preheat the oven to 300 degrees. Put the butter and cheese in the container of a food processor. Add the flour, salt, cayenne, and Worcestershire. Cover and blend thoroughly. If a food processor is not used, put the flour, salt, and cayenne in a bowl. Add the butter, cheese, and Worcestershire, and using two knives or a pastry blender, blend thoroughly. Use a cookie press outfitted with a houndstooth or star dispenser. Push the dough out onto an ungreased baking sheet to make individual straws. Or, if desired, roll the dough out to 1/8-inch thickness and cut it into individual strips, which can be twisted if desired, or other shapes. Arrange the pieces on 1 or 2 ungreased sheets. Place the baking sheet or sheets in the oven and bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until the straws are crisp and lightly browned. If you wish a darker color, let them cook longer. Remove and let cool. Yield: About 6 dozen.

FRUIT COBBLER SQUARES

1½ cups uncooked oats, regular or quick
1½ cups all-purpose flour
½ cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons instant nonfat dry milk

1 egg
1 can (17-oz.) apricot halves, drained, chopped
1 can (17-oz.) purple plums, pitted, drained, chopped
1 can (17-oz.) Kodota whole figs, split, drained

Blend oats, flour, sugar, dry milk, baking powder, baking soda and salt in large bowl. Stir in combined water, butter and eggs, stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened (do not overmix). Batter will be lumpy. Pour batter into greased 13"x9" baking pan. Bake in preheated 375°F. oven until light brown, about 25 minutes. To serve, cut into squares. Makes 1½ dozen squares.

FRUIT 'N OATMEAL BARS

1 cup packed brown sugar
½ cup margarine or butter, softened
¼ cup shortening
1¾ cups all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
1½ cups quick cooking oats
2 cups apple-cherry Fruit 'N Sauce

. . . . what a responsibility!

That is the crux of parenthood. We not only rear our children, providing for their needs and development, but we make important decisions that can have lasting impact on their lives.

One vital decision concerns their opportunity for spiritual growth. It is a blessing to grow up in a land where faith and freedom are revered. But it is a fact of family life that parents decide whether or not to cultivate their children's moral and religious development.

The churches and synagogues of our community are eager to help you mold the convictions and character of your children.

Welcome their help.

COMPENSATIONS

August 27, 1989

Background Scripture: Ruth 4.
Devotional Reading: Revelation 3:7-13.

Perhaps you have noticed in reading the Book of Ruth that God is rarely mentioned in this story. He is mentioned casually a few times by Naomi and once by Ruth—"your people shall be my people, and your God my God"—but it is only when Naomi returns to Bethlehem that God is really brought into the story: "Do not call me Naomi, call me Mara ("bitter"), for the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me. I went away full, and the Lord has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi ("pleasant") when the Lord has afflicted me and the Almighty has brought calamity upon me" (1:20,21). God becomes very real in this story only when Naomi bitterly complains about her losses.

Before you judge Naomi too harshly, put yourself in her shoes: wouldn't you be bitter if you had lost, not one, but two sons and your husband in a rather short interval of time? Naomi was blessed with a wonderful daughter-in-law, but her losses were so great that she could not allow herself to appreciate that. You and I ought to be able to understand that, in that we often fail to count the blessings we have because we are too distraught over the blessings we do not have.

HOW THE MATTER TURNS OUT

Note that none of the resolution of the problem seems to have anything to do with God either. It is Ruth's decision to glean in the fields and it is Naomi's advice on how to handle Boaz that appear to change their fortunes. No one has a vision from God or hears a heavenly voice. It is Boaz's admiration for and later his attraction to Ruth that turns Naomi's bitterness into joy. Even the problem of the kinsman who had the first right of refusal to Ruth's hand is solved without divine intervention.

But, just as Noami felt free to complain about the Lord's treatment of her, so she freely gave him the praise when it seemed that the fortunes were turning: "Blessed be he (Boaz) by the Lord, whose kindness has not forsaken the living or the dead!" (2:20). Naomi was delighted and thankful to God that Boaz was showing exceptional interest in Ruth. And when, at last, Ruth is married to Boaz and they have a son, the women of Bethlehem say to her: "Blessed be the Lord who has not left you this day without next of kin; and may his name be renowned in Israel! He shall be to you a restorer of life and a nourisher of your old age" (4:14,15).

THE PRESENCE OF LOVE

So, although God is mentioned very little in this story, still he is a very important part of it. Just because his name was not frequently invoked, didn't mean that the principal characters were unmindful of Him. Neither is the word "love" mentioned in the story but one time: when the women of Bethlehem speak of "your daughter-in-law who loves you, who is more to you than seven sons..." (4:15). Yet, love is very much present: in the commitment of Ruth to Naomi, in the attraction between Ruth and Boaz, in Naomi's appreciation of Ruth, and in everyone's assumption that the good fortune of Noami, Ruth and Boaz is the result, not of blind chance, but of the love of God. And, although the word "love" is not mentioned, who can fail to see the love when the writer says "Then Naomi took the child and laid him at her bosom, and became his nurse"? (4:16).

Like Naomi, there may be many times in our lives when we have cause to feel bitter. But let us never become so hurt that we fail to see the compensations which God will provide for us, if we will accept them.

SOME INFORMATION ABOUT SNAKEBITE

Venomous snake bite wounds first appear as small white wheals surrounding each of the two punctures. The wheal may progress through color changes of red, blue, green or purple. There can be swelling and an intense burning sensation. There may be shock, a weak, thready pulse, and cold clammy perspiration with faintness.

Much damage can be caused by well-meaning persons whose attempts at first aid may result in excessively deep incisions, and tourniquets applied too tightly for too long a period. The damage here can exceed the bite itself. Get to a doctor or hospital quickly.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

'Happy Days' made impact on America's youth in '70s

By Anne Wheeler

What started out as a small idea pooled the talents of many creative forces to become a bit of Americana.

Tom Miller, a producer for Paramount, approached Michael Eisner, a programming executive for ABC, with the idea for a series called The New Family in Town. Miller involved his partner Edward Milkis, and the pair went to "hot" producer Garry Marshall with the idea. The show was supposed to be about a Swedish family in the 1930s, however all agreed they knew little about that time period or about the Swedish lifestyle.

"So Sven became Richie, and I created the Cunningham family and 'the Fonz,'" Marshall said. Happy Days was born.

The show, which debuted in 1974, reflected a simpler time period—the 1950s. It was pre-Vietnam war, when a father could still hug his son without feeling like he was invading his space. It was the era which had borne the men and women who were starting their families at the time the show premiered.

Happy Days had a surprise effect on the viewing public. It crossed all demographic groups and became one of few shows that parents could watch with their children.

Milkis, one of the creators of the show, believes that three factors contributed to the show's phenomenal success.

"Everyone could relate to it. It was what mom and dad went through, and Fonzie was someone you all knew."

Fonzie was a character who perhaps came to personify Happy Days. What started out as a greasy biker character ended up as a role model. It has been documented that Fonz once mentioned to Richie that anybody can get a library card, and registration for library cards increased 500 percent.

Few shows reach the 200th episode, and even fewer do so with the same director. But such was the case with Happy Days.

Jerry Paris directed all but a handful of the Happy Days shows. He branched off into directing in 1961 when he was busy portraying Jerry Helper, the dentist neighbor on The Dick Van Dyke Show. He eventually directed 96 episodes of the 158 Dick Van Dyke Show episodes.

"I thought nothing could top The Dick Van Dyke Show," Paris said. "Since I didn't think anything could top that, I went off to make movies. Eventually, I also directed 35 episodes of The Odd Couple for Garry Marshall and Jerry Belson. When Garry was putting this show together, he called me and asked if I'd do just two shows. I did another one and another. It became a love affair," he said about Happy Days.

THINK BACK

Be there or be square

A hip hotspot is something all of the following series had in common. The regular characters spent a fair amount of time in their nightclub of choice. For a few it was even their place of employment. The club itself set the tone for the series in many cases. Of course, anyone who knew what "cool" was spent their time in the swinging spots—even if they weren't swingers. Try and match the show with its respective nightclub.

AT A GLANCE

The dog days of summer reruns are nearly over, and this week CBS and NBC lead the pack with original programs.

As a precaution for the beginning of Labor Day weekend, CBS is presenting The Valvoline National Driving Test, an actual driving skills test hosted by Superman star Christopher Reeve.

NBC will broadcast two original programs, a made-for-TV movie and a news special on crime. On Sunday, Scott Plank stars as a young L.A. detective who is running one step behind a sly criminal (Alex McArthur) in Hanna. On Wednesday, Deborah Norville examines the fact that women are committing crimes once considered the domain of men in Bad Girls.

Sara Gilbert: Darlene on ABC's 'Roseanne'

By Shelia Odak

BIRTHPLACE: Santa Monica, Ca.
BIRTHDATE: Jan. 29
HAIR: Light Brown
EYES: Green

When you say that show business is in Sara Gilbert's blood, it is a fact rather than a cliche. Her maternal grandfather, Harry Crane, was the creator of and wrote for The Honeymooners, and is now supervisor of a number of other major network shows. Her maternal grandmother was a dancer and a former Miss Brooklyn. Her mother is a successful talent manager and producer. Her older sister Melissa and her brother Jonathan rose to fame on the long-running series Little House on the Prairie.

After watching the careers of her sister and brother, Gilbert decided to follow them into the business, and begged her mother to let her act. Her debut came in a commercial at the age of 6. From there she went on to appear in The Apple Dumpling Gang, with Ed Begley Jr. and Arte Johnson; Calamity Jane, with Jane Alexander; and an ABC Weekend Specials presentation titled "Runaway Ralph." Roseanne is her first television series in which she is a cast regular.

Gilbert is very much like her rambunctious, tom-boy character Darlene in Roseanne. Just like her character, she loves sports of all kinds. She enjoys snow skiing, both downhill racing and slalom, and she water skis. She also likes to shoot pool and play ping-pong.

In addition to being a sports enthusiast, Gilbert is also an artist. She enjoys photography and oil painting, and recently spent a summer at the famous Interlochen School of the Arts in Michigan.

Gilbert also likes music and her favorite performers are Bob Marley, Ziggy Marley, Pink Floyd, David Bowie and The Beatles.

At the moment, because of her work, Gilbert and her family split their time between a home in the San Fernando Valley and one in Sun Valley, Idaho.

Dustin Hoffman, a dual Oscar winner, has achieved great success in his acting career, even though he originally envisioned just making it as a working actor.

Dustin Hoffman never thought he would achieve star status

By Linda Sparkman

Before the feature film Rainman was completed, one critic described it this way: "The director quit, the script's being redone, everyone's feuding. Sounds like a hit."

And a hit it was.

Dustin Hoffman won his second Oscar for his role as Raymond, an autistic savant. One of the most versatile actors of our time, Hoffman has played a woman (Tootsie), a Devil's Island con (Papillon), an American Indian (Little Big Man), a down-and-out musician (Ishtar), and numerous other roles.

His first Oscar came for his performance in Kramer vs. Kramer as a bewildered husband and father who fights for custody of his young son. Hoffman's other films include The Graduate, Midnight Cowboy, Lenny, All the President's Men and Marathon Man.

A native of Los Angeles, Hoffman always felt a little set apart while growing up. "I was always the black sheep in the family," he said. "My brother was the brilliant one. A straight-A student."

"I hated living in L.A.," he continued. "I never really felt that I belonged there. I was always an outsider. I didn't even have a girlfriend until I was in college and acting."

Hoffman initially was intent on a career as a concert pianist. After unexpectedly excelling in an elective acting course, however, he dropped out of Santa Monica College and concentrated his energies on acting.

While in New York waiting for parts he worked as a waiter, typist, dishwasher, department store toy demonstrator and an attendant at a New York psychiatric institute. "I always knew I would make it as a working actor," he said. "I just didn't think I would be a movie star."

Gary Friend Is SHA Employee Of The Week

Gary R. Friend has been recognized as Employee of the Week by the Maryland State Highway Administration's Employee Recognition Program, Garrett County office.

Friend entered state service in March 1981 as a laborer. He currently works out of the Oakland Shop as motor equipment operator 111.

He is single and resides in Oakland. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, golf, and bowling. He is a very avid bowler and has participated in several national tournaments.

"His dedication to state work has made him one of our very valuable employees," stated an SHA spokesman. "He is always available for emergency work and can operate any piece of machinery on the state roads."

National Guard Month Proclaimed For September

Governor William Donald Schaefer has proclaimed September Maryland National Guard Month in honor of the more than 10,000 men and women serving in the Maryland Army and Air National Guard.

Maryland National Guard Month conincides with the celebration of Defenders Day September 12, a special Maryland holiday observance of the 175th anniversary of the Battles of North Point and Baltimore. Maryland Army National Guard units throughout the state will host the public to demonstrations and displays at their armories on either Saturday, September 16 or Sunday, September 17.

"Our citizen-soldiers and airmen make great sacrifices to serve Maryland and the United States of America," said Governor Schaefer. "This past year has been one of involvement around the state and around the world. Whether they were literally building bridges at home or building bridges of friendship and respect away from home, they have my deepest admiration and that of Marylanders throughout.

"During September, I urge all Marylanders to join their friends, neighbors and coworkers who serve in the Maryland National Guard by visiting their local armories and airfields."

As a result of those battles in 1814, Maryland militiamen belonging to the Fifth Regiment, precursor to today's MDARNG, staved off land and sea assaults by British soldiers. These victories were considered crucial to America's maintaining her independence, according to some historical accounts.

The Maryland National Guard has its origin in the early militia, first formed in the European settlement of St. Mary's City in 1634.

Marylanders in the militia and later the National Guard have served in every one of the nation's armed conflicts including the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the Civil War, World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

Maryland National Guard soldiers and airmen have answered call-ups in recent years to protect the health and welfare of Maryanders during civil emergencies such as hurricanes, blizzards, drought-related haylifts and civil disturbances.

During the past two years, the Guard has used its peacetime training to build bridges at Savage River and Brunswick, clean up debris in the Anacostia River watershed, ferry food to hurricane-stricken Jamaica and join the law enforcement agencies to carry out the war on illegal drugs.

Guard units around the state also have supported numerous community projects as well, including the Bags of Plenty program, the March of Dimes Walkathon and other events in communities throughout the state.

New Program Guidelines Help AFDC Students

The Maryland Department of Human Resources has implemented a new Project Independence program statewide that allows Aid to Families with Dependent Children recipients who attend college to retain all their benefits while pursuing an education. Before the new program that was implemented statewide July 1, the education grant amount was deducted from the recipient's AFDC check.

In Allegany County, the Department of Social Services is working with the Western Consortium, the local education system and institutions of higher education to provide training, job skills, education opportunities and jobs for its AFDC recipients.

"This is the kind of public-private partnership that is needed to help AFDC recipients pursue an education that will lead to economic self-sufficiency," Carolyn W. Colvin, Secretary, DHR. "The staff of Allegany County DSS have always been advocates of this type of program and will continue to make every effort to see that the student gets the financial aid."

The new Project Independence incorporates the provisions of the Family Support of 1988 which places great emphasis on helping those who receive AFDC become economically self-sufficient through training, job referrals and education.

SUNEYE
THE NATURAL ENERGY CONTROL SYSTEM

Dear Friends:

In the current era of global warming, pollution, acid rain, ozone and resource depletion, people must help mend the earth. The structures we create have to stop being aggressors to the environment. people have a most important social responsibility to the present and the future of our planet.

Buildings have an average lifespan of a hundred years, therefore all new structures have to maximize natural systems. Buildings should be energy producers, not energy wasters and polluters.

SUNEYEs pay for themselves while they help us realize these goals. They accomplish this by gaining and conserving non-polluting energy. They continue to pay their way by providing natural lighting, and minimizing cooling needs.

At your convenience, I would be glad to come and demonstrate our unique product, and help you design it into your projects. I look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards, R. N. Harvey, Director Of Marketing

SUNEYE pays for itself. It saves money on heating, lighting, air conditioning, and by conserving energy.

SUNEYE is the ultimate passive solar heating system. Installed in a south wall, it is a triple glazed translucent window which allows solar heat gain. Inside is a full adjustable R-20 insulating shutter window to fine tune solar heat gain, and prevent heat loss.

SUNEYE is a natural lighting system. Installed in a north, east, or west wall it is a lighting and insulating system. The adjustable shutter reflects light off its aluminum surface to where it is needed. It also prevents the disaster of heat gain in the summer months, and heat loss in the winter.

SUNEYES are easy to install in a vertical or horizontal position, singularly or in multiples.

SUNEYES are easy to operate singularly or ganged, manually or mechanically.

SUNEYE is the superior skylight. It is ideal for light and heat loss control in domestic, institutional and commercial structures.

SOLAR SURVIVAL is one of the oldest passive solar research and design organization in the United States. Our AMERICAN INTENSIVE GARDENING system facilitates year round food production in any climate with the use of our SOLAR CONE, SOLAR POD, and the SOLAR FRAME. Our SOLAR FOOD DEHYDRATOR is found in every country in the western world and much of the third world. Our SIBERIAN STOVE updates masonry stove design, burning any wood cleanly and giving up its heat slowly. Over 50 of our TRISOL passive solar homes are throughout the country, incorporating complete passive heating and cooling, a greenhouse, and domestic water heating. The SUNEYE is a result of the perfecting of our TRISOL design.

SUNEYES are constructed of heavy duty aluminum and are glazed with Sun-Lite plastic.
SUNEYE is sized for standard 24" framing module.
SUNEYE has been tested for eight years.
SUNEYE was invented by Leandre Poisson and is patented.

SUNEYE can be ganged together, put on an electric eye or made to work in conjunction with a computer for an auto opening and closing system. Custom designs for a particular project are available. For more information contact:

Goldstein Says State Does Not Have Source Taxes

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says retirees should not be confused by recent reports in the news media about so-called "source taxes." Some recent reports have included Maryland in a list of states that make retirees pay tax on their pensions even after they move to other states.

"Those reports are false," Goldstein said. "Maryland does not levy source taxes. If an individual retires and moves out of Maryland, intangible income, such as pensions and interest, is no longer taxed by Maryland," Comptroller Goldstein said. "We are receiving many calls from taxpayers who have seen the incorrect information."

The comptroller noted that business income, such as rental income or income from a partnership, would continue to be taxed since that income is clearly generated in Maryland.

The issue of source taxes has drawn the attention of the United States Congress, where bills have been introduced to make all source taxes illegal.

GCTA LEADERS MEET STATE BOARD MEMBER — Officers of the Garrett County Teachers Association met with Maryland State Board of Education member Patricia Cushwa last week in Hagerstown. The GCTA officers and other Maryland State Teachers Association members discussed a variety of issues with the state board representative, including the scope of bargaining, teacher licensure, vocational education, special education, and other teacher concerns. Jim Raley, president of GCTA, noted that meeting with state board members is one way MSTA is keeping public education a priority concern in Maryland. Pictured left to right above are Mrs. Cushwa, Raley, Cheryl Henderson, past GCTA president, and Shari DeWitt, GCTA vice president.

Maryland Crews Home Following Idaho Firefighting

Two Maryland firefighting crews returned to the state last weekend following two weeks of assistance to the US Forest Service in Idaho. Crews were comprised of 26 staff from the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) Forest, Park and Wildlife Service (FPWS) as well as 11 volunteer firemen. All qualified for membership on firefighting crews with annual testing for physical fitness as well as training in firefighting and fire behavior. Most of the FPWS staff are foresters. Under terms of the cooperative agreement between the State of Maryland and the US Forest Service, crews may be sent to render assistance in emergency situations affecting federal lands.

Maryland crews rallied at the Madonna fire equipment center in Harford County on Sunday, July 30, and then travelled on to Boise and the fireline in Payette National Forest — the Steamboat fire. As of mid-week last week, they were assisting with a nearly 7,000-acre fire. Crews returned to Madonna early Saturday morning, August 12.

Alan Zentz, serving as agency crew coordinator for the firefighting efforts, returned to Maryland earlier this week. He directed the efforts of seven crews, including the two from Maryland. The resident of Rising Sun is the regional fire manager for the central region.

Jim Badders, a resident of Pylesville, departed Maryland on Friday, July 28 to serve as medical unit leader. He remains in Idaho. Badders is on the staff of the Harford Project of FPWS.

Despite the difficult terrain, during their two weeks in Idaho the crews sustained minimal injuries. Zentz reported that the crews assisted with line construction and other duties on the Steamboat, Zena Creek and Wangdoodle fires.

REAL ESTATE

BY ROBERT HUEBNER

ONE IS ENOUGH!

When you are ready to buy a home, how many real estate agents should you use - one, three, five? A recent survey showed that 79 out of every 100 buyers use only one or two agents. But, perhaps, the correct answer is one and only one! Here's why.

It's important to understand that real estate agents are business-people with a very special talent. That talent is the ability to determine the needs of their homebuyers, then ferret out and identify specific homes which meet those needs, and help the homebuyers complete the purchase of the home of their dreams.

Thus, success as a real estate professional is contingent upon serving the homebuyer's needs, offering a wide selection of homes from which to choose, and being able to provide a wealth of knowledge in areas such as financing, construction, taxation, etc.

Secondly, once such a dependable sales agent is located, the need for a second one vanishes into thin air. After all, how many homes will a typical buyer purchase?

Take whatever time is necessary to locate that "right" agent in the beginning, before you begin house-hunting. When interviewing an agent, question their success, and assure yourself that you'll be receiving only top quality service. Then put them to work for you - exclusively!

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303, or drop by our office in the McHenry Plaza.

Summer Youth Employment And Training Program Aids 135 Students

Through the efforts of various governmental agencies, municipalities, and local businesses, 135 local 14- and 15-year-old students received employment, training, and educational classes this summer, according to John Ledden, director of the Summer Youth Employment and Training Program (SYETP) for the Garrett County Board of Education.

The program is a joint effort between the Board of Education's Office of Career Employability Education Office and the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), with funding coming from the Private Industry Council of the Western Maryland Consortium.

Out of the 135 students, 101 participated in the regular SYETP, working at 65 different job sites throughout the county. Among those locations were the towns of Accident, Oakland, Deer Park, Grantsville, and Friendsville, Herrington Manor, Deep Creek, and New Germany state parks, Southern, Broad Ford, Southern Middle, Northern Middle, Bloomington, Kitzmiller, and Northern High schools, the Promotion Council office, the Garrett County Animal Shelter, the Ruth Enlow Library, and the Courthouse.

The Learning Alertness Program, a component of SYETP, consisted of 34 youth — 23 from the southern area of the county and 11 from the northern area — who received job training. Emphasis was stressed in the area of instruction during the morning sessions and work experience on community projects in the afternoon. Among the projects were the clearing of brush to begin a hike and bike trail that will eventually encircle Broadford Lake, constructing a rail fence at New Germany State Park, and constructing a drainage ditch at Herrington Manor State Park.

Remedial training was offered to all eligible youth in the program who had not yet passed the functional math, reading, and/or citizenship tests required for high school graduation. Eleven enrollees were identified as needing the remedial training and ultimately four of them passed the math test, one the reading test, and one the citizenship test.

All enrollees were offered the opportunity to participate in the training aspect of the program by selecting a business in which they were interested. Sixteen field trip sites were also selected, among which were Westvaco, Bausch & Lomb, TDEC, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Micro-Integration, Cumberland Airlines, Naylor's Hardware, Beitzel Welding, Hugga Bunch Day Care, Beachy Lumber Company, G.W. Lumber, American Burger Center, Grantsville Ford, McDonald's in Oakland, Team One, and Rainbow Cottage Day Care.

The youth were paid minimum wages and the average earned by each participant was $697 for the summer. "This represented 27,180 manhours of community service," Ledden said.

The total funding through a JTPA grant brought $153,860 into Garrett County's economy, he added.

Worksite supervisors who were given special recognition for their extra work with the program included Dennis Shaffer and Roger Riley, of Herrington Manor State Park; Linda Swauger, Northern High School; Mary DeWitt, Camp Hickory; Bob Martin, Southern Middle School; Zack Gibson, Broadford Park; Rebecca Glotfelty, Community Action Office; Richard DeWitt, Broad Ford Elementary School; Charlie Paugh, Kitzmiller Elementary School; and Jeff Twigg, New Germany State Park.

"These supervisors were selected for special recognition because they did those extra things that made the experience for these young people a very enjoyable and valuable learning experience," Ledden said.

Others involved with the program included: Sue Shockey, head of the JTPA office; Janna Naylor, chairman of the Pri-ate Industry Council; Elmer ledinger, lead field advisor; Gail Dixon, secretary; Douglas Oxford, Brad Yoder, Kent Huber, and Sheila Miller, field advisors; Michelle Gnegy, Gary Reichenbecher, and Harry Biggs, Learning Alertness instructors; Bonnie Swyter, counselor; Sam ichaels, bus driver; and Tom ent, remediation/training structor.

Meeting Slated On Preventative Maintenance Plan

A public meeting will be held onday, August 28, at Allegany ommunity College, Cumberand, to clarify proposed regulations and obtain suggestions relating to Maryland's Preventive Maintenance (PM) program for trucks, buses and trailers. The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be conducted by the Maryland State Police and the Maryland Department of Transportation. Allegany Community College is located on Willow Brook Road.

The new program, designed to improve safety on Maryland roadways, requires extensive vehicle examination and complete, well-documented record-keeping. Commercial vehicle owners must inspect, maintain, and repair the vehicles at least every 12 months or 25,000 miles, whichever occurs first.

As of January 1, 1990, commercial vehicles must comply with the requirements of Maryland's PM program before the Motor Vehicle Administration will issue a new, validated registration.

The PM requirement applies to the following vehicles registered in Maryland: Class E truck with registered operating gross vehicle weight of over 10,000 pounds, Class F tractor, Class G freight trailer or freight semi-trailer, and Class P passenger bus.

The Maryland State Police and other agencies will enforce the new regulations through interminal reviews, audits and roadside inspections.

Copies of the proposed regulations covering the PM program are available from the Division of State Documents at (301) 974-2486. There is a $3 fee for single copies, plus $2 for postage. The $5 check should be made payable to the Maryland Register and mailed to P.O. Box 802, Annapolis, Maryland 21404.

For more information about the PM program, persons may call the Maryland Department of Transportation at 1-800-543-4564 or the Maryland State Police Motor Carrier Safety Unit at (301) 247-6641.

Frostburg State Expecting Nearly 5,000 Students

Riding high on a spectacular summer that brought hundreds of tourists, students and scholars from around the world to its campus, Frostburg State University is now readying for what will be an all-time record fall opening. University officials are predicting an overall headcount, including the FSU Center in Hagerstown, to reach nearly 5,000 students, up some seven percent from last year. The campus opens residence halls August 27 and classes begin August 30.

Aside from coming to the campus in record numbers, students are also expected to be among FSU's brightest and most diverse in terms of geographic hometown. The projected student body includes a record 400 transfer students as well as a record number of international students. At least 13 foreign nations such as Nicaragua, Greece, Malawi and the Philippines have sent students to study at FSU, according to admissions officials.

Across the country, FSU has attracted students from 22 different states, another record. Though mostly from the eastern seaboard states, students this year also hail from California, Wyoming, North Dakota, Missouri, Illinois, Mississippi and Washington.

From Maryland's three westernmost counties, the University has enrolled some 33 percent of its total student population and another 37 percent from the Washington metropolitan counties of Anne Arundel, Charles, Frederick, Howard, Montgomery, and Prince Georges. The Baltimore area accounts for another 10 percent.

Ever since the institution achieved university status in 1987 and assumed a new direction as Western Maryland's regional state university under President Herb. R. Reinhard, FSU has actively sought more and brighter students. Aggressive recruiting coupled with the University's increasing progress and dramatic growth has in turn led to not only annual record jumps in enrollment but, according to Dr. Reinhard, "increasing selectivity."

In past years, FSU typically accepted over 90 percent of its freshmen applicants; last year accepted only 59 percent, and this fall, offered admission to 64 percent of the freshmen who applied. "What has happened," explained Dr. Reinhard, "is that FSU is examining a more qualified pool of applicants, in terms of higher SAT scores and also is seeing fewer marginal students seeking admission. High school guidance counselors, now aware of FSU's admissions selectivity, steer more talented and fewer borderline candidates to our University."

The average SAT score, for example, (one of FSU's admissions criteria) has jumped 25 points since last year and 43 points in the last two years. As the campus has attracted better students, its retention rate has also improved with fewer students being placed on academic probation.

Because of simple economics, Frostburg State University is also popular with students and their parents in and outside of Maryland. Reinhard told the University of Maryland System Board of Regents last week, "FSU has the lowest tuition and mandatory fees of any four year institution of higher education in Maryland." He also pointed out that a Pennsylvania out-of-state student, at FSU, would pay about $3,389 in annual tuition and fees, which is less than he would pay as a Pennsylvania resident at any one of the 20 Penn State campuses. The president, in Baltimore outlining FSU's mission statement to the Board of Regents, reported, "students that formerly would choose James Madison University or one of the Penn State campuses, often now select Frostburg State University."

Garrett County History Course Offered By GCC

Garrett County Then and Now (DS 185), a course on the history of Garrett County, will be offered by Garrett Community College on Thursday evenings during the fall semester, beginning September 7.

According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, the course is designed to interest both longtime residents and newcomers to the county. It will trace the history of geographic areas — the Potomac and Youghiogheny basins, the National Pike and Grantsville, Oakland and Crellin, Deer Park and Mt. Lake Park. It will also present history through a sociological perspective, including the development of the railroad, the mining and lumbering industries, recreation, medicine, education, law and moonshining, and the history of the Amish and Mennonite settlements.

Local historian and instructor of the course, Mary Love, plans to feature a guest speaker who has expertise about a certain area or topic at each session. Many of these speakers will illustrate their presentations with artifacts, slides and tapes.

As in the past, Ms. Love plans for the course to meet at various places throughout the county so that students may visit the areas being studied. Tentative plans have been made for the class to meet at the Log Church, Mercy Chapel, Penn Alps, and the Mt. Lake Park town hall. The first session will meet at the college, where students will be given a schedule of future classes.

This Garrett County History course is one of the Beacon courses that have been planned to interest the adult part-time student, and it can be taken for two academic credits, or as a non-credit offering. Tuition will be waived for persons 60 years of age or older.

Anyone desiring further information about the course or the tuition fee should call Mrs. Crawford or the Registrar's Office at 387-6666. Students may register for the course at the Registrar's Office any day during business hours.

Benefit Yard Sale Sponsor Seeks Donations

As the new school year begins, families in Garrett County have a special opportunity to tidy up at home and, at the same time, help homeless families across the country by contributing items large and small to The Great American Yard Sale.

Sponsored by A&A Realty/Better Homes and Gardens, The Great American Yard Sale will be held at McHenry Fairgrounds during Oktoberfest on September 16 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Donated items of all kinds can be dropped off at the fairgrounds between 1 and 5 p.m. on Friday, September 8, and Friday, September 15. Persons should call for other arrangements. Proceeds from the sale will go to The Better Homes Foundation, the nation's only organization specifically dedicated to helping homeless families.

"We hope everyone in the community will participate," said Patty Manown, director of marketing, A&A Realty/Better Homes and Gardens. "The Great American Yard Sale will be taking place at the same time in more than 135 cities and towns across the country. We're sponsoring the sale because we believe every American family should have a home. There are homeless families all across the country. These families have more than 500,000 children — more than half of them under age five. It's really a terrible situation, and we know that people here in Garrett County would like to help these unfortunate kids. This is a great way to do it."

Manown explained that The Better Homes Foundation provides services to homeless families through local community organizations and service providers. Rather than simply providing emergency shelter or food, The Foundation's mission is to address the long-term problems of homeless families and to help get them back on their feet and on their own again. The Foundation is epecially sensitive to the many needs of the children of these families. In addition to helping find housing and jobs, The Foundation supports such vital services as preschool programs: medical, dental, vision and hearing services for children; recreational and tutoring services for children; and job training, counseling and parenting workshops for parents.

The Foundation was founded in 1988 by Better Homes and Gardens magazine. According to Editor-in-Chief David Jordan, the magazine's readers have contributed $1 million to the effort since last Christmas. "Our idea in setting up this separate, non-profit foundation was to find a way for families with homes to help families without homes. It's a combined effort that unites public and private resources, professionals and volunteers, companies, families and individuals — all addressing this growing national problem. If we all help, we can begin to turn this situation around," he said.

A&A Realty/Better Homes and Gardens is a member of Better Homes and Gardens Real Estate Service, a national network of over 650 real estate firms and more than 25,000 licensed sales associates.

The Real Estate Service is an operating group of Meredith Corporation, a Fortune 500 diversified media company based in Des Moines, Iowa. The corporation's flagship publication is Better Homes and Gardens magazine. In addition to its real estate marketing/franchising operation, Meredith has operations in magazine and book publishing, commercial printing and broadcasting.

Md. State Fair To Begin Aug. 26 In Timonium

The 108th Maryland State Fair in Timonium will begin on August 26 and run until September 4, with exhibits from all over the state on display.

The fair dates back to the Lutherville Fair that was held in 1878. That year the fair was held on a four-acre lot by the Baltimore Agricultural Society. However, the extension of the North Central Railroad doomed the Lutherville Fair, but paved the way for the Maryland State Fair. The Baltimore County Agricultural Society then leased a 37-acre plot, in June 1879, that was a part of the Timonium Estates.

The North Central Railroad delivered passengers several times each day to the Timonium location that year and continued the service through the 1890s. The "Maryland Journal" that year reported on the "stalwart lads, bonnie lasses, gray beards and buxom matrons" who attended the fair when it opened on September 9. That year, a schedule of exhibits, contests, parades, side shows, races, oratory and Tournament of Knights highlighted the show. Farm Equipment companies displayed their most modern hay loaders, farm wagons, reapers, self-binders and loaders to a marveled public.

A plowing contest and an oxen working tournament challenged the skill of farmers and piqued the interest of city folk. Over the next few years, more and higher quality exhibits were introduced to the fair. A new exhibition hall allowed for even more displays.

Eventually, the Maryland Jockey Club of Pimlico gained control over this Timonium Fair and the Maryland State Fair was born.

This year, modern fairgoers will be able to sample some of Maryland's finest foods, take in home art exhibits, see livestock presentations, agricultural demonstrations, enjoy midway thrills and watch horse racing.

And, of course, the fair has grown some from its humble beginnings. What was once a fair that only covered four acres of land now covers more than 100 acres.

The 10-day event will feature food fresh from Maryland farms at the Maryland Foods Pavilion. Cooking demonstrations of pork, eggs, fruits and vegetables, lamb, seafood, poultry and beef grown on Maryland farms will be highlighted each day of the fair at the pavilion. There will also be demonstrations on wine and grapes, dairy products and honey as well.

Also this year, the fairgoer will be able to enjoy interesting exhibits and shows including the traditional Great Peach Pie Contest. At this show, Maryland residents over 14 can enter their best "from scratch" pies. In addition to the pie contest, Maryland residents can compete in three new tournaments this year.

First is the Miniature Quilt Contest, where anyone 14 and over can enter a 15" by 13" quilt with an original or copy pattern design. The Company's Comin' Fancy Apron Contest will allow people of all ages to use their creativity in designing a fancy apron. Finally, there's the Queen's Cookie Sampler where contestants will be required to bake a cookie assortment of at least six different kinds and display them in a decorated box. The cookies must be ready to be presented to the 1989 Maryland State Fair Farm Queen.

Of course there will be the traditional produce, home art, baked goods and candy, farm and garden, Christmas tree, livestock and flower entries this year, as well as 4-H and FFA exhibits.

The 1989 Maryland Farm Queen will be crowned on Sunday, August 27. The queen will be from one of Maryland's 23 counties and will receive a scholarship worth up to $2,000. Each contestant must spontaneously answer a "fish bowl" question, either related to career issues or specific farming problems. Poise, communication skills and civic involvement are secondary requirements. Garrett County's own Farm Queen, Rebecca DeBerry, will take part in the state contest.

One of the more unique and unusual events will be the 1989 Costume Animal Contest, where 4-H members will have the opportunity to dress up their livestock. Previously "Cow Ripkin," "The California Raisin Calf" and "A Prime Ballerina Sheep" graced this event.

Another interesting game will occur when WCAO radio and the Maryland Pork Producers Association will sponsor the fourth annual Husband Calling Contest, Pig-Out and Hoe Down on September 2 at the Swine Show Ring. Any wife who knows how to call her husband home for dinner is encouraged to enter.

Lonaconing Hosts Miller, Coleman, Warnick Reunion

The Second Annual Miller-Coleman-Warnick Family Reunion was held recently at Pavilion 3, Dan's Mountain State Park, Lonaconing. The park site is situated on land originally owned by Revolutionary War soldiers Christopher Miller and John Coleman, who were deeded the land in exchange for military services during that war.

Approximately 115 descendants of the soldiers and a later Christopher Miller and his first and second wives, Mary Jane Warnick Miller and Sara Jane Bittinger Miller, along with guests of the descendants, were present. Represented were the states of Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Hosting the covered dish affair were Mildred Pesek, Omaha, Neb.; Gertrude Mae Smith, Klamath Falls, Ore.; Regis Bittinger, Cumberland; and Elizabeth Reed and June Ambrose, Lonaconing.

Joseph J. Krumpach, mayor of Lonaconing, welcomed the group. Douglas Ambrose, Temple Hills, gave the invocation.

The attendees participated in games, swimming, dancing, and a "getting to know you" session. Entertainment was furnished by Pete Bray and his Senior Squares Square Dancers. The children were entertained by Douglas Ambrose and Pamela McNamee of Agape Puppets.

Special prizes for various categories were won by: oldest male, Ralph Reed, Lonaconing, (90); oldest female, Nellie Miller, Avilton and Margaret Arnold, Lonaconing, (both 89); longest married, Elizabeth and Ralph Reed; newest married, Carol and Benny Miller, Barton, and Mary JoAnn Eslora, San Antonio, Tex.; oldest teenage boy, Christopher Riffey, Brentwood, N.Y.; oldest teenage girl, Pamela McNamee, Camp Springs; newest parents and youngest child, Pamela and Richard Bennett Sr., and Richard (R.J.) Jr., Lonaconing; most grandchildren, Harold Miller, Tiffin, Ohio; longest distance traveled, Gertrude Mae Smith, Klamath Falls, Ore.; largest family present, Nellie Miller, (nine members covering five generations); tallest person, Robert Molyett, Attica, Ohio; and next birthday after the reunion, Mildred Bittinger, Grantsville.

Following the special awards, Pete Bray, assisted by Jennifer Giroux, Pontiac, Mich., distributed approximately 50 door prizes.

A short business meeting was conducted by Regis Bittinger, Cumberland. A special presentation was made to Elizabeth Reed who originated the idea for the first family gathering in 1989. Because of the success of the reunions, it was agreed that the event should be held on an annual basis, and that the third event would be held Saturday, July 14, 1990, at Dan's Mountain State Park. The confirmed date will be announced and published in January. The reunion will also start earlier in the day and last longer into the afternoon.

A committee was appointed to plan the 1990 event. Chaired by Elizabeth Reed, the committee members are Regis Bittinger, June Ambrose, Leah Miller, Doreen Miller, and Helen Lemon.

Plans were made for the compilation of a family registry of all Christopher Miller descendants, with names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Also, everyone was asked to notify the committee of any births, deaths, marriages, retirements, honors, graduations, etc., throughout the year. This list will be published in next year's program folder. The information may be mailed to Elizabeth Reed, chairperson, Reunion Planning Committee, 30 West Main Street, Lonaconing, MD, 21539; telephone (301) 463-5885.

Goldstein Notes New Tax Kit For Businesses

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says it happens 15,000 times a year. That's how often the comptroller's Sales and Use Tax Division sends a sales tax license to a new business. "Now we are sending those new businesses a complete sales tax kit to help them through the maze of calculating, collecting and sending in the sales taxes they collect for the state," he said.

Along with their licenses the businesses will receive the kit in the form of a handy file folder, encouraging them to keep all sales tax materials together.

"The kit type format is handy, and it consolidates a wealth of information to help vendors collect the tax properly — neither overcharging their customers nor failing to collect taxes required by law," Goldstein said. "Taxpayer education always pays off in the long run. People make fewer mistakes, and they all pay their fair share of the tax burden."

Business experts also commend the new tax kit and praised the comptroller's efforts to simplify the tax filing process for businesses.

"Maryland's new sales tax kit will be especially helpful to small businesses and for those who are new to the retail or manufacturing sector," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of Economic and Employment Development.

Miles Cole, director of business affairs for the Maryland Chamber of Commerce, said, "These businesses need all the help they can get. It's a great step forward to make the maze of regulations understandable."

The new tax kit is the result of an outgoing study of errors made on sales tax returns and feedback from businesses, "It's all designed to make the process easier for them," Goldstein said.

The kit contains: the taxpayer's individual filing schedule, tax returns they must file, rate charts, annual update of sales and use tax laws, and a series of helpful Tax Tip publications to help businesses collect the tax and file returns properly.

The tax tips, addressing specific sales tax issues, explain how to prepare a return, what records a business needs to keep, how to handle out-of-state purchases, sales that are not subject to the tax, and special situations such as the sale of food.

Christmas Tree Growers Convene In Cecil County

One hundred ninety-five Christmas Tree growers met at and toured the Pine Valley and Cherry Grove Christmas Tree Farms in Cecil County, Friday and Saturday, July 28 and 29. Growing trees, marketing them and the proper use of herbicides and pesticides were the main topics at the meeting.

At meetings hosted by William and Sylvia Underwood of the Pine Valley Christmas Tree Farm, participants reviewed and discussed herbicide practices and heard Professor Frank Gouin of the University of Maryland update the list of approved herbicides and discuss the controlling of weeds in coniferous seed and transplant beds. Dr. John Davidson of the University discussed the future of pesticides, warning the group, "pesticides are more and more difficult to use," but cautioned his listeners against "panicking."

Saturday afternoon the group travelled to the Cherry Grove Farm for a tour and an opportunity to study marketing techniques. By new and unique marketing methods, Richard and Paul Montgomery "have built a Christmas tree business that brings customers to their farm from New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and all of Maryland."

Quality trees, with fair prices, were also stressed at the meeting. Christmas trees are grown in Maryland on farms ranging from the Eastern Shore to Garrett County. Additional information regarding the Christmas tree industry in Maryland may be had by calling (301) 256-5595, or by writing to MCTA, Box 314, Perry Hall, Maryland 21128.

THE REPRINTED VOLUMES of "Garrett County — A History of Maryland's Tableland", are currently for sale at the Garrett County Historical Society Museum, the branches of the Ruth Enlow Library, and at various bookstores throughout the county. Pictured above is Stephen Schlosnagle, author, with a reprinted copy of the book. Several additions were made for the reprinting, including a map of Garrett County.

Reprinted Version Of County Book Now Available

The reprinted volumes of "Garrett County — A History of Maryland's Tableland," by Stephen Schlosnagle, have arrived at the Garrett County Historical Society Museum in Oakland.

The re-print is the second publication completed by the society within a year. Capt. Hoye's "Pioneer Families of Garrett County" was published and put on sale in December.

The first edition of the book was published in 1978. Both are printed by the McClain Printing Company, Parsons, W.Va., and the "printer's pages" of the text survived the flood of 1985, which destroyed many of McClain's manuscript files.

During the years following the printing of the first edition, the society has received a number of suggestions for improvement if the book were ever reprinted. Although some were impractical from a financial standpoint, many of the suggestions have been used in the new edition.

One suggestion was for the inclusion of a Garrett County map, and permission was given by the Garrett County Promotion Council to reprint the map which is folded into their publications. A spokesman for the society said, "The Garrett County Historical Society extends its thanks to the Promotion Council for their generosity in allowing the map to be used."

The book is currently on sale at the museum, branches of the Ruth Enlow Library, and various bookstores throughout the county, and costs $20.

The book can be mailed to the purchaser for an additional postage and handling fee of $2. Anyone wishing to purchase the book by mail should sent a check or money order to Mrs. Randall R. Kahl; Route 4, Box 89; Deer Park.

Pipes And Drums Course To Be Given At GCC

An opportunity to learn to play the Scottish bagpipes and drums and to become a member of a performing unit is being offered to all interested persons through the Instrumental Music-Pipes and Drums course scheduled to meet again at Garrett Community College on Wednesday evenings during the fall semester.

According to Fred A. Thayer, instructor of the course, it is not necessary for prospective students to have their own instruments, or to have had any previous musical experiences. "We welcome anyone who has and interest," Thayer stated. "We work with beginners for the first hour, then those who have piping and drumming experience join in. People from many different backgrounds come to the class, and we are always looking for new pipes and drummers."

Students in the class become members of the Garrett Community College Pipes and Drums, a colorful group that has performed as the Garrett Highlanders at a number of local events, including the college commencement, opening ceremonies for Whitewater Championships, the Highland Festival in McHenry, and the Garrett County Fair. The group will also appear in the Autumn Glory Festival parade in October.

Persons may enroll in the Pipes and Drums course for one credit per semester, or as a non-credit offering. Anyone desiring further information about the course may call Judge Thayer at 334-1934.

The class will meet in the new music room of the college on Wednesdays at 7 p.m., beginning September 6. Students may register at the Registrar's Office during regular business hours.

A Birthday Remembrance
For Our Beloved Son

TERRY WAKEFIELD

who would have celebrated his birthday
August 27

It's been almost a year since God called you home. It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone, for part of us went with you on that early morn. Your smiling face and loving heart is a memory that will never be forgotten. Time goes on and the memories linger, and I thank God for all the good times we shared. We know some day we will be with you up there. It makes our parting a little easier to bear.

If you want to use commercial fertilizer, animal wastes or sludge more efficiently to grow your crops, and also improve your farm's profitability and protect Maryland's water quality, the solution may be a University of Maryland nutrient management plan. Farmers can learn about these nutrient plans by attending the Western Maryland Ag Field Day Sept. 7.

The University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Agriculture, now offers a nutrient management program to help farmers precisely and effectively use nutrients from a variety of sources.

"Up to one-third of the money invested in growing crops is spent on fertilizer," said Mitch Woodward, a nutrient management specialist for the University of Maryland. This nutrient management program can help farmers save on fertilizer costs by taking full advantage of nutrients in commercial fertilizers, manure or sludge.

Also, proper application and efficient use of fertilizers reduce the risk of nutrient losses due to leaching or surface runoff, said Woodward. "We all pay the price when nutrients escape from cropland and contaminate ground water and wells, or pollute streams and other surface waters," he said.

A nutrient management plan provides field by field crop fertility recommendations that help farmers achieve maximum economic yields and provides good yearly records of crops and management decisions. Trained consultants answer questions, develop nutrient management plans, and provide personal assistance in collecting soil and manure samples for analysis and calibrating application equipment.

"So far, the 11 management plans implemented in Washington County have saved a total of $7,800 (an average of $21 an acre) for the farmers," said Woodward, who encouraged anyone interested in a farm nutrient management plan to attend the Western Maryland Ag Field Day.

Other research tour topics include low-input cropping systems, biological control of thistle, pest management alternatives in alfalfa production, an update on orchard research, and on-farm forestry and wildlife management in Western Maryland. The field day also offers farm equipment demonstrations, corn and soybean variety showcases, and displays of agricultural equipment, farm services and the University of Maryland agricultural programs.

A new addition to the field day, the Mid-Atlantic Fruit Variety Showcase/Tour, runs from 2:30 to 6 p.m. The traditional $1 hog roast starts at noon. The luncheon speaker is Dr. Archibald Park, Assistant Secretary for Animal Health and Consumer Services, representing Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr.

All events are open to the public. Luncheon reservations are due by August 31 and can be made by calling (301) 791-2298.

To find the Western Maryland Research and Education Center, exit Interstate 70 at Md. 65 near Hagerstown, proceed 7 miles south of Md. 65 and then turn left on Keedysville Road. The entrance is about one mile down Keedysville Road on the left.

The Western Maryland Ag Field Day is sponsored by the University of Maryland's Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension Service, and the Washington County Ag Demonstrators.

Swine Field Day Set For Sept. 9

The University of Maryland's annual Swine Field Day will be held Saturday, September 9, at the Central Maryland Research and Education Center's Swine Facility in Howard County.

Registration begins at 9:30 a.m. The $3.00 fee includes a roast pork sandwich lunch. Following registration, Penn State Extension Swine Specialist Dr. Ken Kephart will update carcass merit hog marketing systems, including the Hatfield System which he helped develop.

Dr. Kevin Cera, swine specialist from the University of Delaware will provide pointers on how to formulate the best performing weanling rations for the least cost. Dr. Rich Barczewski, University of Delaware Extension agent, then will show how to determine the actual cost of grinding and mixing swine feed on the farm.

Field day visitors may informally discuss specific production questions with agents and specialists during the luncheon. Visitors may also estimate the backfat thickness and weights of a group of hogs.

The afternoon session will begin with a demonstration of do-it-yourself backfat probing. Then, Dr. Tom Hartsock, University of Maryland Extension swine specialist will discuss the potential impact of the animal rights/animal welfare movement on the swine industry. The field day will end with group tours of swine facility research projects.

Additional information and copies of the program can be obtained by calling the Garrett County Extension Service at 334-1990.

The Central Maryland Research and Education Center's Swine Facility is located at 5241 Folly Quarter Road, west of Ellicott City and northeast of Clarksville.

FFA TEAM TAKES SECOND PLACE — The Oakland FFA Forestry Team placed second in the Annual Maryland FFA Forestry Contest held on Tuesday, July 19, at Allegany Community College in Cumberland. The first-place banner went to the Clear Spring FFA Chapter. The Allegany Community College Forestry Program annually hosts the contest which is sponsored by Westvaco, inc. as a special project of the Maryland FFA Foundation. According to Contest Superintendent Dr. William Cones, forestry professor at Allegany Community College, there were five FFA teams registered with 20 FFA members participating. The contest consisted of a 50 question multiple choice test designed to test the contestant's knowledge and understanding of basic principles of forestry, a forest business management problem designed to determine the contestant's ability to apply economic principles and management concepts, a tree identification and an equipment identification exercise, and several practicums such as tree measurement, timber cruising, evaluation for timber stand improvement, compass utilization, and chainsaw troubleshooting. The second-place team will travel to the Eastern Regional Contest in Springfield, Mass., in September for additional competition. The Oakland Team members, pictured left to right, are: Brian Friend, who placed ninth individually and received a silver medal; Richard McCrobie, who placed fourth individually and received a gold medal; and Elaine DeBerry, the eighth placed individual and a silver medal winner.

Feed Value Down In Hay

There is no question that the constant rainfall here in the county, causing delayed harvesting, has lowered the nutritional value. The more mature the hay gets the less the feed quality. Next winter it is going to take more hay to meet the nutritional needs of cattle. For dry cows and heifers this may not be too much of a problem. It's a different story for the lactating cow. In all likelihood she will not be able to consume enough of the low quality hay to meet her nutritional needs. If there is ever a time to have your forage analyzed, it is now!

Weekly Market Analysis —
By Hanson & Russell, University of MD

Rain continues to play an important role in determining the price of corn and soybeans this summer, but more so for soybeans. Soybeans are at their maximum water usage period and rain is critical for yields. Last Thursday's Crop Report reduced yield estimates for both crops. Corn production is now expected to be 49% higher, not 53% higher, than last year's drought-reduced production of 4.92 billion bushels. As expected, corn and soybean prices were significantly higher on Friday. Most of this grain was lost on Monday from a wet weekend in the Midwest. Then on Tuesday, prices rebounded over concerns about low subsoil moisture. The sum effect of this erratic price behavior over the past week shows that the price gains for corn are far more substantial than soybeans. With wet weather, corn prices have tended to hold steady while soybean prices drop significantly. It would seem that corn has established a bottom and is now trending higher. Soybeans, however, do not seem to follow.

WIC Program

planning. After learning about successful farmers' market coupon programs in Connecticut and Massachusetts, Dr. Vega began exploring the possibility of establishing a similar project in Maryland. She approached WIC officials, who were enthusiastic but lacked sufficient funds.

Passage of the Hunger Prevention Act of 1988 made establishment of the project possible, MCES, MDA, MDHMH, and the Maryland Food Committee applied for — and received — funding from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to conduct a three-year pilot project. Federal funds were augmented by contributions from MDA and MDHMH.

While the other participating agencies handle organizational and administrative functions, MCES provides educational materials and instruction on the importance of fruits and vegetables, conducts pre- and post-project surveys, promotes the use of farmers' markets and recruits families for its Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP). Although the emphasis is on reaching low-income Marylanders, nutrition education is offered to all interested consumers, according to Dr. Maria de Colon, coordinator of Maryland's EFNEP efforts.

"Extension home economists and EFNEP aides have taught many people about the nutritional value of fruits and vegetables — at both the coupon distribution sites and at the farmers' markets. They provide information and publications to anyone who wants them," she said.

At the Takoma Park Farmers' Market, this information — both verbal and written — is provided in Spanish as well as English to accommodate the area's large Hispanic population.

"Our goal is to communicate the nutritional value of fruits and vegetables to all consumers," de Colon explained.

The agents and aides also have enrolled many new EFNEP clients — more than 50 in Anne Arundel County alone.

The largest federally funded nutrition education program in the United States, EPNEP was established by USDA to help low-income families improve their diets by teaching them the essentials of good nutrition and the skills involved in food purchasing and preparation. It is administered jointly by federal and state Extension Services.

The following farmers' markets are participating in the Maryland WIC Farmers' Market Demonstration Project:

Anne Arundel County, Anne Arundel County Farmers' Market, Annapolis Farmers' Market; Baltimore City, Baltimore Farmers' Market, Urbantown Farmers' Market; Charles County, Waldorf Farmers' Market; Dorchester County, Dorchester County Farmers' & Watermen's Market; and Garrett County, Mountain Fresh Farmers' Market.

For more information about specific farmers' markets, call your local Extension office.

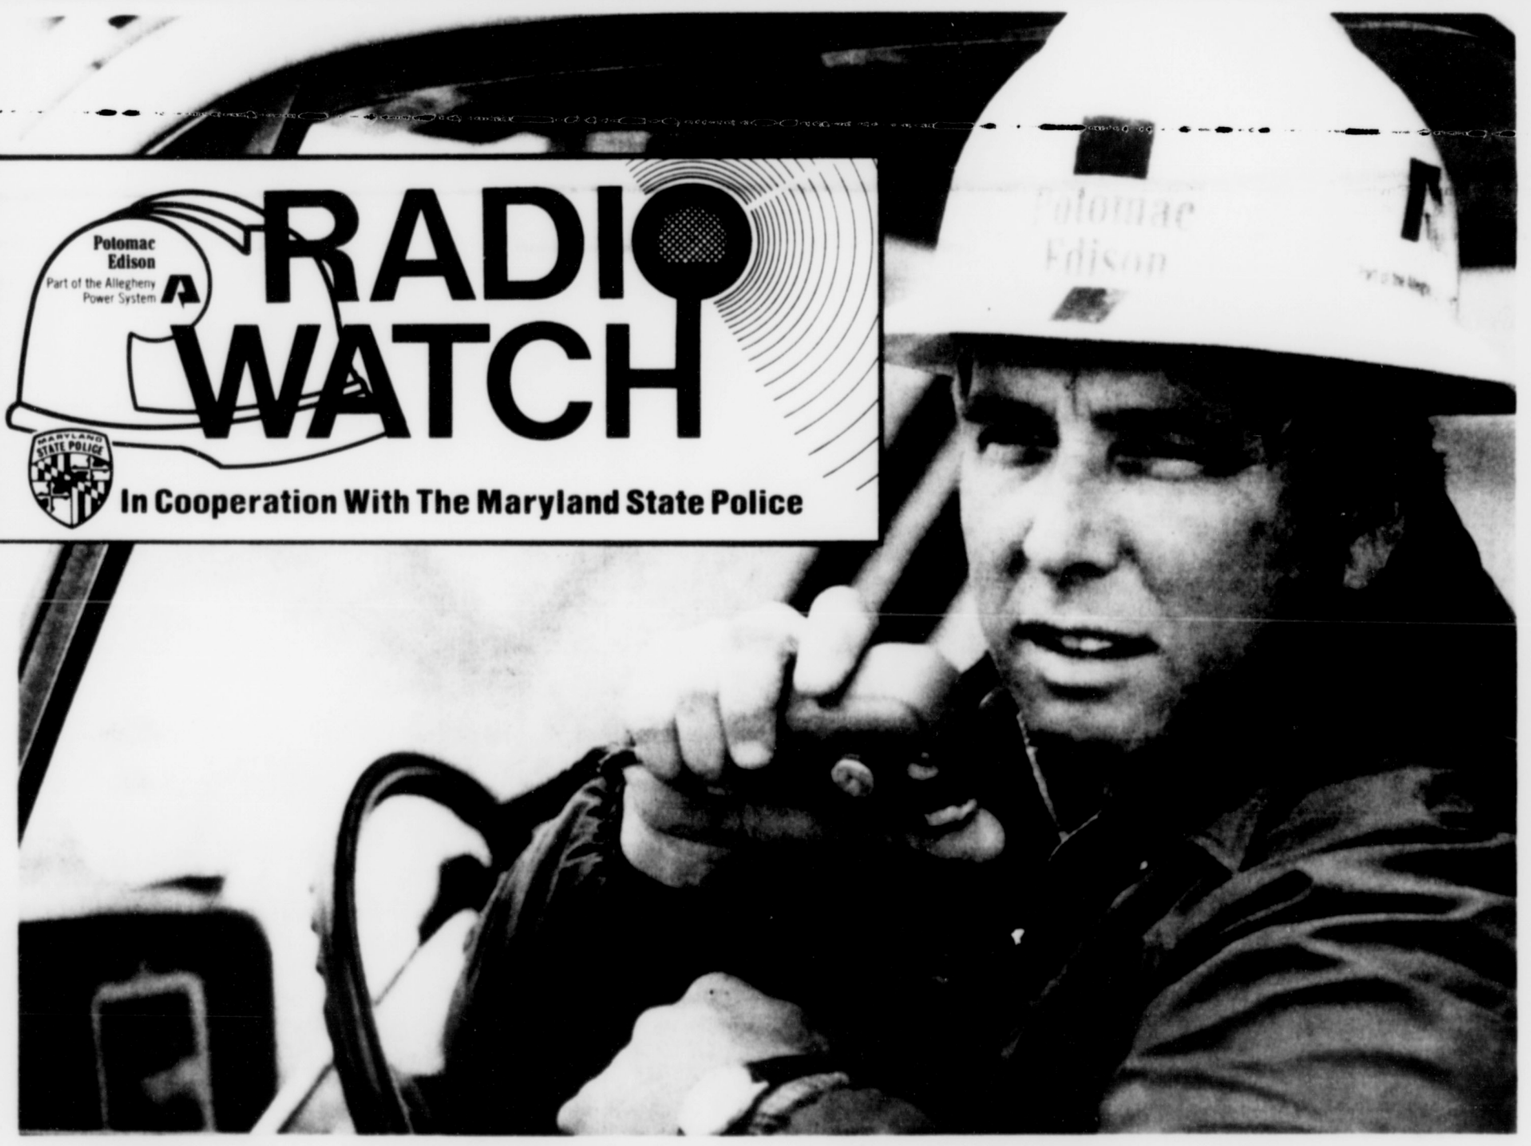
RADIO WATCH

In Cooperation With The Maryland State Police



We're Looking Out For You.

Smoke smudges the sky of an early morning. Quickly, two alert pairs of eyes follow the sinister trail to its source: the eaves of a row house. As if to punctuate the terror of the moment, flames suddenly burst through the windows of the second floor. Tragedy seems imminent. But on this day, happily, tragedy is averted.

For the two pairs of eyes belonged to two Potomac Edison employees, on their way to a routine service call. Acting under the guidelines of Potomac Edison's Radio Watch program, the employees used their truck radio to notify their base station operator of the emergency. The operator, in turn, notified the Fire Department which arrived in plenty of time to prevent serious property damage and--most importantly--potential injuries or deaths.

Radio Watch was created to report emergencies and hazardous situations in the areas we service as quickly as possible by using our widespread mobile communications network.

What makes us most proud, though, is that our employees are willing to get involved. So when we say we're looking out for you, we are. We all are.

Because at Potomac Edison, that's our commitment: to make life a little safer today--and tomorrow.

Monies Approved To Fund African Festival At FSU

With the recent approval of grant money by the Maryland Humanities Council (NEH), the over $46,000 funding package for the upcoming celebration of African culture at Frostburg State University is complete, noted Dr. Paul LaChance, director of the festival and a member of the FSU Department of English faculty.

"Africa! A Celebration of Human Spirit" will bring to Western Maryland the richness of African culture and heritage from September 20-30 through authentic dance, song, music, poetry, religion, film, philosophy and art. While the festival is centered at FSU, spin-off events are scheduled for the campuses of Allegany Community College and Garrett Community College and local Allegany County schools.

This final grant by MHC is joined by support from the Maryland State Arts Council (NEA), the Regional Education Service Agency of Western Maryland (RESA), Allegany Community College, the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, in cooperation with Garrett Community College, and Frostburg State University.

"We are grateful for this funding which was much needed in order to present the fullness and richness of African culture, both the arts and humanities," LaChance remarked.

The Festival of Africa follows two previous highly-successful major cultural festivals at FSU — the Festival of Japan in 1982 and the Festival of India in 1985. In writing the MHC grant application, LaChance noted the University is striving to expand its multi-cultural perspective, especially now since it continues to establish new international linkages. He emphasized that part of the festival's goal is to heighten awareness of the vital contributions Africa has made to world civilization.

Although the Festival of Africa's 10-day program presents many entertaining, informative and enlightening events, LaChance highlighted the appearances of Baba Olatunji, African drum master and storyteller; Pearl Primus, African dancer and storyteller; and Kon Kouran, a music and dance company, are "must sees."

He added that final preparations to bring the renowned Hugh Masekela in concert to the FSU Physical Education Complex are nearly complete. Masekela, a famed jazz guitarist and a writer, is scheduled to wrap up the festival with a performance on Saturday, September 30 at 8 p.m.

For additional information, persons may contact LaChance at (301) 689-4221.

Deep Creek Lake Level To Drop Five To Six Feet

Deep Creek Lake will be drawn down five to six feet to allow the shoreline along Rock Lodge Road to be protected against erosion, according to an announcement this week by the Pennsylvania Electric Company, owner of the lake.

The lake provides water for Penelec's Deep Creek hydro-electric generating station.

According to Dick Imler, manager of Penelec's Seward and Deep Creek stations, the gradual drawdown will begin September 5 and will be completed by October 16. A contractor then will construct a barrier reef, primarily of riprap, about 500 feet long in front of eight private properties. The job is expected to be completed late ir December.

$1130 Theft Under MSP Investigation

A breaking and entering theft with a loss value of $1130 is currently under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at McHenry.

James C. Defibaugh, Rockville, reported that someone entered his summer cottage between August 21 and 25. Access was gained by breaking a window.

Stolen items reportedly include a stereo with speakers, a microwave oven, an Atari game set with numerous cartridges, a telephone, and a wall clock.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is investigating, and reported that there are no suspects or witnesses in the case.

A breaking and entering theft was reported by Jack A. Rosenberger, Friendsville.

According to Tfc. G.R. Chaney, who is investigating, the residence was entered on August 24 between 7:45 a.m. and 5 p.m. Removed from the house were several guns and a color television set.

Two stereos and two speakers were reportedly removed from boats which were stored at D & W Storage. The victims were reported as Don P. Keller and Bill's Marine Service. Tfc. R.J. Resh is investigating.

The Country Flea Market reported a theft which occurred on Sunday night. A traffic signal-type sign was removed from the front of the establishment. Sgt. C.R. Smith is investigating.

A destruction of property incident occurred last Thursday night in the Grantsville area.

According to reports, someone damaged 100 cross-connect phone wires in four locations on the Avilton-Lonaconing Road, Swamp Road, Twin Churches Road and Hare Hollow Road.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater is investigating, and reported there are no suspects.

SHARK ATTACK? Although it appeared that these swimmers were being chased by a shark, in reality each was trying to record his or her fastest possible time in the second annual Best of the West Triathlon, held Saturday at Broadford Park. Nearly 250 athletes from hundreds of miles around participated in the event which featured swimming, cycling, and running competition. See Page 10-A for more photos and story. Oakland Visit Of Bloodmobile Nets 230 Pints

The Red Cross Bloodmobile made another successful trip to Oakland on Friday, as local donors contributed a total of 230 pints of blood, well in excess of the 175-pint quota for the visit.

According to Lucy Burnett, chairman of the Oakland donor program, there were 12 first-time donors among the 242 persons who presented themselves at the National Guard Armory.

She also announced that the Bloodmobile will now make four regular visits per year to Oakland instead of three visits as in the past.

A new program was also initiated Friday called the Red Cross Blood Donor VIP program, whereby donors make a commitment to give a pint of blood at least four times during the next year. The VIPs receive a special donor card and other forms of recognition for their pledge. Mrs. Burnett said that the VIP program was better received at the Oakland visit than in any other chapter in the Johnstown, Pa., region.

Persons who reached the one-gallon level of giving at the Friday visit were Sue Pagenhardt and Kathryn L. Savage, both of Oakland, Talan King, Friendsville, and Elsie Stemple, Aurora, W.Va. Those becoming two-gallon donors were Jean Wilson, Mtn. Lake Park, Charles Gordon, Horse Shoe Run, W.Va., and Wilma Petersheim, Oakland.

Larry Lucas and Steve Lichty, Oakland, and Lawrence Geer, Kitzmiller, became three-gallon donors and reaching the

Sheriff Reports WCI Sustains Loss From Theft

Over $3,000 in equipment owned by Whitewater Championships Inc. has been reported missing or stolen, according to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

According to Deputy David L. Crossland, the items disappeared from the Savage River racing site between June 26 and 28. The total value of lost or stolen items is estimated at $3,064. The following is a list of the missing items: a Stanley hammer, saber saw, bow saw, two plastic tarps, a Winco generator model no. DP4500/A, six 8-foot folding tables, 24 folding chairs, three large coolers, a ten-by-ten foot canopy, a bull horn, Black and Decker grinding machine, 14 folding cots, art exhibit hardware. Deputy Crossland has asked that anyone having information on any of these items to contact the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

The thefts of four firearms, including one antique rifle valued at $1,500 was reported recently to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department.

Gayle Walter Holler, Oakland, reported the disappearance of two rifles from his residence Sunday. He had reported the theft of two other rifles from a hunting cabin earlier this month. The stolen weapons include an antique Winchester Special 32 calibre Model 94 with lever action and notches in the stock. Also stolen were a Winchester Model 37, a Remington 222 rifle, and a Marlin 22 rifle. According to Deputys Gnegy and Crossland, there were no signs of forced entry in either case and the investigation is continuing.

Mineral Fabrication and Machine Company, Inc., Keyser, W.Va., suffered an estimated loss of $856 from a theft that occurred between June 18 and 21 at a Route 40 construction site one mile west of Grantsville. According to Deputy David L. Crossland, four sheets of Centinzal Panel, slate blue, and 14 sheets of Galvalume, gray, were removed from the site.

Eddie Fitzwater, Mountain Lake Park, reported the theft of his citizen's band radio valued at $75. According to Corporal Larry E. Gnegy, the item was

State Jobless Rate Decreases, County's Higher

Maryland's workforce grew to an all-time high of 2,566,639 people between May and June, when an estimated 63,491 persons joined the statewide labor pool, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED).

Even though there was a substantial increase in the workforce in June, with 49,681 more people employed, an additional 13,810 people were found unemployed. This month's increase in employment and unemployment, due primarily to the seasonal influx of students and summer workers, caused Maryland's jobless rate to rise to 4.3 percent from 3.9 percent.

Maryland's rise reflected the national trend as the U.S. employment rate rose from 5.0 to 5.5 percent. However, comparing June 1988 with June 1989, the U.S. unemployment rate remained unchanged at 5.5 percent, while Maryland's rate declined slightly from 4.6 to 4.3 percent.

Garrett County's jobless rate increased slightly, from 7.7 percent in May to 8.0 percent in June, but the June rate was significantly lower than the June 1988 rate of 9.5 percent. There were actually over 400 more persons employed in June than in May (12,432 to 12,010),

Air Force Major Discusses GWEN Tower Project

The United States Air Force held a meeting last Thursday evening at Garrett Community College to discuss plans for locating a Ground Wave Emergency Network (GWEN) tower near McHenry.

The GWEN tower is a relay station which will occupy approximately 11 acres and will include a 299 foot tower, guy wires, fences and three small shelters, which will be about the size of a pickup truck with a camper located on the bed of the truck.

The GWEN tower is an unmanned, automated data system which relays emergency and wartime messages among national command authorities, strategic military facilities such as radars and command posts, and Strategic Air Command bases. The communication systems ensure that messages reach top military leaders and operational forces.

The GWEN tower in McHenry is just one of 40 towers in the final phase of a 96 nationwide tower network to be constructed. The towers are located at 150-200 mile intervals. Two towers are already located in Hagerstown and Annapolis.

The tower is immune to the effects of an electro-magnetic pulse, which is what is generated if a nuclear device were to be detonated within 300 nautical miles of the United States. If such an event were to occur, conventional methods of communication would be impossible. The network of GWEN towers would continue to operate, enabling military leaders to receive messages.

"The Air Force is here to install a tower with the capability to fulfill the present needs to communicate with the strategic forces and to keep in touch with the National Command Authority," Major Robert T. Ranhofer, the Air Force representative, said. "The tower would be used in normal execution of messages back and forth between the commanders at the censor sites, the National Command Authority, as a means of communicating. It is designed to be immune to the effects of an electromagnetic pulse."

The Air Force has identified a search area over a 250 square mile site for the GWEN tower. The center of the site is in McHenry, which means that towns within a nine mile radius of McHenry could be considered as a location for the tower.

The 11 acre parcel of land must be level, have three-phase power and access to a paved road. Environmental impact concerns will be taken into consideration in the search for the site and the area will not be near recreational areas such as Deep Creek Lake, or near state parks, residential areas, landfills or airports.

"We try to work with the local people," Ranhofer said. "Cooperation between the Air Force and local residents is a most important factor here.

"This project will ultimately help the Air Force by providing secure communications during an electro magnetic pulsing

Local, State Officials Meet Tuesday To Discuss Gypsy Moth Solutions

The Garrett County Commissioners met with several officials on Tuesday to discuss possible solutions to the gypsy moth problem in Garrett County. Present at the meeting were Delegate George Edwards, Senator John Bambacus, David Cohen, state entomologist for the Department of Natural Resources; Robert Tichenor, head of the gypsy moth suppression program for the Department of Agriculture; Jim Simms, county extension agent and coordinator for the Gypsy Moth Task Force; and two citizens concerned with devastation on their land.

Bambacus said, "We're very concerned with the devastation in Garrett County, and we must deal with the problem next season, or there won't be another season. Plans must be made now for next spring. If we need to get to the governor, we must do so now."

Tichenor stated, "There is no question that more needs to be done, but we need to determine what is the most practical thing to do."

Tichenor noted that plans are not very firm yet for next year, and also pointed out that less funding is available than last year. He said, "That doesn't mean that nothing is in the works to correct this. This type of meeting is the type of feedback I need to give to the secretary."

Commissioner John Braskey noted that the county is looking at the possibility of creating its own spraying program for private land, and asked Tichenor if this would cause the state to discontinue the spraying of state-owned land. Tichenor noted that the question had not been raised before, but he felt that the state would continue the spraying program.

Braskey said that the county would want the state to keep their committment with the state lands, but allow the county to take the money that is normally used on the cost-share program with the state to create a cost-share program with the county landowners. This would allow the spraying of more acreage.

Braskey stated, "We're ready to go with this type of program, but we need a commitment from the state that they will continue with state land spraying.

Tichenor noted that he will present the proposal at the state level, and will report back to the commissioners. The local Gypsy Moth Task Force will then meet and decide which direction to go with the program.

Deer Park Man "Stable" After Truck Overturns

A Deer Park man listed in "stable" condition at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where he was taken after his truck overturned early Saturday morning on Maryland Route 135.

Maryland State Police at McHenry reported that James E. White, 43, was traveling east. As the truck entered a 90-degree turn, the right front fender struck the guardrail. The truck then continued on and failed to negotiate a right curve in the road, which caused it to overturn.

White was taken to the hospital by Tri-Towns Ambulance. Tpr. J.K. Moore investigated, and reported that no charges were filed.

Numerous other persons were treated and released from area hospitals this week following motor vehicle accidents.

A two-vehicle accident occurred Saturday on a private road off the Elkins Oakland Road. Police said Gregory Beattie, 30, Clairton, Pa., was traveling east on the Browning's Stone Quarry Road in a 1986 Chevrolet Van when he made a left turn into the path of a motorcycle operated by Sandra Stewart, 36, Oakland. The vehicles struck head-on.

Stewart was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that she was treated and released.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated, charging Beattie with failing to yield the right of way when turning left.

Two persons were injured in a two-vehicle accident Friday on Maple Street in Friendsville.

Police said Ivy P. Martin, 65, Farmington, Pa., was traveling west in a 1985 Jeep Cherokee. Kathy L. VanSickle, 26, Friendsville, was eastbound in a 1979 Olsmobile Cutlass.

VanSickle was reportedly parking her vehicle in the lot of Anderson Auto Center when it

Oakland Woman Pleads Guilty To Drug Charge

During recent proceedings at Garrett County Circuit Court, an Oakland woman was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail for possession of marijuana.

Pamela J. Friend, 21, pled guilty to the charge. Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer then suspended the sentence and placed Friend on two years supervised probation. She was also fined $100.

Friend was indicted by the Garrett County Grand Jury on May 8, 1989, in connection with a February, 1989, incident. A charge of conspiracy was not prosecuted.

In another case, Paul R. Sharpless, 37, Deer Park, was sentenced to two months in the Garrett County Jail for failing to remain at the scene of a property damage accident. The sentence was suspended, and he was placed on one year probation and fined $500. He was also fined $50 for a charge of negligent driving.

Sharpless pled guilty to both counts. Charges of driving while intoxicated, driving while under the influence of alcohol, and failing to remain at the scene of an accident involving injury were not prosecuted.

The charges were filed by Tfc. R.J. Resh of the Maryland State Police following an October 24, 1988, incident on the Walnut Bottom Road.

Sharpless' attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

The icing of the cake included a map of Deep Creek Lake. The park staff hosted the party Sunday afternoon to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the park. Numerous games, prizes, musical entertainment, and food were featured throughout the afternoon.

Oakland Girl Injured In Bike Mishap

A nine-year-old Oakland girl remains hospitalized in "satisfactory" condition this morning because of injuries she sustained when her bicycle was struck by a pickup truck on Tuesday.

Crystal M. Duncan was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad after the 6 p.m. mishap.

Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment reported that Nancy K. Learey, 55, also of Oakland, was driving her 1986 Dodge Ram in the northbound lane, while Duncan was riding her bicycle in a southern direction in the northbound portion of the road.

Learey came upon Duncan as she rounded a curve, and reportedly swerved and drove up an embankment in an attempt to avoid a collision. However, Duncan was struck by the left rear of the truck.

No charges were filed in the mishap.

PLANNING FOR THE BIKE TREK — The Board of Garrett County Commissioners last week met with representatives from the American Lung Association of Maryland and the Wisp Resort who are planning the Deep Creek Lake Autumn Bike Trek. The event is scheduled for Columbus Day weekend, October 7 through 9, and is sponsored by the American Lung Association of Maryland. The trek will cover over 80 miles in two days, and will include Deep Creek Lake, Deep Creek Lake State Park, and Swallow Falls State Park. The paint on his car was scratched in numerous places causing an estimated loss of $250, according to Deputy David L. Crossland.

The windshield of a John Deere 410 B Turbo Back Hoe, owned by the Garrett County Roads Department, was damaged between August 18 and 21 while it was parked along Westernport Road. According to Deputy David L. Crossland, the loss is estimated at $245.

Ward Kenneth Livengood, Friendsville, reported damage that was done to a $100 flower pot on his porch Friday. Deputy Charles P. Nolan was the investigating officer.

Deputy Denver C. Welch investigated an incident involving property damage at DEL ACRES, Oakland. A hay elevator's fan belt had been cut in two places last Thursday or Friday, causing $25 damage.

Oakland Mishap Injures Two

Two persons were reportedly injured in a single-vehicle accident on Saturday in Oakland.

According to the Oakland City Police Department, Jerry E. Wilt, Deer Park, was operating a 1987 Ford pickup truck, and was traveling east on Liberty Street. He lost control of the vehicle, which then ran off the right shoulder, sheared an electric pole, hit a guide wire, and came to rest against a porch.

Cpl. Ernest L. Alexander investigated the accident, and charged Wilt with negligent driving and traveling at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent.

Both Wilt and a passenger, Laura E. Cosner, Deer Park, were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad, where they were apparently treated and released.

The truck was reportedly a total loss.

Garrett County History Class Is Not Cancelled

It was announced by Joan Crawford, of Garrett Community College, that the Garrett County History Course, slated to begin Sept. 7, will be held if it meets the minimum enrollment requirement.

Mrs. Crawford noted that it was mistakenly announced to some persons that the course had been cancelled. However, she said that the class will meet as scheduled on Sept. 7 and persons may register for the course at that time. She said that the number registered so far is just a few short of the minimum requirement.

Those wishing to register or obtain more information about the course may contact Mrs. Crawford at 387-6666.

A story about the various speakers for the course appears on Page B-9 of this issue of The Republican.

A Regression . . .

Those of us who are at least 30 years old can remember the race riots of the 60's, when many of our cities were in flames, people were being beaten and killed, businesses were being looted, and the National Guard was summoned on several occasions to help quell the activity. The riots and demonstrations were part of a massive civil rights movement that led to various forms of racial integration and other major reforms.

Most of us thought that the events of those days were something that would never recur, that the nation had learned its lesson, and that our elected officials would see to it that the injustices that caused the problems in the first place would never be allowed to resurface.

Unfortunately, we are beginning to see a resurgence of racial tensions and activity in our cities that probably have the potential of erupting into fullscale rioting. There has been a regression, as the anger and hatred of those dark days apparently have been reincarnated in a new generation of young people who were not around during the riots of the 60's. Perhaps our government leaders have become a bit too complacent in matters of civil rights and it is time to bear down once again with some new initiatives. Perhaps President Bush should become more vocal and more insistent on the issue.

But the sad fact of the matter is that, while laws can be made to protect people against acts of prejudice and bigotry, attitudes and feelings of individuals cannot be controlled by legislation. Even though a white restaurant owner can be forced by law to serve blacks, for example, the law cannot force that owner to like it, or to teach his children that prejuduce is wrong; which brings us to the heart of the problem — the home. If young people are raised by bigots, then the chances are great that they, too, will be bigots. No amount of legislation can change that.

Yet the only recourse seems to be stronger enforcement of the civil rights laws, to show that one who commits acts of racial violence will pay a dear price. Also, efforts to provide better education, employment, protection, and more opportunities for a better way of life for all of our citizens, regardless of race, must be accelerated.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I was amused by the letters last week from Messrs. Welch and Shaffer defending elected school boards. I won't bother to list my academic credentials or tell you how many educators I know. The "bottom line" is that we need competent people to serve on school boards and there are several reasons why they are easier to obtain on an appointed board; the main one being that most people are more willing to serve if they don't have to endure the election process.

Yours in Truth,
Zack Taylor
Cumberland

P.S. I hope you aren't devastated at being compared to the New Yorker!

To the Editor:

Recently there have been a number of newspaper articles locally dealing with the subject of the gypsy moth and potential increased insecticide spraying to deal with its infestation in western Maryland. I believe that several points have been overlooked or need to be stressed:

1. The gypsy moth is here to stay. No efforts will be successful in eradicating the moth totally, and so we must turn our attention to assessing the impact of the moth honestly, and then develop strategies to deal with the impact in a responsible manner.

2. Yes, the gypsy moth is a scourge, but it is not an all-devouring plague which will leave our forests dead in its wake. The gypsy moth has distinct feeding preferences, and while oaks are preferred species, the moths will hardly touch black locust, yellow birches, ash, tulip poplar, hemlocks and other common forest species. It is just plain wrong to leave the impression that our forests are doomed to uniform destruction by the gypsy moth.

3. Trees which die after defoliation by the gypsy moth are not killed directly by the moths. The trees are weakened by the defoliation, particularly when combined with drought, but succumb to subsequent infection by the shoestring fungus or the two-lined chestnut borer.

Healthy trees can survive defoliations. Researchers in Massachusetts even found an oak tree "apparently well and thriving" after five complete defoliations. While this is not the norm, it should give us incentive to ensure that our trees are as healthy as possible so that they may resist the bad effects associated with the gypsy moths. This means avoiding damage to limbs and trunks and avoiding root compaction (to which oaks are especially susceptible). Logging operations, such as timber stand improvement cuts, typically cause much of these kinds of damage to nearby trees, and so will increase mortality of remaining trees.

4. Much has been written lately about the decision to use the pesticides "Bt" or to use Dimilin. Bt is a bacterial poison which kills only the larvae of butterflies and moths. Dimilin is an insect growth regulator which is lethal to all insects, whether terrestrial or aquatic, and to related animals such as crayfish and crabs. Additionally, Dimilin may persist for many months on leaves and can enter streams when leaves fall in the autumn.

Not too much is known yet about Dimilin's effects on the insects which birds and fish eat. It is known that as little as the equivalent of 1 drop of Dimilin in 137,500 gallons of water will kill many of the stream insects upon which trout feed. If we spray large acreages of our forests with Dimilin, we must envision a future with fewer fish, and also a future with fewer of the forest birds, like warblers, which feed upon insects in the forest trees. We must then envision ourselves being much poorer as a result.

5. We have to change this "siege mentality" which the recent articles seem to promote. Our forests will survive, whether we spray or not, but they may become much less diverse and healthy in terms of their vital animal components if we declare all-out chemical warfare. There are other options, including altering the susceptibility of our forest stands by selectively removing oaks and the poor, unhealthy trees to create areas with less food for the gypsy moth. After the initial population explosion as the moth first arrives in an area, moth populations usually collapse as food decreases and diseases and predatory insects catch up. While there will be later returns, the levels are never as high as the initial outbreak such as we are experiencing now.

Forest Service researchers in Morgantown, W.Va., have devised management guidelines for forest in our regions faced with gypsy moth attack. The prescriptions focus on permanently reducing the oak component of our forests and removing trees which are diseased or infested with the chestnut borer. We in western Maryland should be focusing our attention on these management strategies, not pleading for more money to blanket the region with a toxic cloud of Dimilin. If we want to plead for more money, we should ask for more support staff to more accurately monitor the numbers and distribution of gypsy moths throughout the area. The more information we have of this nature, the better we can tailor our responses and management plans.

I assure you that the above information is correct and can be corroborated with dozens of research papers and Forest Service bulletins at any major university library. I think we all have a responsibility to give the public both sides of controversial issues so that they can make well-informed decisions.

I would welcome any additional opportunity to present information about the gypsy moth and its effects.

Sincerely,
Joy B. Perry

To the Editor:

This past spring we took our 125 second graders from Keyser Primary-Middle School to Deep Creek Lake State Park.

We were greatly impressed by the extremely well planned activities of the rangers and their naturalist.

When the heavy rain came, they went quickly into action and provided activities for the children in sheltered areas, meeting all our needs quickly and in a pleasant, professional manner.

If all their activities are as well handled as the ones we encountered, the DNR and their naturalist deserve a great deal of praise and recognition.

This has most definitely fostered an awareness of our environment and provided a friendly atmosphere that will be remembered and appreciated by these children for years to come.

Our hats are off to you for providing such an excellent experience.

To the Editor:

I have been to Deep Creek for a mini-vacation in September, 1983, my honeymoon (second marriage) in October, 1987 and a family vacation the first week of August of this year. My brother, Tom Fowler, and his family recently moved from Baltimore County to Oakland in February, 1989, and this was the first time I had gone into Oakland. I loved it! I have to truthfully say, that if it had not been for the fact that my brother was living there, I probably would not have gone into Oakland at all. I didn't the first two times I visited Deep Creek. But I wanted you to know that your town is a wonderful place. I wish I could have grown up there, and raised my children there. It is so much more in touch with what really counts — family, neighbors, people, and God, as opposed to BMW's, large screen TV's, drugs and killings. How lucky you are who live there.

I guess what I am trying to say is, if I can find a way, I want to live there too! I am working on it. It will probbably take a few years, since there are family obligations that come first for both my husband and myself. Someday, in the not too distant future, I hope to be a participating member of your community. In the meantime, I will continue to visit my brother and enjoy my vacations in your beautiful area.

So that I don't miss what's going on, please have your paper delivered to me at the above address. Enclosed is my check to cover same.

Sincerely,
Miki Russell

Editors Note: The writer of the following letter requested that it be published in this column.

Dear Commissioner Braskey,

I, as a Pittsburger, would like to thank the County Commissioners for remembering Pittsburgh when they are selecting a Grand Marshal for the Autumn Glory Festival.

Long before Deep Creek Lake became known as the "in place to be" families from the Pittsburgh area have been part of Garrett County. We have become an integral part of your community with many of our sons and daughters marrying into your local families. We have enjoyed you as a nice quiet, beautiful area. You in turn, know Pittsburgh Personalities due to Pittsburgh TV coming into your home and our weathermen remember Garrett County in their broadcasts.

We were here when Deep Creek Lake was Maryland's best kept secret, and, when the fall comes and your 40 miles per hour is changed back to 50 because the tourist season is over, we are the ones who will still be here.

Sincerely,
Dolorus Gloeckl

Marriage Encounter invites you on a journey — a deepening of couples love. The weekend format is especially designed for married couples to pause awhile and focus on each other. Every now and then we all need to examine our lives and directions to determine if we are going where we want to go. A Marriage Encounter Weekend offers a couple just such an opportunity. How did the journey begin?

Marriage Encounter was born in Spain in the 1960's to enable couples with basically good marriages to enrich the quality of their lives. In fact, the name Marriage Encounter is a direct translation from Spanish where the words take on the beautiful connotation of discovering or finding one another.

In 1967, Marriage Encounter came to America where the weekend was well-received and grew.

Over 3,000,000 couples in 45 countries have attended Marriage Encounter Weekends.

What happens during a Marriage Encounter Weekend?

A couple spends the weekend together, away from the children, distractions, and tensions of everyday life, communicating deeply with each other. In a series of sessions, a lead couple and a clergy couple or minister or priest present informal sharings centered around their own experiences. These sharings are designed to inspire couples to look at themselves as persons, at their marriage relationship, their relationship with God, and the world around them.

Is it a crash counseling session?

No, counseling is not part of the program. Is it a Sensitivity or Group Dynamic Session? No. Is it a weekend of religious instruction or a retreat? No. Then what is it? The Marriage Encounter Weekend is a unique opportunity for a couple to discover together their own specialness.

Does the weekend respect the couple's privacy? Yes. The weekend is oriented strictly to each individual couple. You concentrate on your spouse to such an extent that you are hardly aware of the other couples present. The presentations are given to the group as a whole. After each presentation, the husband and wife have time in the privacy of their room for their own personal discussion.

So, what is the purpose of all this?

The purpose is for a couple to develop a better knowledge, understanding, and acceptance of each other. This can deepen and strengthen their love, thus leading to a richer, fuller life together.

There will be more about Marriage Encounter in subsequent letters. In the interim, contact your minister, priest or rabbi.

WHAT YOU KNOW MAY BE WORTH MORE THAN YOU THINK

by Dr. Steve Herman, President
Garrett Community College

Adults don't have time for a higher education — or some think. Adults are busy; they have jobs; they raise children; they run a household. Because these adults responsibilities are ordinary, we tend to diminish their importance. Yet they are the watershed that separates experienced adults from inexperienced youth. Experience is a great teacher, and what we learn through experience has significant value. Many people don't realize that their experience may be worth academic credit at colleges all across the country.

GCC is starting a brand new program — a system of evaluating and awarding credit for prior experience. Some people are self-made. You may not have attended college, yet you may hold a position of responsibility within your chosen field and perform ably jobs associated with college-level study. The College has divised procedures by which you can demonstrate that you have learning equivalent to classroom learning. If you can successfully demonstrate college-level learning, you can receive academic credit.

If you have served in the armed forces, you have probably earned college credit and don't know it. The American Council on Education in cooperation with the branches of the military service has developed evaluation guides to help educators determine the academic worth of military training and occupations. Sometimes the amount of credit military personnel earn toward a college degree is considerable. Air Force veterans have special access to academic credit through the Community College of the Air Force. CCAF is fully accredited, maintains records of Air Force personnel, and automatically translates their military training into academic credit. Without being aware that they have gone to college, Air Force personnel have college credit officially recorded in the files of the Community College of the Air Force. To get this credit transferred to your local community college, you only need to write CCAF and request that your academic transcript be sent to GCC's Registrar. Credit awarded through CCAF is automatically transferable.

Perhaps you have been a participant in a training program conducted by a major American corporation or agency. The American Council on Education has cooperated with many leading companies and agencies in reviewing and evaluating their training programs for academic credit. These evaluations are listed in a guide book available to educators. Some examples include business courses through the American Management Association and banking courses through the American Institute of Banking.

Another source of advanced college credit is the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). This is a nationally administered testing program developed by the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N.J. The program consists of five general examinations and numerous subject examinations. If you have been self taught or have acquired learning through experience, you can take a CLEP test. If you pass the examination, most colleges throughout the country will grant you academic credit in the subject area of the exam.

The CLEP general examinations cover English, mathematics, natural sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities. The specific examinations include such subject areas as business, accounting, management, foreign languages, American history, different aspects of literature, various sciences, and most of the social sciences. Examinations are inexpensive and are offered regionally.

If you are interested in earning advance credit toward a college degree through any of our special programs, telephone GCC admissions at (301) 387-6666. You may be much closer to a college diploma than you realize.

FRIENDS OF THE RUTH ENLOW LIBRARY

by Sull McCartney

When I went downtown to help at our used book sale on August 5, I had eight books to donate to the sale. When I came home that afternoon, I had five books that I had bought, two balloons and a banana. That was a good day. It was also a good sale. We made $348.10, which is pretty good considering that our prices ranged from one dollar to free. If you like romances and didn't stop by, you really missed a bargain. We were selling paper bags full for a quarter. I want to thank Sybilla Sharps, Wilma Sharps, Gloria Salazar, Joan Moran, Jack Caruthers, Mary Lou Rohrbaugh, Casey Jones and John Sanders for their hard work making the sale a success.

A donation of five hundred dollars by Howard and Audrey Naylor, as a memorial to Mrs. Robert Nethken, raised the total of our Children's Book Fund to over five thousand dollars. Thanks to their generosity we are over half way to our goal of ten thousand dollars for 1989. Some committee members report that they left letters with local businesses and were promised donations which have never arrived. Maybe the check is in the mail. Surely they aren't reneging on promises to buy books for kids!

My wife read Cat's Eye by Margaret Atwood and was mad at me for three days. A friend of mine reported similar behavior by his wife. I read it and while I thought it was a good novel, I still don't understand the reaction. Let this be a word of warning to all you married men; if you see your wife reading this book, either throw it away or be prepared for some grief.

John McPhee's latest, The Control of Nature, describes three locations where people depend on controlling nature to survive. The three topics are the Mississippi River delta, Iceland's lava flows, and debris slides from the San Gabriel Mountains in California. I thought the first part about the Mississippi was by far the most interesting and it alone was worth the price of the book. Anyone who likes to visit New Orleans should read this before their next trip. The problem is that for the last twenty years the Mississippi has been trying to cut a new channel to the Gulf of Mexico. The new course would be much shorter and steeper than the present one. By changing course, the river would leave Baton Rouge, New Orleans, and all of the industrial plants on the lower river without a water supply or a means of cheap transportation. The Army Corps of Engineers is waging an ongoing battle to keep the river in the present channel. Like all the rest of McPhee's work that I have read, The Control of Nature is extremely well written and very informative.

Ella Jones recommends Ellen Foster by Kaye Gibbons.

Wilson Named Award Winner

Jeannette L. Wilson, a student at Garrett Community College, has been named a U.S. National Collegiate Award Winner in pre-law.

She was nominated for the award by Manning Smith at Garrett Community College. Less than ten percent of all American college students are recognized. Wilson will appear in the U.S. Achievement Academy Official Collegiate Yearbook which is published nationally.

The Academy selects students upon the recommendation of professors, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and by the student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit and dependability.

Wilson is the daughter of Mae L. Michaels and John E. Wilson Sr.

Homemakers "9-90" Program Set For Sept. 7 At GCC

"Persons who have never attended the annual '9 to 90' program at Garrett Community College are in for a treat," said Garrett County Extension Agent Irmgard R. Koscielniak.

The program is a whole day of learning, sponsored by the Garrett County Homemakers Clubs, a smorgasbord of different classes from baking bread and flower arranging to nutrition concerns and retirement planning. Those attending may learn photography and the latest research results on black bears. A class on funeral planning is followed by one on radon gas, one on how to use herbs and spices and much more.

Instructors are local craftspersons, professionals and University of Maryland specialists and Cooperative Extension Service agents.

The program will start at 9 a.m., Thursday, September 7, and registration is at 8:30 a.m. The cost for the day is $2. Workshops may have an additional materials fee, but the project may be taken home.

Interested persons may preregister or receive more information at the Garrett county Cooperative Extension Office, 202 S. Third Street, Oakland, or phone 334-1990.

African Art, Musical Instruments Exhibit To Open At GCC Campus

Beverly McKaye

"African Art and Musical Instruments," one of the most unusual art exhibits ever to appear in Garrett County, will open next week in the gallery of Garrett Community College, McHenry Campus. The exhibit, which includes over 55 pieces of African art work and instruments, is being shown in conjunction with the Festival of Africa at Frostburg State University from September 20-30, and is being sponsored by Garrett Community College and the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival.

According to Ron Skidmore, assistant professor of art and coordinator of the exhibit, the show at GCC will open September 8 at 7:30 p.m. with a slide presentation and talk on the Shona Stone Sculptures of Zimbabwe by guest speaker Beverly McKaye. Mrs. McKaye was born in Zimbabwe and spent most of her life in Africa. She holds a degree in education from Chelsea College in England, and currently resides in Vale Summit with her son and husband, who is director of the Allegany County Environmental Lab.

Skidmore stated that this exhibit of both traditional and modern art is probably the most valuable one the college has ever had. Art objects and instruments displayed are from the collections of the McKaye's, and of Dr. Philip and Susan Allen, and Polly and David Dean of Frostburg.

In addition to four Shona stone sculptures carved of black basalt, the exhibit includes wood sculptures and four barbaras, carved wooden headdresses used in tribal ceremonies. Also displayed are a number of small brass and wooden figures, woven tapestries, printed textiles, and paintings. One of the older traditional art forms exhibited is the carved granary door. Unusual musical instruments on display include a xylophone and small finger piano, mbira, lute, balafone, and drums.

During the time of the African Exhibit in the gallery, another exhibit of African art will be displayed in the college library. Items from the collection of faculty member Beth Hurley who served with the Peace Corps in Africa will include tie-dyed clothing, palm wine cups, jewelry, carved wooden box and other objects, bronze work, embroidered table cloths, and masks.

Funding for the African Art Exhibit has been made possible in part by grants from the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland Arts Council, and the Maryland Humanities Council, an affiliate of the National Endowment for Humanities.

ART EXHIBIT COORDINATORS — Three local institutions of higher learning — Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, and Frostburg State University — will all feature art exhibits in conjunction with next month's Festival of Africa, to be held at Frostburg State. The persons responsible for coordinating the exhibits are, left to right above, Dr. Jose Rodiero, professor of art history at Frostburg State; Robyn Price, instructor of art at ACC; and Ron Skidmore, assistant professor of art at GCC. These three are also coordinating an exhibit that will be on display at the Swartzenbach building in downtown Cumberland. Details of the GCC exhibit, which opens Sept. 8, can be found in a story on this page.

Dual Enrollment English Courses Offered By GCC

In accordance with a new agreement approved by the Maryland State Board for Community Colleges, selected high school seniors in a college preparatory program will be able to take their senior year of English and their year of college freshman English by attending one class at their high schools.

For the first time this fall semester, seniors at Northern and Southern High Schools will be permitted to sign up for English 101 offered by Garrett Community College and receive both high school and college credit for the course. Under this dual enrollment plan, the same students would then be eligible to take college English 102 in the spring semester.

Students enrolled in these courses will pay the usual GCC tuition — $28 per credit hour — in order to receive college credit. Books for the courses will be provided by the Board of Education. The classes will be taught by Mrs. Joan Lambert at Southern High School and Mrs. Joanna Miller at Northern High School.

Students will be selected for these dual enrollment courses on the basis of their writing samples and reading test scores.

Obenshain Notes Garrett County Weather Extremes

Noel Obenshain's weather station at his home, "Danovista," in the Hazelhurst section of Deep Creek Lake, has revealed some unusual temperature swings for the past several months.

Obenshain, an inventor who has nearly 100 patents, has a "Computemp" temperature indicator, with sensors outside on his front porch, and inside in his living room.

The indicator automatically switches its display every three seconds to show outside temperature, inside temperature, and clock time. By pushing appropriate buttons, it will also display the lowest and highest temperatures of the day and give the exact times at which they occur, to the exact minute, a.m. or p.m. A selector switch also permits showing several other locations, including the three solar collectors on his roof.

The highest temperature this summer so far was 88 degrees F, Sunday, July 23, at 4:36 p.m. The lowest temperature was 40 degrees F, Wednesday, August 9, at 4:26 a.m.

The high temperature for Monday, August 7, was 66 degrees at 12:01 a.m., (midnight), and the low temperature for the same day was 47 degrees at 7:22 a.m., a drop of 19 degrees over night. The maximum afternoon temperature for that day was only 58 degrees at 1:22 p.m.

The lowest local temperature so far for the year of 1989 occurred Tuesday, February 9 at 8:37 a.m. when it was one degree above zero. The lowest temperature for the winter 1988-89 was eight degrees below zero, on December 12 at 6:01 a.m.

His weather station also has a rain gauge that indicates precipitation in hundredths of an inch of water. The 1989 monthly precipitations were: January, 2.78"; February, 1.71"; March, 3.85"; April, 1.87"; May, 4.97"; June, 3.70"; and July, 3.82. August, first through 21st was 1.52". Total through July was 22.7 inches of rain, averaging 3.24 inches per month for the first seven months. The lake level was the highest for early August that Obenshain has observed since building his home on the lake in 1963. It is now dropping down to its normal level for this time of the year.

Obenshain noted the following rainfall calculations: 0.01 inch of rainfall is equivalent to 271.54 gallons per acre, and 1.00 inch rainfall is equivalent to 27,154 gallons per acre.

Garrett County has a total area of 423,680 acres, so one inch rainfall would deliver 11.5 billion gallons to the county.

Deep Creek Lake has a full level of 3,900 acres, an average depth of 26.5 feet, and a total volume of 33.66 trillion gallons. It would take 2.93 inches of rain over the entire county to fill the lake if all the water drained into the lake. (These figures are based on data from the 1988-89 "Vacation Guide," page 33.)

State Parks To Make Applebutter

Samples will be for sale in eight-ounce containers. Preparation of the apples will begin on Friday at the Herrington Manor Concession Building, so all are invited to bring their knives and participate. Dream Comes True For Terminally Ill Deer Park Woman

Mrs. Geraldine Baker, Deer Park, had her wish granted through the efforts of the Garrett County Dream Come True, a subcommittee of Hospice of Garrett County, Inc.

Mrs. Baker was transported to Niles, Ohio, by Jim Freeman of the Freeman Ambulance Service for a visit with her daughter, and is scheduled to return via the same ambulance service upon completion of her visit.

Garrett County Dream Come True made arrangements for Mrs. Baker to receive home health care from a Niles agency during her visit. The arrangements were made through the Garrett County Health Department's Home Health Agency.

The goal of Dream Come True is to fulfill the wishes of Garrett County residents who are 18 years old or older and have a life-threatening illness.

Mrs. Baker is the fourth "dreamer" of Garrett County to have been served by this non-profit volunteer organization. Other Garrett County residents who have been aided by Dream Come True are Mary Ann Miller, who received an air conditioner for her home, and the Rev. Yuris Reneslacis, who received transportation for his daughter's visit at Christmas time. The granting of Mrs. Anna Belle Iser's wish was underway when she passed away. That dream was to see, or receive a phone call or a picture from Kenny Rogers, the country-western singer.

Anna Mary Fratz is the current chairperson of Garrett County Dream Come True; Betsy Herpel, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Nolan and Donna Cook are the screening committee.

Those "dreamers" under 18 years of age can be served by a similar non-profit organization called Make A Wish. Interested persons may contact Make A Wish through Dream Come True, Mrs. Anna Mary Fratz, P.O. Box 666, McHenry, Md. 21541. Any questions, donations or memorials may be directed to the same address.

MRS. GERALDINE BAKER'S DREAM CAME TRUE — Garrett County Dream Come True, a subcommittee of Hospice of Garrett County, Inc., is a nonprofit volunteer organization dedicated to granting the wishes of Garrett County adults who are facing life-threatening illnesses. Mrs. Baker's dream has been fulfilled as she has been transported to Ohio by Freeman Ambulance Service for a visit with her daughter. In addition to arranging transportation, the organization also lined up home health care for Mrs. Baker during her visit. Record Number Of Students And Staff At FSU

A record number of new faculty and professional staff have joined the ranks of Frostburg State University employees, FSU President Herb. F. Reinhard reported at Tuesday's annual faculty-staff assembly, which serves to introduce new faculty and staff and generally set the tone for the academic year ahead. A record of nearly 5,000 students began classes this week at both FSU campuses, in Frostburg and Hagerstown.

Some 50 new faculty and professional staff members, including both full-time budgeted and contractual positions have been hired by the University while overall, compared to three years ago, the combined number of professional staff and faculty has jumped over 26 percent this year.

"Just examining the new professionals hired this year," noted Reinhard, "with an estimated annual salary of $1.5 million and a 1.7 multiplier there will be $2.5 million economic impact on Allegany County in terms of housing, food sales and taxes."

Noting payroll increases, he said over the past four years, FSU's overall payroll has climbed by $9.6 million representing a 54 percent increase.

On FSU's record 5,000 student enrollment, Reinhard touted other figures associated with the student body. He cited a jump in SAT scores by 25 points over last year, and 43 points since 1987. He also said since the fall of 1985, FSU has had a whopping 67 percent increase in transfer and freshmen applications. "Our visibility and track record has spread across the state," said Reinhard.

The President also pointed out the dramatic progress and growth the University has experienced in the last four years (since FY '86) in annual state appropriations by reporting that state funding has jumped 44 percent or by $5.9 million and that FSU's own operating budget has increased in the same period by 49 percent of $13 million. Noting payroll increases, he said over the past four years, FSU's overall payroll has climbed by $9.6 million representing a 54 percent increase.

Among FSU's new faculty members, many of whom were recruited from prestigious universities like Princeton, Rutgers and North Carolina, represent for the first time FSU's increasing strengths in global affairs. New faculty, for example, include a psychology instructor who specializes in multi-cultural research, a biologist who has studied panthers in Brazil and a forest ecologist who has worked in Costa Rica.

"Some of the new faculty hired have also enabled FSU to offer critical release time from teaching loads to a few long-time professors to travel abroad for research and cooperative programs the University is developing in nations like Malawi and Nicaragua.

In a membership and orientation program begun last year, new faculty are paired with seasoned faculty members who help acquaint newcomers to both the University and the community. Last week, for example, the University hosted a day-long session which included administrators giving brief presentations on everything from family and child resources like the FSU Children's Center to community cultural activities.

David Long, Jane Newell Take Top Honors In Best Of West Triathlon

The second annual Best of the West Triathlon was held Saturday at Broadford Park, pitting some of the top athletes from within at least a 200-mile radius of Garrett County in the gruelling three-sport competition.

Dan Besson, Catonsville, and Rebecca Jones, a Cumberland native, the male and female overall defending champions were both unseated this year; however both placed second overall in the event which featured a field of nearly 250 participants.

Besson, 30, who led throughout most of the race, was overtaken in the running segment by David Long, 24, of Hagerstown, while Jones, 25, was defeated by Jane Newell, 30, of Reston, Va. Long finished the 4-mile swim, 15.5-mile bike ride, and 4.5-mile run in one hour, 14 minutes, 48.4 seconds, while Besson recorded a 1:16:43.9. Newell completed the course in 1:23:37.5, also about two minutes ahead of Jones who finished in 1:25:32.3.

John Houfek was the third overall finisher, followed by Frankie Lum and Christopher Hazelwood, while Susan Griffin was the third female to cross the finish, followed by Beth O'Conner and Suzanne Hunt.

Besson was the first male finisher in the swim, just one second ahead of Houfek, and had nearly a one-half mile lead when he finished the biking segment. Kyle Norris, also a native of Cumberland, finished second in the bike segment and had a strong shot at winning the entire event, but he crashed on his bicycle as he came into the transition area and had to withdraw from the competition because of injuries to his knee and shoulder.

Long was about one minute and nine seconds behind Besson when he finished the bike segment and then went on to catch Besson at about the halfway point of the run. Long's time in the run was nearly four minutes faster than Besson's.

In the female competition, Jones finished less than one second ahead of Newell in the swim, but Newell was about one minute and 20 seconds ahead of Jones after the biking segment and added about 34 seconds to her lead in the run.

Beth O'Conner was the first swimmer out of the water among all the participants, male and female, but she fell behind in both the bike and run segments to finish fourth among the women.

Winners of the various age groups were as follows: males, Bryin Sills, 15-19; Robert Koch, 20-24; Jean-Marc Katzeff, 25-29; Dennis Crockett, 30-34; Tim Rodencal, 35-39; Scott Bulfinch, 40-44; John Slade, 45-49; John Dunning, 50-59; Clarence Patten, 60-plus; and females, Leah Haworth, 15-19; Rebecca Pyle, 20-24; Catherine Glose, 25-29; Tammi Wright, 30-34; Dana Morris, 35-39; Pam West, 40-44; Nancy Delaplane, 45-49; Susie Goldman, 50-59; and Mary Sutcliffe, 60-plus.

The best finish by a Garrett County athlete was by Jimmy Railey, who placed 11th overall and third in the male 25-29 class.

Out of the field of about 250, 219 completed the race, with the remainder being either no-shows or having to drop out somewhere on the course.

The triathlon was coordinated

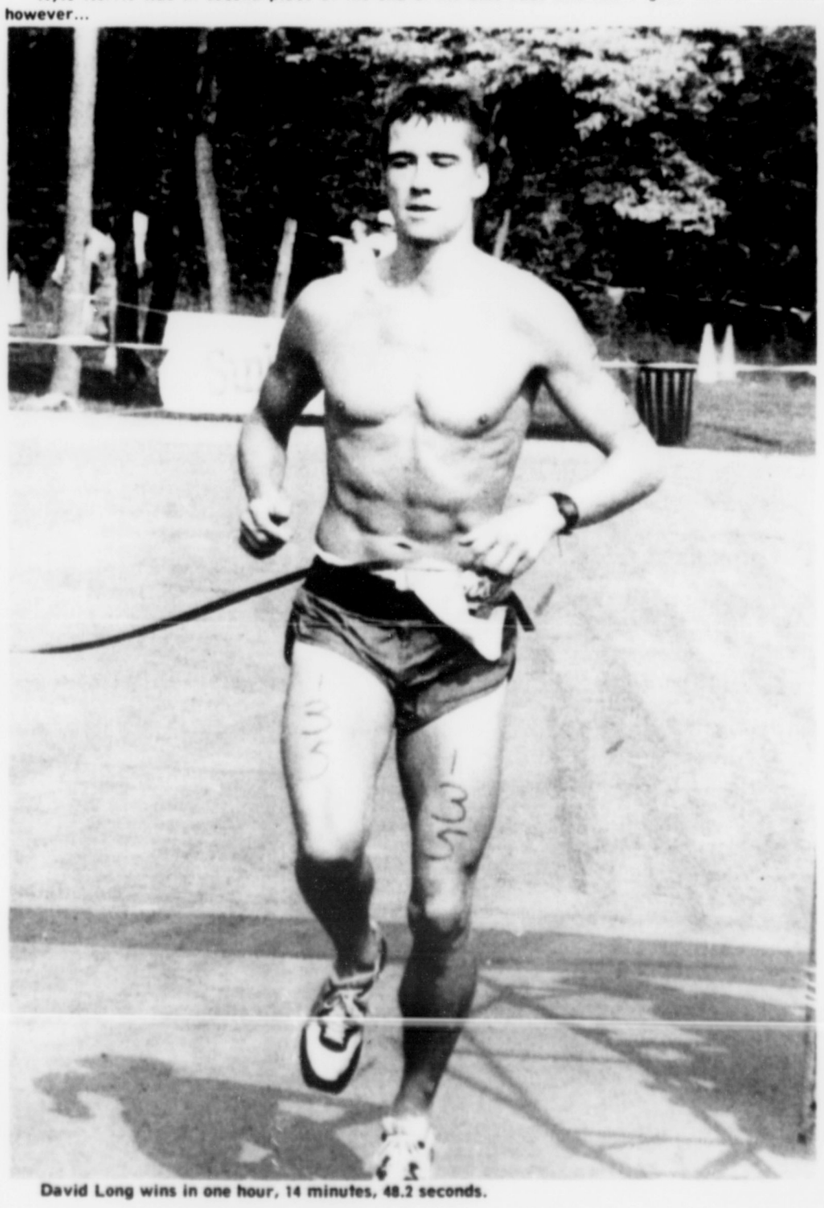
Kyle Norris was in second place at the end of his bike race and had a good chance to win, however...

this crash at the transition area put him out of the competition with an injured knee and shoulder.

Last, but certainly not least, in the competition was 70-year-old Mary Sutcliff.



David Long wins in one hour, 14 minutes, 48.2 seconds.

Kitzmiller Defeats A&A To Retain Mt. Top Softball League Title

The Kitzmiller Softball Club won its second straight Mt. Top Softball League Championship this past Sunday by knocking off National Division winner A&A Realty, 12-11 and 12-8. Kitzmiller finished second in regular season play in The American Division, then went undefeated in the week-long playoffs to capture their second title in only their second year in the league.

Kitzmiller cruised through the double-elimination playoffs, defeating Stewart's, 18-11, Crellin, 8-2, and John Kruk's, 6-3, before facing Crellin again for The American Division Championship. Crellin, behind the home run power of Jamie Workman and Poke Winters, jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the first inning, only to have Kitzmiller peck away at the lead one run at a time. With the score 7-4, Kitzmiller scored seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to take the lead and hold on to a 11-7 victory and Divisional Championship.

A&A Realty also went through its double-elimination round undefeated, knocking off Deep Creek Pharmacy, 6-4, Miners & Merchants Bank, 4-2, and Silver Tree Inn, 13-6, before facing Silver Tree Inn again for the National Division championship. A&A fought off a determined Silver Tree Team to win 11-10 in 9 innings.

In the championship series on Sunday, A&A got out of the starting blocks with five runs in the top of the first inning, only to have Kitzmiller come right back in the bottom of the inning with three runs on the strength of Gene Dunithan's two-run homer. The lead see-sawed for the five innings until Kitzmiller tied the game in the bottom of the fifth inning on two-run homer by Donnie Horner. Neither team could score in the sixth and A&A could not push a run across in the top of the seventh. Kitzmiller loaded the bases with two outs in the bottom of the seventh when John Barnhouse blooped a single which dropped just out of the reach of shortstop Ed Panther, third baseman Talon King, and left fielder Kevin Liller to drive in the game winning run.

In the second game, Kitzmiller jumped out to a 7-3 lead after two innings behind home runs by Gene Dunithan and Paul Barnhouse. A&A scored four runs in the third to tie the score, as Terry Brenneman and Talon King both connected for home runs. Paul Barnhouse's second homer of the game in the fourth gave Kitzmiller a lead they would not relinquish the remainder of the game.

Kitzmiller's offensive attack for the championship series was led by Gene Dunithan, who went four for seven with three homers and seven RBI's in the two games. Don Horner went four for four in the first game and Paul Barnhouse had three home runs in the second game with five RBI's to lead the victorious Kitzmiller Club. A&A was led by Jim Bosley, who batted 10 for 16 in the playoffs, and Terry Brenneman, who went nine-for-18.

Kitzmiller finished the season with 46 wins and six losses and A&A Realty finished with a 39-13 mark.

Cow Patty Event, Chicken Barbecue Set For Saturday

Final details of the second annual Southern Garrett Athletic Association's Cow Patty Contest, slated for this Saturday, Sept. 2, at the Southern High School football field, were announced this week.

A total of 2,000 chances were distributed for sale throughout the area and, although the majority have been sold, there will most likely be some for sale the night of the contest. The football field will be roped off into four quadrants with 625 squares (tickets) in each quadrant. The $1,000 grand prize winner will be the holder of the ticket that corresponds with the spot that the cow "does her business." In the event that that spot was not sold, the judges will award the money to the holder of the ticket for the next spot, in the same row, towards the Lions Club concession building.

If the cow uses the square closest to the concession building and that square is not sold, the judges would stay in the same row and move to the next square towards the scoreboard, awarding the prize to the next square that has been sold.

Ticket holders whose squares are immediately adjacent to the winning square will receive $50.

Also, six people will receive $50 in a kicking contest, whereby a Southern High player will kick the ball three times from each end zone and winners will be determined by which square the ball lands in.

A total of $1,500 will be given away and there will also be a raffle of a wheelbarrow filled with various gift certificates and products donated by local merchants. The wheelbarrow was donated by Southern States and Don Mason.

"The SGAA is anticipating a huge crowd and we are really excited about the evening," stated SGAA President Bob Kurtz. "It should be a great night."

Events at the field will get underway with a chicken barbecue from 4 to 6 p.m., followed by a scrimmage between the Southern Rams and Allegany Campers from 6 to 7:30, and the Cow Patty Contest at 8 p.m.

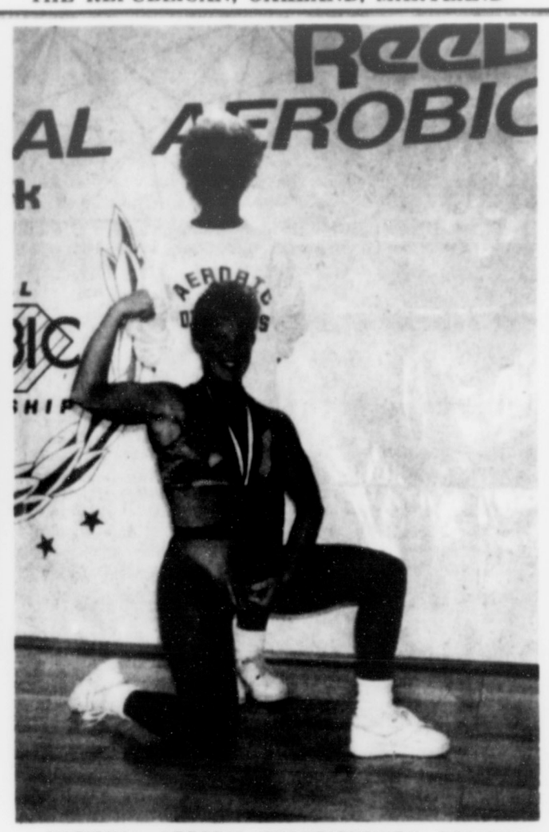
THE AEROBIC DIEHARDS achieved recognition with their exhibition routine before the National Aerobic Championships as two national companies asked to sponsor the youth group. Reebok athletic shoes and Napskins, an Alexandria, Va., based producer of body wear, asked to sponsor the group with shoes and body wear. Brenda Brosnihan, owner of Brenda's Body Shop and coach of the Diehards, achieved recognition when the Herndon, Va., couple Lynn Peterson and Joe White, asked Brosnihan to train them for the upcoming national event to be held in Cincinatti, Ohio. Peterson and White took third place in the mixed pair event. Pictured above are the Aerobic Diehards, left to right, first row, are: Erin Long, Lexi Long, Crystal Glotfelty and Amanda Mountain. Second row, same order, are: Shelli Cannon, Leslie Liller, Joy McCain, LaDonna Wolfe, Cindy Tichnell and Alison Winters. Third row, same order, are: Ainsley Powers, Tiffany Powers and Betsy Spiker. Pictured below are Lynn Peterson and Joe White.



NATIONAL AEROBIC CHAMPIONSHIP'S REGIONAL WINNER — Gale Bosley, a native of Oakland now living in Baltimore, recently competed in the National Aerobic Championships in Baltimore, where she won a gold medal for first place and a trip to the national finals. Brenda Brosnihan, owner of Brenda's Body Shop, is Bosley's coach and choreographer. Bosley represented Brenda's Body Shop and Fitness International, the club where she is currently employed as an instructor of aerobics. Bosley continues to train with Brosnihan, as she prepares to compete in December against nine other regional winners for the national title.

against winners from nine other regions for the national title. The winners of the national finals will have an opportunity to represent the sport of competitive aerobics for one year and will travel throughout the world, making several television and magazine appearances.

A sign of Brosnihan's success as a choreographer and coach was apparent as third place winners of the mixed pair event, Lynn Peterson and Joe White of Herndon, Va., approached Brosnihan to seek her training skills.

"We can't wait to come up and work with Brenda, her unique style of movement and choreography always does well in competition. She seems to know what the judges are looking for," said Peterson.

Peterson and White will train with Brosnihan before the competition scheduled in Cincinatti, where they will attempt to win a gold meal and a trip to the national finals.

"I am flattered to have a chance to work with Lynn and Joe. I have competed against Lynn for three years and she is very good. Working with her will be challenging and rewarding," Brosnihan stated.

Bosley Wins Gold Medal In Aerobic Championships

Gale Bosley, an Oakland native now living in Baltimore, recently participated in the National Aerobic Championships in Baltimore, where she won a gold medal for first place in the Mid-Atlantic regionals and a trip to the national finals.

Brenda Brosnihan, owner of Brenda's Body Shop in Oakland, was Bosley's coach and choreographer. Bosley traveled to Oakland on weekends to train and work on a routine to compete in the championships.

"Gale did an outstanding job executing her routine. All her hard work from dieting, weight training and practicing paid off as she won first place, a gold medal and a trip to the national finals," said Brosnihan.

Bosley competed against contestants from Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina and Washington, D.C. She represented Brenda's Body Shop and Fitness International, the club where she currently teaches aerobics.

Bosley will continue to train with Brosnihan as she prepares to compete in December

Mrs. Railey said that the Sports League plans to expand the field of triathletes for the 1990 Best of the West to 400, noting that the 249 limit this year was filled nearly three weeks before the event.

Youth Football League Results

Steelers Top Bears

The Northern Steelers, defending champions of the Mt. Top Youth Football League, opened their 1989 season right where they left off by defeating the Kingwood Bears, 23-0, and recording their 11th straight win.

Coach Larry Brenneman's first team put all of the game's points on the board in the first half and the second and third team youngsters played throughout the second half.

Tim Forney's 11-yard touchdown run at the 2:59 mark of the first quarter opened the scoring and Allen Sebold kicked the conversion (conversion kicks in youth league are worth two points) to make it 8-0.

Then on the last play of the first quarter, Derek Mason raced into the end zone from 14 yards out and Ralph Speicher ran for the extra point.

The final touchdown came when Billy Younkin blocked a Bears' punt at the 1:47 mark of the second quarter, then picked up the ball and raced 21 yards for a touchdown. Sebold's conversion kick made it 23-0.

Younkin also led the balanced defensive attack by the Steelers.

The Steelers will travel to Terra Alta this Sunday afternoon to face the Terra Alta Dolphins in the 3 p.m. contest. It will be the season opener for the Dolphins.

The Oakland Raiders will play the Bears in the first game, which will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Jets Whip Rams

The Oakland Jets opened their 1989 Mt. Top Youth Football League season with a 12-6 victory over the Thomas-Davis Rams Sunday afternoon.

A 35-yard run by Andy Lane opened the scoring for the Jets.

Then on the next series, with the Rams deep in their own territory, Jet linebacker Dave Crosco picked off a pass on the Rams' 15 and returned it for a touchdown.

The Rams' touchdown came on a run by Kenny Hawk.

Defensive standouts for the Jets were Steve Eyler, who recovered a Ram fumble and was the team's leading tackler, Lane, Ritchie Warnick, and Jeremy Fitzwater.

Crosco intercepted a second pass from Ram quarterback Gabe Rubenstein to halt a Ram drive deep into Jet territory.

The 1-0 Jets are idle this week.

Raiders Stop Vikes

A 35-yard touchdown run by Jason Burgess followed by a conversion run by Josh Woods was all the Oakland Raiders needed to defeat the Parsons Vikings, 7-0, Sunday afternoon in Mt. Top Youth Football League action at Parsons. It was the opening game for both teams.

Coach Dave Martin's Raiders put the points on the board in the first quarter and the remainder of the contest was all defense.

Woods led the Raiders in rushing with 91 yards on 14 carries, while Mark Elliott picked up 62 yards on 11 carries, Burgess gained 50 yards on just three carries, and Chad Bittinger added 10 yards on three attempts.

Martin said that his team's defensive performance was "a total team effort."

The Raiders will travel to Terra Alta this Sunday to meet the Terra Alta Dolphins in the 1:30 p.m. game.

Mountain Bike Race Set Oct. 22 At Wisp Resort

Wisp Resort, McHenry, will hold its second Mountain Bike Race of 1989 on October 22. "The first Fall Spectacular Race will have all the elements of fun, competition and great spectator opportunities," remarked Brad Howarth, Wisp's program coordinator.

Over five million mountain bikes were sold in this country last year, which represents half of all bike sales, Howarth said.

The bikes with fat tires, 10 to 21 gears, and straight handle bars means that novices don't have to lag behind. "Our race has divisions for beginners through experts and the course will be through wooded trails on Marsh Mountain and down the grassy ski slopes," Howarth said.

For more information or to express an interest in volunteering, persons should contact Howarth at Wisp Resort, 387-4911.

Bosley Wins Gold

The Aerobic Diehards, a group of youths from Garrett County, made their fifth appearance at the National Aerobic Championships to perform an exhibition routine before the contest.

Director Howard Schwartz recognized the team when he stated, "Watching these kids grow and become so talented over the past four years has been a great experience. It doesn't seem possible that some of them will be old enough to compete next year."

The current women's national aerobic champion Tenaj Millward gave the group a compliment when she stated, "I don't know about you all but if I had to compete in this region I'd be worried about the Aerobic Diehards."

Reebok's Athletic shoe representative, Pam Schwayder, asked the group to have posters made which they will be giving out and signing during the at large competition to be held in Cincinatti this September. Schwayder also announced that Reebok will supply each team member with three pairs of Reebok shoes. Napskins Company, an Alexandria, Va., producer of body wear, has asked to sponsor the team with new outfits.

"We are excited about receiving the shoes and leotards. A lot of hours have been spent practicing, promoting and fund-raising. We are all hoping we are close to receiving national sponsorship. The event we are doing in Cincinatti could be very important in gaining that position. Reebok is asking a lot of questions, so all we can do is keep our fingers crossed," Brosnihan, coach of the Aeoribic Diehards, stated.

Victor Brick, owner of Padonia Fitness Center in Baltimore, has asked Brosnihan to be a guest speaker and instructor at the training program he is developing for the mid-atlantic region. Karen Schwartz, producer of the National Aerobic Championships, suggested that Brosnihan coordinate youth groups in all the contest regions as well as the possibility of developing a national youth aerobic competition.

Brenda's Body Shop will feature a performance by Bosley, Peterson, White and the Aerobic Diehards on September 9 at 7:30 p.m. which is open to the public. Following the performance Bosley, Peterson and White will lead the first fall class for members enrolled in the fall session.

HORSE SHOWS ARE EXCITING, both for equestrians and spectators, as these photos by Sandra Savage, taken at the August 6 Mt. Top Saddle Club Horse Show, prove. The club's next horse show will be held on September 10, beginning at 10 a.m., at the Garrett County Fairgrounds (for more information, see story on page C-10) with classes to thrill all horse lovers. Seven high-point trophys will be awarded for English, western, game, youth, open, hunter and pony classes. Friends, relatives and excited spectators cheer the game entries, such as Ray Wilt and his horse Fox Buster, above, as he rounds a barrel at break-neck speed. Game classes include pole bending, four-corner stake race, barrel race, and dash for cash. Everyone holds their breath as horse and rider teams, such as Theresa Walker and Trader Bay, right, clear the fences in the hunter and pleasure-over-fences classes. Entries in the hunter-over-fences class take a series of two-foot jumps in the ring, while contestants in the pleasure-over-fences class tackle three-foot fences in the open field. The trail class tests the horse's training and ability to accept and conquer unfamiliar objects, such as a plastic raincoat, a gate which must be opened and closed, putting an object into a mailbox, or stepping over logs. Everyone loves to watch little kids on their little ponies in the pet pony class, and kids and adults alike attempt to be the last one to drop a raw egg being held with a spoon while their horses walk, trot and canter in the egg and spoon class. Spectators are always welcome, and there is no entry fee. Good food is available, and they are invited to bring a camera, a lawn chair and enjoy a day of fun and excitement at the horse show.

Earns Master's At Hood College

Carol A. Edgar, daughter of John S. and Helen M. Edgar, formerly of Grantsville, was awarded the degree of master of science in information and computer science from Hood College, Frederick, on May 19.

Miss Edgar is a computer scientist with the National Institute of Science and Technology (NIST, formerly the National Bureau of Standards) in Gaithersburg, where she has been working since May 1983.

Miss Edgar conducts research in the area of communications and networking standards, particularly with Open Systems Interconnection (OSI) protocols. She is currently chairperson of the OSINET Technical Committee, a commitee which addresses the technical issues of interoperability testing over a Wide Area Network (WAN), OSINET, via OSI end and intermediate systems.

Miss Edgar was graduated from Northern High School in 1980. She attended Hood College from 1980-1984, where she graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in information and computer science.

Jobless Rate

but the June labor force was over 500 higher than May's labor force (13,511 to 13,015).

Particularly noteworthy in June 1989 was a substantial gain of 1,900 jobs in manufacturing throughout the state. These job gains were realized in manufacturing foodstuffs, such as seasonal seafood processing.

"Although gains like this are seasonal, these 1,900 jobs are valuable to the total manufacturing employment picture. This is a high priority for the state of Maryland," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of DEED.

Throughout the state, there was a reduction in government employment, which dropped by 7,200 people, primarily in educational institutions.

Expansion continued in service industry employment, which jumped by 8,800 people, and in the trade industry, which rose by 5,000 people. Seasonal employment gains were highest in amusements, eating and drinking establishments, food processing, hotels and lodging, agricultural services and construction. Food stores and business services also hired more people.

In the Baltimore metropolitan area, the jobless rate rose from 4.3 percent to 4.8 percent. Every jurisdiction in the region had higher unemployment during June. Normal layoffs in the school systems were evident as seasonal hiring boosted payrolls in amusements and construction. However, the rate for the Baltimore metropolitan area at 4.8 percent was still lower than the 5.2 percent recorded for June 1988.

Unemployment in the Maryland suburbs of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area also increased from 2.9 percent to 3.4 percent. Hiring was sluggish in most industries in that region. However, employment in amusement services increased by 1,500 people.

In Western Maryland, the increase in employment slightly outpaced the increase in the labor force. This caused the unemployment rate to decline from 6.6 percent in May to 6.3 percent in June. Employment levels remained steady. This June's rate was down by more than one percent compared with June 1988 when the unemployment rate was 7.5 percent. This gain is evidence that Washington County's economy continues to expand. The county's jobless rate dipped from 6.0 percent in June 1988 to 4.6 percent in June of this year.

In the balance of the state, unemployment rose from 4.9 percent to 5.3 percent. The largest increase was in Cecil County, where auto workers were laid off temporarily from automobile manufacturing jobs in neighboring Delaware. Somerset and Dorchester counties' layoffs in food processing contributed to increased unemployment rates of 9.4 percent and 7.1 percent, respectively.

Tourism helped Worcester County's labor force to remain high, providing jobs for more than 4,600 job seekers. With Worcester County's success, the Eastern Shore realized the largest employment increase of the state's four regions.

Throughout the state, unemployment rates in June ranged from a low of 2.6 percent in Howard County to a high of 9.4 percent in Somerset County.

We'll miss you.

First Aid Class Scheduled At Red Cross Office

The Allegany County Chapter American Red Cross will begin a standard first aid instructor course on Wednesday, September 6. The course will be held five evenings, September 6, 7, 18, 22 and 23, from 6 to 10 p.m., at the Red Cross Building, 400 Cumberland St., Cumberland.

Tailored to meet the needs of the workplace, this new American Red Cross Standard First Aid Course combines cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and first aid training in a compact, eight-hour format.

Recognized by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) as the recommended basic level of training required for employers to comply with OSHA first aid standards, the course uses innovative teaching methods and the latest emergency care information.

"Having CPR and first aid in one course will take less of an employee's time without sacrificing the quality of skills learned," said Sandi Buckalew, health services coordinator at Red Cross. "Flexible enough to fit in with a company's scheduling needs, the course is exciting for the employee and efficient for the employer."

The first section of the course teaches what to do during emergencies, including rescue breathing (mouth-to-mouth resuscitation), first aid for choking and adult CPR.

Discussion in the second section includes first aid for bleeding, shock, burns, poisoning, stroke and various injuries. Several rescue methods are described, and an action guide gives step-by-step directions on how to keep a victim safe until medical care arrives.

Using state-of-the-art learning techniques, Red Cross instructors use hands-on practice sessions, illustrated and easy-to-read workbooks, and video tapes depicting reenactments of real-life emergencies. Red Cross was the first organization in the United States to offer training in accident prevention, and has provided first aid training for almost 80 years.

Employers or individuals interested in becoming a Red Cross instructor in the new program should call Buckalew at 722-1760.

Good Food and how to prepare it!

The Only Way To Fry

Stir-Frying

Although stir-frying is a cooking method generally associated with oriental cuisine, inventive chefs are finding more and more ways to prepare traditionally Western foods using this healthful technique. Stir-frying involves cooking foods quickly over high heat with just a small amount of vegetable oil, either in a wok or heavy skillet. In addition to holding nutrients, stir-fried foods maintain their flavor and color as well.

The key to successful stir-frying is to chop the vegetables and/or meat you are preparing into very thin or small pieces. Cutting vegetables on the bias or in julienne strips provides more surface area that speeds cooking. For optimum tenderness, meat should be sliced very thinly across the grain, which is easier if you freeze the meat until just firm (about 45-60 minutes) and use a very sharp knife.

Since stir-fry foods cook so quickly, be sure to have all your ingredients ready before you start. Some vegetables may need to be steamed for a short time before you can stir-fry them. The usual order of stir-fry cooking is : first, pungent seasonings , such as garlic or ginger root ; next, slower cooking vegetables, such as carrots, broccoli or green beans; then, quick cooking vegetables, such as mushrooms, pea pods or cabbage; finally, meat, fish or chicken.

SHRIMP AND TOFU ORIENTAL

2 tablespoons oil
3 cloves garlic, chopped
1 tablespoon fresh ginger root, grated finely
½ lb. shrimp, boiled 2 minutes, shelled and deveined
¾ lb. tofu, drained and cubed
1 to 2 sweet red or green peppers, cut in small pieces
5 green onions, chopped
4 cups cooked brown rice
2 cups mung bean sprouts
Soy sauce

In a wok or a large skillet, heat the oil over medium-high heat. When hot, add the ginger, garlic and shrimp, and saute for two minutes. Next, add the tofu, pepper and green onions, and cook two minutes more. Add the rice and bean sprouts, and stir-fry over medium-high heat until the rice is hot and the bean sprouts are partly wilted. Sprinkle with soy sauce, and serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

GINGER-ORANGE BEEF

1 lb. beef top round steak
1 to 1½ teaspoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons orange juice
1½ teaspoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
1 tablespoon freshly grated ginger or 1½ teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 teaspoons vegetable oil
4-5 cups sliced vegetables (any favorites, including carrots, green or red bell peppers, snow peas, water chestnuts, broccoli, celery)
3 cups shredded cabbage, lettuce or spinach

Trim the visible fat from the beef and slice into thin strips. Mix the soy sauce, orange juice, cornstarch, orange peel, ginger and cinnamon. Pour this mixture over the sliced steak, stir lightly and allow to stand while you slice the vegetables. Heat 2 teaspoons of the oil in a large skillet or wok, until hot. Add the beef mixture and cook over high heat, stirring constantly, until browned (about 3 minutes). Remove the beef to a plate. Add the remaining teaspoon of oil to the skillet or wok and add the vegetables. Cook, stirring constantly, for 3 to 4 minutes, or until the vegetables are still crisp-tender. Return the beef to the skillet and mix in well. Yield: 4 servings.

SZECHUAN TURKEY STIR-FRY

2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 teaspoons shredded ginger root
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1 medium red or yellow bell pepper, cut into 1¼x¼-inch strips
4 ounces fresh pea pods, cut in half diagonally
3 green onions with tops, cut into 1-inch pieces
2 cups diced cooked turkey
1 can (8 ounces) sliced water chestnuts, drained

Combine picante sauce, soy sauce, water, cornstarch and ginger, set aside. Heat oil in large skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add pepper, stir-fry 1 minute. Add pea pods and green onions, continue stir-frying 1 minute. Add turkey, water chestnuts and picante sauce mixture. Cook and stir 1 minute or until vegetables are crisp-tender and sauce has thickened. Serve with rice, if desired, and additional picante sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

STIR-FRIED NOODLES AND VEGETABLES

2 teaspoons vegetable oil
1 clove garlic, minced
1 dried red pepper
½ cup diagonally sliced carrot
1 red bell pepper, cut into thin strips
¼ pound fresh peas pods
½ cup cooked vermicelli

Heat wok or heavy frying pan over medium-high heat until hot. Add oil, garlic, dried red pepper, carrot and red bell pepper and stir-fry 3 minutes. Add pea pods and continue to stir-fry 2 minutes. Add vermicelli and cook until hot. Discard dried red pepper. Yield: 4 servings.

ITALIAN CHICKEN STIR-FRY

4 chicken breast halves, skinned and boned
2 tablespoons peanut or vegetable oil
1½ cups broccoli, in small pieces (or 1 10-oz. package frozen broccoli pieces)
1 large green pepper, cut into 1 inch squares
¼-½ teaspoon garlic powder
½ teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon basil
3 medium tomatoes, chopped

Cut the chicken into 1-inch cubes. Heat a wok or skillet over high heat for about 30 seconds. Add the oil and swirl to cover the pan bottom. Reduce the heat to medium and add the chicken. Fry the chicken rapidly, stirring and tossing to cook evenly. Cook the chicken for one minute, then add the broccoli, green pepper, garlic powder and herbs. Cook, stirring continuously, until the vegetables are almost tender-crisp. Add the tomatoes and stir until heated through and well mixed. Yield 4 servings.

BROCCOLI AND BEEF CANTONESE

This delicious stir-fry dish exemplifies good nutrition in two ways: lean cuts of meat are used in small portions to keep fat content low and lots of vegetables are included for vitamins and low calorie volume. Some brown rice is all you need for a complete meal.

1 lb. boneless top round steak or flank steak
1½ tablespoon cornstarch
4 tablespoons soy sauce
½ cup dry sherry
1½ teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon garlic powder
2 tablespoons salad oil
¼ lb. mushrooms, sliced
2 10-oz. packages frozen broccoli florets, partially thawed
1 cup water chestnuts, sliced
2 cups bean sprouts (or 16-oz. can, drained)
1 cup green onions, diagonally sliced

Trim all fat from the meat, then freeze slightly. When firm, slice the meat across the grain into strips 1 to 2 inches long, 1/8-inch thick. In a small bowl mix the water with cornstarch until smooth. Mix in the soy sauce, sherry, ginger and garlic powder. In wok, heavy skillet, or electric skillet, heat 1 tablespoon oil until very hot. Add half the meat, stirring constantly, until it is lightly browned. Remove it from the pan and cook the second half of the meat, without adding more oil. Remove second batch of meat from the pan, add 1 tablespoon of oil to the pan, if needed, and add mushrooms. Brown lightly, then return meat to the pan. Add broccoli, water chestnuts, and cornstarch mixture. Bring to a boil, while stirring. Continue cooking and stirring until sauce is thickened and clear. Stir in bean sprouts and onions allow them to heat, and serve immediately with brown rice. Yield: 6 servings.

1 cup beef broth
1 medium onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
¼ lb. mushrooms, sliced
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 cups hot cooked rice

Slice beef thinly across the grain. In shallow bowl, mix sesame seeds, flour and spices. Dip beef strips into broth, then toss in flour mixture. Set aside. Heat oil in wok or non-stick skillet until hot. Add onion and pepper, saute for 2 minutes. Add mushrooms and continue cooking 1 minute longer. Add beef. Cook, stirring constantly, about 2 to 3 minutes. If necessary, add a little beef broth to keep beef from sticking to bottom of pan. When beef is cooked, add remaining broth. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and heated through, Serve over rice. Yield: 4 servings.

HYPNOSIS CAN BE VERY DANGEROUS

Never permit yourself to be hypnotized by anyone but a physician or a dentist, who sometimes may use hypnotism as an anesthetic for childbirth, surgery or easing of anxiety or pain. Avoid hypnotists who use it for entertainment. Hypnotism is not a toy.

For in unskilled direction, a reaction may result leaving one with mental disturbances, nausea, with some such cases reported serious enough to need psychiatric treatment or hospitalization. Amateur hypnotists are dangerous.

God Changes Things

"An empty spider web hangs suspended in a dry bush, a mere pattern of gray trembling in the breeze."

Each week, people from every walk of life, carrying a myriad of joys and burdens, enter churches and synagogues to worship.

"Dew falls and the sun rises." God moves in the lives of His people.

"Clothed now in dew, the once drab spider web becomes a chandelier of crystal rainbows — royal purples, velvet violets, fiery reds, some flecked with brightest gold."

People emerge from their houses of worship, apparently unchanged, yet — different. What is the new meaning in their lives? What is the deeper understanding? How has peace and confidence been renewed? A mystery? Perhaps! But not beyond experience.

Won't you join us this week? Together, we will learn from the God who changes things.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHEN IT SEEMS GOD IS LOST

September 3, 1989

Background Scripture: Ezekiel 1
Devotional Reading: 1 Peter 1:3-11

My wife and I travel quite a bit and, when we visit other churches on a Sunday morning, we are often struck with the discovery that, although we are worshipping the same God, the experience of worship and other facets of church life seem so different. It is difficult sometimes to conceive of Christian life outside the arena of our own Christian congregation.

All of us need to remember that our experience and our congregation are not the norm for the rest of Christendom and the Christianity that other people follow, although often quite different from our own, is no less valid just because it is unfamiliar. There is authentic Christian life beyond our own experience.

A STATIONARY GOD

This is frequently a problem in our age of high mobility. People sometimes come to our church from another city and find it difficult to settle down in our congregation because it is not sufficiently like what they experienced before they came here. It is as if, acknowledging that people are mobile, we doubt that God is. We tend to think of God solely in terms of where we have been experiencing him for the past several decades.

If you have experienced any of the feelings noted above, then perhaps you can better appreciate what the people of Israel felt when they were carried off into captivity in Babylon. They were not enslaved or abused, so far as we know. In fact, in some ways they were even better off—materially, perhaps—than they had been in the Promised Land. They were simply displaced from their homeland.

What was difficult for them, however, was the fact that they felt so totally separated from their religion. The focus of that religion back in their homeland had been the great Temple of Solomon in Jerusalem. This is where they experienced God with some kind of regularity and familiarity. Intellectually, they were aware that God was not limited to the Jerusalem temple, but still it was hard to think of God apart from this holy ground and the temple that stood upon it. In a sense, we might say they suffered from an ediface complex—they associated the experience of God only within that ediface.

THE EDIFACE COMPLEX

There are also people who associate their experience of God, not with a place or a congregation so much as with a pastor. Let the minister move or be moved to another church and there usually will be some people who will be certain that it is God, not just their pastor, whom they have lost—particularly if the new minister is not much like the one who has left. Intellectually, of course, we know better, but that doesn't keep us from acting as if God is lost.

It was probably in the midst of just such a situation—people acting as if God were lost—that Ezekiel received his first vision. And the importance of that vision was that it told him and his people that God was not lost, but was with them every bit as much as he had been with them in the temple of Jerusalem.

Ezekiel's wonderful vision of the glory of God is a reminder also to us that, no matter how much the outer circumstances of our lives may change, God is not lost. He may seem lost because we are looking for him in the wrong places, but he is just as close as ever if we will permit him into our lives.

Television has produced some regrettable moments

By John Haakenson

In 1979, Paul Slansky contributed a list of gaffes and faux pas from the world of television for the respected magazine Film Comment. Ten years have come and gone since that article appeared, but time hasn't diminished the ignominy of those moments. Here are a few of those achievements:

•During a live commercial in 1954 for a Westinghouse frost-free refrigerator, Betty Furness is unable to get the appliance's door open. "Yick! Someone's playing games," she says, as she struggles in vain. "Well ... ordinarily it's completely automatic." After 30 seconds, the cameraman dollies in for an unplanned closeup of Furness while stagehands yank the door open.

•While broadcasting a Cubs-Pirates game in August, 1977, ABC's Keith Jackson tells the nation that Chicago's Bobby Murcer spent the afternoon visiting a 12-year-old boy dying of cancer. The boy, who has not been told the nature of his illness, watches the game from his hospital bed.

•Chris Chubbuck, 30-year-old hostess of Sarasota, Florida's morning talk show, Suncoast Digest, interrupts her reading of the news and says, "In keeping with channel 40's policy of bringing you the latest in blood and guts and in living color, you are going to see another •first—attempted suicide." Chubbuck takes a .38 revolver out of a shopping bag and shoots herself in the head. The attempt succeeds (July 15, 1974).

•Just before he went on the air to announce his resignation in August, 1974, President Richard Nixon tells his photographer to stop taking pictures. With the cameras rolling during a last-minute sound check, Nixon explains: "I'm afraid he'll catch me pickin' muh nose." •Manfred Weber, a contestant on the game show County Fair, is seated center stage with an enormous firecracker in his lap, while his blindfolded wife futilely attempts to stamp out the fuse and host Bert Parks does a grotesque burlesque of her efforts. The firecracker goes off, buckets of flour fall on the hapless Manny, and then the unexpected happens: he suddenly goes up in flames! He leaps out of his chair and runs offstage while the audience screams. Stagehands smother the flames. "Whoa, we goofed," says Parks. "That was a close thing, but he's all right. We're gonna have him out here for you to see! Let's give him a nice hand, and she's gonna receive a thousand dollars." No further mention is made of Mr. Webber, who is taken to a hospital with burns on his face, neck and hands. "Lots more fun and excitement coming up in this half," says Parks when the show returns from a commercial. (1959)

Q: For some time I have been trying to remember the name of the TV series that Kim Bassinger played in. It seems like she and a guy were private detectives and I believe she drove a Volkswagen. Also the girl who plays Stephanie on the Newhart show. I can't place her, but I have seen her play in something else. Can you give me information on her previous roles? You have no idea how these questions have been bugging me. —Thanks. Julie Breaux, Watson, La.

A: Kim Bassinger and Lou Antonio starred in the 1977 ABC series Dog and Cat. Antonio played Det. Sgt. Jack Ramsey and Bassinger played rookie Officer J.Z. Kane. The series ran for two months. Julia Duffy's first role on television was as Jerry on Love of Life for six months. She was then cast as Penny on The Doctors, a role she performed for four years. Her first series role on primetime television was in Wizards and Warriors as Princess Ariel. She also starred as Mary Hale in the miniseries The Blue and the Gray.

Q: I recently watched a rerun of The Planet of the Apes. It appears that one of the professors was actor Victor Newman of The Young and the Restless, can this be so? —T. Johnson, Billings, Mt.

A: Eric Braeden, who stars as Victor Newman on The Young and the Restless, lists Escape from the Planet of the Apes in his credits. There is no mention of The Planet of the Apes. Are you sure of the movie?

Julia Duffy

Q: Was Spider-Man ever a series starring Nicholas Hammond or were they just several movies? If so how many? And also has there ever been a movie or series entitled Lockjaw starring any member of the Carridine clan? —Darren Wolbers, Monmouth, Ill.

A: Spider-Man, starring Nicholas Hammond, was a 90-minute pilot film for the series The Amazing Spider-Man. The series aired a total of 12 60-minute episodes on CBS from April '78 to July '79. The Carradine clan has starred in everything from Boxcar Bertha to Massacre at Central High, but I see nothing titled Lockjaw in their credits.

Q: I am not getting the early show of Wheel of Fortune and am wondering if Rolf is still host? Rolf took Pat Sajak's place. —Blandena Reeves, Anchorage, Alaska

A: Bob Goen replaced Rolf Benirschke as host of Wheel of Fortune on July 17, 1989, when it premiered on the CBS daytime schedule.

THINK BACK

There's just no time for sergeants

By Donna Gooch

Sergeants have it rough. They're non-commissioned officers in the military, having to kow-tow to all those captains, colonels and lieutenants. In the police ranks, the title usually means a lot of hard work and very little glory and recognition. Still, the series sergeants which follow made the best of their lot, bossing around privates when they got the chance or just working for that illusive promotion which always seemed just a little beyond their grasp. Still, none of the TV programs would have been the same without old sarge. Match the following.

SERGEANT
a. Sgt. Troy
b. Sgt. Anderson
c. Sgt. Wojehowicz
d. Sgt. Enright
e. Sgt. Carter
f. Sgt. O'Rourke
g. Sgt. Grover
h. Sgt. Bilko
i. Sgt. Shultz
j. Sgt. Friday

SERIES:
1. F Troop
2. Gomer Pyle
3. You'll Never Get Rich
4. Hogan's Heroes
5. Rat Patrol
6. Dragnet
7. Police Woman
8. McMillan and Wife
9. Barney Miller
10. McCloud

ANSWERS:
1. f, 2. e, 3. h, 4. i, 5. a, 6. j, 7. b, 8. d, 9. c, 10. g

Creative Flow

Matt Frewer, who has given up portraying Max Headroom to become an idealistic and offbeat practioner on Doctor, Doctor, likes the way the comedy's creator and executive producer, Norman Steinberg (Blazing Saddles), runs the show. "He's great about letting us ad-lib and generally giving the cast free rein. He opens the gate and lets us roam the range."

Back in the Saddle

Dale Evans may have been just as famous a Western star as her husband and partner, Roy Rogers, but she admits that she was one lousy horsewoman. "I could not ride," she said recently. Roy agreed. "When she rode," he said, "I never saw so much daylight between a person and a saddle."

Jerry Lewis gives his all in annual MDA telethon

By Mary Ann Townsend

Like he has for the past 23 years, Jerry Lewis will help raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association in the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to air from 9 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 3, to 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 4, on a "Love Network" of more than 200 stations coast to coast.

The show will originate from the Jerry Lewis Theatre Cashman Field Center in Las Vegas, and will feature a variety of entertainers who not only perform, but also help Lewis by hosting the event.

With help from Ed McMahon, Sammy Davis Jr., Casey Kasem, Tony Orlando and Julius LaRose as well as dozens of other show business favorites, Lewis will attempt to top last year's pledges.

The telethon was inaugurated in 1966 when it was broadcast by only one station in New York City. That initial show was the first televised fund-raising event of its kind to raise more than $1 million in pledges.

In the 17 years in which the A.C. Nielsen Company has been measuring the viewership of the Jerry Lewis MDA Labor Day Telethon, the viewing levels for the show have grown by more than 50 percent. According to the Nielsens, the 1988 telethon was viewed by more than 90 million people.

Money raised during the show helps the association carry on its fight against 40 neuromuscular diseases by supporting basic and applied research, a comprehensive program of medical services for patients and their families, and far-reaching professional and public education.

One of the most recent major discoveries about the disease happened late in 1987, when a research team identified the crucial protein—dystrophin—that is missing in boys with the fatal Duchenne muscular dystrophy. The discovery has helped scientists understand the cause of the once-mysterious disease.

Jerry Lewis helps his Kids, children afflicted with neuromuscular diseases, through his annual telethon Sunday and Monday.

In addition to serving as the telethon's host, Jerry Lewis is MDA's No. 1 volunteer.

His commitment to the cause remains firm. "Each man must choose the cause closest to his heart, and I've chosen mine," the performer said.

What keeps him fighting for a cure for MD is seeing the disease's affects, especially on children, who have affectionately become known as Jerry's Kids."

Each year, the association selects a child afflicted with a neuromuscular disease to represent the organization's efforts on promotional posters. This year's Poster Child is 6-year-old Ashley Nichole Antolak. Ashley has intermediate spinal muscular atrophy, a condition diagnosed when she was 3 years old. Ashley, her parents, Robert and Donna, and her 9-year-old brother, Anthony live in Athens, Tenn.

Richard Widmark plays a former Texas Ranger tracking a train robber, and Angie Dickinson is his estranged wife on Once Upon a Texas Train, Friday, Sept. 8, on CBS.

Job Placement Center At GCC Receives Grant

The Garrett Community Job Placement Center has received a grant to continue its second year of operation. The grant from the state utilizes federal funds from the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act.

The Job Placement Center, opened in January of this year, is housed in the Center for Community and Continuing Education at the College. A year-end report shows that the Center is successful in obtaining jobs for students.

During the first six months of operation, interviews were arranged for 51 of 55 placement center applicants. The interviews resulted in successful placement of 43 applicants. According to Sandy Major, coordinator of the Center, the number of students and community members served and placed is expected to grow dramatically as knowledge about GCC's services increases.

Between January and June, staff of the center worked with 52 local employers and listed 108 job openings. It has also referred students to openings listed in the want ads and with the Maryland State Office of Employment Service. Since some college training programs are welfare related, welfare clients represented 36 percent of GCC placements. The college expects that this percentage will grow in the future.

Employers and job seekers using the Job Placement Center were surveyed in June. One hundred percent of employers responding to the survey indicated that they were pleased with the services provided and that they would use the Center again. Ninety-eight percent of the students who were surveyed expressed their satisfaction with the center and their appreciation of the services offered, Ms. Major said.

"The staff of the Job Placement Center has established its 1989-90 objectives," she said. "We hope to increase the clientele and services in the year ahead."

The Job Placement Center's services include assistance in finding full and part-time jobs, job counseling, resume writing, referral to job related resources, training sessions on interview and job search techniques, and listings on available full and part-time jobs. While credit and noncredit GCC students are given priority, services are also available to community members. The staff of the center is also ready to assist employers assessing quickly a ready pool of applicants from a variety of vocational preparations, posting available jobs, scheduling on-campus recruitment visits, and providing qualified applicants for positions in business, banking, construction, geriatrics, office, hospitality, retail, and wildlife. All center services are free.

Employers or job seekers desiring further information about job placement services should contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 180.

Christmas Tree Hotline Started By Ag. Dept.

The Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA) wants to hear from groups and individuals who are planning to operate retail Christmas tree lots this year.

MDA's Market Research and Development Group, in cooperation with the Maryland Wholesale Christmas Tree Association, has compiled a list of Maryland Wholesale Christmas tree growers who have an extensive selection of trees available for this season. The list gives the grower's name, address, phone number, and the quantity, variety and size of trees for sale.

Wholesale buyers should be shopping now if they want to insure a dependable supply of desirable trees before the Christmas season. The "Wholesale Hotline" currently lists 14 growers with over 50,000 trees for sale. A wide variety of sizes and species are offered by the Maryland Growers.

The Market Research and Development Group will be operating the Christmas Tree Wholesale Hotline from now until Christmas. The hotline is subject to change daily as new growers are added and other growers sell out of trees.

Interested persons should write to: "Christmas Tree Hotline," Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, Maryland 21401, or phone 1-800-492-5590.

Sherwood Named SHA Employee Of The Week

Richard L. Sherwood has been recognized as Employee of the Week by the Maryland State Highway Administration Employee Recognition Program, Garrett County.

Sherwood entered state service in May 1973 as a laborer. He has worked as a mechanic's helper, Motor Equipment Operator 11, and is currently working as a mechanic out of the Keyser's Ridge Maintenance Shop.

Sherwood resides in Accident with his wife, Rosanne, who has taught school at Accident for the past 19 years. Richard's hobbies include hunting, fishing and playing softball. He is currently planning a hunting trip to Colorado in October.

Sherwood also serves on the Quality Circle Committee of the State Highway and is also a member of the District 6 Advisory Committee of the Quality Circle. Quality Circle Committees are made up of employees from all divisions of the State Highway and work together with management for the betterment of the employees, the work place, and the community.

"Richard's pleasing personality and easy going ways makes him enjoyable to work with and a pleasure to be around," stated an SHA spokesman.

October 21 To Be Community Service Day

Governor William Donald Schaefer has proclaimed October 21 Community Service Day in Maryland. Community Service Day is a cooperative project between local governments and the Governor's Office to encourage every Maryland citizen to participate in volunteer service activities in their communities.

"I know our state's first Community Service Day will be a big success because people help most when they are offered a chance to do what interests them," said Governor Schaefer. He added, "Volunteerism is already a staple ingredient in Maryland's wonderful quality of life, but each of us can and should do a little more."

He said plans are already underway to perform almost every type of community project imaginable on October 21. Activities scheduled include stream cleaning, landscaping public buildings, providing special services to senior citizens and children, and activities to serve the homeless or developmentally disabled.

Because of the overwhelming success of Montgomery County's Community Service Day (which last year drew more than 16,000 participants), County Executive Sidney Kramer proposed that the event become a statewide effort by the people of Maryland.

Individuals interested in participating in Community Service Day may call the Secretary of State's Office in Annapolis at (301) 974-5521. Information will be provided on what's happening in each county and in Baltimore city.

The Community Service Day chairman for Garrett County is Catherine Smith, Box 109A, Turkeyneck Road, Swanton; telephone 387-6539.

Mr. Norbeck expressed his appreciation for the device and said that it will be used by qualified personnel of Potomac/Garrett State Forest who have been trained in using the PBT to aid in the detection and prosecution of individuals involved in alcohol offenses in the State Forests and Parks.

Symposium On Geriatric Medicine Slated Sept. 8

Our society is aging. This fact is the single most critical dynamic facing health care providers today. Although Americans over the age of 65 represent only 11% of the population, they account for 40% of acute hospital days, buy one-quarter of all prescription drugs, spend 30% of the over 160-billion-dollar health budget, and account for more than 50% of the 40-billion-dollar federal budget.

To help physicians and other health professionals in the tri-state area prepare for this "greying of America," Sacred Heart Hospital and the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC) are co-sponsoring "A Symposium on Geriatric Medicine" scheduled for Friday, September 8, from 8 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, South George Street, Cumberland. The symposium will address a variety of topics including arthritis, psychiatric disorders in the elderly, diabetes, pharmacology and ethical and legal issues in geriatric care.

Keynote speaker for the symposium will be Roger Cadieux, M.D., Assistant Professor, Department of Psychiatry, Pennsylvania State University at the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center, Hershey, Pa. Dr. Cadieux's address will focus on Geriatric Assessment. A number of well-known presenters are slated to speak at the day-long event. Among them are Pearson (Trey) Sunderland, Ill., M.D., Chief, Unit on Geriatric Psychopharmacology, National Institute of Mental Health; Fredrick M. Wiggly, M.D., Chief of Rheumatology, Francis Scott Key Medical Center; Richard Eastman, M.D., Associate Professor of Medicine and Director, Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism, Georgetown University Medical Center; Louis Breschi, M.D., Chair, Professional Ethics Committee, Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland; Jack Schwartz, J.D., Chief Counsel for Opinions and Advice, Maryland Attorney General's Office; and Edmund Niklewski, M.D., Medical Director, Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Program, Washington County Hospital Association, Hagerstown.

The symposium has been endorsed by a large number of pharmaceutical and medical equipment companies who are providing financial support as well as product displays. Additional support for the program has been provided by the Maryland Gerontological Association.

The symposium marks the finale of an educational project entitled, "Rural Initiatives in Preventive Care for Older Adults," being coordinated by the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC). The project is supported by a grant from the Department of Health and Human Services under contract with the Maryland Statewide Medical Education and Training System. For the past two years, CAHEC has provided opportunities for physicians and other health care professionals to learn more about the importance of preventive health care for older adults and to discover ways that they can incorporate preventive strategies into their practice with this population.

All those participating in the symposium will receive a certificate of completion. In addition, the program has been approved for 5.75 Category I credit hours through Sacred Heart Hospital's affiliation with the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland and 5.75 prescribed hours by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Cost of the symposium is $55.00 which includes lecture materials, lunch, breaks and a wine and cheese reception following the program which is being hosted by the Allegany County Medical Society Auxiliary.

For more information or to register for the event, persons may contact Kathy Powell at (301) 777-9150.

Space Available In New Horizons Career Class

Registration is still open for Pre-Employment Skills Training classes to be held Monday and Wednesday, September 11 through October 25, from 6 p.m. to 9:15 p.m., and Friday, October 27 through December 15, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the McHenry Campus of Garrett Community College. The class will be offered through the Continuing Education Division of the college and is designed for participants who are interested in learning more about themselves, their career interest, training for employment, and job skills awareness.

If a person is undecided about a career field, Pre-Employment Skills Training is designed to help participants, by means of interest testing instruments such as the Holland Code Self-Directed Search, GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery) and the Career Assessment Inventory Test, to discover career fields compatible with their own interests. Based on this information, decisions can then be made regarding training programs and employment and more clear-cut goals can be established.

The New Horizons Program, serving Single Parents, Homemakers, Displaced Homemakers, and Adolescent Single Parents and Pregnant Teens has tuition money available to eligible participants who wish to enroll in this course.

Persons interested in finding out about themselves and making wise career choices who may qualify for New Horizons are encouraged to call the New Horizons office weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at 387-6666, ext. 171.

Space in the class is limited so persons are advised to call soon to determine eligibility and to enroll in the class free of charge, if eligible.

Little Angels

When God calls little children to dwell with Him above,
We mortals sometime question the wisdom of His love.
For no heartache compares with the death of one small child,
Who does so much to make our world seem wonderful and mild.

Perhaps God tires of calling the aged to his fold,
So He picks a rosebud before it can grow old.
God knows how much we need them, and so He takes but few to make the land of Heaven more beautiful to view.
Believing this is difficult still, somehow we must try.
The saddest word mankind knows will always be "goodbye"
So when a little child departs we who are left behind must realize,
God loves children, angels are hard to find.

Garrett Forestry Board Meets To Discuss Workshop

The Garrett County Forestry Board met Wednesday, August 24, in the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service office at Mt. Nebo. The Board members discussed the success of the 1989 Forest Conservation Workshop sponsored by the Maryland State Association of Forestry Boards, and hosted by the Garrett Board at Camp Hickory July 30 – August 5.

The workshop was attended by 54 students — 38 boys and 16 girls — grades 9-12, representing 21 of the counties in Maryland.

These students had an opportunity to see first hand some of the careers available in forestry, wildlife management, fisheries, and parks. The workshop was designed to be a learning experience for the students, hopefully providing them with information they will use in selecting a vocation.

Three members of the Garrett Forestry Board have been appointed by the Garrett County commissioners to serve on the Gypsy Moth Task Force in the county. The Task Force will be making recommendations to the commissioners on establishing a county cost-share program with private landowners for the suppression of gypsy moth infestation. John Forman, Dr. Frank Custer, and Phil Garman are serving on the committee.

Hearing aids and humidity do not mix well at all! Moisture damage in hearing aids is most prevalent in the summertime. To protect a hearing aid from unnecessary repairs caused by excessive moisture, store the aid in a DRI-AID kit at night. The small cost of a DRI-AID can increase the life of the hearing aid by removing harmful moisture. DRI-AID can be purchased from Advanced Hearing Aid Services of Oakland, at The Hearing Evaluation Center.

New Horizons Recaps Successful Funding Year

Garrett Community College's New Horizons Program recently submitted its final report for fiscal year 1989. New Horizons is a program that provides special services to single parents, homemakers, and displaced homemakers.

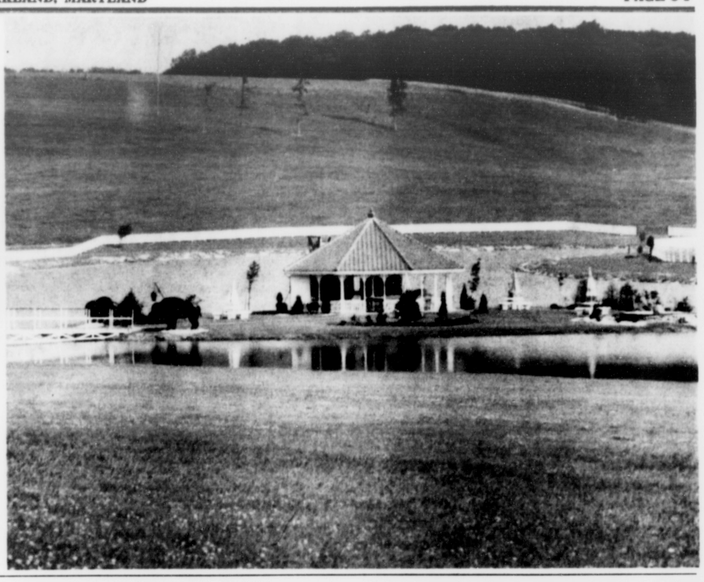
The program provided services to 184 individuals. Services included peer and career counseling, decision making, career testing, skills identification, pre-employment skills training, vocational skills training in both credit and non-credit courses, job awareness assistance, and service agency referrals.

One hundred sixteen, or 63 percent of the participants, enrolled in training consistent with their career interests. Over 42 percent pursued college studies. Thirty-eight clients, or 20.7 percent enrolled in non-credit vocational training. Five program participants graduated from Garrett Community College, with one receiving the Academic Award for Outstanding Career Advancement. New Horizons helped participants meet training costs. Child care and transportation subsidies enabled 16 clients to receive assistance while enrolled in training.

Approximately 183 documented job referrals were made to clients. Sixty-five participants secured jobs.

In his review of the final report, Dr. Stephen Herman, president of Garrett Community College, commented that New Horizons is "a great program with positive results." He congratulated the staff: Barbara Frey, director; Sue Sines, Intake/Workshop coordinator; and Mary Kirkland, Outreach/Job Awareness coordinator.

Persons interested in learning more about the New Horizons Program and the eligibility requirements are encouraged to call New Horizons at 387-6666, ext. 171 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.



HAVE COOKER WILL TRAVEL — Chef Merle Metheny's three and one-half ton travelling cooker from Cranesville, W.Va., will be fired up with loads of hickory, oak, and locust Saturday, September 16, to prepare a barbecued dinner for 350 Garrett Countians and their guests attending "The Barbecue at Del-Acres." This special event, to be held at the Carl DelSignore property known as Del-Acres along the Herrington Manor Road, is a fund-raiser being sponsored by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation. This unique cooker, pictured above, was designed by Metheny and was built with materials and assistance from the late Carl DelSignore. "Because of my personal relationship with Carl DelSignore, I am especially pleased at the invitation to put on a barbecue with this cooker at his estate," Metheny said. "My crew and I will do everything possible to make this a very special meal that everyone will enjoy." Tickets for the barbecue, musical entertainment, and guided tours of the main house are available from the Hospital Foundation office at 334-2155, members of the Foundation, Englander's Pharmacy, and Deep Creek Pharmacy. They are $50 each, $40 of which is tax-deductible. Pictured at right is the private lake, island, and gazebo at Del-Acres. The use of the property is being donated by the Carl DelSignore estate.

Granddaughter Of Oakland Resident In Medical School

Nicole Suzanne Hinson, granddaughter of Oakland resident Ruth McTall Leighton, was recently accepted into medical school. The North Carolina native was accepted into Bowman Gray School of Medicine at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C., this summer.

Hinson, 22, who began classes this month, graduated cum laude from Wake Forest University in May with a bachelor of science degree. She is a 1985 graduate of Salisbury High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society.

When she was an undergraduate, Ms. Hinson worked during vacations and weekends as an office assistant in her father's medical practice and for Broadway Insurance Co. in Salisbury, N.C.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Noah Hinson of Salisbury. Her mother, Patricia Leighton Hinson, is formerly of Oakland.

Energy Assistance Program To Be Meeting Topic

The Maryland Energy Assistance Program of the Department of Human Resources has announced that it will hold public meetings in Baltimore, Hagerstown and Easton, September 6-11, to discuss changes to the program and federal budget cuts.

"The federal budget cuts are causing the state concern because it means that, unless we come up with other revenue, we will lose almost $5 million in heating services to our constituents," said newly appointed secretary of DHR, Carolyn W. Colvin.

The hearings will give the public the opportunity to comment on changes designed to streamline MEAP's application process and provide better pricing guidelines for oil and kerosene.

"This year's hearings are very important in view of President Bush's National Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program budget proposal of $1.1 billion," said Executive Director Frank Blanton of DHR's Community Services Administration. "That figure translates into $17.6 million for Maryland in fiscal year 1990. We received $22.2 million in fiscal year 1989 and more services are needed now," he said in closing.

For interested citizens in Western Maryland a meeting has been scheduled at Hagerstown Junior College, 751 Robinwood Drive, Hagerstown, on September 6. All meetings will begin at 7 p.m.

Citizens interested in obtaining copies of the public hearing document should call 1-800-352-1446.

Funds Allocated For The Homeless

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced the allocation of $2.75 million to the 23 Maryland counties and Baltimore City to operate, expand or develop new shelters and transitional housing programs for the state's homeless population.

Garrett County has been allocated $15,000.

"The funds were distributed statewide because homelessness is not only an urban problem, but it affects suburban and rural communities also," Governor Schaefer said. "We will continue to move forward on this difficult problem by working in partnership with local government and the private sector to expand resources for our homeless citizens."

This year's allocation was an $800,000 increase over fiscal year 1989. The Governor's Advisory Board on Shelter, Nutrition, and Service Programs for Homeless Persons recommended the distribution formula.

"The homeless issue is becoming more serious in Maryland and the state is working to help solve the problem," said Carolyn W. Colvin, newly appointed Secretary for the Department of Human Resources. "The increased funds will significantly strengthen the state's capacity to provide emergency shelter and supportive services to those who have no homes."

Almost 60 percent of the state's homeless are persons under 30-years-old, with 35 percent employed in full or part time jobs, Secretary Colvin said. "They are just unable to get affordable housing."

Baltimore City, which serves 46 percent of the Maryland's homeless population, will receive $1,342,000 to maintain existing shelters and increase the number of beds available for homeless people.

Additionally, local jurisdictions have formed homeless boards to assess resource needs, develop funding applications and plan ways to address the long term needs of the homeless in their communities.

Gambling Hotline Contract Awarded

Adele Wilzack, R.N., M.S., Secretary of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) announces that for the third year in a row, DHMH has awarded a $10,000 contract to the National Center for Pathological Gambling, Inc., of Baltimore to operate the Gambling Hotline in Maryland.

"There are approximately 200,000 Marylanders with a severe gambling problem — resulting in financial ruin, broken homes and medical complications," said Valerie C. Lorenz, Ph.D., director of the National Center. "One in four compulsive gamblers tries to commit suicide. Others resort to criminal activities. Compulsive gambling is a very serious, devastating illness," said Dr. Lorenz.

From July 1, 1988 to June 30, 1989, the hotline received approximately 971 legitimate calls — not including hang-ups, wrong numbers, etc. Over 700 calls were made by compulsive gamblers or close family members. About 10 percent of the calls were made by a gambler's lawyer, therapist, prison counselor or close friend.

"Our staff receives all kinds of calls — from gamblers who want to stop but don't know how, from wives who are on the verge of nervous breakdowns, and students who lose their tuition money to bookies," said Dr. Lorenz. "Employers have called wanting to know where to file complaints because they see their employees losing entire paychecks to poker machines," she added.

Hotline staffers are seeing an increase in calls about illegal activities, such as allegations of skimming (under-reporting of gambling revenues) by Prince George's County casinos, the existence of after-hours clubs in Baltimore City and Baltimore County, payoffs on illegal poker machines, tip jars and pull tabs in the Hagerstown area, and illegal numbers in all urban areas.

According to Dr. Lorenz, both legal and illegal gambling is pervasive in Maryland. She praises law enforcement agencies for the cooperation they have shown the National Center. "They have assisted us in every way necessary during suicide calls or when callers received threats of physical harm from bookies and loansharks," said Dr. Lorenz.

Some callers request general information on compulsive gambling, often for academic research papers. Mental health counselors ask for help in treating a compulsive gambler or family member.

Other callers often have serious concerns about gambling. "One serviceman needed to attend Gamblers Anonymous in order to be given leave, a gambling addict sent to jail has a cellmate who is an active gambler, another person feared arrest because he had a slot machine in his basement," said Dr. Lorenz.

An analysis of last year's calls of compulsive gamblers shows that casino, race track and sports bettors tend to be employed, white males. Poker machine, lottery and bingo addicts were mostly under- or unemployed gamblers who lacked insurance to pay for treatment.

"We were surprised to learn that one-third of the slot machine addicts were males. We were also surprised at the high incidence of lottery addicts, both male and female, in Maryland," said Dr. Lorenz.

The National Center for Pathological Gambling, Inc., is a non-profit organization specializing in treatment, education, training and research. It operates the statewide hotline 24 hours a day, year-round. Callers requesting treatment are referred to professional treatment programs and private practitioners, as well as to Gamblers Anonymous and GamAnon.

The hotline receives an average of 100 calls per month. All calls are kept confidential.

Miss Butler, Miss Brenneman Compete In Princess Pageant

Brooke Butler

Briana Brenneman

Brooke Butler, age 5; and her cousin, Briana Lynn Brenneman, age 6, competed in the Miss American Princess Pageant in Arlington, Va., on August 18 and 19.

Miss Butler received a crown and a trophy for outstanding participation as well as a trophy for appearing in the pageant. She was chosen in the top 20 out of 109 girls, and will receive a banner for this achievement.

Miss Brenneman also received a trophy for her appearance in the pageant.

The competition included poise and appearance in an evening gown, party dress, official short outfit, and a personal interview. Optional competitions included talent and photogenic.

Miss Butler is the daughter of Doug and Sheila Butler, Accident, and the granddaughter of Art and Ruth Butler and Dick and Jean Richardson.

She also recently appeared in the Rainbow Pageant, where she was second runner-up. She takes dance lessons at Dixon's Dance Studio, gymnastics at Garrett Gymnastics Club, and is a member of the marching group, "The Twisters".

Miss Brenneman is the daughter of Brian and Patty Brenneman, Grantsville, and the granddaughter of P. Dean and Zona Brenneman and Charlie and Pat Yommer.

Girls Outscore Boys On CAT Test; Asian Students Earn Top Scores

Results of the California Achievement Test (CAT) taken by students last fall show girls outscoring boys and Asian students outscoring other ethnic groups.

The scores were released Tuesday by State Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Shilling. For the first time, the Maryland Accountability Testing Program Annual Report, which contains the scores, includes state-level results by gender and by race and ethnic subgroups.

As in the past years, Maryland students scored well above the national norms, which were established for the test in 1977. The report shows that the rise in scores has slowed.

The State Superintendent in February appointed a task force to recommend a new standardized test to replace the 1977 form of the CAT. That task force was expected to make its recommendation to the Superintendent this month. The State Board of Education will take up the recommendation this fall.

Because educational goals and student achievement have risen in recent years, state officials warned against comparisons between the Maryland scores and the national norms. Officials said useful comparisons may be made between the state and local scores.

Except for third grade mathematics, where their scores were identical, girls outscored boys in reading comprehension, language, and mathematics in all three grades tested — grades 3, 5, and 8. Generally, the gap between the scores of boys and girls increased over time.

For example, in language, the average grade equivalent score for third grade girls was 4.1 while for boys it was 3.7. By the eighth grade, the scores for girls was 10.8 and for boys 9.6 — slightly more than one year in grade equivalent terms.

Similarly, the scores of white and black students show a widening gap over time, and Asian students outscored both. In third grade mathematics, the average grade equivalent score for Asian students was 4.2, and for black students it was 3.3. In the eighth grade, the Asian students scored 12.5 compared with 8.8 for black students.

Asian students consistently outscored all other students, and their rise in scores as they progressed through school was sharper than that of other students.

"Unfortunately, the scores only confirm once again the differences in achievement related to race and ethnic background," Dr. Shilling commented. "The scores remind us of the immense challenge we face in helping the educationally disadvantaged reach their potential."

Potential New Business Owners Invited To Check Out Services Offered By GCC Center

by Sandra Cusack

Have you been thinking of starting a small business? Do you have an idea of a product or service that the area needs?

If you have, then the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at Garrett Community College can help you decide if you have the right idea and talents needed to succeed as a small business owner.

The SBDC offers services in three areas: counseling, courses and a resource center with information on starting a small business.

"We provide counseling services to entrepreneurs, we offer individual advice and we can provide suggestions for contacts for financing. We also have classes and seminars available on financing and management," said Lowell Bender, director of Continuing Education.

"The college views having an interest in small business development as a partnership with the community. We want to be a partner in the future of the area," he said. "We have about 50 clients throughout the county and the center is open to anyone who desires assistance."

The SBDC is organized under the Department of Continuing Education and is associated with the Small Business Association. Beverly Wilkins and John Gould are co-directors of the SBDC, which has now been open for one year.

The center has provided services to a variety of new businesses in the area, including restaurants, clothing stores and even a veterinary clinic and will also provide services to existing businesses.

An individual with an idea for a new business should schedule an appointment with the SBDC. A counselor will discuss the idea for the business and provide a set of questions to help the individual develop a business plan that includes a description of the business, a marketing plan and a financial plan.

The center has available a complete resource library of information from the Small Business Association on managing and financing a small business.

Courses and seminars on managing and financing a small business are offered through the Department of Continuing Education. As a client recognizes a need and makes a request for a course that is not offered, the Department of Continuing Education will try to organize a course or seminar.

Bender explained that while various businesses may differ, Continuing Education can develop a course or seminar that addresses similar needs of businesses.

"John is our inside person, and Beverly is our outside liaison," Bender explained. "Beverly assists with counseling clients and is in charge of promoting the center. John puts together projects and helps to set the goals and determine the direction of the center."

Gould conceived the idea for the SBDC from his experiences as a teacher of business courses. "I taught small business courses and realized that the best way for students to learn was to have the student develop a small business plan. Several of the students were very serious about beginning a small business and the SBDC just generated itself out of the course work," he explained.

Gould has a masters in management from California State University in California. He helped to start a computer company and worked in sales management at CBS television network in Los Angeles and is now an assistant professor of business administration at Garrett Community College.

"I am at the center for anyone who comes in seeking assistance. I help coordinate with the Small Business Association and work with continuing education to develop courses," Gould said.

"I have helped quite a few people start businesses, but I have also had to help clients decide not to go into business. It helps them to save a lot of money, because going into business is a big risk. I would estimate that two-thirds to three quarters of the persons I talk to decide not to go into business," he said. "Mainly, I try to help the local people take advantage of the extraordinary growth in our area."

Beverly Wilkins has a masters in art from Ohio University in economics with an emphasis in computer information systems. She has experience in consulting with businesses and setting up computer systems and has worked as a general manager of small businesses. She is currently lecturing courses in marketing and computer applications at Frostburg State University.

Wilkins assists in counseling clients of the center and does promotions for the center.

Bender cautioned that while the SBDC helps many clients begin their small businesses, many clients have to be advised to not go into business. He also stressed that the SBDC does not provide legal or accounting services, but can provide a list of lawyers or accountants in the area.

A number of community agencies have provided support and funds for the SBDC, including the Garrett County Commissioners who have provided funds; Garrett Community College, which has provided funds and resources; the Mtn. Top Chamber of Commerce, which has provided funds; and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center, which has provided funds.

The Western Maryland Small Business Development Center is a program of the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development and the U.S. Small Business Administration. The consortium consists of Allegany Community College, Carroll Community College, Frederick Community College, Garrett Community College, Hagerstown Junior College and the Potomac Edison Company.

The Potomac Edison Company has a liaison employee who travels to the colleges in the consortium to provide advice and assistance.

Joyce Colbert, veterinarian and owner of Deer Park Veterinary Services, went to the SBDC when she decided to open her clinic. She said, "The Small Business Development Center was a lifesaver for me. They helped me put together my business plan and income projections so that I was ready to approach the local financial institutions. They have also given me stacks of reprints on many aspects of business management for reference, and their moral support was also a big help. I opened officially in mid-April, and caseload has picked up very well. I honestly don't think I could have gotten started without the help that the Small Business Development Center gave me," she explained.

Services of the Small Business Development Center are offered free of charge. For an appointment or more information, call the SBDC at Garrett Community College at 387-6666.

"There is a great deal of potential and possibility for growth in the county right now. We just want to help individuals explore the possibilities and provide assistance in this time of growth," Bender explained.

SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER — The Small Business Development Center at Garrett Community College provides free services to entrepreneurs who wish to start a small business. Consultation in areas of finance, marketing, planning, accounting, supervising, personnel management and control, as well as courses and seminars in these areas, are available for individuals wishing to begin a small business or seeking help with their current business. Pictured above are the co-directors of the SBDC, Beverly Wilkins, left, and John Gould, right, and Lowell Bender, center, director of Continuing Education.

BY ROBERT HUEBNER
DEEP CREEK REALTY

WHOLESALE OR RETAIL?

So! You're planning to sell your home. Will you be selling at wholesale or retail prices? Yes, you heard right. There is such a thing as wholesale and retail in real estate.

But how will you be selling? Of course, there's not a structured wholesale and retail price list, as such, but there is quite a variance between the two.

Most home sellers want to receive full "retail" price for their home. That, of course, carries with it some responsibilities. Here's an explanation of what is required of a home in order to command a top price (retail).

It must first be priced at NO higher than full fair market value. Second, the terms offered must be attractive to potential purchasers. Depend on your real estate agent for advice as to what terms you should offer. More liberal terms will attract more full-price offers.

Third, be certain that your home shows like a model home. Do all repairs and fix-up before your home is shown the first time. Everything about your home should say "Welcome - Stay Forever!"

Lastly, how will your home be "marketed" to prospective buyers? This important question can be answered by your real estate agent. The right answers could be your assurance of receiving a top price for your home.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303, or drop by our office in the McHenry Plaza.

Local Students Honor Flag At Fort McHenry

Local students, parents and school chaperones recently participated in the Annual Living Flag Day ceremonies at Fort McHenry in Baltimore. The "living flag" was the result of people from all over the country standing together and holding up red, white and blue squares. The "flag" could best be viewed from the air. The first commemorative ceremony of this type was held in 1914.

The Garrett County students who participated in the festivities were all recipients of awards presented by four community organizations during Awards Day programs held earlier this year throughout Garrett County Schools. The groups that presented the awards were the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), the Woodmen of the World (WOW) and the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW). A total of 31 students received awards.

The Garrett County Board of Education then offered each of the recipients, and one parent of each student, the opportunity to travel to Fort McHenry to participate in the Annual Living Flag Day ceremonies. The Board of Education provided the funds, planning and chaperones for the trip. A total of 19 students and 17 parents accompanied the four chaperones on the trip. Acting as chaperones were Rosanne Sherwood, Ross Glotfelty, Ben and Brenda Thorn.

The ceremonies were moderated by a representative from WBAL television station in Baltimore. Speakers at the ceremonies included Louis Kerbert, president of the National Flag Day Foundation; Terry DiMattio, Chief of Visitor Services at Fort McHenry; and Dr. Richard Hunter, superintendent of Baltimore City Public Schools.

The national anthem was sung, as a replica of the 42- by 30-foot American flag, known as the "Star-Spangled Banner" was raised over the Star Fort. The Pledge of Allegiance was then recited.

Those present sang "Man in the Mirror" as people erected the "living flag" by holding up red, white and blue squares and styrofoam stars.

The delegation from Garrett County later took a guided tour of Fort McHenry. As part of the tour, a movie depicting the events surrounding the British attack on Fort McHenry and Francis Scott Key's composition of the national anthem was shown. The group also viewed the American flag flying over the Star Fort, as they listened to a recording of the United States Naval Academy Choir singing the national anthem. Kay Barrans, park ranger, provided information on the history and present condition of the Star Fort.

The following are the names of the participating students, their schools and the corresponding organizations that gave the students the awards: Naaman Miller, Matthew Petersheim, Steven Petersheim and Elizabeth Yoder, Swan Meadow School, Wendy Miller, Southern Middle School, DAR award recipients; Rhonda Schwinabart, Accident Elementary School, Carla Miller, Bloomington Elementary School, Jamie Bernard, Broad Ford Elementary School, Billie Joe McCartney, Crellin Elementary School, Joshua Grove, Friendsville Elementary School, Matthew O'Donnell, Grantsville Elementary School, Kristina Armstrong, Kitzmiller Elementary School, Richard Friend, Loch Lynn Elementary School, Jarrod Sechler and Angelique Resh, Northern High School, Jeremy Rohrbaugh, Red House Elementary School, Clinton Malone, Route 40 Elementary School, Barbara Browning, Southern High School and Jennifer Snyder, Southern Middle School, WOW award recipients.

The following students received awards but declined participation on the trip: Jamie Settle, Accident Elementary School, American Legion award recipient; Megan Battista, Angela Shaffer and Elizabeth Spiker, Dennett Road Elementary School, Michelle Romie, Southern Middle School, DAR award recipients; Eric Ahern and Jessica Morton, Bloomington Elementary School; Jennifer L. Panther, Dennett Road Elementary School, Paul Edwards and Amy Miller, Northern Middle School, Shawn Groves, Southern High School, Brian Messer, Southern Middle School, WOW award recipients; and Kenny Glotfelty, Southern High School, VFW award recipient.

FOUR DEDICATED CHAPERONES were recently honored for accompanying area students to Fort McHenry, where all participated in the annual National Living Flag Ceremony. The Garrett Countians joined students from all over the country in the ceremony, in which each student and chaperone holds above his head a square of red, white or blue to form the American flag. The stars are held up by students from all 50 states in the union. For the past four years, the four chaperones, shown above and below, have participated in this program. Pictured above, Ross Glotfelty, elementary school teacher (left), accepts a gift from Ben Thorn, middle school guidance counselor. Seen below, Brenda Thorn, chaperone (left), presents the Living Flag Day Chaperones' Traveling Trophy to Rosanne Sherwood, elementary school teacher. Mrs. Sherwood has served as "teacher-in-charge" for each of the past four years. The gifts were presented at a dinner recently held at Will O' the Wisp.

Garrett Co. Farm Queen Finds State Contest Exciting, Memorable

Garrett County Farm Queen Rebecca DeBerry and her family attended the Maryland Farm Queen Contest Sunday evening at the State Fair in Timonium. For Ms. DeBerry, the contest began on Saturday when she and 21 other girls from counties all over Maryland held informal interviews with the judges. This two-day concept is a new format for the annual contest sponsored by the Maryland Farm Bureau.

"I think the new concept was really helpful," Rebecca said after returning home. "It made us all more relaxed and confident. All the girls did really good. No one made any of the common mistakes they warned us about, and I bet it was a hard decision for the judges to make," said Garrett County's Farm Queen.

Ms. DeBerry added that the contest continued with a pizza party and a swimming party which were both attended by the judges. On Sunday, each contestant had a formal 10-minute interview with the judges. The girls then spent some time walking around the fairgrounds with their parents, and helping in the Young Farmers' Dairy booth, all under the watchful eyes of the three judges.

A preview to the actual contest was a gala dinner with the judges and special guest Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer. The State Farm Queen Contest itself began at 7 p.m. Each girl had one minute to tell about herself and her county. Ms. DeBerry told the audience and judges about her family's farm and that it was located in Garrett County where maple syrup is produced and dairy production ranks fifth in the state.

One aspect of the contest which keeps all the girls on their toes is the "fish bowl" question. The question drawn by Ms. DeBerry was: "What was your most memorable farm experience, and why?"

Ms. DeBerry answered that all her farm experiences have been great — that she can relate to each one as a growing experience and will remember them all.

Ms. DeBerry, along with all the other contest participants, was presented a bracelet embossed with the state fair emblem from State Farm Bureau President Robert Wilson.

Already looking forward to her county Farm Queen duties, and excited about the state Farm Bureau Convention this December in Hagerstown, Ms. DeBerry said the state Farm Queen Contest was a "wonderful" experience. "I'd do it all over again," she said, adding that the girls became close friends and they plan to keep in touch with each other in the future.

The members of the Queen's court are: fourth runner-up, Francoise Henriette from Howard County; third runner-up, Cathy Martin from Washington County; second runner-up, Stacy Stabler from Montgomery County; and first runner-up, Stacey Guyton from Frederick County.

The new Maryland Farm Queen is Susan Porter from Worcester County. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Porter of Stockton. She is president of the senior class at Pocomoke High School and a 4-H member for three years. She is active in her family's 200-acre poultry and grain operation, plays the piano during services at Remson United Methodist Church, and enjoys basketball, softball, and field hockey as extra-curricular activities at school.

This year's judges were: Rosie Schoonamacher of New York, vice chairman of the American Farm Bureau Federation's Women's Committee; Betty Kernan, also of New York, a former Maryland Farm Queen who went on to become an executive for a leading cosmetics company; and Don Tindall, editor of "Cooperative Farmer" in Richmond, Va.

Mosquitoes Spread Sleeping Sickness To State's Horses

Viral Encephalitis, also known as Sleeping Sickness, has struck horses on Maryland's Eastern Shore in Wicomico and Somerset counties. Four cases have been observed by veterinarians in these locations. Laboratory confirmation is underway to identify the causative virus type.

Viral Encephalitis often occurs during the late summer and early fall seasons until the first few frosts. The virus circulates in a bird-mosquito-bird cycle with viral "spill over" into horses and people. Horses and people are victims of this viral disease but they are not involved in the spread of the disease. Captive wild birds such as those on game farms often are affected with the eastern viral type.

Protection and control of viral encephalitis is dependent on the following actions:

1. Local and area mosquito control measures. The Maryland Department of Agriculture is intensifying their field spraying to kill mosquitos.

2. Persons should use repellents to protect themselves from mosquitoes, especially people who are outside a great deal of the time such as: fishermen, hunters and golfers.

3. Horses should be vaccinated in the late spring and those vaccinated before April should be revaccinated now.

Eastern viral encephalitis prevails in the eastern United States. The mortality of the eastern type of viral encephalitis is usually 85-90 percent in both horses and people.

September Is Honey Month

September has been declared National Honey Month by the National Honey Board, honoring the contributions of the nation's honey bee.

In Maryland, honey production is a growing business. There are 1,802 registered beekeepers and 13,828 honey bee colonies in the state. In 1987, fewer than 100 new honey-related products were introduced in major supermarkets; last year, nearly 160 new products containing honey made it to the grocery shelves.

The honey bee also contributes to the health of Maryland agriculture. Crops pollinated by honey bees include apples, zucchini, cucumbers, melons, berries and lima beans. Moreover, honey bees pollinate much of Maryland's woodlands and flower gardens.

There were approximately 211,600 beekeepers nationally, who tend more than four million beehives. Each spring, commercial beekeepers transport colonies to major agricultural areas where honeybees pollinate fruit, seed, nut and vegetable crops, providing increased yields and higher quality products. In the process, honeybees are responsible for pollinating approximately 80 percent of all insect-pollinated crops.

September is set aside as the month to honor the honey bee because it marks the beginning of the honey harvest and is the sweetener's most popular time of the year.

Hints To Growers

by Jim Simms
Extension Agent, Agriculture Science

Potatoes

You should be checking the size of your potatoes to see if they are the size you desire. If they are, you should kill the vines now. Killing the vine does not help potatoes mature but does help in firming up the skin. This will help prevent bruising at harvest time. Potatoes should not be dug until the vines have been dead 10-14 days. Des-i-Cate or Paraquat herbicides may be used to kill the vines. Make sure you read the label carefully for restrictions and application rates.

Apple Scab

Scab is a fungus disease that seems to always be a pest on fruit trees. This year the disease was even worse due to the wet, humid weather. Symptoms are brown spots on leaves, scabs on fruit and lesions on branches. Prevention is the most effective control. This means it will be necessary to have a spray schedule. Use one of the following fungicides: Mancozeb 80W, Benlate 50WP, or Bayleton 50W. The first spray application should be when the blossoms are in tight cluster, the next application right after petal drop, followed by applications every 7-14 days, depending on weather conditions. Some orchardist spray at full bloom; however, this could be harmful to the bee population. This fall you should clean up all of the fruit and leaves on the ground. In late winter prune the severely infected branches from the tree. Most insecticides will mix with the fungicides.

Gypsy Moth Update

The Gypsy Moth activity is now over until next spring; however, there is a huge population of egg masses. A lot of people have been calling for information on how to kill the eggs. I am sorry to say that at this time there is no recommended pesticide that will destroy the eggs. Some people have been reporting to me that they are spraying concentrate liquid detergent on the egg mass and it appears to be destroying the mass. Also, some folks are spraying the egg mass with diluted chlorox. Although it is very time consuming, scraping the egg masses into a can of kerosene and burning them is a sure way of killing the eggs. Each egg mass could potentially contain a thousand caterpillars; therefore, each mass destroyed would certainly help.

Recently, the County Commissioners appointed a Gypsy Moth Task Force, which I serve as chairman, to make recommendations for next year's suppression program. If you have suggestions, please feel free to contact me at 334-1990. As the committee makes progress on developing a program we will keep you informed through "Hints to the Grower."

Why Some Farmers Succeed, Year After Year

According to a long-term Kansas State University study, 25% of today's farmers will enjoy gross profits of 20% or more. But less than half of these profitable farmers (about 10% of all farmers) are able to achieve these profits year after year. The others drift in and out of profitability.

What's the "secret" to consistent profitability? What do those in the top 10% do to achieve such success? Doane's Company analyzed the situation and discovered that the most successful ag operators share a number of specific characteristics. Here are 12 of the most important ones:

1. They know their actual costs. They're never satisfied with an assumed average.
2. They know how to control their costs.
3. They keep accurate business records, financial as well as production data, so they can understand where they are really heading.
4. They approach their enterprises as profit managers, not as asset accumulators.
5. They maintain high production columes.
6. They understand how to utilize the economics of scale.
7. They recognize their weaknesses as financial experts and develop reliable sources to provide support in this critical area.
8. They keep their capital structure in the right balance for maximizing profits.
9. They don't tolerate assets that don't produce.
10. They have developed their debt management skills into key strengths and are able to communicate effectively with their lenders.
11. They keep their level of risk under control at all times and keep stress to a minimum.
12. They plan ahead! By carefully analyzing their business, they develop realistic short and long-range business plans for their operations.

In short, the most consistently successful ag operators are executives. They spend more time learning, thinking, analyzing and planning. They are information seekers, always looking for reliable advice and guidance. They do things the smart way, not the hard way.

Oats Prices Down

It appears that last year's demand for oats encouraged a lot more farmers to plant oats. Now the "law of supply and demand" has kicked into gear, depressing prices. Personally, I would store my oats at this time and see what happens to the price. It shouldn't go too much lower.

GCC Announces New System Of Giving Credit For Work Experience

A new system of awarding college credit for learning acquired through work experience is being implemented by Garrett Community College this fall semester. According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, this new system should open the door to higher education to many persons who have never taken college classes.

For a number of years, GCC has awarded credit to students who successfully pass the CLEP and AP examinations in subject areas, and to those whose military training can be equated to college credit in accordance with evaluation guides developed by the American Council on Education.

Now, for the first time, it will be possible for a student who has had significant experience in a particular occupation, in certain kinds of volunteer work, or, possibly, in the home, to have the learning acquired through this experience evaluated and college credit awarded.

"This is a way of recognizing the significant learning that can take place in a non-academic setting," Crawford stated. "We will now have the mechanism to evaluate this learning."

Three options have been set forth in the new plan for crediting experiential learning. In addition to the standardized tests and ACE evaluation, a student will now be able to choose from three other methods of evaluation: GCC challenge exams, performance evaluations, and portfolio development and evaluation.

According to Crawford, under certain conditions, a challenge exam in a given course can be constructed for a particular student who has had experience in the subject field. Performance evaluations will likely be used in "hands-on" and skills courses. Portfolio development and evaluation will be a comprehensive activity in self-assessment in which the student will attend a seminar and work in conjunction with a faculty member to assemble and document the evidence of learning.

Any persons desiring further information about this system of crediting non-academic learning should call Crawford at 387-6666.

Starting A New Business Topic Of GCC Class

A new class which will address the issues vital to starting a small business will be starting September 13 at Garrett Community College.

The class will meet for six Wednesdays from 6 to 9:15 p.m. at the McHenry Campus.

This is one of a series of GCC fall classes planned to offer practical learning experiences. It is co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

Anyone wishing to register for this course or obtain additional information should call the Continuing Education Division of the college at 387-6666, ext. 169.
